SIR William McDonald, the millionaire tobacco manufacturer of Montreal, has already given millions to the cause of education and now he has started to assist agriculture. His undertakings for the public good would be impossible for a man without large wealth. They would be equally impossible for a man without a fine sense of responsibility for the proper use of the money. Perhaps not more than one other Canadian has accumulated so much money as Sir William MacDonald. No other has set aside nearly so much to public uses. Sir William is a native of P. E. Island.—Pictou Advocate.

IN view of the recent cold weather throughout the Province considerable fear is felt by many coal and produce dealers that vessels yet to arrive here with coal or to load, will be prevented owing to the ice. AT a meeting of Heather Division, S. of T., held at Long Creek, Saturday evening, 26th inst., the following resolution was unanimously passed:—Whereas we are on the eve of a general local election; and whereas the present Liberal Government has passed a Prohibitory Act which is superior to any other temperance measure passed by any Government in this Province; and whereas the Government are endeavoring to enforce the said Act; and whereas The Guardian newspaper has repeatedly asked the Leader of the Opposition to declare his party's views with regard to the repeal or the enforcement of such Act; and whereas he has not yet complied with said request; therefore resolved, that we the members of Heather Division, No. 225, endorse the action of the Liberal Party, and deplore the fact that the Opposition so far has not given to the country assurances of their support for the enforcement of the said Act.

THE annual meeting of Central Farmers Institute was held in the Hall at Tyne Valley on Saturday, Nov. 26th. The President John Richards presided and in his opening remarks reviewed the work of the Institute for the past year.

Secy-Treas—W. J. Montgomery, Port Hill.

Executive—Thos. L. Murphy, Conway; R. C. Henderson, Freeland; Colin McKay, Ellerslie; Edward McKinnon, Mount Pleasant; Herbert Rodd, Northam, A Montgomery, Port Hill.

The next business was ordering hay and about 30 tons were asked for by the farmers present. Meeting adjourned.

THE death occurred at Summerfield, on Saturday morning, Nov. 26th, of Miss Catherine Sinclair, sister of Hon. Peter Sinclair, at the advanced age of seventy-seven years. She was always kind and hospitable, helpful to all and lived for others, while her neighbors and all called her blessed. She loved Christ, His church and people, and thought and spoke kindly of all. During her sickness she murmured not and with sweet and cheerful spirit, was a joy to all about her. Heavenly revelations filled her soul and illumined her path through the valley. Her soul was full of glory, and to this she gave beautiful and repeated expression. She was loyally true to the Presbyterian Church of which she was a faithful member and was regularly present at the public service of God and none worshipped with truer heart devotion and reverence The funeral was largely attended. The services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. John Murray, assisted by Rev. Alex. Stirling, of Kensington, and Rev. R. G. Sinclair, Montague. Tender and touching references were made to the beautiful life, consistent example and victorious death of the departed. The funeral cortege then wended their way to the cemetery, where the remains were lovingly laid to rest.

THREE drunks were at the Police Station last night.

AT a mass meeting of the students of the C. B. C., it was decided to organize a college magazine, similar to other collegiate publications. After the matter had been placed, before those present it was decided to appoint a committee and accumulate the necessary information. The committee reported to the students as to the prospects of the undertaking. Their remarks were so very encouraging that it was resolved to proceed immediately with the undertaking. The chairman called for the election of the staff which resulted as follows: Editor-in-Chief, Dunstan; Associate Editors—J. O. Trainor, J. R. Monaghan, Miss Trainor, Miss Bolger. It is hoped that the first issue will be brought out by the 15th inst. The business men of the city were highly pleased to see the institution launching out on such a project and have promised whatever assistance they can possibly give. This is solely an undertaking of the students.

THE C. B. C. Debating Society met in the college rooms at 7.30 Saturday evening to discuss "Is the influence of the pen mightier than that of the sword?" Although it was the most largely attended meeting yet held, there was a decrease in the number of speakers, owing to the difficulty of the question. The affirmative was opened by Mr. Clarke in a very comprehensive speech, and was opposed by Mr. Brehaut who was equal to the occasion with argument and wit. Some of the other speakers were Messrs. J. O. Trainor, A. Dunstan, A. Gaudet, H. Gallant. The ballot resulted as follows: Affirmative, 38; negative 13. It is quite evident that the students are deriving benefit from this Society from the fact that greater confidence and precision is displayed weekly. The good to be derived is incalculable. Be it remembered also that the meetings are held only on Saturday evenings and therefore cannot possibly come into contact with the aim for which the students enter the C. B. C. This Club and the other Societies now in existence at the College were organised solely by the students, with the permission of the authorities, which displays the enterprising spirit of the students. This would never have been achieved if it was thought that by so doing this course was to be prolonged. Students are students and not schoolboys consequently their own interests are as dear to them as to the College authorities Com.
