By JOE RICHLER
NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—The players from the American League and four from the National League were named for the 1949 major league all-star team selected for the Associated Press by 116 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Only six of the 16 big league clubs, three in each circuit, are represented in the fourth annual all-star squad. The world champion New York Yankees won two-thirds as did the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

However, both had to yield to Boston's second place Red Sox, who topped all clubs with three representatives—Ted Williams in the outfield and outpaw Mel Parnell and righthander Ed Egan in the pitching department. One man from Detroit, and from Pittsburgh and one from St. Louis Cardinals complete the team.

Only two of the 10 men selected are holdovers from the 1948 all-star team. They are Stan Musial, Chicago Cardinal outfielder, and Williams. The latter is the only performer to be elected to all four teams since the poll was inaugurated in 1946.

No player was selected unanimously. George Kell of Detroit, who nosed out Williams for the unofficial American League batting title by a fraction of a percentage point, was named on all but three ballots to win the third base post. Williams missed out on four of the 116 ballots cast. Joining Kell in the infield are the Yankees' Tommy Henrich at first base and Phil Rizzuto at shortstop, and Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson at second base. Robinson won with 103 votes, Henrich drew 77 and Rizzuto 83. Henrich also received five outfield votes.

The smallest number of votes for a winner was garnered by Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner. The major league run king received 68 votes to beat out the Cards' Enos Slaughter, the Yankees' Jackie Delmonico and six other competitors for the third outfield position. Kiner had an even 100 votes to win Kell, Williams and Robinson as the only athletes to poll 100 more votes. The Cardinals ace also won three first base calls.

Roy Campanella of the Dodgers, who won the catching berth earlier, was only one shy of the winning figure. Only one vote separated the Red Sox pitching twins, the lefthanded Parnell, who won 78 games and lost only eight, and the righthanded Egan, who pitched 236 games and won 23-6 marks, received 77 votes.

Joe McCarthy Renews Contract With Red Sox

BOSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Joe McCarthy, who has failed once in three decades to bring his club home in the first division, today agreed to manage Boston Red Sox for two more seasons.

The tactician, 62-year-old divorcee, who has led the big league club failed by the proverbial whicker in the American League flag the last two years, agreed to terms in a telephone conversation from his home near Yonkers, N. Y.

Sox owner Tom Yawkey and general manager Des Cronin both agreed their favorite manager will lead the club to the end of the 1950 season.

But McCarthy, demoralized when he returned to Boston the last day of the season after his club lost the pennant to New York Yankees, needed for time to "think it over."

Sticking with his habit of years, McCarthy made no rash or lengthy statement.

"I hope we can make it next season," was all he had to say about Sox prospects for 1950.

Salary, as usual, was not mentioned either by the club or by McCarthy but it is generally agreed that the veteran skipper probably signed for the same terms he worked under in 1948 and 1949, about $50,000 a year.

Foxzami Wins Melbourne Cup

MELBOURNE, Nov. 2 (Wednesday)—(AP)—For the second time in three years, a son of Nizami, the French sire, is the toast of Australia as winner of the historic Melbourne Cup, the country's greatest horse race.

Foxzami, owned by a Sydney business man, L.G. Robinson, put on a driving finish to win yesterday's two-mile classic over the Flemington Race Course by a length and a half over 31 of the best thoroughbreds on this side of the world.

Nizami also sired Hiraaji, who won the big race in 1947. Foxzami was sired in New Zealand, his dam being the New Zealand mare, Honeywood.

Victory in the Australian version of the Epsom and Kentucky Derbies was worth $8750 (about $20,000) to Robinson, and those among the huge crowd of 101,000 who betted the winner were paid off at 15 to 1. Foxzami's time was 3:28.1, 7 1/2 seconds off the track record.

Hoyle paid 20 to 1 for second place and Benvolo finished strong to beat the surprising Bruin out of third place right at the wire. The 6-to-1 betting favorite, Delta, got in fifth.

Vics Take Firm Grip On Top Spot In C.B.H.L. By 2-1 Win Over Moneymen

SYDNEY, N.S., Nov. 1 (CP)—North Sydney Victorians took a firm grip on the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League leadership tonight by squeaking by Sydney Millionaires 2-1.

The win left Vics four points above Millionaires while Grace Bay rests in the cellar, three points behind Sydney. Millionaires have played one game less than Vics but meet Miners at Grace Bay tomorrow night.

