ITALIANS WAVE CHEERFULLY LONDON, Sept. 19 — (CP) — The Air Ministry news service issued the report today that some Italian civilians, like some Belgians, French and Netherlands, are waving encouragement to Royal Air Force bombers when they go raiding. Describing a raid on munitions plants at Licata, Sicily, two days ago, a South African squadron leader said that about 10 miles off shore "we flew over a fleet of fishing vessels. Near'y all the crews stood up and waved cheerfully. We were only a few feet above them."

—SPY TRIAL for transmission to Germany. Judge Mortimer L. Byers, presiding at the trial of Heine and 15 others charged with espionage conspiracy, admitted the papers subject to the government's establishing Heine's authorship. William G. Sebald, who said he was assigned to espionage by the German Gestapo and then turned his commission over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, identified the papers as having been given him by Lily Stein—one of 17 who pleaded guilty to one or both counts of the indictment. Sebald said that in June, 1940, he had queried the Hamburg Gestapo as to how they wanted the data sent. He was in charge of a secret "spy" radio on Long Island which the F. B. I. helped him build and operate. Court was adjourned until Monday before it was established whether the information ever reached Germany.

—BEV. BAXTER (Continued from page 1) forceful nation winning this war." Mr. Baxter said there was a danger of Germany forcing its ideas upon the world for a thousand years if victorious, "until men may not want freedom, because they have forgotten what it is." "We cannot fight this war as if war is separate from the rest of our existence." Mr. Baxter paid tribute to the financial and other contributions of Canada to the war effort but said "and yet, let me speak as a Canadian now, how can a nation as important as Canada... how can she face her pledge without conscription?" "It is not that conscription will send so many more men. Conscription has almost become in this war a declaration of democracy in itself." Conscription in Britain had been "the biggest democratic influence in Britain for decades. It has worked smoothly, and has enabled Britain to face her great dangers." He added that "the holding back of conscription must have a depressing effect on those who look closely at Canada's war effort."

—NEW RESPONSIBILITY ON CANADIANS TO PREVENT FOREST FIRES OTTAWA, Sept. 19 — (CP) — War has placed a new responsibility on the Canadian people to prevent forest fires as part of their duty of preserving the national economy and speeding defence preparations. Dominion forest service officials said today. The officials, checking their records in a season when fire losses may be higher than for several years, said the careless smoker and the picknicker who fails to make sure his fire is out, have cost the Dominion more than $60,000,000 in the past 20 years. In a plea for public co-operation in preventing fires, officials said the following facts should be considered: 1. Canadian wood and wood products exports provided a total of $310,000,000 in vitally needed foreign exchange credit in 1940. 2. Lightning, the only important natural cause of forest fires, is responsible for only about 16 per cent of the annual loss from fire. 3. Operations of air training schools, an essential part of the Canadian war effort, have sometimes been delayed by billowing smoke from our forest fires. 4. The onus of protecting forest resources is more completely laid on the public because forest protection services have been depleted by the enlistment of trained men, while war industries and enlistment have drawn away from rural communities many of the men who used to be available as reserves to fight serious fire outbreaks.

C. A. F.

—DOCTOR LINKS Sleeping malady, Horse fever SASKATOON, Sept. 19 — (CP) — Dr. J. S. Fulton, director of the animal diseases laboratory at University of Saskatchewan, announced today that laboratory research has established a definite link between the current epidemic of human encephalitis or sleeping sickness and equine encephalomyelitis or horse brain fever. He reported to Dr. R. O. Davison, Deputy Saskatchewan Minister of Public Health, that thorough examination of at least two specimens in recently fatal human cases had established definitely that death was caused by the western strain of equine encephalomyelitis. "At Regina Dr. Davison commented that as the clinical symptoms were identical with those of other cases, there was good reason to believe the same virus had been responsible for the epidemic which swept the north-central United States and the Canadian Prairies this year." Use Minard's for dandruff.

—N. S. GENERAL (Continued from page 1) A five-year-mandate was given in the 1937 election but Mr. MacMillan said that tradition of the Liberal Party always reserves appeals to the electorate in four years, rather than awaiting the expiry of the legal five years. According to him, the government has recommended that the Legislature be dissolved and a general election be held Oct. 28. No date was mentioned for nomination day, but it was assumed it would be Oct. 21, the customary week before polling. As the election was called, the 300-member Legislature consisted of 22 Liberals, five Conservatives and one Co-operative Commonwealth Federation member, with one seat vacant. The vacancy was caused by the death of Dr. John L. MacIsaac in Antigonish-Guyborough. The Conservatives, out of power in the Province since 1933, are led by Leonard W. Fraser, 39-year-old Halifax lawyer who represents Cumberland in the House. Mr. Fraser took over the leadership of the opposition forces last year after the death of Hon. J. A. MacIsaac. Mr. Fraser is a member of Parliament as member for Cumberland. Mr. Fraser led his party members through one session of the 18th Legislature, since Confederation. For the premier, it was also the first time he had headed the government at a sitting. Mr. MacMillan, who had been Minister of Highways since 1933, took over as Premier when Hon. Angus L. Macdonald went to Ottawa last year as Minister of National Defence for Naval Services. Mr. Macdonald had led the Liberals through successful elections in 1933 and 1937.

