PROCEEDINGS AT THE LEGISLATURE

Friday, March 27th.
The House of Assembly resumed this morning shortly after eleven o'clock. There was a good attendance of members.

PETITIONS.
After prayers, and the reading of the journal.
MR. GALLANT presented a petition from Thomas Wilkinson and others praying to be incorporated by bill for the purpose of carrying on the business of fur-farming, under the style of the "O'Leary Dark Silver Patch Fox Co., Ltd., with a proposed capital of $30,000, divided into 3,000 shares of $10 each, and with the head office to be at O'Leary; the petitioners stating that they already possess ten pairs of dark silver patch foxes.

The petition was received and read and, on the motion of the same member, was referred to a committee of three for report.
MR. JOHN RICHARDS presented a petition from the rector, church wardens and vestry of the Episcopal Church of Port Hill, asking that a bill be enacted to authorize the S. P. G. Society to sell certain lands on Lot 13 now vested in that society.

THE SPEAKER asked Mr. Richards to make some explanation to the House as to how the land was vested and as to the nature of the act petitioned for.

MR. RICHARDS said that as set forth in the petition the glebe land was given by Sir Francis Seymour to the trust of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel.
THE SPEAKER: Who is it vested in?
MR. RICHARDS: In that society for the use of the clergyman, as set forth for church purposes. This is simply asking that an act be passed empowering the said society to sell the glebe lands in the parish of Port Hill and to procure another site nearer the church. This change is desired because the present glebe lands are over a mile from the church, and that has been found very inconvenient for the clergyman. It has been a cause of complaint for a good many years.

THE SPEAKER: There is nothing here to show that this Society is a party to this at all.
MR. RICHARDS: No.
THE SPEAKER: This is an application from certain individuals who live at Port Hill asking that an act be passed to enable a third party in whom certain lands are vested to sell them. There is nothing to show that the Trustees, who are the owners of the land, are parties to this or that they approve of it. To this there is any resolution coming from them asking for this to be done.

MR. RICHARDS: These are members of the church, and they are asking that the society be given power to sell the land. At present they have no power to sell.

THE SPEAKER: I think the deed relating to these lands is obtainable. I think that before we agree to accept this petition the deed might be got, in view of the fact that there is a rule of the House requiring certain notices before land is divested. Where land is divested by an act of Parliament, as the hon. member is aware, it has not to be advertised for some time before.

MR. RICHARDS: This is not divesting; it is only exchanging lands.
THE SPEAKER: The hon. member may be perfectly right in what he is asking for. I don't know how far that rule is contravened; but if it makes no difference to the hon. member he might withdraw the petition for the present and we will see the deed. All we want to see is that it is done rightly.

HON. MR. ARSENAULT suggested that as had been done before, some years ago, if the matter was urgent it might be passed subject to the provision that this bill must not go into effect until the necessary requirements had been complied with.

THE SPEAKER said that the matter was not urgent, and it might be taken up at the next session of the House.
MR. RICHARDS agreed to this, and he would produce the deed, and withdraw the petition for the present.

MR. J. A. DEWAR presented a petition from Alexander F. Bruce and others asking that an act be passed to incorporate the "Sutherland Hill Black Fox Co., Ltd., with head office to be situated at Montague, and with a capital of $85,000, divided into 850 shares of $100 each.

The petition having been received and read, Mr. Dewar moved that it be referred to a committee of three for report; this being agreed to.
As chairman of the committee that considered the petition, Mr. Dewar reported the bill giving the powers of incorporation asked for, and on his motion it was read a first time and referred to the Committee on Private Bills.

MR. GALLANT, as chairman of the committee that considered the petition for the incorporation of the "O'Leary Dark Silver Patch Co., Ltd.," reported the bill therefor, and moved that it be read a first time

THE DEBATE ON TRANSCONTINENTAL

(From Our Own Reporter.)

OTTAWA, Ont., March 27.—An effective score was made by Mr. J. E. Armstrong who resumed the debate on the Transcontinental scandal. Mr. W. M. German, the last Liberal apologist, had stated that Mr. O'Leary, the present commissioner, had no railway experience. Mr. Armstrong replied by giving the House Major Leonard's record. This showed that he had been in charge of railway construction for the last thirty years, that he had built the C. P. R. short line from Montreal to Ottawa and had taken part in the construction of the main line of the C. P. R.

Mr. Armstrong called attention to the striking contrast between the capital cost of the N. T. R. and the C. P. R. The C. P. R. had cost only $38,000 a mile. But the N. T. R. was to cost over $100,000. The Transcontinental and Northern Ontario, which was built through similar territory to the N. T. R. had cost only $57,000 a mile. It was time, remarked the member for Lamton that we had a national stock taking in the matter of railways in Canada. When the lines now projected were completed, we would have 47,900 miles of line with a capital of two billions.

