noted public health. This fight for a Sanatorium has not been a matter of a few months or years. For twenty years we of the medical profession have been fighting for a Sanatorium. You can turn to speeches in this House that I have made since I became a member of this Legislature; you can turn to speeches that were made by the late Dr. S. T. Jenkins and by every doctor who has ever been a member of the House, and you will find we have all been pressing for this matter of a Sanatorium. The Anti-tuberculosis Society has been fighting for an institution of this kind ever since its inception. I remember when it was announced by the then Premier that Sir Charles Dalton was going to give $20,000 to build a Sanatorium and $1,000 a year to maintain it; and we thought we had arrived somewhere. Sir Charles Dalton, in his generosity, undertook to build that Sanatorium. Instead of it costing him $20,000 it ended by costing him $65,000; and still he paid for it and equipped it, because he was bound that he would do something in his day and generation to help fight the ravages of this dread disease. And after all that was done, during the exigencies of the War it was found that all available hospital room was needed; no one knew how long the War was going to last and in this Province, as in other Provinces, all those institutions available were turned over to the Dominion Government and transformed into convalescent homes for sick and wounded soldiers. The Dalton Sanatorium was one of them. They took over the building, remodelled and enlarged it to such an extent that at the end of the War, when it was handed back, it was found to be in such a condition that no provincial Government could operate it on account of the expense. And at that time Sir Charles Dalton again wanted to do all that he could. He wanted to see this building which he had built put in operation so that it would be of some service to the sick and suffering; so he got the Provincial Government persuaded to send this delegation to Ottawa, as the Minister of Agriculture told us, that they proceeded to Ottawa, and what happened at Ottawa? I have some information to the effect that the Minister even left that meeting to go and wire to the Premier if he would be authorized to give any estimate of what the Province would accept.

Hon. Mr. Lea: Are you making that as a statement?
Dr. McMillan: I am saying I received that information.
Hon. Mr. Lea: Well, I am telling you that it is not correct.
Dr. McMillan: Then my information is wrong.
Hon. Mr. Lea: It certainly is wrong, like a lot of the information you have given.
Dr. McMillan: The other information I have given I have proven.
Hon. Mr. Lea: You haven't.
Dr. McMillan: I have proven it from your own statements! (Applause.)
Hon. Mr. Lea: You have done nothing of the kind.
Dr. McMillan: I have done more than that. I have proven that the assertions which my hon. friend the Minister of Agriculture made in the Draft Address are contradicted by the assertions which he made in his Budget speech. (Applause.)
Hon. Mr. Lea: They were not.

MINISTER'S NEGLIGENCE PROVEN

Dr. McMillan: In the first place, he said he had the agreement; and in the second place, he said he had never seen it! (Applause). That shows how well informed the Minister of Agriculture can be on occasion! If he was as well informed when necessity demands it as he is on other occasions, he would probably be a little better off today, so far as the Sanatorium is concerned. And I say that that was typical of the hon. gentleman's attitude, so far as public health is concerned. One of the finest organizations in this Province is the Red Cross Society. I can remember delegations from that Society going to the Bell Government, of which he was a member, and trying to get a money grant to carry on their operations in this Province. Do you think the Bell Government would ever give us a cent? No! And the chief objector was the Minister of Agriculture. (Applause.)
Hon. Mr. Lea: That is not correct.
Dr. McMillan: That is correct, and I can prove it.
Hon. Mr. Lea: It is not.
Dr. McMillan: Mr. Speaker, I have been a member of a delegation myself, that waited on the Bell Government, requesting a grant to the Red Cross Society. Did we get it? Search the record! We never got it; and I say that the chief financial objections were raised by the Minister of Agriculture; and he cannot deny it. (Applause.)
Hon. Mr. Lea: He can deny it.
Dr. McMillan: Then he is denying a fact. (Applause). He would deny

