Alleged Arthritis Cure Proves Fake

(By The Canadian Press)

VICTORIA, Sept. 23 — The "Green arthritis cure", on which many arthritic victims pinned hope for relief, today was declared "unsound" in a report of a British Columbia Government-appointed committee.

The committee was appointed to investigate the claims of Lou F. Green of Port Alberni, B.C., that he had found a method of treating arthritis.

"There is nothing new in Mr. Green's medicine or his methods," said the report.

The formula was found to contain tartar and magnesium nitrate. The committee, under chairmanship of Dr. G. Arnyop, deputy minister of health, added that the treatment "to some extent, is a form of faith healing, depending to a degree on suggestion."

Y's Men See Interesting Film

At the regular weekly supper meeting of the Y's Men's Club held in the Masonic recreation hall last evening, those present were thrilled with the showing of the sound film "Not a West-End Story". The film depicted the voyage of the R.C.M.P. schooner "St. Roch" which successfully made the perilous trip in 28 months, the first to do so since explorer Amundsen in the year 1903.

Before the showing of the film, Corporal Morgan of the R. C. M. P. gave a brief talk on the history of the St. Roch and also told of the fateful experiences of various expeditions which had endeavored to navigate the North West Passage.

Messrs. A. R. Gillis and Merritt Forsythe acted as co-chairmen during the meeting. Rev. T. A. Wilson, Covehead, and Dr. D. F. MacNeil were special guests.

A report of the committee in connection with the Henry Scott concert indicated a heavy demand for tickets with a possibility of a sell-out before Monday.

Winning, Sept. 23 — (CP)

The "new look" neither appeals to Mrs. Emma Johnson nor is she obliged by the dictates of fashion to wear it. Virtually the year-around she wears slacks or ski pants, sweaters and a parka.

Mrs. Johnson, widow of a year who has two children, runs a fur trading post at Lost Bay on Uchi Lake about 35 miles from the mining town of Red Lake, Ont. She likes the life so much that she has the slightest intention of returning to civilization.

"I think I'm the only woman in the fur-buying business in Northern Ontario," she said today.

She certainly does not claim to be the only one in Canada because she gets about 1000 miles in the Northwest and in Quebec. But I was the only one at the traders' meetings in Sioux Lookout last Saturday.

Born in Brussels, she came to Canada with her parents as a young girl. She was plugging the Uchi Lake and shortly after she married the trading post manager.

"I learned a lot about fur from my husband but when he died a year ago I felt I was plugging the Uchi Lake and shortly after she married the trading post manager.

Memoriam

MR. S. T. CURRIE

Once more within a short time the residents of Rocky Point and vicinity have been called upon to mourn the passing of one of their number in the person of Mr. S. T. Currie. Although his health was somewhat impaired no one ever realized his condition was serious until he had been called upon to perform his duties as a member of the board of directors of the Rocky Point Hotel. He was a man of great energy and initiative, and his passing is a great loss to the community.

Mr. Currie was born in the town of St. John's, Nfld., and spent his early years in that town. He came to Rocky Point in 1912 and has since that time been a resident of this town. He was a member of the St. John's Church and was very active in its affairs. He was also a member of the Rocky Point Golf and Country Club and was very active in its affairs.

He was a splendid neighbor and loved to assist where needed. His home was a hospitable one, young and old frequented it, he took great pleasure and company out of the neighbors young boys; though he had reached the three score and ten mark he was still young in years and always active. Many gatherings were held in his home, for church, community improvement or pleasure, everyone was welcome. His passing from amongst us is a great loss. The funeral which was very largely attended was held from the home and conducted by Rev. G. Currie. Friends who spoke very feelingly of the place Mr. Currie took in the home being both father and mother for so many years to his young family.

His brother Elliott and sister, Mrs. George Saunders visited him shortly before his demise. There were many beautiful floral tributes bestowed in loving memory of the deceased and in sympathy to the bereaved. The burial was at New Dominion Cemetery where all that was mortal of a loving father and brother was tenderly laid away.

The following are left to mourn: Norma, (Mrs. Stanley Vessie), Charlottetown, Spurgeon, Rocky Point, Constance, Mrs. James Belts, Cumberland, Florence, Mrs. Robert Ellis, Marathon, Ont., Jean (Mrs. Roland Muloin), Vancouver, B. C. Also the following brother and sisters: Mrs. H. A. MacDonald, Mrs. Elliott Currie, Providence, R. I., Mrs. George Saunders, Dorchester, Mass., Mrs. Jennie MacNeil, Winnipeg, Manitoba and Mrs. William Mutch, Rocky Point.

EXPECT REPORT

Evening," said Mr. St. Laurent, "and while we are together the conversations go on."

Government informants said today he has made no proposals calling for changes in Canada's trade policy.

