FINANCIAL NEWS BRIEFS

(Received over Pitfield and Co's Private Wire)

MONTREAL, Nov. 22—Abitibi October earnings before depreciation and bond interest $431,913 against $270,979 in October 1936.

MONTREAL, Nov. 22—Abitibi —Counsel for the bondholders representative committee of which J. P. Ripley is chairman, held strongly to the view that the Ontario judiciature act was the one which should be employed and stressed the practical difficulties of proceeding under the creditors arrangement act, a Dominion Act which requires 75 per cent approval by each class of security holders. Mr. Justice McTague stated in conclusion that he was in accord with the idea advanced by counsel for the liquidators that the matter might be handled on the basis of settlement in the way suggested adding that it would be in the best interests of the company and all concerned. He stated that he would be away and unable to write his judgment for the next three weeks and hoped that in the meantime there would be continued efforts to effect a settlement. Determined efforts at compromises were conducted during the past week between opposing interests. While it was indicated that considerable progress had been made in the direction in reconciling existing differences the rock upon which the efforts split was the legal method by which the reorganization should be effected. The bondholders representative Committee held firm to the view that the plan should be effected through the Ontario Judicature Act.

TORONTO, Nov. 22—Barber Larder—Plans for electrical equipment and machinery for installation of a complete mining plant for under ground development purposes have been received and are now being studied by officials and financial interests. A party will be leaving for inspection of property next week. The company is officially stated to have sufficient money to proceed with the proposed program.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—Dow Theory—All trends point downward. The simultaneous establishment of new bear market low points yesterday does not predict the duration or extent of the decline to come. All the averages have said is that there could be more trouble down the road, and are consequently hunting a storm cellar from which they can later emerge when it is safe to do so. The rally to 138.48 did not constitute a secondary correction or extent to be so regarded, consequently, the downward penetration of 125.73 should not be taken as being such an authoritative prediction of market tragedy as was the case when 165.51 was broken, giving the complete bear market signal. The 165.51 point was separated from its ultimate penetration by the bear market secondary reaction 165.51-190.02 the rally 125.73-138.40 was a minor one and the breaking of 125.73 is therefore not comparable to the breaking of 165.51. We have consistently cautioned against buying into this mess in hopes of catching a rally. I shall be disappointed if I hear that any of our five year readers have done so. Those who have studied Dow Jones Theory for only a year are prone to excuse the averages and accept contrary evidence read or heard. Bucking the primary trend of the market is seldom profitable. Written as of the close of the market Nov. 20.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—On Friday and Saturday it was rumored that over the week end there would be considerable publicity about a 5 or 6 point program of the government to stimulate business. At the present writing no such program has been published. Although two pieces of news appeared over the week end which might help. One was that outstanding industrialist or banker would supervise any housing program which the government might sponsor. The morning Herald-Tribune has a story that administration leaders plan to scrap the bill for seven T. V. A.'s. A new bill which will eliminate altogether any possibility of additional power any possibility of additional power its place. Stocks in London are about the same as the close in New York Saturday. In view of the fact that the market rallied on Saturday on rumor of news which has not been forthcoming as yet, we would look on the first thing this morning. Consequently, we would look on the first thing this morning. The Supreme Court is scheduled to meet at noon.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG, Nov. 22 —(CP)— Stock market rallies near the close today temporarily swung traders to the buying side to lift wheat futures on Winnipeg grain exchange from three-cent bottom levels to close 1 5-8 to 1-2 lower.

Winnipeg traders followed closely the action at Chicago where prices recoveries also were made. At the close Nov. wheat was $1.15 7-8, Dec. $1.12 3-4-7-8, May $1.11-$1.11 1-8 and July $1.07 1-4.
