CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

Find Death Was Due To Natural Causes

Death of J.A. Murphy at Alberton last week was due to natural causes, a coroner's jury decided yesterday after hearing evidence of Dr. T. Muncey Tanton. The man who operated a bakery died on July 23 after an illness of less than a day. He complained of severe abdominal pains. An inquest opened last week and then adjourned to await the findings of an autopsy. Dr. Tanton testified on that phase of the case yesterday. Mr. M.V. Curry was jury foreman. Mr. J.E.C. Hunter, Justice of the Peace, was coroner.

COST OF LIVING

ployed in private homes and government and municipal employees will now receive a bonus of 60 per cent of their salary, depending on which group they are in. If they are not now receiving a bonus.

The federal civil service bonus—provided under a special order-in-council—is increased from $11.91 a month to $18.42 a month, or from 12 per cent to 17 per cent. The civil service bonus is not payable to employees earning over $2,100, except manual workers.

An unofficial labor department source placed at "more than 1,000,000" the number of Canadians now receiving bonuses. This informant said it was his belief that "considerably more than that number" will be paid bonuses for the first time when the war labor board's order becomes effective.

While some will receive less than 60 cents a week because of the percentage provision for lower wage groups, it was estimated that "considerably more than $1,000,000 a week—$52,000,000 a year—will be involved in the adjustment of bonus payments.

The board's order specifies that the amount of the adjusted bonus shall not exceed $4.25 a week or 17 per cent of the basic salary. Previous maximum bonuses being paid in accordance with the wages order were $3.65, based on 25 cents a point for an index increase of 14 points.

The order also provides that the $4.25 or 17 per cent ceiling shall apply to bonuses which are not based on wages order. If these bonuses are in excess of the limit they will remain unchanged but if below the limit they may be adjusted upwards, similarly to other bonuses, provided they do not pass the top figures of $4.25 or 17 per cent.

The wartime wages and bonus order applies in general to those in the rank of foreman or lower. Employees above the rank of foreman come under the wartime salaries order which permits, but does not require the payment of bonuses to executives.

This special permission is not to be applied to officials receiving more than $4,200 a year and a general limit of $3,000 applies to those eligible to receive the bonus.

Persons earning less than $2,100 are automatically subject to the bonus order while those receiving salaries of $2,100 or more are considered salaried officials unless their duties clearly show they are not above the rank of foreman.

Bonuses are adjusted quarterly if the index has advanced or declined at least one point. The first adjustment to be made since the price ceiling came into effect last October when the index stood at 114.6.

There were 429,000 single men and 429,000 children on farms in Canada and 595,000 working as clerks or in transportation and industry. These were the only two large pools of single men from which recruits for the armed forces could be obtained and because there was little unemployment in Canada in any age group, there was no source from which men could be obtained for farms.

May Take More Men From Farms

REGINA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said in an interview here today that it may be necessary to take further men from farms for the armed forces.

"If we must have more men for the armed forces, some of them will have to come off the farm as well as out of industry," he said.

Garbo Proves Brilliant Comedienne in M-G-M's "Two-Faced Woman"

Those who have been clamoring to see Greta Garbo in another comedy like "Ninotchka" will have their wish fulfilled beyond expectation in "Two-Faced Woman," which opened last night on the Capitol screen, with Melvyn Douglas as her love rival.

Going even beyond the light touches she revealed in the previous comedy, Garbo in her new role goes all-out in a comedy performance which has her singing, doing a brilliant rumba, wearing a new, ultra-modern hairdress, and appearing for the first time in bathing suit.

Garbo in the situation of a woman who is on the verge of losing her husband only a short time after he has married her. Her publisher, Lawrence Blake (Douglas), had met and married the lovely ski instructor, Karin Borg (Garbo), while on vacation at a winter resort. Returning to New York on business soon after the wedding, he falls into the hands of an alluring playwrite, (Bennett), who seduces her.

When Karin follows Lawrence to New York and sees up the situation, she finds her real identity and masquerades as her "twin sister," Katherine. She contrives a meeting with her husband and his perplexity at the playwrite's assistance results in a series of highly diverting episodes.

