SPECIAL SERVICE—Former Evangelist Foster held the attention of his audience in the gospel tents on Tuesday night as he portrayed in his unique and forceful manner the Patriarch Abraham, fitting in to the Divine program and verifying Jehovah's promise that he would make of him (1) a great nation, (2) a great name and (3) a great blessing. Tonight (Thursday) the Evangelist will deal with "Jacob". You can't afford to miss these character studies. Service each night including Saturday at 7.30. Sunday the hours will be 10.30, 2.30 and 7. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Emma, while the bridegroom was ably supported by Mr. Gordon Coffin, of Morell. SERVICES WELL ATTENDED—Despite the inclemency of the weather the Sunday services in the gospel tents at the head of Bin Avenue were favorably attended. Former Evangelist Foster, delivered three stirring messages. In the morning he analyzed the Lord's Prayer with such divisions of thought as (1) To whom shall we pray; (2) God's location; (3) The Kingdom interest (4) The forgiving spirit and our duty. In the afternoon his theme was, "The temple cripple." Under this subject he discussed (1) The hour of prayer; (2) The cripple's friends; (3) The apostles power, and (4) The result of the miracle on cripple and community. In the evening he emphasized the command "Go work in my vineyard". In this connection he made plain the relation between service to God and man. (1) "What is the laborer to do; (2) "What is the remuneration for service rendered," and lastly, "the only kind of service acceptable." Tonight (Tuesday) his subject will be "God and Abraham". Service each night at 7.30. Mr. Turpel will speak on Wednesday night. Everybody welcome.

A HAPPY WEDDING TRIP. Ex-Mayor J. M. Laird and Mrs. Laird have returned to their home in Kensington after having enjoyed a most pleasant honeymoon trip in New Brunswick and in the Eastern States. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh P. Morrison, and Mrs. Humphrey, Kensington.

On June 5, in Mr. Laird's new (Advanced Six) Nash sedan, a model of comfort and safe stability, they departed to enjoy the delicacies of newly wedded bliss. Mr. Morrison deftly rotated the wheel. Arrived at Tormentine, they sped up to Moncton, resting there until the following morning. Resuming their sped on to Saint John, N.B., and here they paused long enough to shake hands with Policeman Dunphy, a native of Kensington. From here they hastened on to St. Stephen's, N.B., over the best granite gravel road to be found in America. They tarried here until June 8th, when they crossed the border into the State of Maine. Here they followed the shore, Route No. 1, to Bangor, Maine. Overnight they rested at Penobscot Hotel, whence they proceeded to Freeport, Maine. Kathleen was united in marriage with Edward Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dingwell, Midgell, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Emma, while the bridegroom was ably supported by Mr. Gordon Coffin, of Morell. The bride was prettily attired in an ensemble of blue, and the bridesmaid wore pink. After the wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. McLeod, the double ring service being used, in which the newly wedded pair many years of happy married life.

From here they hastened on to Lynn, Mass., via Newburyport, Beach, by Newburyport Turnpike. This highway is five car widths broad, built of solid concrete. Over this speedway, Mr. Laird's big Nash registered seventy miles, but this was, of course, unobserved by Mr. Laird, as his attention was otherwise held. Into Lynn, Mass., leads this grand highway, and in this progressive town the party lunched at the residence of Mrs. Tulloch, Mr. Laird's daughter. The happy wedding party were so infatuated with the attractions of this beautiful city of Lynn, that they bided here while Mr. and Mrs. Morrison proceeded to Cambridge, Mass., to visit their daughter, Jean, who is stenographer in Radcliffe College, the Ladies' Division of Harvard University. They spent Sunday here with James Newsome, formerly of Craupad, P.E.I. This gentleman is ranked among the wealthiest men in Boston. He formerly dealt in Maine and Prince Edward Island potatoes, which he handled alike to the speculators. They were here most interested in visiting an antique residence which was the headquarters of George Washington, while he sojourned there during the War of Independence and from which point he took observations of the Battle of Bunker Hill. Mr. Newsome took his guests to Tremont Temple, which has accommodation for five thousand persons. It maintains a choir of one hundred and eight voices. In this edifice they heard the champion male quartette of the United States.

