WOMAN WHO IS AN EMPIRE MAKER

The Career of a Distinguished Woman
Known to Many Canadian Soldiers Who Were in South Africa
—Established Soldiers' Institutes.

While a few Canadians may ask: Who is Miss Violet Brooke-Hunt? I know full well that many officers and soldiers throughout Canada will not require to be told who she is, writes Lally Bernard, in The Toronto Globe.

A pretty girlish figure, a face literally radiating kindness, the brightest brown eyes, full of laughter and intelligence, and you have the very model of splendid English womanhood that Tennyson loved to draw. Miss Brooke-Hunt was kind enough to give me a pleasant hour in her little "den" in the flat at Albert Gate Court, where she lives with her mother and sisters, and there I found her surrounded by pictures and books, and a thousand and one relics of the eventful years into which she has crowded more action and thought than that of the average woman who reaches the sign-post of three score years and ten. Now what is the secret of the youthful buoyancy and yet mature wisdom of this young empire-maker? First of all, a happy, healthy, childhood and girlhood in the country, where she resided under the roof of her grandfather, W. P. Price, M.P., in Gloucestershire, and where she was the companion of her brother in many of his sports and pastimes.

Before she was fifteen Miss Brooke-Hunt had been encouraged by her grand-parent to start a boys' club in connection with the institutes and libraries on the estate, and she constantly listened to the discussions of the old squire on economic questions, which found practical exemplification in the work done in this miniature world. Later on she spent a short period at Cheltenham College, where the head mistress found her bent so clearly indicated that she allowed her to take up political and social economics, history and literature, in which subjects she won high distinction. Later came a move to Gloucester, and the result was the founding of a branch of the university extension lecture work by one girl. It is needless to say that the lectures were on history, economics, and sociology, and that the lecturer, by having her youthful enthusiasm into the work, scored a huge success. This girl of eighteen managed to bring boys and men of the artisan class into intense sympathy with the work and from this movement grew the club known as the "Gordon Wanderers," where, under the auspices of the Home Arts and Industries, technical instruction was given the lads who supported the institution in their savings. Albert Court Gate was close to the Knightsbridge Barracks, and when fate brought Miss Brooke-Hunt and her family to London, she found that many of the young privates in the Guards were boys from her old institute, who had from time to time enlisted and left their native country.

Realizing that soldiers have more than human enemies to fight when on active service, Miss Brooke-Hunt managed, in spite of many difficulties, to find her way to South Africa and there to establish soldiers' institutes. She went out on a troopship and found plenty of work, for her active mind on the voyage, as there were all sorts of entertainments, etc., to be devised for the men. The experiences in South Africa are embodied in her book, "A Woman's Memories of the War," written with the spirit of a true sports-woman.

A "Life of Lord Roberts for Boys," and "A Story of Westminster Abbey for Boys and Girls" are two of Miss Brooke-Hunt's most recent contributions to literature.

To-day finds this enthusiastic young Imperialist busy as the Organizing Secretary of the woman's branch of the Tariff Reform League, and I had the pleasure of listening to her speech at the initial meeting of the league at the house of Lord Glenesk, in Piccadilly. That speech was a revelation to me of what a woman's grasp of the subject might mean. I was immensely struck with the manner and matter of the speech.

The Union Hack Club, for soldiers and sailors, to be established close to Waterloo Station, is a project in which Miss Brooke-Hunt is greatly interested. The committee has already nearly thirty thousand pounds in hand, but require fifty thousand, and this Miss Brooke-Hunt is inclined to think is soon forthcoming.

Several medals have been bestowed upon the young Imperialist at different times. One, the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, Canadians know of in connection with ambulance and nursing work. Then comes the Order of Our Lady of Grace, next the South African war medal, and last, but not least, by reason of the story attached to it, is the coronation medal, which was presented to Miss Brooke-Hunt by the King at the great colonial review in 1902. It was presented to her in the presence of so many of the men she had worked for during those three months of high festival, as a result of their direct communication with the King, whom they asked as a personal favor to allow their friend and comrade to share the honor done them.

A VISITOR TO THIS PROVINCE

Purchases a Handsome Schooner Yacht.
Senator McNeill of Bridgeport Conn. has Secured a Beautiful Boat—Recently Visited Charlottetown.

The Alsaclear, a large schooner yacht, has been purchased by Senator Archibald McNeill and will be put in commission at the opening of the Bridgeport Yacht Club on Memorial Day.

The yacht, which was formerly the Norseman, is one of the largest and most commodious pleasure craft afloat. It is a two-mast schooner with a length over all of 135 feet. It has an especially large cabin and numerous staterooms finished in mahogany by Tiffany. The vessel was the property of Ogden Goeler, from whom it was purchased by Senator McNeill.

The vessel is one of handsome lines, is a steady craft in a high sea and is speedy. At the present time she is lying at Port Jefferson but will soon be towed to this city where she will be thoroughly overhauled and a large gas engine installed for use as an auxiliary during calm weather. The vessel is painted white. The large size of the yacht makes necessary the employment of a good-sized crew, consisting of the usual officers and men.

Senator McNeill intends to take a much needed rest and vacation upon the Alsaclear during the summer months as he has not been away from business for any length of time for about six years. He and Mr. McNeill will cater to largely on the yacht and they intend to take a number of long cruises with parties of guests. The yacht is eminently fitted for comfort and safety while cruising and has crossed the ocean twice.

[The above is from The Farmer of Bridgeport, Conn. Senator McNeill is well known in Charlottetown where he visited several years ago with a party in one of his yachts. His brother Charles H. McNeill also frequently visits the Island in summer and is married to a daughter of J. R. Moore, Grafton Street West.]

Your System Demands Help.

Just Such Help as Can Best be Supplied by the Use of the Great Restorative

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Spring seems to be the time of year when the vitality of the human system is at its lowest ebb.
To most people the winter season is a trying time. Either as a result of colds or as the effects of indoor life with poor ventilation and the use of artificial foods, the system gets run down and exhausted, the blood becomes thin and watery and the nerves play out.
Headache, sleeplessness, stomach troubles, loss of energy and ambition, feelings of discouragement and despondency are among the symptoms which cause distress.
It doesn't do to neglect these warning notes. Your system needs help, and you cannot do better than call to your aid Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
If you have been reading the cases reported in the newspapers from day to day in which this great medicine has been instrumental in restoring health and strength to weak and suffering people you are no doubt already convinced as to its extraordinary medicinal properties.
Then why not make a test in your own case? You cannot possibly use a preparation which is so certain to prove of lasting benefit.

room at Albert Court is full of souvenirs of colonial gratitude. From every part of the Empire have come presents of jewellery or plate in recognition of the kindness shown the officers and men of the various regiments. A handsome silver bowl and a massive pair of silver candlesticks testify to the gratitude of Canadian soldiers, while Ceylon sent a beautiful silver bowl resting on the backs of three carved elephants. South Africa sent jewels and a magnificent ostrich feather fan, and Cape Colony a handsome silver inkstand. In the very best sense Miss Brooke-Hunt is a "man's woman," with a wonderful insight and understanding of the needs, and possibly at the same time the weaknesses, of the class in which she is most interested.