—MONTREAL, Sept. 19 — Modern science to a considerable extent backs the present display of Aurora Borealis. Formerly electrical displays of this character seriously up-set telegraph operations but R. M. MacMillan, Superintendent, Canadian National Telegraphs today said that the extensive use of the carrier current system over large areas of the Dominion had enabled the company to maintain its service with intermittent delays only. "The carrier system, which is in effect 'wired wireless,' is a metallic circuit which guides as many as 32 different channels of communication between terminals. Other circuits which are 'grounded,' depending on the earth for return are completely disrupted by displays of the Aurora; but the considerable number of carrier circuits in use now enables Canadian National Telegraphs to maintain service on a fairly satisfactory basis. In the old days it was necessary for telegraph operators to wait until nature ended its playful behavior before resuming business. Kiew Under Siege Two Months (Kiew has been under siege for more than two months and the Germans having claimed on July 13 that armored troops were knocking at its gates and that it appeared doomed.) As the Germans thus pressed farther eastward, and nearer to vast territories inhabited by Mohammedans, the chief of that religion in the Soviet Union called upon all Islam to rise up against "the devastation of Fascism." There are about 235,000,000 Mohammedans in the world, unnumbered millions of them living in the Soviet districts of the Crimean, the Ural, the Caucasus, and in Asiatic Russia. The head of the Orthodox Church made a similar appeal to members of his faith soon after the German invasion began on June 22. An Old Story Kiew, one of the oldest cities in Russia and repeatedly overrun during its long history, is the third largest population centre in the Soviet Union with about 650,000 residents. It is important not only as an agricultural and market centre but for its iron works and other heavy industries. In stating that heavy fighting was continuing all along the front from the Black Sea to the Arctic, the Russian communiqué gave few details. It said, however, that the Germans had lost 15,000 men in a vain attempt to seize Oesel Island off the Estonian coast. The flourish, following up a Russian announcement Tuesday that an attack had been repulsed, was issued in response to German denials that Oesel was assaulted. S. A. Lazovsky, Vice Commissar for Foreign Affairs, told a press conference that heavy Rumanian losses had eased the pressure on Odessa, but said the Germans apparently had sent in some reinforcements in response to a warning from Rumanian General Ion Antonescu that the Rumanians could not continue the offensive unaided. Believes Nazis Will Be Stopped Ralph Ingersoll, publisher of the New York paper PM, arriving in Turkey from Moscow, said he believed the Germans might take a few more "limited objectives" in Russia but that their ultimate would be stopped. He held that American equipment then could make itself felt. Authorities in London acknowledged that loss of the coal, oil and steel of the Ukraine constituted a heavy blow to the Russians, but asserted the Red army would be able to maintain large field forces even if the Germans took all the Donets basin and the industrial city of Kharkov. These sources said the Russians had many sources of supply in the Ural Mountain region, in central Asia and around Moscow and that preparations had been made for such a situation as now was developing.

—POWERFUL SHORT Wave Station to Reach Germans BOSTON, Sept. 19 — (AP) — Plans to "try to break the German people away from the yoke of Nazism" by means of "intensified" radio broadcasts from an American short wave station that is designed to be the most powerful in the world were disclosed today by Walter S. Lemon, president of the World Wide Broadcasting Foundation. Founder of station WRUL, which is now the strongest short wave unit in the western hemisphere, Lemon said the federal communications commission had just authorized the establishment of new transmission facilities that would eventually add another 100,000 watts of power to the foundation's radio arm. Declaring plans have been made to "double our broadcasts within 90 days to the German people and to German-speaking people in occupied countries," he added: "Up to now, our broadcasts to the Germans have been mainly dispatches of news, but now, we're really going to make a drive to reach the people and show them what they have lost in culture under the Hitler regime."

