ance. Therefore a new type, of which a few examples were seen in the parade of experimental aircraft, is being evolved. It has been called the General Purpose, since it is designed for every possible source of trouble to the minimum are the first requirements rather than extreme speed. It must be greyhound and cart-horse combined, able to fly off with guns and bombs, to nip in the bud the raids of a turbulent border tribe, and equally able to load itself with spares and equipment.

This type is as yet only under trial and has not been supplied to overseas units. Its need was illustrated in one of the recent episodes. Gun fire and bombing from the air set up a barrage between the hostile tribe and the white man fleeing for safety to the open country: food, water and ammunition was brought by air to the refugees. Their striking power in co-operation with the Army was shown when large twin-engine aeroplanes arrived with armed infantry, light tanks and supplies for employment in a country supposed to be miles from any base.

Great Britain alone of the nations has produced aircraft of the type of the Vickers Victoria, which can carry 23 infantrymen with their full equipment and rifles, together with water, food and medical supplies. Small machines of the same type holding up to 16 men were used as far back as 1923 in an actual case of necessity, removing 200 men from an inaccessible spot in Iraq to the base hospital in Bagdad in less than five days.

The great importance of these carriers is obvious. Five of them can carry 100 men with full equipment and stores hundreds of miles away from a base in a few hours, and by means of their use much economy in men and material should be effected.

In Memoriam

JAMES MAHAR

The vicinity of St. Mary's Road (Sturgeon) was deeply grieved and shocked to learn of the death of James Mahar of that place, at the early age of 50 years, which suddenly took place at Hartford, Conn., where deceased was employed for the last four years.

Mr. Mahar was a skilled mechanic, stone mason and bricklayer. His work, which could not be excelled on churches, banks, dwelling houses, etc., can be seen throughout all parts of Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, and Hartford, Conn., where he was employed as contractor for one of the largest firms of that city.

He was a man of exemplary character, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him, and especially in the vicinity in which he lived. What makes his death particularly sad, is owing to the fact that he worked on till evening before he died, being of a strong constitution.

He leaves to mourn a sorrowful widow, two sons, namely John and Thomas at home, and one daughter Mrs. Thomas M. Hughes, of St. Mary's; also a sorrowful mother, Mrs. John Mahar, Cardigan, and four brothers, William and John at Cardigan, Vincent in New Glasgow, N. S., and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Ryan, New Glasgow, N. S., Mrs. Fred Curran, New Perth and Miss Martha at home.

He was the oldest of a family of five, his sister, Margaret, having predeceased him three years ago. His burial took place at St. Benedict Cemetery, Blue Hills Avenue, Hartford, the ceremony being performed by his pastor, Rev. Father Dargin of St. Peter's Parish of which deceased was a devoted member.

May his soul rest in peace.

GEORGE McDEARMID It is with sad regret that Mr. and Mrs. George McDearmid, very respected residents of Moncton, are called upon to undergo such a trying experience as the loss of their eldest son, George, killed in a car accident on July 13th, at the early age of twenty-four years.

The deceased was an employee of The Maritime Electric Light Company. When the news was circulated, many hearts the whole town over seemingly shared the sorrows of the bereaved family.

No word of ours can lessen the grief of those left to mourn, yet it will be comforting to them to know that in his, their most trying hour, they have the heartfelt sympathy of a wide circle of friends. All that was mortal of a beautiful young life, the pride and joy of the home was laid to rest in the beautiful cemetery of St. Mary's Church. The funeral was largely attended. Rev. Owen Higgins conducting the services.

The pallbearers were Cecil Hynes, Harry Collins, Alfred Lowery, Leo Collins, Dennis Collins, Jr., and Wallace Collins. The deceased was of a lovable and kind disposition.

BIRTHS ROBINSON - At Gaytown on July 23rd to Mr. and Mrs. George P. Robinson, a daughter.

DEATHS SCOTT - At North River, July 25th, 1927, Mrs. D. K. Scott, aged 78 years. Funeral Wednesday at 2 p. m. from her late residence.

Manitoba Legislature Meets Aug. 12th

Winnipeg, Man., July 23.—Premier John Bracken has issued the first call for a party caucus since the Provincial General Election of June 28. The Progressive members have been summoned to meet in Winnipeg on August 12. It is understood that the principal question scheduled for consideration is the legislation of a special session of the legislature to enact a beer-by-the-calling-in act in accordance with the wishes of the majority of the Manitoba electors.

Premier Bracken, Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General and W. R. Cottingham, K. C., Executive Counsel, will be back for the caucus from their visit to the Western Provinces where they have been investigating liquor systems in operation there. It is learned that Premier Bracken plans a trip to Eastern Canada where he will make inquiries concerning the Quebec Liquor System. Before departing for the west the Premier declared that it was his data at first hand before the work of drafting Beer Parlor Legislation for Manitoba was undertaken.

Light That Failed

(British United Press.) LONDON, July 25.—After a feeble, ironical cheer—as feeble as the watery rays of the sun which ushered in the longest day of Stonehenge—the scene of the ancient Druidical sacrifices on Salisbury Plain—more than 1,000 disappointed people were waiting for this moment on the eve of the longest day of the year, moved slowly away from the desolate heights.

