

The cleanliness of the sealed package appeals to the daintiness of a woman.

She knows that it protects the contents from dust, dirt, odors and moisture.

She will be doubly pleased with our new waxed board package—which we have adopted after several years of testing—because it is stronger, more secure and more completely air-tight; altogether the best container for tea that has yet been devised.

Ask your grocer for Red Rose Tea in the sealed carton.

A NOVEL USE FOR AUTO TIRE

Selecting a worn tire that could not be of further use on an automobile, one car-owner made use of it for a lawn-sprinkler. The chancier part of the tire was stitched together, then vulcanized to make it quite watertight at that part of the tire. The tire was then placed flat on a bench, and holes were punched through on one side.

Near the centre of the tread a hole was made, and a nipple inserted with the necessary waste nuts to hold it in place. They furnished the connection from the garden hose to the water faucet.

This sprinkler being much larger in diameter than the ordinary sprinkler, much more ground could be covered in a more efficient manner.

This is a novelty with the additional feature original. No reader who owns an automobile can now conscientiously neglect his lawn during dog-days—Popular Science.

No State Church Now in Germany

PARIS, April 5.—The commission on constitution of the German national assembly has adopted action stipulating that there shall be no state church, a despatch from Weimar says. Sunday is maintained as a legal holiday.

SAYS JAPAN IS NOT TOO PROUD TO FIGHT.

PARIS, April 4.—Baron Makino, head of the Japanese delegation to the Peace Congress, in a statement to the Associated Press today on the position of Japan, said:

"You ask me for a plain and frank statement of the position of Japan. Well, I am tempted to ask you a question in reply.

"Do you think it possible for me to say anything that will not be willfully distorted and misinterpreted by those who have so long and so persistently sought to clog the efforts of my country, to ascribe to her motives she has never had and to malign her at every turn? Let us see.

"As to the United States, Japan has a very sincere, abiding and affectionate regard. We owe to her our place in the world. Perhaps I should not altogether agree to that phrase because, you know, and everyone should know, that Japan has enjoyed a civilization all her own for many ages. It was a civilization borne of the highest sense of honor, of the sense which the West could not understand nor appreciate because we had lived apart as a hermit nation.

"When, through the expedition of Commodore Perry and the efforts of Townsend Harris (the first American Consul-General to Japan), we joined, if I may say so, the League of Nations of the world and we took a new ambition which was to interpret the civilization of the Western nations, which we had studied and recognized as better, although not all were more honorable than our own.

"You will note here that America was the first country to agree to make a treaty with us abolishing extra-territoriality. You must remember that we did not ask to join this first League of Nations. We were forced to do so. Perry came to us with naval power and forces to compel us to open Japan to intercourse with the Western world.

"We yielded, and I am glad, as is all Japan, that we did yield, because it has been a great benefit to our country.

Ready to Join as Equals.

"And now we are asked the second time to join a League of Nations. But how? As equals, if so, we are ready. We want to consider with the greatest care the interests of all our associate nations in such a league because by no other policy can the League of Nations succeed.

"No Asiatic nation could be happy in a League of Nations in which sharp racial discrimination is maintained. While we feel very keenly on this point, our precise position must not be misunderstood nor misrepresented.

"We are not too proud to fight, but we are too proud to accept a place of admitted inferiority in dealing with one or more associate nations. We want nothing but simple justice. We are glad to join the League of Nations and do our full share in the maintenance of the world's peace and order and the reign of justice for all peoples.

"We do not wish to impose our laboring classes as immigrants upon any of our associate countries. We recognize that this question is one with which each nation must deal individually, and we have voluntarily shown our good faith by our observance of the so-called gentlemen's agreement with the United States, and this notwithstanding that the principle is in direct contravention of the measures adopted by the Western powers in forcing the door of our hermit kingdom.

"We do not object to the proviso suggested by Elihu Root safeguarding his country on the subject of internal administration. His proposition applies alike to all countries. We want no special privileges.

A Fundamental Level.

"What we do say and feel is, that we are entitled to a frank and open admission by the Allies, with whom we have fought and will fight for a free and civilized world, and beside whose sons our men have died, that the principle of equity and justice is the fundamental tenet of the League. This applies, of course, only to the conduct of Government and cannot govern the likes or dislikes, even the tastes of individuals which are their own.

"We see difficulties in the way of a permanent and successful operation of this League of Nations unless the contracting parties enter it with mutual respect, marriages of convenience too often breed distrust and discord, rather than contentment."

