

IMPORTANT READING MATTER SELECTED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS FOR THE GUARDIAN'S SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

TUESDAY.

Last evening the First Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Bruce Stewart Company, Ltd. City, was held in the Board of Trade Rooms.

There were present, besides the Directors of the past year, a large number of the shareholders of the Company.

The Company, during the past year, had met with a generous share of prosperity and the reports submitted by the officials of the company, which showed a substantial surplus, the payment of a six percent dividend and an addition to the Rest Account, were highly commented upon by a large number of those present.

In the year just closed the turnover in business was about $10,000. These are large figures for a manufacturing industry in this city, while the prospects for the future are bright and indicate a much larger business than even the past year's.

The manufacture of the famous Imperial Motor is being pushed continually and the great success of that enterprise to enlarge the plant, quite a number of useful tools and some additional machinery had to be installed and the Company is now in a better position this year to turn out a large amount of work than ever before.

The large demand for the Imperial Motor has surpassed even the fondest anticipations of the Company and it is expected that this year the output will be doubled.

It has been found that, owing to the large increase in business and the large stock on hand for the manufacture of these motors, that it is necessary for the company to make a further issue of stock which will be placed on the market at an early date.

The majority of the shareholders present took part in the discussion on the statement and spoke very enthusiastically of the results of the year's work. They expressed considerable pride in the company as Charlottetown's largest industry and in the fact that it had "made good."

A SEVERE CASE OF NEURALGIA

Cured After Long Years of Suffering by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is an excellent reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured the most severe cases of neuralgia, sciatica, and other complaints in a group that are known as disorders of the nerves. This group also includes St. Vitus dance and paralysis, and the common state of extreme nervousness and excitability.

Each of these complaints exist because there is something the matter with the nervous system. If the nerves have tone—strong and healthy, you will not have any of these complaints. The reason Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders is that they restore weak, run-down nerves to their proper state of tone.

They act both directly upon the nerves and on the blood supply. The highest medical authorities have noted that nervous troubles generally attack people who are bloodless and that the nerves are renewed. It is thus seen that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders by curing the cause of the trouble.

Mrs. J. C. Adams, Norris Lake, Man., says: "I am writing you at my husband's request to let you know the great benefit Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been to him. He is a river driver and there is much exposure to all kinds of weather and wetting. As a result he had an attack of rheumatism, and then to add to his misery a severe type of neuralgia set in, locating on the left side of the face, and causing him such terrible pain that it would drive him almost wild. He was treated by several doctors, and finally blistered his head and applied wet plasters which really only added more to his misery, and he returned home still uncured. In this way he suffered for nearly six years, trying all sorts of medicine, but never finding a cure. One day while he was suffering from a severe cold, he happened to see in a newspaper a story to get a liniment, but they did not have the kind I wanted, and I thought, 'I told him about my husband and how he suffered, and he placed a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on the counter saying, 'Take my advice, this is what your husband should take. I took the pills home with me and my husband started taking them. I am not sure how many boxes he took, but one thing is certain, he has never completely cured him, and he has never since had a touch of those torturing pains. You can tell how much he suffered when I say that the hair on the side of his head in which the pain was located turned quite gray. It looks odd, but he says it does not matter since the pain is gone. I believe he would not have been living now had Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not cured those terrible pains, and you may be sure we gratefully recommend them to all our friends and all suffering ones.'"

Sold by all dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Special to The Guardian. Mar. 6—A number of potato warehouses at Westfield, Maine, near here, were burned to the ground this morning together with their contents. About 15,000 barrels of potatoes were destroyed.

Asthma Catarrh Vapo-resolene advertisement with logo and text describing the medicine's benefits for respiratory ailments.

Some of those present stated that they were willing to do all in their power to help the industry along and would be glad of the opportunity to subscribe to a further allotment of stock.

The old board of directors was re-elected. They are as follows: Bruce Stewart, City; Andrew McNair, City; John McLean, Souris; Frank R. Heartz, City; and C. Leonard McKay, City.

A hearty vote of thanks, moved by Horace Hazard and unanimously carried, was tendered to the directors for the able manner in which they had conducted the business of the company in the past year.

After a general discussion on matters pertaining to the company's welfare the meeting adjourned.

Sir—This being the farmers' leisure season, when they can take notes of the past, as well as lay plans for the future, I deem it a fitting time to call attention to a very important matter in the compounding of special fertilizers.