"Invitation" To Japs To Invade India

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Informed British sources today described M.K. Gandhi's desire to negotiate with Japan as "merely an invitation to Japan to invade India."

Those who are well-posted on Indian politics said, however, there was little reason to assume that the disclosure of Gandhi's frame of mind would "substantially weaken Gandhi's following in India, although it might influence moderate and possibly small groups within the congress party itself."

The government declared that papers selected to attack on the Indian congress party headquarters at Allahabad showed the great majority of the congress working committee to be "apparently in complete accord with the resolution (on civil disobedience) should be so phrased that the congress position before public opinion would not be compromised."

Gandhi, in reply, acknowledged that he had raised such suggestions with reservations—but intimated it had intended only as a bargaining item.

NEW DELHI, Aug. 4.—(CP)—M.K. Gandhi advocated negotiation with Japan as the first step to be taken by an independent town at their own expense to be examined by the Medical representative on their application for treatment.

The convention "emphatically endorsed the resolution passed at the Winnipeg Convention requesting that the Order-in-Council regarding treatment in classes 2 and 3 be amended by striking out the words, 'active remedial' wherever they occur in the regulations."

The convention also endorsed: The resolution urging that the granting of dependents' allowances be established as a statutory right and that allowances for widowed mothers be at the same rate as those payable to the wife of the member of the force.

The insurance principle regarding pension entitlement in the Dominion and women serving in our armed forces irrespective of whether or not they may serve in the theatre of actual war and urges the restoration of the equitable principle to the Pension Act.

The resolution passed at the Winnipeg Convention calling upon the Dominion Government to provide for the widows and dependents of our comrades who served in the Great War in the same way as the widows and dependents of those who served in the Dominion since 1914 is achieved."

Cordial and loyal greetings extended to Gov. Paton, the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada and to Her Royal Highness the Princess Alice. His Excellency has set a very high record in the splendid way in which he has carried out the duties of his high office.

Respect and loyalty to the Hon. B. W. LePage, Lieutenant-Governor of this Province and as a member of the Legion's personal commission of the Canadian Pension Commission or the Appeal Board regarding his entitlement to pension.

It also urged that steps be taken at once to compile and keep a continuous record of all the enlistments from 1914 to the present in His Majesty's armed forces.

Dr. Cyrus MacMillan, a member of the Charlottetown branch of the Legion, outlined briefly the legislation passed this year in the Dominion Parliament designed for the benefit of the veterans of the last war and the present conflict.

He referred first to the land settlement act which is expected to rehabilitate about 100,000 men, prepared and should eliminate the blunders of the land settlement act implemented after the Great War, he declared and explained some of the requirements of the new bill. Another step to assist the members of the present war industry, he declared and explained how this would work out.

There is also the vocational training program, the speaker said and told how this would benefit the ex-service men. This would pay the men for a year after the cessation of hostilities while they were taking instruction.

Dr. MacMillan also dealt with the matters taken up by the committee on honors and decorations of which he was chairman. This legislation was not bringing back class distinctions but was the method of allotting honors to Canadians by Canada, he explained.

He stated that most people have a misconception with regard to the gravity of the situation. They do not realize the seriousness of the war. "The crisis is upon us and we have to meet it," he stated. This is a mechanized war and the people were paying for it in

Youth Steals $1,000 Ring

TORONTO, Aug. 4.—(CP)—A youth wearing a Royal Canadian Air Force uniform stole a diamond jewelry store today by surreptitious means, leaving in its place a 15-cent ring.

Police said the youth entered the jewelry store today, showed the clerk the $400 ring and said it wasn't satisfied with it and that he wanted his girl to have an especially good engagement ring. The salesman brought a tray of diamond rings and the youth said he would like to see some more. The salesman left to get another tray and when he came back with it the youth had the $400 ring in his hand and was gone.

A few minutes afterwards the salesman found the $1,000 ring missing and the $400 ring in its place. Detectives said the $400 ring was identified as the one stolen from the department store last week when the youth was left in the store and suggested that the suspect is an international diamond thief working under the guise of a R.C.A.F. uniform.