The Canadian authorities have not completely assessed the potential effects on Canada of the British situation as outlined by Sir Stafford and likely will not be able to until after he leaves.

Sir Stafford will fly to Washington Sunday for international financial meetings. Finance Minister Abbott, who has taken part in the talks here, will accompany him.

The fact Mr. Abbott is going to Washington with Sir Stafford is regarded here as of considerable significance in connection with the report that the Chancellor was to ask the Dominion for "unfreezing" of the $240,000,000 blocked portion of Canada's latest loan to Britain.

UNITED CHURCH

topic proved the most heated of the Council's sessions.

While no one spoke directly against accepting "C.O.s." into equal pensionability with military servicemen, many, including Ontario Chief Justice J. C. McRuer of Toronto, argued the proposal should not be discussed during a Pension Board report. Mr. Justice McRuer said it should come up later and in more detail.

The question is a moral one and should not have come up in discussion of pensions.

The Council also agreed today to do something about acquiring a cost-of-living bonus for pensioned ministers and widows of ministers.

The present allowance, a maximum of $800 for men and $390 for widows, is a paltry sum, said David H. Gibson of Toronto, lay chairman of the Pension Fund Committee.

Details of the bonus will be worked out by the committee following Council sessions.

"No church wants you after 45 and no one wants to hear you after 50," said Rev. Alan H. Perry of Toronto and Owen Sound, Ont. "The bonus debate is a moral one."

"Our retired ministers aren't given enough now to buy shoes," he added.

The lack of an adequate pension fund now is preventing young men from joining the ministry, Mr. Perry said.

A 10-point program calling for a revitalized "policy and plan for future recruitment" was also approved.

Reports to the conference show that the Church is short 405 ministers.

Most are required to fill vacant charges, charges now supplied by laymen and in overseas missions.

additional 200. Prince County growers have estimated their requirements at between 500 and 600 pickers from the mainland. As in past years the great majority of the pickers are recruited by the National Employment Service from the Cape Breton area—a small number coming from Pictou County.

Bringing in the pickers under the "go-up" system is the result of the confusion and difficulty experienced last year when 400 arrived at one time. National Employment officials were unable to cope with the rush in such a short period of time.

However, this year employment officers will meet the various groups on arrival. Farmers will be notified by telephone as to when and where to meet the trains and the pickers will be distributed along the route.

Movements of potato-pickers from Canada to Maine and other points in U.S. are confined to residents of the border towns in Quebec and New Brunswick. National Employment Service officials stress that no potato-pickers from either Prince Edward Island or Nova Scotia may be sent to the U.S. potato harvest.

The employment situation in King's and Queen's Counties is reported to be excellent. A number of vacancies exist for skilled workers and twenty-five first class apprentices can be put to work immediately. A representative of International Nickel recently hired about 26 men for surface and underground work in Northern Ontario. He left Charlottetown for Cape Breton where it is reported, nearly 1,000 men are idle.

BANDITS' DRIVER

for his pals when the shooting started police said.

Earlier reports said two other constables had been wounded, but this was later denied by police.

Police estimated the bandits took off at 8:00, and set in motion one of the biggest manhunts in the city's history for the two gunmen who out down policemen Duranleau, 42, and Paul-Ernie Duranleau, 36.

Duranleau died instantly on the pavement before the bank Paquin died on way to hospital.

Daring Holdup

Not in years has there been anything quite so daring as this daylight assault on the bank branch at Notre Dame East and St. Just Streets. It came soon after 2:30 p.m.

Only the three bandits drove up before the bank. Two got out and a bystander, Pierre Lefebvre, 17, watched as they donned gloves and dark glasses and entered the bank.

Driver Exonerated At Inquest Into Death Of Mrs. Sterns

A coroner's jury found last night that Mrs. E. D. Sterns, 90, Charlottetown, came to her death about 7:45 p.m., Sept. 14, last at the corner of Pownall and Euston Streets as the result of being struck by a car driven by Robert MacInnis, Charlottetown.

The jury was satisfied that Mr. MacInnis had been blinded by the lights of an approaching car and exonerated him from all blame for the accident. It recommended that in future the City's by-laws forbidding motorists from driving with glaring lights be more strictly enforced.

Dr. J. D. MacGulgan presided as coroner and the jury comprised Messrs. Percy Gay (foreman), A. Belcher, Louis McMahon, D. A. McConnell, George Berrigan and Harper McNeill. G. R. Holmes, K. C. appeared for the Crown.

Dr. R. G. Lea said he made no examination of the body of the late Mrs. Sterns since the woman was dead when admitted to the Hospital shortly after 8 p.m. on the evening of Sept. 14 and had both arms and legs broken.

