groom, little Miss Gloria Large and Master Gordon DeBois. The pretty tea table was presided over by Mrs. James Simpson and Mrs. H. J. Palmer, while Mrs. J. F. Morris cut the loes.

Dr. S. R. and Mrs. Jenkins entertained at dinner on Thursday in honor of Mr. H. J. Palmer and his fiancée.

Mrs. Frederick Gane-Morris was among the hostesses entertaining this week for Mrs. H. A. Richardson, of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Egerton MacNabb, of St. John's, Nfld., who have been spending a holiday of several weeks in this city and at Cardigan, left yesterday on return home.

Mrs. Frank Chauvin and little son who have been spending the summer with the Chief Justice and Mrs. Mathieson, are leaving this morning for their home in Montreal accompanied by Miss Avilla Mathieson.

Many home friends were interested this week in the appointment of Mr. Daniel McDonald to be Chief Justice of the Province of Manitoba. Judge McDonald is a Prince Edward Islander, the son of the late Captain Alexander McDonald, Point Prim, and a brother of Mrs. Charles Hyndman, Mrs. Donald McDonald, Mrs. Ronald McDonald and David McDonald, of Tacoma, Washington. Mr. McDonald was a student in the law office of Messrs. Davies and Sutherland, Charlottetown, and for a number of years and later practised his profession in Winnipeg.

The smart head of Autumn and Winter is the small head, but the small hat that covers it may be infinitely varied. Individuality is the measure of its chic. Many hats are brimless, others have brims that turn up or down. Trimmings are softly feminine and decidedly decorative. Black is the first choice of the Parisienne elegante, red is brightly appealing, green and gray seen to a degree, while browns of every hue and shade are accepted everywhere as smart.

Fashion is fonder than ever of jersey cloth—uses it for everything from golf togs to sportified versions of formal town dress. And puts it in the front rank as a smart, sensible material for college girl and business woman.

Paris, New York and London are booming velvet. It's one of the fabrics to be considered if you're gathering a trousseau or any wardrobe that aims to be smart. The predominant colors are brown, tans and greens.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Andrew and their daughter, Miss Vera Andrew, returned Wednesday from a very delightful motor trip from Toronto to Minneapolis. On arriving in the Queen City, they visited the Toronto Exhibition and were met by their son, Mr. Frank Andrew who took the motor trip with them. They thoroughly enjoyed the wonderful scenery at Niagara, through Detroit and Chicago and at Gladstone, Wis., where Mrs. Andrew visited her daughter, Mrs. White and Mr. Frank Andrew, the rest of the party going on to Minneapolis.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Ramsay are being warmly welcomed home by their many friends at a pleasant outing spent camping and visiting in Nova Scotia. They arrived by the S. S. Hochelaga, yesterday.

Adding hot milk instead of cold to mashed potatoes makes them lighter. Mash well, add salt, butter and hot milk last. Beat for a mixer.

It Pays To Get The Facts

A large proportion of all the nerve energy generated in a normal body is expended in the act of seeing. Eyes are often found to be defective so that although vision is still good, they are consuming twice or three times their allotted portion of nerve force, thus robbing other vital organs of their motive power.

The result is serious physical disorders—often in remote parts of the body. Two out of every ten people are in this fix, yet the real cause of their trouble is often not even suspected until a thorough examination discloses the facts.

If there is any reason whatever to suspect eye strain, the common sense thing to do is to have a thorough examination and

Dominion Getting Control Of Tree Seed Business

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 15.—Because Canadian seeds seem to grow better in all parts of the world than seeds from any other country the Dominion is getting control of the tree seed business of the world. The antipodes, practically Australian and New Zealand take most of the seed exported from Canada but Italy will be the largest consumer this year. Capt. Wm. A. Fyde-Hurst, of Donnyhufst, Ont., president of the seed exporting business at that point, is responsible for this information which he divulged while passing through Winnipeg recently on his way to Kamloops, B. C., where he has a seed rearing plant.

The Captain stated that the Italian government has instituted a large re-forestation scheme, and has ordered supplies for the project from Canada. Denmark also, the Captain said, imports Canadian tree seeds for re-forestation work which has been carried on for the last several years. Even Russia has asked for Canadian seeds, but the Captain said that he didn't think that country would get any seeds from the Dominion as a deposit in negotiable securities was asked for by the Canadian company but the guarantee was not forthcoming although the request has been made for several years now.

