ANNUAL MEETING of Kennington Dairying Association takes place Tuesday, Jan. 17th, 1.30 p.m. in Temperance Hall.

FUNERAL HELD—The funeral of the late Thos Ramsay was held in Summerside on Tuesday afternoon, from his late residence, to the Peoples Cemetery, and was largely attended. The pallbearers were: A. E. Saunders, C. R. Rogers, J. W. Clark, Thos. Linkletter, Arthur McDougall, and J. Edward Gallant.

TRAIN SERVICE GOOD.—Though a severe storm swept through Prince County on Wednesday night, the train service both east and west from Summerside was practically up to normal, with the incoming trains very little behind and the departing trains on time.

MASQUERADE DANCE—A masquerade dance, held in the Olympic Cabaret, Summerside, on Wednesday night, was one of the most enjoyable of the season, some of the costumes being most attractive and original. Owing to the stormy weather, the attendance was not so great as at other times, however.

STORE BURGLED.—First breaking the street light, so that the store front would be in darkness, thieves broke into the store owned by Ezeriah Gallant, on Myrtle St., Summerside, during the heavy storm of Wednesday night and took therefrom practically everything of value in the store, including all the stock, valued at $3000. Entrance was made through the glass in the door from which it was easy to unlock the night lock. Mr. Gallant is an aged man, until recently a resident of English, and as the store is his sole means of livelihood, the loss is a severe one for him.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB.—Recreative activities which were suspended during the Christmas holiday season, the Fellowship Club of R. T. Holman, Limited, held another very enjoyable dinner and social in the auditorium above the grocery department, on Wednesday night, with an attendance of about eighty members. After an excellent dinner, the meeting was called to order by President A. W. MacDougall, the minutes of the last meeting were approved, the report of the visiting committee was presented by William S. Curious, with the Supreme Council the program was approved, a number of resolutions were adopted, and the following numbers on the program: "The Work of the Council" by Miss Edith G. FLOWERS IN SILK, VELVET AND TINSEL.—Flowers have arrived in vast profusion in millinery departments, and the woman visitor will find more flowers than she has imagination in all the modish new fuchsias, violet and ruby shades, in all the tawny and orange shades from lemon yellow to brown, in flame and iris blues, in wisteria and lavender in a dozen shades. Beautiful silk roses there are, a pair of them made with French art, and with long green trailing stems and leaves in ruby or rose or pink; huge flat velvet roses in all these shades, also in purple and blue. Magnificent looking tulips and lilies, and charming trails of fuchsias; monster single morning glories and poppies, flat roses with ostrich fringes and orchids and ferns are also worthy of mention; smaller garlands of roses and grapes, gay in any garden, and especially interesting are the silver roses and metal tissue leaves.

HEAVY STORM.—The sharp snow storm, accompanied by a strong North Easterly wind which set in on Wednesday evening, left such heavy drifts along the streets and sidewalks that the street men were obliged to put on the ploughs for the convenience of pedestrians.