Scrambling for a place on the sacrificial stone on which the first rays of the sun each year are due to strike, the watchers were alternately jubilant and depressed. The clouds seemed to lift, but at 4.53, the crucial moment, all that could be seen was a golden-rimmed cloud. Suddenly there was a shout of joy, for there on the stone was a beam of light. Everyone cheered—until it was discovered that a Cambridge Officers' Training camp had obtained an electric torch and from behind a huge rock had directed a beam on the path the sun's rays should have taken. There was a roar of laughter and a dash was made for the joker, who hurriedly disappeared.

Bambino's Hitting Win The Game

NEW YORK, July 25.—Babe Ruth's heavy hitting gave the Yankees a 3 to 2 victory at Chicago today in a pitchers' battle between Al Thomas and Pipgras. Ruth scored the first run on his triple in the first inning, followed by Gehrig's single. Meizer against center field of Ruth's drive against center field wall but fell after taking the ball. The White Sox protested that he had held the ball long enough to declare Ruth out, but Umpire Evans over-ruled them. In the third inning Ruth smashed out drive he has made into the remodelled Chicago stands this season.

Looking 'Em Over After The Battle

When Dempsey hammered Jabbering Jack Sharkey to the canvas last Thursday night, he came back but just part of the way. However he completed the job he set out to do, and in the old typical man-killer style at that. Sharkey on the other hand is by no means eliminated from the picture, but he will have to work his way back and make a dependable trial horse like Gunboat Smith who flourished five years as a stepping stone to aspirant white hopes in the days when Lil' Artha Johnson reigned supreme.

The wise money again crashed to the floor with the fall of the Larruping Lithuanian. Sharkey went to the post the favorite by a big margin, and it looked in the early rounds as if he was going to win. He apparently fell into Dempsey's style of trading wallops and had thumped him mercilessly.

Dempsey, now as popular, apparently, as John L. Sullivan was, will carry the bulk of popular sympathy in his next fight against Tunney. He fought a great battle last Thursday night. Tunney will be a lot tougher of course, but the confidence that victory will beget, the knowledge that he is once again the popular idol, and the fact that he is apparently as sound as he ever was will be sustaining influences that may win him back the crown.

Sharkey Unpopular

Dempsey, whose defeat by Tunney shocked his followers and whose passing without recrimination, and with nothing but praise for his conqueror popularized him, will have another chance. He was a bit difficult and probably a trifle rusty in the opening round, but his ring had weathered Sharkey's punches he soon flattened him.

As for Sharkey, he incensed the crowd with his snarling and sneering manner. His methods made little impression on Dempsey, who carried himself with dignity, or as much dignity as prize fighters can muster.

Judging by the accounts it was a slug-fest, a left to the jaw, a right upper cut that landed on the waist-line, but not below. It is true that Dempsey landed several times below the waist-line in previous rounds, but in no cases were the punches injurious or deliberate, nor Sharkey, previous to the final round.

That Foul Question

The question of whether Dempsey fouled Sharkey will now agitate the profound followers of fist-fighting for some time. The eminent H. I. Phillips humorously declared to the theory that Dempsey fouled that little thing. He also maintains that Sharkey had a decided advantage up to the time that Dempsey delivered his coup de grace. Herbert Corey comes out boldly and disagrees thoroughly with the referee, one O'Sullivan, who couldn't see it that way. Sharkey fought sufficiently well to entitle him to a return bout in case Dempsey defeats Tunney, or he may by means of a ballyhoo get a shot at Tunney should the latter retain his crown. Happy indeed, is Tex Rickard, who is certain to be a big winner no matter who loses. The experts seem to agree it wasn't much of a fight judging by the fistcuffs indulged in.

Taken from the crowd standard, and the interest invoked it was one of the greatest of the ages. Dempsey may not be the fighter of old but that fight will surely prove him. There will be a flood of stories in the wake of this battle that will agitate the fistic bugs. Tunney saw the fight and wasn't visibly impressed. One thing is certain, he won't trade wallops with the Manassa man when they meet. Sharkey made a bad error in that manoeuvre.

Again referring to the foul, Jack

Sharkey said after the fight: "It's all in the game, and I'll be back at the top before Dempsey is. Say, that guy couldn't break an egg. His punch, I had him licked and he knew it, and that's why he fouled me. Dempsey was drunk and groggy a dozen times, while he never was able to feaze me. Dempsey knew I had his number from the start and he was hitting low all night. He hit me in the groin four times just before he clipped me. I was falling from pain when he hit me. The last blow brushed my chin. I was not knocked out, I simply doubled up from the pain and could not rise."

The above is the Boston Strong Boy's declaration or perhaps some fans would call it an alibi. At all events he went down and out and all the foul blows he mentions does not show below the border line. He was examined by physicians who stated that a slight discoloration (red) appeared across his mid-section, the spot bold Jack concentrated on during the entire ten party.