Mr. A. L. Davidson of Annapolis dealt at length with the great amount that had been added to the cost of the railway by the rules that had been adopted with regard to trestles, bridges, filling, etc. He said that this plan which was followed in the construction of the railway was very clearly not the plan that had been in the mind of Mr. Fielding when he was proposing the undertaking. Mr. Davidson quoted from speeches by Mr. Fielding to show that the former Minister of Finance quite clearly believed that the country would build its railroad as other private corporations built railroads.

He also pointed out that the engineers who were originally in charge of the construction of the road had no idea of that kind in mind. The first trestles made no provision for the filling. Afterwards became such a costly feature of the road. It was assumed by them that trestles would be built and that the filling would take place later when it could be done cheaply.

Mr. Davidson declared that the whole history of Canada showed that the Liberal-Conservative Party was the party that did things right in Canada and the Liberal Party was a mighty poor imitator. "You can't become a statesman by combining your hair like a statesman," he said, amid laughter from the house.

The Rev. Z. L. Fash presided.
Councillor Mr. J. T. McKenzie welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city. He said that Charlottetown had always been noted for its hospitality and he hoped that it would justify its reputation on the present occasion. "The boys would have an opportunity of attending a number of assuredly take first prizes at any horse show. Similarly with foxes, when people talked about foxes, they were greatly interested in foxes, were a source of great value. In the case of boys, when people 'talked boys' and the heads and hearts and nurses of men were all bound up in the bundle of life with the boy and his welfare, then the boy was recognized to be somebody and grew up to be a strong, noble and strength-giving element of the community. They were there to consider the value of the boy to the community; they were there for several sessions just to 'talk boy.' They believed in the theory that the boy was the most valuable asset of the country. Without the boy there was no possibility of carrying on the development of the country, no possibility of developing industries or enterprises. Who would compute the value of a boy? They said that every migrant that came into the country was worth a thousand dollars to the country. Who would estimate the value of a home-grown boy? The boy who was neglected in his moral training was not only a loss to the community but a burden also. This Conference was a timely appreciation of the value of the boy. The conference was for the purpose of finding the rough diamond in every boy and bringing it out. They heard about the women's

The speaker was warmly applauded. The next address was delivered by Mr. Taylor Statten, of Toronto. Mr. Statten is just finishing up a series of nine Boys' Work conferences similar to the present one. He started in Vancouver during the latter part of October. Conferences have been held in Calgary, Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Port Arthur, Brandon, Brookville and Montreal. Mr. Statten says and encouraging in view of the ready responses of business men to the Canadian 'standard efficiency test.' Mr. Statten thinks the boys of Prince Edward Island 'a sensible, well-developed lot.' His address last evening was 'The Boy Asset,' which was listened to with keen attention.

MR. STATTEN, TORONTO.
Mr. Statten first described the famous relay race between Canada and the United States in which a friend of his ran in the last relay for Canada. The race was lost because the man who ran for Canada in the third relay was out of training. The speaker then referred to the entire physical change that, he said, took place in a human being every seven years; and he likened life to a long relay race. Instead of carrying a great object in life was to establish a new order of unselfish people. The great race that took place in the Ar- object of this Conference is to send couriers; each runner in life's relay every delegate back to his home province carried a name which he handed on to the fellow who took his place and ran the next seven years. The citizen and a follower of the greatest man was between the ages of 13 and 20. This was the storm and stress period, the great habit-forming period, the time when nine-tenths of a life's decisions were made.

"What sort of head start are you going to give the fellow who will carry your name during the seven-year period?" asked Mr. Statten. "Can you picture that fellow? Will he have the motive power, just as an electric bulb may look like a perfect bulb, good start? In order that a boy might bring the boys together in good wholesome play time. Sir Walter Scott had said in one of his letters that 'the one thing which pinched and hampered him through out his career was ignorance. If he, with his abundant knowledge, could make such a confession, what must not their boys confess? It was the right of the conference to instruct the boys and enlighten them."

MEXICAN FEDERALS AND U. S. SOLDIERS

EAGLE PASS, Texas, March 26.—American soldiers and Mexican Federalists engaged in a battle yesterday at McGee Crossing, three miles above Del Rio, on the Rio Grande, in which several federal soldiers are reported killed. A patrol from E. troop of the Fourteenth cavalry returned the fire of the Mexicans across the Rio Grande and for ten minutes shooting continued. One of the Americans was injured.
Forty constitutionalist soldiers had been cut off by the Federalists on the river bank. After fighting for nearly half an hour the constitutionalists tried to cross the river and surrender to the American troops. The federalists continued firing at the constitutionalists in the water and even after they had reached the American bank and surrendered.