Abbie Banquet Last Evening

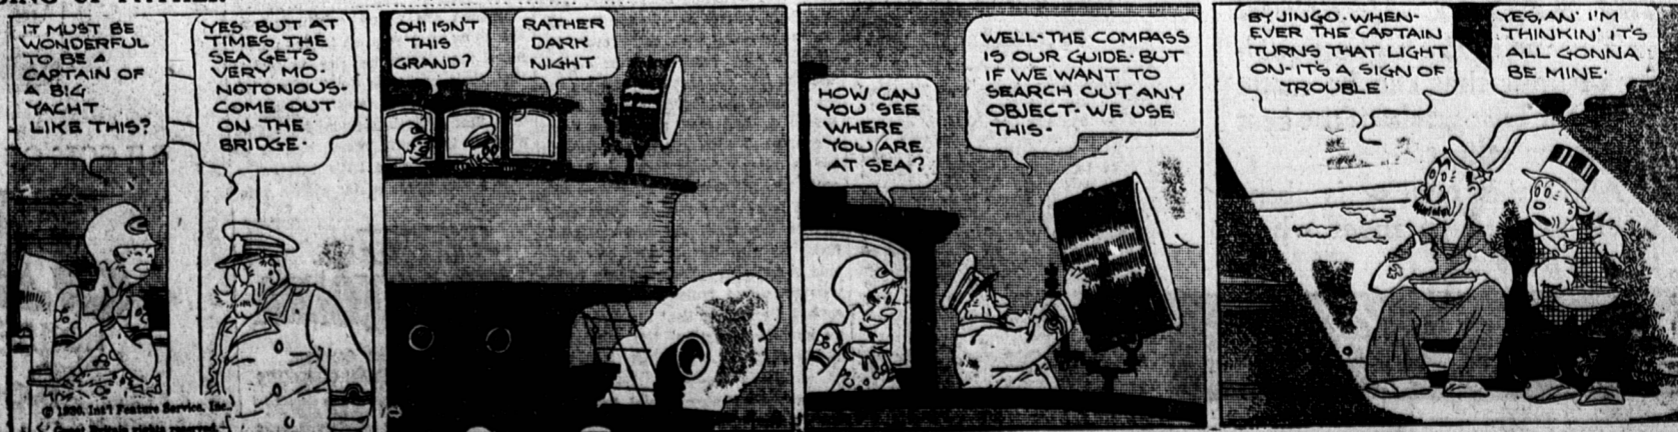

Members of the Abegweit football, baseball and hockey teams, and their supporters, congregated around the festive board last evening in the I. O. O. F. Hall for a few hours of good fellowship and for a general review of the present athletic situation. Speeches regarding amateur athletics, vocal numbers, and readings composed the well ordered programme.
Mr. S. F. Doyle, President of the Abegweit Club, who presided, opened his brief and eulogistic address with words of welcome to all present and, with congratulations to the members of the hockey, football and baseball teams for the successes of the past season in the three games. In football last season a great revival was witnessed in the grand old game. The team came out of its condition of staidness of former years to win the provincial championship. Members of the executive feel that if an interest were taken in Spring football a great deal more material would be available in the Fall. With this fact in mind it has been proposed to hold practices beginning during the next fortnight.
The Abegweit baseball team went to a higher pinnacle than ever before in the history of amateur sport in the city, capturing the N. B. P. E. Island championship, and although defeated in the final play off with Yarmouth was probably equal to any, team in the Maritime provinces. With the proper spirit displayed it is hoped to wrest the Maritime title from its present resting place this coming season.

