Special Service At Kensington

On Sunday, Oct. 8th, special services were held in the United Church, Kensington morning and evening. In the morning the service was in charge of the Laymen's association. The male choir had charge of the music, and sang very acceptably two voluntaries,—"When the Roll is Called up Yonder" and "Let the Lower Lights be Burning." Rev. Mr. Salter, the Pastor, conducted the service, and introduced the two speakers, among the Laymen, Mr. W. Jenkins and Mr. Thomas Moyle, of Bedouque.

Mr. Jenkins spoke on the "Brotherhood of man." We are all members of one body, and no individual can do anything, whether for good or evil, without influencing others. The Church is the centre of the Community, and we are all bound together by the spirit of Love and Kindness, as one great family.

Mr. Moyle followed, taking for his subject "Fellowship." The aim of the Laymen's movement is to extend a hand to all in need, to encourage and help the members of all branches of church work; and in particular, by personal living, to do unto others as ye would that men should do unto you. In this way a Christian fellowship would extend even to the nations of the earth, and war would cease, and Christ's Law would become universal.

In the evening a very large congregation filled the church. The regular choir was in attendance and rendered appropriate music. Rev. Mr. Salter presided, and introduced the special speaker, the Rev. A. E. Armstrong, D. D. of Toronto, foreign mission Secretary of the united church of Canada.

Dr. Armstrong is a most pleasing and forceful speaker, and brought a very impressive message from the mission field, both at home and abroad. He knows conditions, and speaks as one having authority, having three times visited Asia and the Islands of the Sea. Last year he visited Christian missionaries in Korea, Japan, China and India. The way is open as never before, for the church to obey Christ's command to "Go ye—into all the world—and preach the gospel to every creature." China—with her one quarter of all the people of the world—until about twenty years ago, had remained unchanged for 2,000 years! When Dr. Armstrong first visited there, a few years ago, a foreigner, on a bicycle would cause the people in the villages, and in the fields to leave their work, and run to see a man on such a contraption: now on his last visit—he saw airplanes roar overhead, and the farmer—in the field, does not even stop his plowing, to look up! China, the unchanged, is China, is changing.

In India a few years ago, it was an offense punishable by law, for a man to become a Christian, now—on Dr. Armstrong's last visit, a native Prince offered to act as his Interpreter at a meeting of some four thousand people! So, instead of unfriendliness, indeed, in many cases open hostility, there is now friendliness, and an eagerness to learn from the missionaries the ways of the western world, and the story of the Cross. What are we of the West going to give to these—waking millions of the East? What is the greatest need of the individual, and of the world, on the basis of their spiritual life? This is the challenge to the Christian Church! —B.

Closed Stores as Prices Excessive

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—(A.P.)—Police closed five meat shops for charging in excess of the fixed maximum prices, and warned other dealers against such transgressions. The butcher shortage appeared improved, but fruit supplies are still limited.

American Vocabulary Outruns English

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—William Craigie, who since 1927 has been compiling a dictionary of American English, said today Americans have made such inroads in England in the last 50 years that Britons have more new American words than they have new English words. "The British have combatted many of the American words, such as 'lengthy,'" he said, "but the American 'O. K.' which began in 1840 in Boston, has spread all over the English speaking world." He mentioned also the word "Blizzard" which he said "was first used by an editor in Iowa in 1872 to describe a heavy snowstorm" although it had been used in Colonial American to mean "A sharp reprimand."

DUNCAN CAMPBELL, SOMERVILLE, MASS.

A short time since, there passed peacefully into his eternal rest, at his residence, 90 Marshall Street, Somerville, Mass., Mr. Duncan Campbell in the 80th year of his age. The deceased was a native of the Rice Point district of this Province, where he lived for many years before moving to Massachusetts some years ago, where he made his home in the City of Somerville. There survive to sorrow for his passing away, his devoted wife formerly Mrs. Janet G. Taylor, and his sister, Mrs. Wm. MacDonald of Rocky Point, P.E.I. The death of his only son, Duncan Gillis, in December 1933, was a severe trial to the aged and affectionate father, as he sorrowed much for the absence of an only son. Mr. Campbell Sr., was a man of devout Christian character, of a kindly social disposition, and was much respected in the community where he lived. He was a life long member of the Church of Scotland, being attached to the congregation of that denomination at Cambridge, Mass., in whose fellowship he was a faithful worshipper for many years. The funeral from his late home in Somerville, was quite largely attended. Rev. R. J. Westaway holding appropriate devotional services, following which his remains were interred beside those of his son in the Mount Auburn Cemetery.
