Manila Bay Forts

Sink Jap Ships

WASHINGTON, April 29—(AP)—The Manila Bay forts, blasting at the Japanese with heavy artillery fire, sank an enemy ship in the Bay and silenced some of the gun batteries in Cavite and Bataan, the United States war department reported today.

A communique containing the department's first report on the Philippines in two days said also that the forts, replying to heavy shelling from the Japanese guns, broke up troop concentrations on both sides of the Bay.

The ship, an armed vessel operated by the Japanese, was described in a report from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Australia as of medium size.

HEARTENING

Moresby, Australian outpost on New Guinea, to the north of the continent, might be expected within two weeks. Fifteen enemy ships were reported concentrated at Rabaul, New Britain, with others off base, New Guinea. The Japanese so were reported missing and better aircraft in the northern islands.

Tokyo broadcasts yesterday reported the occupation, as of April 19, of all strategically important bases on the northern shore of the Netherlands Indies and in the Molucca Islands to the west, all of which might be used for attack on the north Australian coast.

United States fliers raided the airbase at Lae again yesterday, destroying an ammunition dump, and fought off eight bombers and 14 fighters which attacked the Allied airbase at Port Moresby.

A federal subsidy of 30 cents per 100 pounds of milk paid producers since last Dec. 22, will be discontinued tomorrow.

Reds shift

Action to Southward

LONDON, April 29—(AP)—The Red Armies were attacking strongly tonight above and below Kursk, a half-way house and major supply base between the German line in the lower Moscow front south to the sea of Azov.

Soviet dispatches reported that Russian troops had reached Novaya, northwest of Kursk on the road to Orel, and were advancing near Belgorod some 50 miles above Kursk and about 100 miles south of Kharkov in an effort to envelop and destroy that key base in Hitler's summer offensive plans.

Heavy fighting also was reported about Yuzovka which lies on the Donets River 80 miles to the southwest of Kharkov.

All this shifting of Russian offensive active salients to areas for some time hitherto quiescent appeared to be a major attempt to smash the bases from which the Nazis launched their attack on the heaviest of their projected attacks.

It was accompanied by word from Kulybster, alternate Russian capital, that the Germans had sent 100,000 troops to the Donets River 80 miles to the southwest of Kharkov.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hutchison of Ellerslie were week-end guests of the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Inglis and also Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson.

Lengthy debate

Over Committee on War expenditures

OTTAWA, April 29—(CP)—Greater use should be made of the experience and training of members of Parliament by assigning them to committees dealing with the war effort, Dr. J. M. Macdonald, Conservative leader in the House of Commons today.

He raised the point in debate on the setting up of a committee on war expenditures and complained there was not a single medical man on the committee which, among other things, would have to deal with large expenditures on medical services for the armed forces. There were 15 to 20 medical men in the House.

"I laughed when I read the personnel of the committee and I laugh at myself when I am put on the fisheries committee when I do not know any more about lobsters or the fishing industry than other members of the committee," said Dr. McCann.

Greater consideration had been given to geographical distribution than to the capacity or expertise of the members nominated to the committee.

"In the committee consisting of 24 members, there are 14 lawyers," he said. "Fortunately the Prime Minister has seen fit to put along with them one or two preachers to guide them along the right path."

Debated All Afternoon

The House spent the whole afternoon debating Prime Minister Mackenzie King's motion to set up the committee and had not passed it at adjournment. The committee will be similar to one which functioned last session. Its job is "to examine the expenditures defrayed out of moneys provided by Parliament for the defence services and for other services directly connected with the war and to report what, if any, economies consistent with the execution of the policy decided by Parliament may be effected therein."

Rev. T. C. Douglas (C.C.F. Weyburn) protested the delay in setting up the committee. He said Parliament had been sitting three months and the committee should have been at work long ago. Parliament had a poor way of conducting the nation's business in wartime.

Tomorrow the House will resume debate on the motion to set up the committee, with New Democratic leader Blackmore holding the floor, continuing a speech he complained the committee could not cover its ground if it sat "every day from now till the end of the year."

N.B. Retail Milk

Prices To Advance

FREDERICTON, April 29—(CP)—Retail milk prices will advance one cent per quart Friday in nine areas governed by regulations of the New Brunswick Dairy Production Commission, and the wholesale price will be increased in 16 areas to make this level one cent below the retail price instead of the present two cents.

This was announced today by H. N. Flewelling, commission secretary, who said the increases had been approved by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Maximum price for milk and milk products will become effective throughout Canada the same day, May 1.

Increases do not affect Saint John, Moncton and Fredericton, where retail prices already are at the maximum.

The present retail price at Saint John is 18 cents per quart and in other areas it varies from 10 to 13.

The new regulations will apply to the areas of Grand Falls, Edmundston, Bathurst, Miramichi, Marysville, Sussex, St. Joseph and Dorchester. The wholesale price will be increased in these areas as well as those of Woodstock, Campbellton, Newcastle, St. Stephen, Shediac and Sackville.

A federal subsidy of 30 cents per 100 pounds of milk paid producers since last Dec. 22, will be discontinued tomorrow.

Badly shot Up Bomber

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, April 29—(CP Cable)

A crippling encounter with a Nazi night fighter after last night's heavy R.A.F. raid on the Kiel Naval Base was described today by wing Cmdr. J. J. Fulton of Kanoops, 5. We managed to nurse home a badly-damaged Wellington bomber and land safely.

"We bombed Kiel good and hard and were well out across the North Sea when things began happening," said the commander of a R.C.A.F. Wellington squadron in a graphic account of the return flight.

"A fighter attacked us—he must have seen us again the moon," said Fulton. "He was about 100 yards away when the rear gunner spotted him. Our man shot about 12 rounds before the other guy opened up."

"I couldn't get a reply from the rear turret, the inter-communications. It looked as though the gunner had been knocked out. I shouted to the astro hatch and told me if the guy was going to attack again. We went down in tight spirals to the water."

"The Wellington was shaking like nothing on earth. I figured the port engine was shaking so I stopped it and open up the starboard engine. We were only 20 feet above the water, unable to climb, and just hanging on with the starboard engine working its guts out."

"If the fighter had come on again, we couldn't have done a thing. We went staggering along, still 20 feet above the water."

Fulton told how the navigator, with a slightly wounded arm, went back to assist the rear gunner. The rear turret was badly shot up and the navigator had to chop down the turret doors and aim the gun: "by a miracle" was only scratched.

"We came rattling and shaking home with all the instruments gone except the altimeter and the climb indicator. Two wheels hung down. Both turs were flat. There was no brake pressure, no flaps, no air-speed indicator."

In this case, we made a belly landing. The Wellington skidded along quite nicely. We were all unhurt."

EXPLOSIVE, FIRE

The blows against German strong points on the French coast continued today. Bombers (Douglas) fighters, lashed at Dunkerque and shot down two Nazi fighters while losing two themselves.