No stock feeder in the process of fattening an animal, will limit the grain supply to the first few weeks of the fattening period and after that withhold it. But that in reality is what most farmers do thoughtlessly doing, while feeding their farms with special fertilizers.

It is therefore self-evident that some other form of nitrogen must be used in conjunction with nitrate of soda—which is always best for a starter—to produce the best results, and here dried blood, or tankage, comes in, either in the form of a fertilizer, or as a top-dressing.

This principle is recognized by the manufacturers of all high-grade complete fertilizers and a large percentage of the nitrogen they contain is in the organic form.

Nitrogenous manures are very expensive to purchase, and advanced farmers who can grow abundance of clover, can largely dispense with them—clover and other legumes, such as peas and beans, having the power to extract nitrogen from the air, through bacteria working in nodules on their roots.

But the average farmer will find a judicious increase his soil, although we have a general advance all along the line in the teaching of practical agriculture of late years, I have not seen this phase of the manure question touched upon, and I think it a very important one for farmers to consider, because the economical feeding of the soil is evidently the basis of all profitable production.

East Royalty. WEDNESDAY. A recent issue of the Vancouver World has the following: "There passed peacefully away in the early hours of Thursday morning, February 16, at the residence of the late Albert Hinde Yates, who has been a resident of Vancouver for the past twenty years. The late Mr. Yates was born at Malpeque, P. E. I., September 9, 1818. For many years he was prominent in business circles in his native province, being largely engaged in shipping interests. In politics he was a staunch Liberal, and held several important offices. He also represented the province on the council of Charlottetown year after year, until at his own request he was relieved from service. A strong churchman of the old evangelical type, he took an active part in all matters pertaining to St. Paul's parish, Charlottetown. On coming to Vancouver his energies were directed toward Christ church, and as warden, he did much toward furthering the building of the present church. The deceased gentleman leaves an affectionate and devoted father, an affectionate and devoted mother, four sons and two daughters: the Rev. C. F. Yates, vicar of St. Paul's church, Golden; Capt. A. F. Yates, in the Pilotage Board, Nanaimo; J. Herbert Yates, of Spokane, Wash.; Capt. Montague Yates, of London, Eng.; Mrs. W. H. James, Grandview; Mrs. J. D. Bockman, Fairview. The large circle of friends made during his residence in Vancouver will greatly miss the kindly old man, whose warm and affectionate disposition endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. The funeral service was held on Saturday, Feb. 18, at 2 o'clock, from the residence of Walter H. Jamieson, Napier St., Grandview, thence to St. Michael's church, Mount Pleasant. The interment was made in the Masonic cemetery, of which order the deceased was for many years a faithful member.

The death occurred in Morell yesterday at the home of her George Kelly of Mrs. Ellen Kelly, relict of the late John Kelly of this city. The body will be brought to this city this morning from Morell on the eastern train and the funeral will take place from the station after the arrival of the train to St. Dunstan's Cathedral, then to the R. C. Cemetery for interment.

A despatch from St. John dated March 5th says: The Government attempted to reach the Magdalen Islands. She was caught in the ice both going and coming. She will leave soon for LaHave, Lunenburg and other Nova Scotia ports to relieve the crafts that are frozen in the ice. The steamer put into Yarmouth this morning on account of heavy weather, and left there this afternoon at two o'clock, arriving soon after eleven o'clock tonight.

The death occurred in this city yesterday of Margaret, wife of John Callaghan, Alley St., City. The deceased had been ill for some time but her death at the early age of twenty-five years will excite much sympathy from all who knew her. The late Mrs. Callaghan was the daughter of James and Mrs. Turner, Lake Verde, and besides her parents, leaves to mourn her husband and a child of three years, as well as two brothers and a sister in Lake Verde. The Guardian extends sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The case of Rev. James McEugall and others vs. Laughtin McEugall and others, known as the Canoe Cove church case, came up for hearing before the Vice Chancellor yesterday. The suit was brought to try the right of ownership of the property situated at Canoe Cove, formerly belonging to the Rev. Donald McDonald and by him devised to the elders then in office and their successors of the Canoe Cove Congregation. The Bill of complaint was demurred to upon several grounds, alleging want of equity in the bill and on the future ground that all proper parties are not before the court. Stewart, K. C., and Martin for complainants and Johnston, K. C., and McPhee for the defendants. The case will be continued this morning at ten o'clock.