Robert MacInnis said he was driving about 20 or 25 miles an hour when, approaching the intersection of Pownall and Euston Streets, he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car. Witness was watching carefully on the left side of the car struck something. He immediately applied the brakes and stopped the car. A woman was lying in front of the car and about in the centre of the street.

Chief of Police A. Birtwistle said it was the duty of the motorist to at all times "protect his right". The pedestrian, provided he did not "jaywalk" crosses a street at an intersection, had at all times the right of way. It was an infraction of the law for motorists to drive in the City limits with glaring lights and to drive through intersections at more than 10 miles an hour. There were too many traffic violations being committed within the City limits but it was physically impossible to station officers at every intersection. Chief Birtwistle suggested that one or two plain clothes place yesterday morning at 8:45 from his late residence, 225 Sydney Street to St. Dunstan's Basilica where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. David M. Tague who also conducted the service. The pallbearers were Messrs. Harry Redmond, Frank Hughes, Frank Hogan, Mark Pound, Thomas Flynn and Leo Mahar. Interment was in the Church Cemetery.

Prospective Conservatives For Leadership

P. C. HEADQUARTERS, Ottawa

"Having Fleming up on an anti-Marshall debate like having Sherman on your trail" one government member commented after listening to Donald Fleming run the government estimates to ground last session.

This 43-year-old Conservative member for Toronto-Englewood is an absolute beginner for work. Search the benches on either side of the House of Commons and it is hard to find his equal for pains-taking effort. Although he was elected as recently as 1945, he is already one of the best-known members on the Opposition benches.

He has strong convictions concerning the duties of citizenship and has managed to crowd so much work into his life that it is difficult to understand how he ever finds time to rest. His school career was sprinkled with medals and scholarships and he was called to the Toronto Bar in 1928, later obtaining his Bachelor of Laws degree in 1932.

Believing that democracy on legal subjects and was made a King's Counsel in 1944.

However, Mr. Fleming's legal activities only took up part of his time. Believing that democracy can only operate properly if everyone does his share to make it work, he has always taken an active part in civic affairs and service organizations.

He was an alderman in Toronto from 1939 to 1944 and was a vigorous exponent of city planning and social welfare in the City Council. He was also a member of the Board of Education in 1938, chairman of the property committee in 1940, chairman of the works committee in 1942 and chairman of the public welfare committee in 1944.

He has carried his experience in public welfare into the House of Commons and keeps a watchful eye on the government's social security measures, and heads the Progressive Conservative committee on social security and housing. He firmly believes that private enterprise can provide a higher standard of social security than Socialism.

He was born in Exeter, Ontario, in 1905 and attended school in Galt, winning the first Carter Scholarship for Waterloo County, in 1923. He graduated from the University of Toronto with the Governor-General's Gold Medal for general proficiency, the highest award in the Faculty of Arts, in 1928. He graduated from the University of Toronto with the silver medal and Christopher Robinson Memorial Scholarship.

In 1933 he married Alice M. Watson and they have three children. In spite of his arduous duties, he still keeps in touch with social welfare organizations and gives much of his time to church work.

WORKMEN SAID THREE WORKMEN

Detestables said three workmen saw the whole affair and were able to give police a complete description of the two bandits. One Constable Duranleau and Paquin died from bullets through the heart.

I.T. Cadieux, bank branch manager, declined to give out any details, but constables said one of the trio was reported to have brandished a machine gun. Once Constable Duranleau began to scoop up available bills in the paying teller's list.

Throughout the gun battle and ensuing chase police were handicapped by their dead and wounded.

Radio Constables Raymond Rochelleau and Andre Alberto, were on the scene just a few moments after the robbery was staged—but had to help their shot-up fellow officers.

"When we got there," said Constable Alberto, "we saw Paquin and Duranleau stretched out in the street. We examined them and found Duranleau dead, Paquin, however, showed a spark of life."

Then, while the two killers swept out of the bank to run into Dupont and Tremblay, the officers made a mad dash for life through city streets to Notre Dame Hospital—only to watch Paquin die just as he was being carried into the building.

BRITISH PLANS

World War is declared officially over.

His review, which was largely lacking in detailed figures, drew immediate criticism from Anthony Eden, deputy Conservative leader. Eden said the Government is "carrying this matter of secrecy far beyond any necessary point."

Eden said he is convinced Britain can make her most constructive contribution to peace by close collaboration with the other Commonwealth countries and with Western Europe. International authority today was too much in the hands of Russia and the United States.

It is convinced that if we are to place our relations with the east on an enduring and satisfactory footing that can only be done if we are in a position to negotiate from strength. We can only do that if our defence plans are Empire defence plans and of the western nations also."

This was Alexander's program for the three services: Army—an increase of not less than 100,000 men and women for the territorial, Britain's equivalent of Canada's reserve army.