Serious Accident To Halifax Man

HALIFAX, April 3.—William Flemming, a porter at the post office, was seriously injured last evening, plunging head foremost down the very same shaft in the post office building where Professor Stewart, of Dalhousie College, had his almost fatal fall some six months ago. His head struck the concrete floor violently, causing concussion of the brain, and breaking his collar bone, while he received other very painful injuries. He was taken to the Victoria General Hospital, where the seriousness of his injuries was at once recognized. About two years ago Mr. Flemming had a fall down the same shaft, sustaining then very serious injuries. At the hospital this morning it was stated that Mr. Flemming's condition was somewhat improved.

MR. ROOSEVELT IS READY TO RESPOND TO POLITICAL CALL

(New York Herald)

Lieutenant-Colonel Theodore Roosevelt said yesterday that he intends to enter politics.

Colonel Roosevelt smiled in a manner reminiscent of his father when he was asked to what particular public office he aspired. "That depends upon what the public wants me to do," he replied. "You know we are assuming that when a man enters public life it is because the public wants him to do so."

Colonel Roosevelt said that the office of president of the board of advisers, for which there will be an election this autumn, and for which he has been suggested as the Republican candidate, did not appeal to him particularly. He also recalled that he had requested a Seattle organization not to continue to mention him for the vice-presidency, for which he will be ineligible in 1920, because he will be below the constitutional age limit of thirty-five.

In Accord With Father's Doctrines

"I don't know what I will do," he said in reply to questions regarding what programme he intended to advocate, and whether it would include compulsory universal military training.

"That may not be an issue a year from now," he continued. "I am, of course, in full accord with the policies and doctrine, advocated by my father. There undoubtedly will be shifts, and until the future shapes itself in that regard I cannot tell what will happen. I believe strongly in the principle of universal military service and in undiluted nationalism."

Colonel Roosevelt was in his office at the Training Camp Association, No. 19 West Forty-fourth street, when interviewed. He has been working to perfect the organization of the European War Veterans' Association since his return from Europe. Politicians have suspected a shrewd political move in the formation of this association, but Colonel Roosevelt said that this was not so.

"The fundamental principle underlying the society is that it shall be representative and strictly non-partisan," he said. "It will represent the enlisted men who formed the great body of the army and navy, and will include all who saw military or naval service, regardless of whether their duty called them overseas or kept them home. All will have an equal voice, whether they were generals or privates."

Thirty-two Years Old

Colonel Roosevelt will be thirty-two years old on September 12 next, six years older than was his father when the latter ran for mayor of New York. He made an excellent record in France and many Republican leaders consider him a distinct party asset, which the party may be able to realize on in the future.

Friends of Colonel Roosevelt believe that he would like to make his start in public life as a member of some legislative body, the assembly, state senate or congress. Colonel Roosevelt said that he would like to serve his own state, the one in which he and his father were born.

Republicans in sympathy with the young man's ambition saw but a limited opportunity for him in the legislature under present conditions, and said that his youth would probably prevent him from aspiring to the Republican nomination for governor next year. In congress, it was said, he would not only find a wider opportunity, but his name would make his actions of nationwide interest, and would gain him immediate recognition in the party councils seldom accorded a new representative.

Obituary notice for Mrs. John England. Title: 'IN MEMORIAM'. Text: 'MRS. JOHN ENGLAND. The people of Ellerslie and community were very sorry to learn of the death of Margaret Seaman, wife of John England. Although deceased had not enjoyed her usual good health for some time, few people imagined she was so ill as she was, until pneumonia developed, being in her 78th year of her age, she did not have the constitutional strength to fight this dread disease as people in less advanced years, and the end came very peacefully on April 5th, in the presence of the greater part of her family. Deceased was known as a lady of very charitable and christian habits, and died feeling that she was but beginning a trip home. She leaves to mourn the following: Mrs. Henry McCannel, New Castle, N. B.; Mrs. George S. Ryan, Charlottetown and Miss Rachael at home; Frank in Malden, Mass.; Robert O'Leary, P. E. I.; Fred and Aldred in Ellerslie, to whom the Guardian extends sincere sympathy. The funeral will take place Monday afternoon to Church of England Cemetery at Ellerslie. DRIFTED NINE MONTHS IN ARCTIC CIRCLE. FAIRBANKS, Alaska, April 4.—Storker Storkerson, Arctic explorer, probably will arrive this week at Fort Yukon, Alaska, on his way to the outside from Herschel Island and the Arctic Ocean, according to word brought here today by Captain Alex. Allen, Arctic trader and navigator. Storkerson and four men recently landed on the northern Arctic coast after drifting nine months on an iceberg. They set out with the hope that the ice-pack would carry them west to the low Siberian islands. Instead, it carried them about in a circle and landed them 73 miles from their starting point. Storkerson was a member of Stefansson's party, and took command of the expedition when illness forced Stefansson to leave the north.