A telegram from Dr. McCreedy announces the death of Dr. Phineas Pendleton Nichols of Northampton, Mass. The sad event occurred on March 6 in Bermuda, whither he had gone some months ago in the hope that a change might result in a restoration of his impaired health. For a time there was an apparent improvement, but fond hopes were doomed to disappointment and he died suddenly. His end came peacefully in his home, formerly Mrs. McCreedy's, daughter of Mr. McCreedy of this city, two children and his mother and a large circle of relatives and friends are left to mourn. Dr. Nichols and his family visited this city some years ago. The deceased gentleman was greatly esteemed and beloved by a large circle of friends in his native town of Searsport, Maine, in Northampton where he lived and was engaged in his profession during about twenty years past, and in St. John. The Guardian tenders heartfelt sympathy to the family, so sadly bereaved of a husband and father, called away in the prime of life.

Joseph Harper, Tignish, came to the city yesterday morning and entered the Charlottetown Hospital for treatment. He was accompanied by his son Charles, and Mrs. Harper, who will return to their home today. Mr. Harper is the father of the young man, Charles Harper, whose body was brought home from North Adams, Mass., where he was killed in a railway His son was only 23 years of age and was employed as a fireman on the Boston and Maine Railroad, and was killed on Feb. 28th at the mouth of the Hoosac tunnel, being struck by the engine of another train as he stepped on one of the other tracks on his way from a freight car to his engine, death ensuing instantly. His brother Charles, who accompanied the remains to his former home, was employed as a brakeman on the same train. The funeral took place at Tignish on Sunday last to the Church of St. Simon and St. Jude, the services being conducted by Rev. A. J. McDougall. There was a very large attendance. Much sympathy is expressed for the family of the deceased, who feel keenly the sad blow they are called to bear.

WOULD VERY OFTEN FAINT AWAY.

Doctor Said That Sometimes He Would Never Come Out of One.

Many people may be unaware of having anything wrong with their heart till some little excitement, or a walk, or confinement in an overheated or over-tired room or public building makes them feel faint or dizzy.

If you neglect the warning the slight feeling of dizziness gives you, and fail to take treatment, there will be a gradual progression to something more serious. There is no reason you should wait till your case becomes desperate before you avail yourself of a perfect cure by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Write—'It is with gratitude I tell how your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills benefited me. I was very weak and run down, and had headaches nearly every day and would very often faint away.' 'In fact, my doctor said that sometime I would never come out of one of them. After taking three boxes of yours I am glad to relate that it has been a relief to me, since I have had a fainting spell and scarcely have had a headache. Too much cannot be said in praise of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for in me they have effected a perfect cure.

Yesterday was a very busy day for the Provincial Seed Fair committee in Summerside. At nine o'clock last evening upwards of fourteen hundred entries in both Departments had been made, of which about seven hundred were in the Seed Department and the greater part of the day's mail had then been opened. Over three hundred exhibits had been received and placed in position and this morning a great many will come in from the surrounding country. In the Household Science Department at St. Paul's Hall there is equal activity numbering already in the hundreds of exhibits and in the Department. Today's programme will be: Agricultural Department, 2 p.m. Agricultural meeting in the Market Hall with an address by Prof. Ross on 'The Development of Agriculture in the Province of New Brunswick. WOOD—At Alexandria, P. E. I., Jan. 14th, Bro. Benjamin Wood, Sr. passed away to be with Christ. Bro. Wood was 78 years of age and up till about two weeks before his death he was in his usual health. In the removal of Bro. Wood, Alexandria has lost one of its oldest and respected citizens. As a neighbor he was obliging and ever ready to lend a helping hand to any one in need. His hospitality was of the most hearty and genuine type; and both acquaintances and strangers alike, felt themselves welcome beneath his roof. At the age of nineteen he professed religion, was baptized by the late Rev. Mr. Scott and united with the Alexandria Baptist Church. All through these years he has been a generous supporter of the Gospel, a regular attendant at the House of God and ever ready to forward the Lord's work, in any way, in his power. He was one of the moving spirits in and most generous givers towards the erection of the beautiful new house of worship in Alexandria and has always zealously sought to have the Lord's House the best house in the community. He leaves a sorrowful widow, three sons and six daughters—Lemuel and Mrs. Patridge, of Boston; Mrs. S. J. Wood, of Montreal; Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Hazlebrook; Mrs. Weatherbie of Pownall, John T. of Dundas, Benjamin and Mrs. Madison at home.