The commander of the American cavalrymen signalled repeatedly for the federalists to cease firing, but his signals were disregarded. Finally he ordered his men to return the fire. A number of federalists were carried away after the firing ceased. Col. Sibley has ordered one troop of cavalry from Fort Clarke and the machine gun platoon from Eagle Pass to proceed to Del Rio.

A YEAR IN PEN AND $500 FINE

(Canadian Press.)
NEW YORK, March 27.—Frank Tannenbaum, leader of the Unemployed who has been on trial for several days on a charge of participating in an unlawful assemblage, was convicted tonight. After verdict of the General Sessions Court jury which was hearing evidence in the case, Tannenbaum was sentenced to one year in penitentiary and also fined five hundred dollars, default of which means an additional day's imprisonment for every dollar unpaid.

During his 'teen' age years so live that he will make the most of this relay, he should pattern his life after that of the Greatest Man who ever lived—God's idea of a perfect man, God's revelation to us of Himself, God's Model. During this third relay period Jesus Christ developed along four lines; and psychologists tell us to-day that the ambitious Twentieth Century Canadian boy need not worry if he is doing his best to make advancement in these four characteristics. Jesus Christ increased first in wisdom, secondly in stature, thirdly in favour with God, and fourthly, in favour with men. Evidently Jesus got all the schooling that it was possible for him to get. Do you know what it is worth per day in dollars and cents for every day that a boy attends school? Figure out the amount earned per lifetime by the boys who leave school in the lower grades. Figure out how much per lifetime is earned by the man who goes through College. You will find that there is a return of at least $10 per day for every day that the boy does not attend school. Jesus was familiar with human nature. How are you employing your leisure time? Are you making use of every opportunity to yoke your mind with useful information that will make you a more interested man, a more cultured citizen.

Jesus increased in stature. Apparently Jesus was a well-developed, strong man. He could go for a long time without food and sleep, although he eventually became tired and hungry just as we do. I like to think of him the day he entered the church at Jerusalem and saw the church grafters making money out of their connection with the church. Picture Him in his strength reaching for that bit of rope and, single-handed, driving that range of men off into the street. It is the flabby-muscled boy who most easily goes to the bad. There is a very close connection between the muscular control and self-control.

Jesus Christ increased in favour with man and He grew up and went about doing good. He said that his place in a human being every seven years; and he likened life to a long relay race. Instead of carrying a great object in life was to establish a new order of unselfish people. The great race that took place in the Ar- object of this Conference is to send couriers; each runner in life's relay every delegate back to his home province carried a name which he handed on to the fellow who took his place and ran the next seven years. DENIAL OF FORMER PREMIER OF FRANCE

PARIS, March 26.—Louis Bartho, former premier, in testifying to-day before the committee of the Chamber of Deputies investigating the allegation that state ministers had influenced the postponement of the trial of the swindler, Henry Rochette, gave his word of honor that he had not supplied any documents to the Figaro. He said he had not directly nor indirectly taken part in the campaign against Joseph Caillaux, then minister of finance. On the contrary, he had been asked to intervene on behalf of M. Caillaux by Premier Doumergue on January 14, not as a personal matter, but in the public interest.

Premier Doumergue, according to M. Bartho, had heard that Gaston Calmette, late editor of the Figaro, intended to publish papers which would have been injurious to the public welfare. M. Bartho said he had pleaded with M. Calmette not to publish them and had received a promise from him that he would not do so. For this he had been thanked by both M. Doumergue and M. Caillaux.

VACCINATION DISABLES TEAM

LONDON, March 26.—A peculiar situation has arisen in Aberdeen Rugby football circles. The semi-final for the north of Scotland cup was to have been played on Saturday between University and Aberdeenshire, but the match had to be abandoned owing to vaccination disputes now arises as to which team is entitled to meet St. Andrews, the other semi-finalist. The matter has been submitted to the Midlands committee.

thing that it was made to do it must be connected through the wire with the great source of power. We cannot see this power but we know it is there because it makes the bulb light up and shine out and do the thing that it was made to do. A boy may look like a perfectly good boy; but in order that he may light up and shine and do the thing that God intended him to do he must, through Jesus Christ, come in contact with the great source of power. He would be made to do that God's spirit should flow through him and energize him, and galvanize him, and make him do the thing that God intended him to do. No boy who takes Jesus Christ as his hero, as his Saviour, and tries to follow the way of Jesus during the third relay in this great race of life will fail to bring the greatest head start to that fellow who is going to carry his name in the fourth relay.
The session to-day begins at 9.15 a. m. with meditation and song. At 12.30 there will be a luncheon for business and professional men, who addresses will be delivered by Mr. Taylor Statten and the Rev. E. W. Halpenney.