Tonight was the first time in the league this season any club has been beaten on home ice.

Turpin opened an old cut over Ross' left eye in the fourth. The referee stopped the fight in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

Turpin held the upper hand throughout except in the second when Ross, Canadian middleweight champion, troubled the British with a few stiff lefts and rights to the head.

Now that we have some hope of having a new rink come this winter of 1950-51, the hockey fans of Summerside are beginning to wonder what is going to happen this winter. The rink is expected to be ready for the start of the 1950-51 season but it is not yet clear whether it will mitigate against head injuries, the real objective of the idea, is something else again, he says.

"It is the jolting force behind the blow, not the size of the gloves, which does the damage. Wearing gloves of any reasonable weight, fighters with heavily taped hands have no fear of breaking metacarpal bones. They can put every bit of power into their blows. And the bandaged and gloved fist lands like a hammer on the opponent's head. Fergy says this jolting has hurt many boxers and has been responsible for punch-drunk fighters. He says that the boxing gloves are not so much a safety device as they are a combination that increases the striking power of the pugilist and delays his opponent's reaction time. To emphasize his point Fergy says many of the old-time greats lived to ripe old ages and with no apparent ill-effects, physically or mentally.

He said a particular difficulty of P.E.I. potato men was in getting enough railway refrigerator cars to haul out the crop. The potatoes had to be taken to market by refrigerator cars to arrive at available dates. If cars were not available, the product would not be sold.

Col. Thompson said prospective sales often had been lost because, while there were refrigerator cars on the mainland, they would not be taken across to the island over the limited facilities of the railway carrier operated between P.E.I. and the New Brunswick mainland.

REMEMBER WHEN

Grand Cole of St. Hyacinthe, Que., came from far behind to win Hamilton's annual 19-mile round by race eight years ago today by nosing out Al Morton, of Galt, Ont., by only a few yards. Cole covered the distance in one hour, 52 minutes and 20 seconds, fastest time for the event in years.

"I was driving south when I suddenly looked up. I saw a ball of fire and a trail of smoke about 300 feet above the ground and one plane falling.

"I parked my car and ran to the river bank. I saw them bring a woman out of the wreckage and several men. They were terribly battered.

"I could not stand to look any more."

The Bolivian spoke excellent English and acknowledged all instructions in English that were given him during and before the take off. He was silent only on the warning instructions to turn left into the approach pattern.

Bill Barrett again was used in place of Don McLaughlin, Halifax defenceman suspended by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association for failing to honor his "C" form with Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League.

facilities for crossing the Strait. Mr. O'Donnell said the Island now had the "best ferry in the world" declaring carrying capacity had been increased in recent years.

"Yes, but our increased traffic has caught up with the boat and passed it," Mr. Rogers replied.

Mr. Campbell was critical of the operations of the ferry and the connecting train service between Charlottetown and Borden. Both were habitually late.

Col. Charles C. Thompson, manager of Prince Edward Island's Potato Advisory Committee, told the Commission that Island potato growers should be given "special consideration" in view of "hardships" they suffer in relation to potato growers elsewhere.

At times the Island lacked enough railway cars to move its crop, he said, and other disabilities included a long haul to market with resulting higher freight charges than on potatoes grown nearer the market areas.

Between 1936 and 1948, Col. Thompson said, P.E.I. potato growers received an average return less than that of any other area in Canada.

Freight Rate Increases

Asked about the effect of freight-rate increases on the Island's industry, he said that each freight-rate increase produced a tendency to make farmers near consuming centres plant potatoes.

"That has added to our difficulty."

"You have a beautiful island here, the hunting is marvelous and the hospitality and kindness of the people is wonderful beyond anything I have ever encountered before, and I speak for all my party when I say this." were just a few of the descriptive phrases used by Mr. Felix W. Williams, Vice President and General Manager of the Monsanto Chemical Co. of Springfield, Mass., in a brief interview with a Guardian reporter yesterday.

Mr. Williams, accompanied by three other American businessmen and sportsmen, and two pilots who manned their private Beechcraft plane, have been on the Island for the past six days on a Hungarian partridge shooting trip, and left by air on return to the United States yesterday afternoon.

The other members of the party were Messrs Richmond Lewis, president of the C.C. Lewis Co., Goodwin Carter, vice president of the Chapman Valve Co., both of Springfield, Mass., Marvin W. Milner, of the Hercules Powder Co. of Wilmington, Delaware, and the