The funeral service was largely attended and was conducted by Rev. L. V. Fash, of Charlottetown who gave a very appropriate and comforting address.

His earthly burdens all laid down, His earthly race now run, He has received the Victor's Crown, And heard the words "Well done."

For over 30 years her husband was a hard drinker. He had tried in every way to cure him, but could not do so. At last she cured him by a simple remedy. She writes: "I have cured my husband of drinking. He has been a hard drinker for over 30 years. I have tried every way to cure him, but could not do so. At last I found a simple remedy which cured him. I will write to her who will tell you how she did it. She is sincere in this offer. She has sent this offer to thousands and will gladly send it to you if you will write her today. As she has a good deal to say, send her any money. Simply write your name and full address plainly in the coupon below and send it to her."

MRS. MARGARET ANDERSON, 115 Home Avenue, Hillburn, N. Y. Please tell me about the remedy you used to cure your husband, as I am personally interested in one who drinks.

The Royal Commission appointed by the Federal Government on Technical and Industrial Education and kindred subjects visited this Province during the recess, and I feel assured that the result of their investigations throughout Canada, the United States, and the Continent of Europe will result in much benefit to the Dominion.

You will be asked to consider various bills on matters of general interest to our Province. The Public Accounts for the past fiscal year will be laid before you at an early date, and the estimates of expenditure for the current year, based upon the requirements of the Province with due regard to economy, will be submitted for your approval.

I feel assured that the various subjects which will come before you will, under the guidance of Divine Providence, receive your careful consideration, and I trust that this Province will be served by your deliberations. The formal opening occupied precisely seven minutes, at the end of which His Honor left the Chamber.

PREMIER HASZARD then formally introduced a Bill entitled "An Act to Amend the Act Respecting Justices of the Peace—Act of 1908," by which the House asserts its right to legislate before considering the speech from the throne.

Then Mr. Speaker read over again the Governor's speech. The Premier formally presented the returns from the by-elections in Carleton Place and the Second District of Queens, announcing the return of Mr. Dewar from the former and Mr. McPhee from the latter district and stated that the newly elected members were present.

With alacrity Mr. Matheson and Mr. J. A. McDonald introduced Mr. Dewar, and the Premier and Hon. Mr. McMillan introduced Mr. McPhee who were sworn and took their seats in the order named. Hearty Opposition cheers greeted Mr. Dewar as the brief ceremony ended, followed by equally cordial honours for Mr. McPhee.

MR. MCPHEE entered immediately on his active legislative duties by moving the appointment of a committee to prepare an address in reply to His Honor's speech. This being agreed to the committee presently reported the draft address which will be considered today.

Next in order came the appointment of the usual standing committees—on Public Accounts, Agriculture, the Library, Private Bills, Bills to be Engrossed, to Revise the Journals, the Public Printing and on Standing Rules and Orders.

MR. MATHESON asked that the committee on printing should arrange to print the following: (Continued on page 6.)

Cur thanks are again due to Almighty God for a bountiful harvest and the many blessings which we as a Province enjoy.

The death of our beloved Sovereign King Edward VII. deeply lamented the wide world over, has been a great loss not only to the vast Empire over which he reigned so acceptably, but to all other nations of the Empire. His efforts in the cause of Peace gave to him the well earned name of "Edward the Peacemaker." We believe that his son and worthy successor, King George V. will be found to possess the gifts and qualities of his illustrious father, and to persevere in the same course, so conducive to the welfare and prosperity of the Empire.

The representatives of the several Provincial Governments met in Ottawa during the month of December last, to consider the question of the representation of the Provinces in the Dominion House of Commons, and although no decision was reached, I still have confidence that the sense of justice which I believe pervades the minds of the members of the Dominion Parliament will be the means of restoring to the Maritime Provinces at least their original representation.

In a Province depending almost entirely for its prosperity as a Province, it is gratifying to note the increasing interest taken in all branches of agricultural development and to observe that the efforts of my Government to encourage and promote all farming interests have met with general commendation.