TODAY — THE KING OF CONFUSION GEORGE FORMBY in his NEWEST Laugh Maker LET GEORGE DO IT Also "Crime Doesn't Pay" Shows at 3—7.30—9.10 CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

—"Let George Do It" Capitol, Summerside The Laughs on Adolf! New Film Pokes Fun at Fuehrer. In the midst of depressing war clouds and gloom the movie makers have come through with the funniest picture ever made about a dictator. "Let George Do It" now playing at the Capitol Theatre, has the brave and hilarious humor that inspired the classic songs of the World War. This, one of the most rollicking pictures to hit the screen in years, is a bit of a comedy. We have such grand songs as "Count Your Blessings and Smiles," "Oh! Don't Let the Wind Blow Cold," which has special significance in the film and is used to send code messages to U-boats. Both of these have become widely popular wagers. "Let George Do It" has been shown, and for sheer comedy and toe tapping swing time, Mr. Wu is a "Window Cleaner" is probably the best number. Aside from his music, "Let George Do It" is ninety minutes of the fastest, dizziest adventures of a toothy, likeable fellow who falls into the hands of spies. It all begins when he receives by mistake, instructions meant for a member of the British Intelligence. He is ordered to go on a U-boat about to be torpedoed. Does he deserve pretty blue-eyed Mary in the end? Well, does he?

ITALIANS WAVE CHEERFULLY LONDON, Sept. 19 — (CP) — The Air Ministry news service issued the report today that some Italian civilians, like some Belgians, French and Netherlands, are waving encouragement to Royal Air Force bombers when they go raiding. Near'y all the crews stood up and waved cheerfully. We were only a few feet above them."

—MONTREAL, Sept. 19 — Modern science to a considerable extent backs the present display of Aurora Borealis. Formerly electrical displays of this character seriously up-set telegraph operations but R. M. MacMillan, Superintendent, Canadian National Telegraphs today said that the extensive use of the carrier current system over large areas of the Dominion had enabled the company to maintain its service with intermittent delays only. "The carrier system, which is in effect 'wired wireless,' is a metallic circuit which guides as many as 32 different channels of communication between terminals. Other circuits which are 'grounded,' depending on the earth for return are completely disrupted by displays of the Aurora; but the considerable number of carrier circuits in use now enables Canadian National Telegraphs to maintain service on a fairly satisfactory basis. In the old days it was necessary for telegraph operators to wait until nature ended its playful behavior before resuming business. Kiew Under Siege Two Months (Kiew has been under siege for more than two months and the Germans having claimed on July 13 that armored troops were knocking at its gates and that it appeared doomed.) As the Germans thus pressed farther eastward, and nearer to vast territories inhabited by Mohammedans, the chief of that religion in the Soviet Union called upon all Islam to rise up against "the devastation of Fascism." There are about 235,000,000 Mohammedans in the world, unnumbered millions of them living in the Soviet districts of the Crimean, the Ural, the Caucasus, and in Asiatic Russia. The head of the Orthodox Church made a similar appeal to members of his faith soon after the German invasion began on June 22. An Old Story Kiew, one of the oldest cities in Russia and repeatedly overrun during its long history, is the third largest population centre in the Soviet Union with about 650,000 residents. It is important not only as an agricultural and market centre but for its iron works and other heavy industries. In stating that heavy fighting was continuing all along the front from the Black Sea to the Arctic, the Russian communiqué gave few details. It said, however, that the Germans had lost 15,000 men in a vain attempt to seize Oesel Island off the Estonian coast. The flourish, following up a Russian announcement Tuesday that an attack had been repulsed, was issued in response to German denials that Oesel was assaulted. S. A. Lazovsky, Vice Commissar for Foreign Affairs, told a press conference that heavy Rumanian losses had eased the pressure on Odessa, but said the Germans apparently had sent in some reinforcements in response to a warning from Rumanian General Ion Antonescu that the Rumanians could not continue the offensive unaided. Believes Nazis Will Be Stopped Ralph Ingersoll, publisher of the New York paper PM, arriving in Turkey from Moscow, said he believed the Germans might take a few more "limited objectives" in Russia but that their ultimate would be stopped. He held that American equipment then could make itself felt. Authorities in London acknowledged that loss of the coal, oil and steel of the Ukraine constituted a heavy blow to the Russians, but asserted the Red army would be able to maintain large field forces even if the Germans took all the Donets basin and the industrial city of Kharkov. These sources said the Russians had many sources of supply in the Ural Mountain region, in central Asia and around Moscow and that preparations had been made for such a situation as now was developing.

—DOCTOR LINKS Sleeping malady, Horse fever SASKATOON, Sept. 19 — (CP) — Dr. J. S. Fulton, director of the animal diseases laboratory at University of Saskatchewan, announced today that laboratory research has established a definite link between the current epidemic of human encephalitis or sleeping sickness and equine encephalomyelitis or horse brain fever. He reported to Dr. R. O. Davison, Deputy Saskatchewan Minister of Public Health, that thorough examination of at least two specimens in recently fatal human cases had established definitely that death was caused by the western strain of equine encephalomyelitis. "At Regina Dr. Davison commented that as the clinical symptoms were identical with those of other cases, there was good reason to believe the same virus had been responsible for the epidemic which swept the north-central United States and the Canadian Prairies this year."