Leutenant Governor Voices Appreciation Of Dundas Programme

Following is the text of the address by His Honour Lieutenant Governor Bernard in opening the King's County Fair on Wednesday:

"It is a pleasure to be with you today and to see the advancement you have made in your great program during the past few years. In this farming community, in this really agricultural Province where farming is carried on intelligently, and where is produced so many of the vital necessities of life the majority of which find a ready and remunerative market outside the Province, the Plovering Match has become a household word. Brought into being in recent years chiefly through the instrumentality of Mr. Hunter, and by good management and fair sightedness it has improved and prospered and is maintaining a keen interest in agriculture, while providing a sound education in more and better methods of farming for the younger generation.

"Farming is an honorable calling, and without it there could be no existence. Most of our leaders of both sexes came from farms, and the good balance with which they are fortified may be traced to ancestors who made a success of farming under methods far different from those in use today.

"The art of plowing is one of the first and important phases of farm work. In the days when we broke new land after stumping it the first sod did not lie properly in the furrow. They were uneven and somewhat crooked, but as crops were sown and harvested from year to year plowing became easier, and more interest was taken in doing work which would be pleasing to the critical eye of the good plower, and with better resultant crops.

Recalls Other Years

"I well remember that a certain progressive farmer found that the sod did not lie properly in the furrow which was summer fallowing, and as soon as a field was plowed he ran the roller over it. His next door neighbor thought this a useless and uncalled for bit of labour, but it was soon found that the weight of the roller closed all the air spaces between sod and soil, and the grass died and rotted more rapidly and without taking new root. Good plowing goes hand in hand with successful farming, and I compliment you farmers who are showing such a progressive spirit and such determination to produce the very best crops from our productive Prince Edward Island soil.

"Our Island agriculturists have been singularly blessed by Divine Providence this year. The greatest hay crop ever harvested is evidenced by the large number seen in every district throughout the Island. Grain is well filled. Fruit and vegetable crops are very good, while though it is said that we have some blight in potatoes there is little doubt that we will have a big harvest. Our thanks to Almighty God for these all important favours should not be forgotten.

"I congratulate the president and officers of this Association for the success which has attended your labour in building up your program to such splendid proportions. You are doing a good work which is an education to all farmers who would increase the volume and the value of their crops, and the standing of their profession.

"Since I was here last you have added a Horse Show amid other attractions. Horses are still the main power on many farms, and while we are using tractors to some extent and are getting good results, no such lifeless machinery can compare with the magnificence and grand appearance of a beautiful matched team of horses. We depended on them entirely from the time of the pioneers of the farming industry, and I am glad to note such a large number of them in competition here today—an assurance that we have many people who still have a forcible pride in that which may well be termed the glory of the farm. Beautiful horses!"

PATIENCE NOT

spot months ago so there would be no mistake about United States policy in the current meeting of the "world parliament."

The Soviet sphere apparently understood Marshall's message. Poland quickly followed with a blistering attack on alleged American imperialism—principally the European Recovery Program.

Marshall said the United States will not "compromise the essential principles" or "batter away the rights and freedom of other peoples."

He pulled no surprises like last year's demand for creation of the Little Assembly. He did urge continuation of the Little Assembly for another year, opened the door to the Russian-led minority to cooperate and declared that there are no mechanical majorities as Russia has charged.

Berlin Referred To

Berlin was dragged into the Assembly by indirect reference from the start. Foreign Minister Zygmunt Modzelewski of Poland assailed efforts of the Western Powers to supply Berlin by air, declaring that "no justification can be found for such economic non-sense as the supply of coal to Berlin by air."

Marshall summed up the United States position on top issues in this way:

1. Matters dealing with the peace settlement in this was taken by delegates to mean Berlin and the German question are to be dealt with in other places.
2. Palestine should be free from strife, armed forces in the Holy Land should be demobilized, refugees should be allowed to return to their homes and Trans-Jordan and Israel should be admitted to the U.N. (Trans-Jordan has twice been vetoed by Russia. Israel's application is expected soon).
3. The United States advocates a unified and independent Korea, which should become a member of the U.N.
4. Greece should be secure from aggressive and unlawful interference from without (this was taken as a reference to Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, who have been accused of aiding Greek guerrillas).
5. There should be a negotiated settlement without further bloodshed in Indonesia providing for the sovereign independence sought by the peoples of Indonesia and continued co-operation between them and the Netherlands. No mention was made of the current Communist uprising in Indonesia.
6. Continued negotiation and mediation between Hindu India and Moslem Pakistan over the princely state of Kashmir.
7. Early adoption of an international system for the control of atomic energy.
8. A progressive reduction in armaments as rapidly as the restoration of political confidence permits.
9. The admission of fully qualified states to the U.N., including Ceylon, the latest country to be blocked by a Soviet veto.
