33 DEATHS IN SNOW (Continued from Page 1) Traffic and haterine ceased at 10 a.m. but raising hopes of help for those who need a white covering to move stranded cars from the snow.

December and January temperatures were about two points above normal in the winter of 1946-47. The Army has been ordered to send a team of engineers to study the problem of heating instead of skating being enjoyed on the famous strip of water, Melville Cove—herebefore a great skating rink.

On Craft Overdue The blizzard struck from the northeast and spread over the province, reaching the New Brunswick coast at least over Cape Breton Island fishing smacks with two men aboard. The little craft was carrying at least one hundred tons of fish.

Small lumber operators, who have converted to tractors and trucks, looked with relief as the snow piled up. This would allow their horse and ox teams to haul out this winter's cut.

FEDERATION (Continued from Page 5) head of the Lakes and only about one-quarter of that $300,000 would serve to the Dominion Government if the grain were brought from Churchill.

Would Relieve Bottleneck That all-water route would also relieve the car bottleneck at Borden and afford many more cars for potato shippers when cars are badly needed.

The grain elevator would, Mr. Hertz said, assure a continuous supply of grain for the live stock industry—an industry which is continuously expanding, and thus glad to have the livestock owner's grain troubles in trying to secure the grain which is not available when most badly needed. The railway, too, would feel the great effect of the elevator for it would then be able to divert the use of at least 2,000 cars to other enterprises.

The erection of a grain elevator in Charlottetown would also, Mr. Hertz said, mean a tremendous boost to the poultry industry of the Province, for Argentine corn, an essential part of poultry-feed mixtures, could be imported direct.

made it obligatory for him to have a registered veterinarian inspect any cow which he was selling for export. Not only that, Mr. MacDonald said, but all her relatives would also have to be given a clean bill of health by the veterinarian at the owner's expense, before the animal could be exported. Since the island was a disease-free area, he did not see any sense in the regulation.

Mr. MacDonald asked Mr. W.R. Shaw to give some opinion on the question, and Mr. Shaw recommended that a resolution protesting against the order be passed. In the meantime, Mr. Shaw said, the matter would be taken up with Ottawa.

Bulldozer For Cranberry Bogs A resolution asking that the Department of Public Works allow the use of a bulldozer for the turling of cranberry bogs was passed. Mr. Shaw explained that it might be better if the Department of Agriculture had its own bulldozer for such purposes as the Department of Public Works might not be able to lend any of its machines at the time they were needed by the farmers.

A resolution asking that the Dominion Government provide funds to farmers' sons who wish to enroll in an agricultural school was passed. It was recommended that the grant be in the form of a monthly allowance to the student.

The same resolution was passed on the passing of a resolution that no increase in freight rates be allowed on any commodity when such increase would affect agricultural prosperity.

Cucumber Average Secured Mr. J. L. Dunlop of the Matthews-Wells Company, Gushp, Ont., informed the Federation that his company had secured the required average for cucumbers to be grown in the Province for his firm this coming season and that no further applications could be accepted.

He said the Company might extend its business later to include the purchase in commercial quantities of strawberries, raspberries, black currants, cherries, and cranberries.

The Premier strawberry was the favorite variety grown in Ontario, Mr. Dunlop said, but the undergrowth Senator Dunlop did better in this Province. It would therefore be necessary for his firm to acquire more data on the question before any decision was taken.

No argument was made over the strawberries or other fruit. Mr. Dunlop said, but that his company would pay the same price for the fruit here as was being paid at that time in British Columbia.

PRODUCTION TARGETS (Continued from Page 1) 2. Imports raised from 70 per cent of 1938 volume last year to between 80 to 85 per cent—but much more than that would be needed to increase rations considerably.

3. Production of at least 200,000,000 tons of coal, more than 100,000,000 tons above 1935.

4. Construction of an electricity generating plant to provide an extra 500 thousand kilowatts.

5. Building 1,250,000 tons of merchant shipping, a figure 25 per cent above 1935.

6. Maintenance of agricultural production with continued emphasis on wheat, potatoes and sugar beets instead of poultry and livestock.

7. Construction of 240,000 permanent and 60,000 temporary houses although shortages of timber and components may curtail the program.

8. Restriction of steel-consuming industries to the 1946 level to avoid dislocation of labor and material supplies.

9. Increasing the total manpower by 100,000 by bringing in foreign labor, drawing women from homes and urging elderly folk to delay retirement.

10. Redistribution of workers without compulsion, to provide more labor for essential industries and service and less for non-essential industries and public service.

STRONG RESENTMENT (Continued from Page 1) per ton Charlottetown—your cost $2.52 1/2 per sack. One can buy second patent flour for less money, because there is a subsidy on flour of about $1.00 per bag.

"Out of a bag of flour bakers make anywhere from 85-86-87 loaves of bread. Then why not put bread up 2 cents a loaf, and remove the subsidy? Everyone would have to pay the advanced price for bread, and why not? Old people get the Old Age pensions, young people get the Claxton Baby Bonus (for raising children); everyone who wants to work can get some kind of a job, go on strike for more wages, and if necessary, draw unemployment pay, or go on relief, and the rest of us pay for it."

"So do you wonder that we are fed up? The next thing: Western farmers get a boost of 33 1/2 cents on wheat—now they want proportionate price boosts."

URGES BETTER (Continued from Page 1) very same on both. Yet one man gets $47 a mile while the other man is doing his work in the same constituency for $25. "I have seen another case where on oats and barley. Why not? "It all proves that when you have a bunch of inexperienced bums and politicians running, or trying to run business, they look out for trouble. The notice sent out by the Feeds Administrator to wholesale dealers under the freight assistance policy, to which the above letter refers, is dated Feb. 19 and reads as follows: "By order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and in accordance with the policy on domestic prices announced in Parliament yesterday by the Minister of Trade and Commerce, raising the domestic wheat price on wheat for feeding purposes, all prices of feeding wheat, whole or ground and mixed content of feed mixtures may be advanced 33 1/2 cents per bushel effective immediately.

"It is necessary that you prepare a certified statement of all prices of wheat and feed mixtures you had on hand for feeding purposes (including ground wheat and wheat contained in feed mixtures) as at midnight February 17, 1947, whether or not these stocks covered by open sales.

"This statement, together with your certified cheque payable to the Canadian Wheat Board on the basis of 33 1/2 cents per bushel on the total stocks of wheat as shown in the statement to be forwarded to the Feeds Administrator, 640 Confederation Building, Ottawa, Ontario."