On Monday they called on Mr. William D. Sheen, a native of Kensington, but now a retired citizen of Arlington Heights. Needless to say they were royally entertained, for anyone knowing Mr. Sheen and Mrs. Sheen, must conclude that they have the faculty and the spirit to lavish on former acquaintances the very best of welcome. Mr. Sheen took his guests to Charles River Speedway. Here they met Dr. Christopher, formerly of Tignish, but now practising and most successful dentist of Boylston Street, Mass. They also met Bruce Robblee formerly of Tryon, P.E.I., who owns and maintains a string of famous race horses on this speedway. On the following day they were entertained by Mr. Sheen, who took his guests to the Metropolitan Theatre and to the new Stalter Hotel. This institution is a wonder in itself. It has fourteen hundred rooms, each equipped with a bath. This grand edifice cost $8,000,000. The tourists, having seen as many other points as they had time, found their holidays exhausted, so determined to return home.

Joining Mr. and Mrs. Laird at Revere Beach, they left for home by way of Aroostook County, visiting at Portsmouth, N.H. Here Mr. Laird has two nieces on the staff of a large hospital.

They travelled through the great potato area of Maine, passing the farm of A. W. Christie, who has 1100 acres under potatoes. The crop shows every sign of abundant yield. Crossing back into New Brunswick at Woodstock, they travelled down the picturesque valley of the St. John River, to Fredericton, thence to little Prince Edward Island.

They aver that, in the four weeks travel through New Brunswick and through three of the Eastern States, they saw no place in point of abundance of fertility and domestic happiness to compare with the excellence of our own Prince Edward Island.

The closing exercises of Rollo Bay East school were held on Monday afternoon, June 29, in the presence of quite a number of parents and visitors. The schoolroom was tastefully decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting. Mr. A. F. Peters ably presided and the following program was carried out, each number of which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The organist for the afternoon was Mr. J. B. Chaisson. Program:—Chorus, Welcome, school; welcome speech, Lizzie Mahar, dramatized reading from Second Reader (He and She); recitation, Mary L. Burke, geography match; recitation, Fannie Peters; dramatized reading from Third Reader: A Sound Opinion; flag exercise and song; unweaving of Confederation plaque; history of Rollo Bay, Sarah Peters; vacation song, school; presentation of public school certificates to James Mahar and Sarah Peters; presentation of Souvenir cards to all pupils by teacher; Farewell song, school. An address was then read by Clementine Mahar while Olive Peters presented the teacher with a club bag. Following is the address:

Dear Teacher,—We, your pupils, assembled here today to bid you adieu, dear teacher, and to terminate another year of our school days. It was with feelings of regret that we learned of your intended departure from our school, and fondly hoped you would reconsider. But now that the truth forces itself upon us, we are compelled to resign ourselves to the inevitable. During the past year you have evinced a deep interest in our welfare, and by your diligence and painstaking labor have accomplished much towards making this one of the most successful and pleasant years ever spent during our school days. Although our shortcomings have been many, we hope you will pardon them, and be able to look back with pleasure, not regret, to the year spent in our midst. When you taught here some eight years ago, many of us who are present here today had not reached school age. Your senior class of them have long since gone into the world to partake in the great game of life. Nevertheless we feel that your labors and good inspirations have, in a great measure, helped some of them now possess, in concluding, dear teacher, we ask you to accept this small gift, not for its worldly value, but as a token of our esteem in which you are held by us, your pupils. As you journey through life, may it always be a pleasant reminder of the happy days spent in your home school.

Signed on behalf of the Pupils of Rollo Bay East School, Olive Peters, James Mahar, Willie Chaisson, Sarah Peters.

The teacher then thanked the pupils for their kindness, not only on this occasion but throughout the term. She also expressed her appreciation of the assistance and cooperation of the members of the Women's Institute, and of the many acts of kindness shown by the district in general.

Complimentary remarks were made by those present, special mention being made of the history of
