

COULDN'T LACE HIS BOOTS.

Mr. P. L. Campbell, of Fortune Bridge, P.E.I., a great sufferer from pain in the back.

Doan's Kidney Pills completely and permanently cured him.

Mr. P. L. Campbell, the well-known general merchant of Fortune Bridge, P.E.I., was troubled with severe pains in his back and hips for over two years.

At length he became aware of the fact that backache was simply a symptom of kidney trouble and did not hesitate long in taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and was promptly and permanently cured.

Here is his statement: "I was in an awful state for two years with pains in my back and hips. Some mornings these pains were so severe that I couldn't stoop to lace my boots. I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and one box so completely cured me that I have been perfectly well for over a year now and free from the least trace of pain."

BOXERS AND TAXERS.

The world, which so far as the Continent of Europe and a considerable section of the United States was concerned gave its sympathy to the South African Boers, is fairly united against the Boxers in China. The reason is quite obvious, for so far as Europeans and Americans are concerned the hands of the Boxers are against them all, with the result, as in the case of Ishmael, that every foreign man's hands is against them. But if one might venture to make a plea for the Boxers, it could be said for them and for Chinese exclusiveness generally that they have been somewhat consistent from the first. China always desired to shut out the foreigners, and those who have gone thither have gone uninvited, whether as missionaries, traders, contractors, or manufacturers.

Cruel and murderous the Chinese are, no doubt, but their religion and their traditions are as sacred to them as are ours to us. It is part of their faith that foreigners and missionaries may properly be slain if they intrude into China uninvited. Nothing but the wholesome lessons taught by European war ships and bayonets has compelled the Chinese to tolerate the presence of Europeans in their midst. But we must remember that while complaint is made of Chinese exclusiveness on the part of civilized countries, we practice what to them is a most illiberal exclusiveness toward the Chinese. We in Canada have long placed an import duty of $50 per head on such Chinese as come to our country, and just now have raised the tax to $100 per head. The white people of the Pacific Coast raised an outcry against Asiatic immigration and the Ottawa Government yielded. If the Chinese Government could keep out white foreigners by levying a tax upon them, that method might have been preferred. On the other hand we are not quite sure that if we did not tax the yellow foreigners, resort might not have been made to mob law to keep them out of the country.

The problem of the relations between the Asiatic peoples and the British Empire is a strange and difficult one. The large majority of the Queen's subjects are in fact Asiatics, and these subjects must of necessity have a free right to go whither they will, establish themselves where they will and buy, sell and get gain in any part of the Empire. At the same time Britain is in treaty relations with China and Japan and claims certain rights for British subjects within those countries. It must be extremely difficult to reconcile to the Oriental mind our free admission of East Indians, our exclusiveness with regard to Chinese and Japanese and our revolt against their application of the same principle to ward us. For all foreigners are quite as obnoxious intruders into China as are Chinamen when they intrude into Canada or Australia.

In the last analysis it must be prejudicial to the Christianity which teaches universal brotherhood, if its national exponents, the great powers, force upon China the recognition of our right to intrude in the East while denying their right to come to the countries of the west. Of course it will be said that we cannot permit Canada to be overrun with Asiatic hordes, and at the same time

British, German and French people in China must be protected against murder and outrage. The Asiatic will get but a very short and partial hearing for his protest, and in the end the questions at issue will not be settled according to any recognised world code of ethics, but by the might and power of superior arms and armaments.

In India the Government is providing work for 8,000,000 of the starving ones at a daily cost of $400,000. Some unthinking or malicious foreign writers point to the famine as a reproach to British institutions. There were terrible famines in India whenever the rainfall was short in the days before British occupation of that country, but with this difference that there were then no relief works upon which the people could be employed. They simply starved and made no sign. Today the taxes are lower than ever before; large areas are made productive which were barren before; the population of India has increased by 180,000,000 within the present century, and a beneficent Government is carrying forward the most stupendous charitable work in the history of the world. That is the situation in a nutshell. Britain did not create the conditions that cause famines, and has done more to relieve them than, was ever before attempted in that line.

The German commercial marine is being built up quite rapidly, and there is some boasting among the Teutons that they are rapidly displacing the British flag in certain parts of the world. So far British maritime supremacy has been very little affected, and British shipbuilders have profited, as the German gain in tonnage has been effected by the purchase of British built ships. German steamship companies, heavily subsidised by their Government, have been able to offer prices at which British firms and companies found it profitable to sell. The stern chase is proverbially a long one and Germany is yet so far astern of Britain in commercial marine that any thought of successful rivalry must go far forward into the twentieth century.

Nervous and Debilitated.

Almost a Victim of Nervous Prostration—Was Restored to Health and Strength by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. D. W. Crossberry, 168 Richmond street west, Toronto, Ont., states: "My daughter, who sews in a white goods manufactory, got completely run down by the steady confinement and close attention required at her work. Her nerves were so exhausted, and she was so weak and debilitated, that she had to give up work entirely, and was almost a victim of nervous prostration. "Hearing of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, she began to use it, and was benefited from the very first. It proved an excellent remedy in restoring her to health and strength. After having used four boxes she is now at work again, healthy and happy, and attributes her recovery to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food." As a blood builder and nerve restorative, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is of estimable value. It makes the blood, the nerves strong, and the whole system healthy and vigorous. 50c a box—at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