Weekly London Letter

By TEMPLE CHAMBERS

(By British United Press)

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Betting Tax for which Mr. Churchill was responsible, and which has caused so much heart-burning in sporting circles, has raised up a political enemy for him in his own constituency of Epping.

The introduction of an "Independent Conservative" to fight Mr. Churchill in Epping on that issue, however, is not likely to perturb the Chancellor, who never shirks a fight.

Whether with the presence also of a Liberal and possibly of a Labour candidate too, his seat will be endangered, is quite another matter. At present he commands a majority of 6,000 over both his opponents.

In the 28 years that Mr. Churchill has been in public life he has fought 13 elections, of which 7 only have been successful. Dundee is the greatest feather in his cap; he won that seat five times in succession. The Westminster constituency was the scene of what may be called his most sensational "scrap". He failed as an Independent, by 47 votes, in a quartet of aspirants.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The diplomatic blunders of the Soviet have not passed without their reactions in England. The openly avowed sympathy which a number of important representatives of the Socialist Party have displayed for the Russian Reds has obviously alienated a considerable number of former supporters, and there is reason to believe that party organizers are not a little perturbed as to the future.

With the coming into force of the Trades Disputes Act, the party is faced with a serious problem of finance. Hence, the big Socialist campaign which is planned for the Fall.

The point is that trade unions cannot now levy for political purposes, except with the consent of the individual member. That is to say, no member can be compelled to pay dues to his Unions to be applied to such an object, nor can he be expelled therefrom for refusing to contribute. The consequences is that there is great doubt as to what proportion of members will contribute voluntarily.

The Empire ought to be full of lively gratitude to the man who upset the Republican scheme in Ireland by the simple expedient of offering to abstain from voting. What threatened to be an Empire tragedy, and a real disaster for the distressed country, has ended in the Irish fashion—a gale of laughter.

A saviour of Ireland ought, in the fittingness of things, to have borne a melancholy Hibernian name, but now, the hour having produced the man, he turns out to be one John Jinks, and it would be hard indeed to give that unromantic patronymic the character of the tongue of Gael.

Anyhow, Mr. de Valera, who, swearing he would never take the oath which he took, said in the same breath that he was not taking it, has now to fight his political battle against the terrible disadvantage—especially in Ireland—of ridicule. On the whole one may therefore predict with some confidence that the south of Erin will remain a Free State.

Although Mr. Jinks is not known outside the borders of his own country, he is by no means a nonentity there. He is a well-known figure in Sligo, and was at one time Mayor of the town.

During his term of office, so it was said, there was a good deal of gun-running suspected. One day Mayor Jinks announced that he was glad to be able to say that no one had ever succeeded in running a gun through Sligo. Perhaps he might well have left at that, but he rashly added: "and no one ever will."

Some days later he was invited to auction a quantity of china for some charitable object, and he graciously consented to do so. When the appointed day arrived he made a suitable speech, dilating upon the value of the china in the impressive fashion of an auctioneer, and he succeeded in selling four packed crates.

Also! It came to light subsequently that the crates contained not crockery but GUNS!

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Perhaps one may be permitted to doubt whether there will be much support at the Labour Conference for the proposition that Mr. P. Curran, the cause must serve a novitiate of five years before they can become eligible to stand for election as official Labour candidates. Surely that is imposing too high a penalty on apostasy. But there is likely to be a more telling reason behind the proposal for a similar probationary period for aspirants to membership of the next Labour Cabinet.

Prowse Bros. Limited "The Fashion Centre". The summer session have to be found other work, will return to their normal labours. There are between 800 and 1,000 open fireplaces in the buildings. Lighting and tending these during the winter months keeps a considerable squad of men employed throughout the day and very often far into the night. The method of lighting the fires is not dissimilar to that employed in kindling the peat fires of the remote and isolated moorland farms of Devon. Bundles of rough twigs are used, and these are bought from contractors who usually make deliveries of about 25,000 bundles at a time. And yet we speak of "the unchanging East."