The hockey team, although starting out in practice in poor form, persevered, and went far beyond the expectations of the most optimistic due to splendid sacrifice by the players and excellent coaching by Roy Prowse. If proper steps are taken, the latter may next year be not only coach, but also manager and a member of the team. It is not too much to say that the Abegweits are the amateur hockey champions of the Maritimes. Many teams are, while hiding under the skirts of amateurism, undoubtedly as professional as their cities can afford.
The Abegweit Club is one of which all should be proud. For almost forty years it has taken a leading part in Maritime athletics. The names of Island athletes are emblazoned on the roster of every university in the country. The club has the endorsement of every citizen of repute in the city. Its aim is to develop mentally and socially as well as physically.
His Worship Mayor Prowse in opening, told an interesting story regarding the "Vic" hockey team of which he was a member in 1908. The citizens of Charlottetown have always been notable for the moral and financial backing given their teams. The games played last winter were marvellous. There was no loafing and real hockey was displayed.
Dr. J. J. Yeo, Past President of the Abegweit Club, congratulated the members of the three teams present for their successes. The football revival during the last season was notable. Under the able direction of Professor McDonald a good team was built from which much is expected this year. Under the able coaching of Roy Prowse the hockey team won a high place in the Maritime play-offs. An athlete's work should always be his first consideration and his athletics second. It would be far better to drop a game than to permit it to drag the individual into habits of dissipation.
As a model Dr. Yeo referred to the late Dr. Bob Donahue, a splendid example of an athlete, one noted for his accomplishments, for his stamina, and for his sportsmanship. While attending McGill University he was the all-round Intercollegiate Champion of Canada for four years in succession. At the same time he stood high in his studies and was "the most wonderful and likable character I have ever known."
Past President Jack Sterns remarked on the successes attending the past season's sport, and also on the abundance of splendid material in sight for coming seasons bespeaking continued successes in future years.
Medals, the purchase of which was made possible by the contribution of $100 by a local sportsman following a victory in Summerside, were presented to each member of the hockey team—Hibbert Saunders, Ivan Nicholson, Frank Acorn, William Watson, Bennie Dorton, Daniel Gills, Walter McEwen, Edwin McLellan, John Squarebriggs, Walter Lawlor, Frank McEwen.
Mr. James Leightner outlined what constitutes a real athlete and what constitutes true sport. An athlete should be a clean living man and a gentleman, always playing the game for the game's sake.
When called upon for remarks "Hib" Saunders for the senior hockey team, George Francis for the baseball team, Ralph Bevans for the intermediate hockey team, and representatives of the press spoke briefly.
During the evening solos were rendered by Mr. Ben Acorn and Mr. S. F. Doyle, a reading was delivered by Dr. George Green, and music rendered by the Prince Edward Orchestra. To those and to the caterer James Lonergan the chairman extended the thanks of the executive.

RELATED BRIEF

Why, may I ask, does the Minister of Agriculture now think that the claim is a good one? Why, in the absence of the Premier who was in Ottawa filing a statement of our claims, did the Minister prepare another statement—not a "modest" one, but totalling over $5,500,000 in which this claim of $100,000 for the Dalton Sanatorium is included? Have we finally succeeded in driving him into a realization of the fact that he lost his opportunity in 1921 and that he should now endeavor to get $100,000 because he is the man who should get it? He is the man, Mr. Speaker, who should go to Ottawa and get that claim. Let him hatch his own "egg" and let him come back with $100,000 cash subsidy anyway; and then we will say that he is a good farmer, a good agriculturist, and I, for my part, will say that he is a friend of public health. But until he does that I will say something different. (Applause.)

