Players To Get Improved Contract

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 — (AP) — Major League club owners today met the challenge of Unionism and Mexican League raids by complying with an unprecedented player demand for an improved contract and by authorizing player representation on baseball's governing body for the first time.

A joint session of American and National League magnates, meeting less than 90 minutes, unanimously concurred with a slate of player proposals.

The proposals included representation on a grievance committee, a minimum salary believed to be $5,000, a pension plan, modification of the 10-day release clause, extension of post-season exhibition play from 10 to 30 days and incidental spring training expenses.

Most significant of the concessions which filled 40 typewritten pages was establishment of an executive council which will include a player delegate from each league to replace the old advisory council. The old council included only Commissioner A.B. Chandler and Presidents Will Harridge and Ford Frick of the American and National Leagues respectively.

In addition to the two players, the new council will be composed of Chandler, Frick Harridge and owner representatives, Larry MacPhail of New York Yankees and Warren Giles of Cincinnati Reds. Its word will be final in all baseball matters, subject to approval by the annual joint meeting of the majors.

Pending formal organization of the council, negotiations between owners and players will continue to be conducted by a policy committee, headed by MacPhail. It will meet with the players' own six-member steering committee "as soon as possible" to consider the contract as it was revised today.

The owners deviated from contract discussions long enough to approve a 168-game schedule for 1947. They explained that in this year's standard 154-game card there were some 34 open dates. The extended schedule will start April 15 and end Sept. 28.

Be Faithful Winner Of Handicap

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 — (AP) — Be Faithful, four-year-old daughter of Bimelech, carrying the colors of Louis B. Mayer of Hollywood, sped to a track record today in conquering Jack's Jill by a neck in the $32,800 Beverley handicap for fillies and mares at Washington Park.

The California racer, ridden by Jockey Jack Westrope, ran the mile and one eighth in 1:49 2-5, to clip a fifth of a second off the mark established by Misty Isle in 1941.

The race was robbed of some of its glamor by late withdrawal of Honeymoon, another filly owned by Mayer. Honeymoon, winner of seven stake races this season, and Athenia, Hal Price Headley's fleet filly, did not start because of slow track conditions.

Hypericum, the King's famous filly, is finished with racing and will be retired to stud. She had been entered for this year's St. Leger, but was found in her stall at Newmarket suffering from a mysterious head injury which will prevent further competition. The cause of the accident is unknown.

Piles Up Lead In Early Rounds To Earn Margin Of Victory

By DOUGLAS AMARON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

FORUM, MONTREAL, Aug. 28—(CP) — Battling Johnny Greco lifted veteran Dave Castilloux' Canadian welterweight boxing crown tonight, outpunching his fellow Montrealer for a 10-round decision victory. Greco out-weighed Castilloux 145 to 137 1-2 pounds.

Hitting harder and more frequently than the champion, Greco piled up a comfortable lead in the early rounds and weathered a game rally by Castilloux late in the fight. There were no knockdowns.

The crowd of 14,750 that contributed to a record gross gate of $49,549 was divided in its allegiance but the decision of the judges brought a tremendous roar from Greco's supporters that drowned out the few boos that came from Castilloux's followers.

Greco's victory ended a five-year reign for 30-year-old Castilloux, who lifted the title in 1941 from Maxie Berger, another Montrealer.

Berger, now retired from the ring, was on hand to see the title change hands again.

The main preliminary, an eight-rounder that followed the feature bout, saw dusky Lil' Arthur King from Toronto stop Jean Barriere of Montreal at 2:09 of the first round. The French speaking Canadian was no match for the smart little negro and although he got up just as the count ended he was well beaten.

The feature bout was marked by much infighting as Castilloux, noted more for his boxing skill than for his punching, tried to keep 23-year-old Johnny's sleep-makers under control.

Greco was the aggressor all the way although Dave staged a rally in the eighth round that had the fans on their feet. This was the best round of the fight from the fans' point of view and Greco, a cut over his left eye bleeding, appeared to be in trouble for a few minutes.

Castilloux continued his rally into the early part of the ninth round but Greco was too strong for him. The new champion was trying for the kill in the final three minutes but Dave kept close to him and stayed out of trouble.

Greco's lethal punch, which carried him from the preliminary circuit to main bout category at New York's Madison Square Garden, was tamed by canny Castilloux but the veteran, skillful as he is, couldn't stop all the blows.

The fight followed the predicted pattern as Johnny swarmed all over Castilloux in the early rounds trying for the kill, while Dave parried, hoping probably that his cocky opponent would tire.

How Greco Won Title

Round One: Greco carried Castilloux into the corner in his opening rush and lifted a lovely right uppercut to Dave's jaw. They were at close quarters for the first half minute and Greco pummelled Dave hard with vicious right and left hooks. Castilloux had to cover up as Greco forced the pace. Dave got in two hard right hooks at the bell for his first real blows of the round.