Next Battle

Well, here we are, one big bout over and another in the offing. Before the excitement of Thursday night's affair abates, sport writers and fans all over the world in general will have begun to dope between the Champion Gen. Tunney and his challenger, Jack Dempsey. The fight, it has been definitely announced will take place at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, Sept. 15.

Tex Rickard who promoted the fight, which drew close to 85,000 people to the Yankee Stadium, had signed the above mentioned gentlemen to a contract in which they agreed that the winner would meet Gene Tunney for the championship at any date and in any place that Rickard selected.

Rickard will name Chicago as the place, and Sept. 15, only a little over a month from now, as the date. Sharkey probably now can get a fight with Paolino.

What The Referee Says

Jack O'Sullivan, the referee says: "The blow which preceded the knockout punch, a left to the jaw, was a fairly delivered one. It was a right upper cut that landed on the waist-line, but not below. It is true that Dempsey landed several times below the waist-line in previous rounds, but in no cases were the punches injurious or deliberate, nor Sharkey, previous to the final round."

Some Interesting Figures

The Dempsey-Sharkey battle drew larger receipts than any previous non-championship fight, and was exceeded by only two fights for the world boxing title. Dempsey only drew $250,000, while poor Sharkey had to take $250,000 or two for hundreds in the "pickings" (expense) just $610,000; the Government too asked a tax amounting to $100,000 and got it. The State of New York had a finger in the melon—a few dollars—50,000. And last but not least Tex Rickard had to assume all the responsibility for the fight. He drew a gate of $1,100,000. Sad indeed that 24,000 people were treated to such a bang-up show which lasted nearly 19 full minutes—and the prices were so moderate—oh, so moderate.

Your Money Or Your Life

The above when considered in dollars and cents leaves nothing for the imagination but in its stead brings us suddenly to a state of realization. Over eighty thousand people paid over a million dollars last Thursday night to see two prize fighters attempt to batter one another into insensibility. One of them who was able to knock his opponent into unconsciousness received a quarter of a million dollars for his few minutes of triumph, while the one who was beaten into insensibility received slightly less.

BASEBALL

The Anchors and Stars will meet at 6 o'clock this evening on the Abegweit diamond in the fifth game of the City League baseball schedule.

Tonight's game was to have been between the Anchors and Rovers, but owing to a number of the Rovers players being out of the city, the Stars and Anchors will furnish the entertainment for the fans.

The Anchors are out to win this game from the Stars and still hold on to a place in the second section for a chance to yet come out on top. They have the material and are going to use it to the best advantage to down the Stars.

The Stars, who have been winning right along with only one defeat since the commencement of the League are confident they will keep up their reputation as a winning aggregation and will have everyone on deck to give the Anchors another defeat if possible.

Both teams have given the fans an exciting time of it every time they meet this season so that this evening's game should prove as good, if not better than any previous game of the League.

The fans from the West and East ends of the city will be given another chance to shout for their team this evening and if it will be anything like other games there sure will be some noise.

Dempsey and Tunney Meet in September

(Can. Press) NEW YORK, July 23.—Tex Rickard announced Saturday that Jack Dempsey has been formally named as Gene Tunney's opponent in a world's heavyweight title boxing match to be held some time in September.

Tunney agreed to postpone to a definite announcement as to the time and place until August 5. Rickard originally scheduled to name Tunney's opponent and the site of the title battle on July 25. The champion accepted Dempsey as his opponent without comment. No new contract was signed as the one made with the promoter last winter bound him to defend his title against a challenger of Rickard's choice. Day Field Malone, Tunney's attorney at that time said the champion received a flat guarantee of $400,000 in addition to 50% of the net proceeds over $1,000,000.

Abegweits Training

The Abegweit athletes were out in force at the Abegweit grounds last evening getting in shape for the coming Maritime events. Coach Bill Halpenny was putting them through their paces and all were showing up wonderfully well and things look bright for another crack at the track honors. P. E. Last evening's contingent of athletes consisted of the following: Phil McDonald, Allan Stewart, Gordon White, Wallie Scantebury, Joseph Trainor, Arthur Gormley, Ed. Hornby, Willie Murley and Wm. Power.

M. P. B. President Says All In Order

AMHERST, July 25.—According to D. Webster Fraser, president of the Maritime branch of the A. A. U. C. sports affairs in the Maritime Provinces are today running smoothly, and aside from one baseball dispute in Saint John, there has been little of moment to require the services of the M. P. B. as arbiters. Both Mr. Fraser and his secretary, C. D. Shipley, has been paying close attention to correspondence, and have filled out many amateur cards, in response to affidavits and renewal forms.

Mr. Fraser is now interested in the preparations for the Olympic meets being held at Halifax and Moncton, and he is urging upon the various clubs in the provinces the need of co-operation in the effort to develop their athletes, and make them capable of facing the best men of the Upper Provinces in all forms of sport. He was particularly pleased with the performance of Leigh Miller, of Halifax, the Wanderers' sprint star, who recently, at the Highland games in Antigonish, twice struck a ten second stride in different heats of the century event.