BRINGING UP FATHER

CRYSTALS, NOT MONTREAL, ARE MAR. CHAMPS

The Montreal dispatch of April 3rd, published recently, was in error in stating the "Electrics" were Quebec and Maritime Ladies Hockey Champions.
The Quebec team never competed with any Maritime team, and therefore could not claim the Maritime championship.
The Crystal Ladies have always been ready to play any team available, have defeated the leading Maritime teams at Charlottetown, Moncton, Halifax, Dartmouth, and other centres, and have been undefeated for three years. Their total score this season was 33 goals to 3 scored against them. The Crystals, therefore, can claim, and rightly so, the Maritime ladies championship.
The Crystals made every reasonable effort to compete for the Canadian championship this year. Negotiations were made for a match between the Crystals and the Quebec champions in Montreal, on March 31st, the winners to play the Ontario champions at the Montreal Forum, April 2nd. A representative of the Crystals, while in Montreal, was given to believe by the Montreal Hockey Committee, the expenses of the Crystals could be satisfactorily arranged by the Committee. However, after some persistent effort he learned these expenses were standing in the way, and he again pressed the claim of the Crystals, and agreed to go fifty fifty on the expenses. Later, as he understood even this share of the expenses was apparently holding up the definite arrangements for the match, he told the Montreal Hockey Committee that the Crystals would look after their own expenses, which were very heavy, amounting to approximately $600.00. He was then informed that they could not guarantee the forum for the match on account of the possibility of it being needed for the Stanley Cup finals, on March 31st. The Crystals then offered to play the Northern Electrics any hour of the morning, afternoon or night, Monday or Tuesday (March 31st or April 1st) in any rink. The Montreal Committee then made the excuse that it was impossible to get the forum in the afternoon. It is hard to take this as a real valid excuse. Surely the Forum could have been secured for the Crystals for only one hour in either the morning, afternoon or night of Monday, Tuesday or Thursday if any real effort had been made to give the Maritime team one chance. Notice how easily the Patterson Pats secured it for Thursday afternoon to play only another Ontario team.
Maritime hockey fans, now having the above information, will doubtless be of the opinion that the best sportsmanship that one Canadian owes to another was not meted out to the Crystals' efforts to compete in Montreal for the Canadian championship, even when they were ready to pay all their expenses, and to play any morning, afternoon or night in any rink, and to travel 800 miles for the chance. Could the Crystals have done more? Could Montreal have done less?
Maritime people will resent, not only the Montreal team claiming the Maritime Championship, but their claiming a Canadian Championship, when a team from this section of Canada is refused the opportunity of competition.
Parties who have seen the Ontario and Quebec teams in their preliminary matches know the Crystals could have given a good account of themselves, and had every confidence they would have, if just given the chance, defeated the Upper Canadian team.
Why is a team from the Maritime provinces shut out from Canadian championship competition? Is this Canadian fair play?

Talkies in German, English and French are to be produced in Germany.
The much anticipated Boy Scout Jamboree picture was presented last evening in the Strand Theatre to a capacity house, the audience being very capably handled by the local Boy Scouts and their officers.
The film was formally opened by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor who was introduced by Commissioner J. A. Lawson, who paid a warm tribute to His Honor for the hearty support he had always given the Scouts and especially last summer when he helped materially in sending the three Charlottetown boys to the Great Jamboree. At the conclusion of the Governor's short speech the boys standing gave the Scout salute. In his remarks Governor Heartz recommended the booklet issued by Will Burnett on his return from England to any one wanting a detailed account of each day's happenings.
The pictures, starting with the first Boy Scout Camp in 1908, depicted the growth of the Scouts until the present day when 50,000 boys gathered last year at the World Jamboree.
The pictures were clear and splendidly focused and gave the enthusiastic audience a realistic idea of just what the boys did when abroad and the fine stunts they put on as their part in the big world gathering. Lord Baden Powell, the Chief Scout, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught and other prominent leaders were all clearly shown and warmly applauded. The stunts performed by fifty different nations, the march past, with the Canadian leading, the presentation of flags, souvenirs, the sight seeing, the sailing and return trips, were all most entertaining and every one in a while, someone recognized the Charlottetown boys Dick Phillips, Will Burnett and Bob Beer.

The funds received are to be used for a Scout camp this summer, at which there will no doubt be a very large attendance after last night's enthusiastic gathering.
All through the picture Mr. Walter MacNutt, played delightfully, his music fitting in most appropriate, even to the dancing by the Scotch Scouts.

Island Girl Leads Class at Royal Victoria Hospital

Leading the list of graduates from the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, for 1930 is the name of Miss Jean McLaren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McLaren, New Perth. Miss McLaren led her class of forty eight members, maintaining the high average of 91.9 p. c., during her three years of training. The prize donated to the leading member consisted of a silver purse containing five dollar gold pieces. Previous to entering the Royal Victoria in September, 1927, Miss McLaren attended Prince of Wales College for two terms, and also taught school for a number of years. Her many friends in this province and elsewhere will join with the Guardian in extending congratulations.

He Wanted Speed

Most worth-while things take time to develop and perfect. I remember the story of a man who brought his son to the principal of a college and explained that he wanted a short, quick course for him. The professor looked at the old man for a moment and then at the son and remarked: "It takes a hundred years to grow an oak but only three months to make a pumpkin."
