WEDDING BELLS.—The marriage of Miss Jessie M. Bruce, daughter of Mr John Bruce of Kingsboro, to Mr Everett Thomas McKendrick, son of Mr J. C. McKendrick of Hillcrest, Charlottetown, took place in Zion Church on Wednesday evening last at seven o'clock. Rev. G. C. Taylor officiated. The bride who was un- attended, wore a handsome costume of brown, with hat to match. The bride has been in the employ of Messrs Moore & McLeod, of this city, and among the many valuable wed- ding presents were suitable remem- brances from her fellow-employees. The Guardian tenders to Mr and Mrs McKendrick heartfelt congratulations.

WEDDING CHIMES.—At the home of Mr and Mrs Frederick Ross Kinross, brother and sister of the bride on Tuesday evening, Nov. 2, one of the very pleasing events of life was consummated, when Miss Irene Belle Ross was united in marriage to Mr Peter L. McQueen of Orwell. At 8 o'clock as the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march floated from the piano under the skillful hands of Mrs. L. W. Ings. The groom supported by Mr. Nat McKinnon of Pownal, led by the officiating clergyman Dr. McEwen en- tered the parlor. At the close of the march the bride led by her brother, with the bridesmaid, Miss Eva Smith of Pownal and the brides niece Ruth as bearer of flowers came in. The bride taking her place beside the groom. Mrs. Ings then rendered beau- tifully the solo, "The Voice that breathed from Eden". At the close of which the marriage pledges were made. A short practical ring cere- mony was used, little Helen Ross, a niece of the bride as ring bearer. The groom was dressed in conventional black, while the bride was beautifully attired in white sath dechene trim- med with white, with veil and or- ange blossoms. The bride was also beautifully dressed in Belgian blue silk and real lace. The decorations in the parlor and dining room were very artistic and showed the work of skilful hands. The guests were all friends and immediate re- latives of the families of the young people. The presence of the bride were numerous and valuable. After the ceremony a sumptuous three ree wedding supper was heartily enjoyed. The toast to the bride and groom, with complimentary remarks on the event were given by Hon. Alex Martin of Vancouver, in his usual witty, interesting and graceful manner. A most enjoyable evening was spent. The music and harmony which was intensified by a spasm of music, minus harmony without, but all contributed to add zest to the auspicious event. The young people go to home-keeping at once with the best wishes of their many friends with whom they are popular.

RECRUITING MEETING AT BON- SHAW.—On Thursday evening a large and stirring recruiting meet- ing was held at Bonshaw. The Rev. Dr. Fullerton presided. Lieut. Dawson made a powerful appeal to the men of his own district to come with him to fight for King and Country. Mr. Crosby then followed with a fine ad- dress and dealt with the urgency of the situation during this crisis. He made a fine appeal to the young men to follow the example of Private Mc- Clary, who was sitting on the bat- tlefield, and those going to the front with the Highland Regiment. Mr. Barlow sang in his usual splendid style several patriotic songs, which stirred the enthusiasm of the people, and resulted in three men coming for- ward. Mr. Watkins was the accompa- nist and did his work in an excellent manner. The meeting closed with the singing of God Save the King.