Round Two: Johnny winged the champion with two lefts and a right then tagged him with another hard left to the jaw. Dave came back with a left to the face. Greco slipped to his knee but not from a punch and was up in a flash. Dave tied up Greco then ducked a left hook. Greco missed with another hard left as he continued to carry the offensive.

Round Three: Johnny forced Castilloux back and glanced a stinger off his chin with a hay-making right. Castilloux's left jab was wide. Dave's canny boxing was saving him some punishment but he stopped a left with his chin in the infighting. Greco fanned with a hard right but connected with a solid left to the jaw. The champ grazed Johnny's ear with a straight right and as the bell sounded they were pummelling one another in Dave's corner.

Round Four: Greco had Dave up against the ropes for a full 10 seconds as the round opened and connected with half a dozen successive rights as Dave tried without success to tie him up. A smashing right and left to the champ's jaw seemed to slow him up. Dave ducked two more rights but another crusher caught him on the head. Johnny was still the aggressor at the bell after by far his best round so far.

Round Five: The fighters exchanged short rights and lefts with their heads buried on each other's shoulder as the round started slowly. Johnny got in two good rights but Dave stopped him with an uppercut. The infighting continued through the round. Johnny tagged Dave with a left smash to the jaw and Dave ducked another as they wrestled in Greco's corner at the bell.

Round Six: Dave held the challenger at arm's length with left jabs but Greco soon moved in again and the pair returned to their infighting. Greco tagged Castilloux with a right then a left but neither blow hurt the champ. This was the dullest round to date with both boys sticking close to one another.

Round Seven: Dave missed a left when Johnny moved in and tagged the champ with a vicious right to the jaw. Dave opened up for a minute but missed with rights and a left. Two Greco rights went over Dave's head as the veteran boxed himself away from trouble. Greco tagged a right on Dave's ear and followed with a left to the body. Dave threw a right uppercut past Johnny's ear as the bell sounded.

Round Eight: Greco still forced the fight as the eighth opened and did most of the punching in the early seconds. The scrap was still an infighters' dual however, and the crowd began to clap and boo again. Greco connected with a right uppercut in the clinch but Dave came back strongly with a series of rights and lefts that had Greco in trouble in the last minute. The crowd shouted itself hoarse as the fists began to fly for the first time.

Round Nine: Castilloux continued his rally as the round started with three right jabs to Greco's face but Johnny countered with a hard right of his own. Dave pounded the challenger's jaw with a solid left before they went into another spell of infighting. Johnny tagged Dave with a right hook but missed a haymaking uppercut as Dave ducked. The bell sent two weary fighters to their corners.

Tenth Round: Greco came out with a rush despite a cut eye. Dave held him off and connected with a solid right that settled on Johnny's throat. Greco was still doing all the forcing but Dave covered up, weaved and bobbed. He couldn't stop them all though and was tagged with several lefts. Johnny was trying for a knock-out but was nowhere near it when the bell ended the fight.

Walton Beaten On Technical K. O. In Third

(By The Canadian Press)

HALIFAX, Aug. 28—Unleashing a barrage of lefts and rights to the jaw, Bill Tordiglione, Boston welterweight, scored a technical knockout over Ralph Walton of Montreal in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout here tonight.

The towel was thrown in after two minutes and 20 seconds of the third as Walton barely staggered up from the canvas after his second count.

Montreal boxers fared badly on the card as George Ross of New Waterford won by a technical knockout over Irish Eddie Murphy of Montreal at 2:15 of the third.

Montreal's Billy Miller made the third round unanimously disastrous when he was knocked out by Alvin Upshaw of Halifax at 1:20 of that stanza.

The main bout saw Walton press from the beginning, using a neat left jab. He took the first round on a low punch by Tordiglione and was awarded a three-minute rest.

The Montreal negro began to slow down at the end of the second round. Tordiglione drove in from the start of the third and pummelled Walton to the canvas twice before the match was called. Tordiglione weighed 146, Walton, 142.

In a preliminary fight Young Weigles of Halifax drew with Kid Steeves of Saint John.

Primo Carnera, the Ambling Alp who became a heavyweight boxing champion in the early 1930s, embarked on a new career as a wrestler when he signed a contract with the Italian Wrestling Federation five years ago today. "Da Preem" hasn't toppled and grappling champions yet.

Owen Sued For $127,500 By Pasquel

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 28 — (AP) — Mickey Owen was sued for $127,500 today by Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican Baseball League.

The suit, filed in court here, asks $100,000 damages against the former Brooklyn catcher who jumped to the Mexican League only to desert the south of the border game after a few months play.

In addition, Pasquel asks return of $12,500, which he said had been paid as a bonus to Owen for deserting the Dodgers after his return from military service last spring, and $15,000 advanced to him as salary for 1950.