As was confidently expected, the success attending our Seed Fairs, besides greatly increasing the yield and improving the quality of our Field Crops by the use of better seed, has created a wider and more remunerative market for our grain. The competitions in Fields of Standing Grain and also in Agricultural Merit are proving very popular, and result in more thorough cultivation and better and more economical methods of farm management.

The steady increase in our dairy industry totalling a value of $540,000 or six per cent. over last year is an evidence of the progress made in this important branch of farming. The prices obtained for all classes of live stock have been very satisfactory.

The establishment of an Experimental Farm in this Province, carried on under the direction of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and the gratifying results already obtained in the production of field crops should give much encouragement to our farmers and provide a striking object lesson in the value of intensive cultivation.

This year my Government granted seventy-five scholarships to encourage farmers and farmmen to attend the short course at the College of Agriculture, Truro. The large number of applicants for these scholarships shows how greatly this course is appreciated and there can be no doubt that it will tend to stimulate a deeper interest in agriculture and cause more of our young men to remain at home and engage in farming as a profession.

The marked increase in the number of Farmers' Institutes organized during the past year indicates a growing agricultural sentiment throughout our Province.

The Inter-Provincial Exhibition of last year was in every respect notably in dairy cattle—the best which has yet been held in this Province; and the County and Farmers' Institute Shows were also highly successful. It is gratifying to know that the exhibitors from this Province at St. John, Halifax and Amherst last autumn carried off a large number of valuable prizes, thus fully upholding the honor of the Province in connection with the neighboring Provinces.

It is pleasing to note that as a result of the well directed efforts of our Immigration Agent in England, Rev. J. A. Winfield, a number of desirable farmers with capital, have settled in this Province, and others of the same class are expected in April of this year.

"We have been able to reconstruct to a great extent the life of that time with regard to the domestic features of daily existence. We have learned how they cooked, how they did their work on the farm, what they did in the city, how their stores were kept, how they collected their taxes. We have learned even how they sent their orders to the grocer. It is, of course, of interest to know too, that the palace where Zeebel lived has been found and that evidence has been found which will go to support the stories with regard to her which have been given us in the pages of the Bible."

Yesterday afternoon, bright sunshine without, and with the usual military display and boom of guns His Honor Lieutenant Governor Rogers opened the Provincial Legislature. A large crowd outside the building, and a full house and galleries within attested that popular interest still attaches to the chief provincial state ceremonial.

A goodly number of ladies were seated within the bar which separates the members from the ranks of citizenship at ordinary meetings of the Legislature. This being the first sitting of the House since the death of King Edward VII. of illustrious memory, and the accession of King George V. the members in attendance at the clerk's table formally took the oath of allegiance to the new Sovereign.

Prompt to the minute Lieutenant Governor Rogers entered the Chamber and being seated read the following speech: Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly—

It is my greatest pleasure to welcome you on assembling to assume your legislative duties on this the first occasion since my appointment as Lieutenant Governor of this Province, and to congratulate you upon the unprecedented prosperity of our people.

It is my greatest pleasure to welcome you on assembling to assume your legislative duties on this the first occasion since my appointment as Lieutenant Governor of this Province, and to congratulate you upon the unprecedented prosperity of our people.

"We have been able to reconstruct to a great extent the life of that time with regard to the domestic features of daily existence. We have learned how they cooked, how they did their work on the farm, what they did in the city, how their stores were kept, how they collected their taxes. We have learned even how they sent their orders to the grocer. It is, of course, of interest to know too, that the palace where Zeebel lived has been found and that evidence has been found which will go to support the stories with regard to her which have been given us in the pages of the Bible."

Yesterday afternoon, bright sunshine without, and with the usual military display and boom of guns His Honor Lieutenant Governor Rogers opened the Provincial Legislature. A large crowd outside the building, and a full house and galleries within attested that popular interest still attaches to the chief provincial state ceremonial.

A goodly number of ladies were seated within the bar which separates the members from the ranks of citizenship at ordinary meetings of the Legislature. This being the first sitting of the House since the death of King Edward VII. of illustrious memory, and the accession of King George V. the members in attendance at the clerk's table formally took the oath of allegiance to the new Sovereign.

Prompt to the minute Lieutenant Governor Rogers entered the Chamber and being seated read the following speech: Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly—

It is my greatest pleasure to welcome you on assembling to assume your legislative duties on this the first occasion since my appointment as Lieutenant Governor of this Province, and to congratulate you upon the unprecedented prosperity of our people.
