Need for better roads in the Fourth District of King's was emphasized in the Legislature yesterday by Mr. Alex. W. Matheson...

A paved road, Mr. Matheson said, had been started in Murray Harbour for the first time and it was hoped this would be continued to connect with Wood Islands...

In opening Mr. Matheson commended the mover and second of the Address, also the leader of the Opposition on his long service in the House and on his recent Papal recognition...

He recalled the Conservative members for Second Queens on making three separate appeals to their constituents in the South, Middle and North Shore areas respectively...

He criticized the Conservative members for Second Queens on making three separate appeals to their constituents in the South, Middle and North Shore areas respectively...

Analysing the election results, he found that 18 Liberal members had received an overall majority of votes in their constituencies...

Mr. Matheson emphasized the continued need for self denial during the present postwar years. Wages are a great factor in the cost of goods...

Helped Neither Side

Both parties had agreed at the last election to abolish the land and road taxes. "I have a hunch," Mr. Matheson said, "that no votes were gained by one side or the other by this plan..."

He commended the reference in the Speech to extending the work of the Relief Committee to include a larger field. Hereafter the work will come under the Social Security Committee and be more extensively organized...

With regard to property taxes, Mr. Matheson suggested it might be feasible to have a voters list in each district.

Dr. MacMillan: "That wouldn't cure it." Mr. Matheson: "Well, they could be checked more easily. If the party didn't register in a week or two before the election day, he would not be entitled to vote."

NEW CZECH GOV'T

Gotwald reported it would support the Communist argument that their seizure of power has been entirely legal. But if it should appear that Benes had been forced to accept the new regime or that Gotwald had distorted his position, the Communist case would be greatly weakened. Officials are convinced the whole affair was Moscow directed. Proving it is another matter. One result appeared certain to flow from today's announcement. Czechoslovakia may lose, for the immediate future at least, all hope of obtaining its requested $50,000,000 loan from the United States export-import bank. The Czechs have been after this money for reconstruction for many months. There is considerable precedent for denying American economic assistance to Eastern European governments, on the basis has been laid for disapproval of the nature or acts of those governments.

DEALINGS WITH

Communists, the extreme Socialist left has been able to exercise a force which now seriously endangers the life of the Government. The will for democracy probably firmes as brightly as ever among the Finns, but they, like the Czechs, have been forced to temporarily make unscrupulous concessions to the flame threatens to throw too much light, it will be promptly extinguished. Europe today is suffering from a case of jitters quite comparable to those of 10 years ago. There is a note of despair, almost of resignation, as the people ask "can history repeat itself so soon?" The above statement deploring the Czech developments, addressed to thin air, is reminiscent of the atmosphere then. The situation in Czechoslovakia is not much different from that in Vienna March 11, 1938, of which Chancellor Schuschnigg said: "We have yielded to brute force since we are not prepared in this terrible situation to shed blood." The war in Europe created by the Czech crisis has been aptly described by Foreign Minister Bidault of France: "It is unimaginable that pawns can be pushed forward on the chessboard indefinitely without resulting in a situation that will become dangerous, perhaps very soon."

GRAYDON ASKS

man Breihaupt (L-Waterloo North), George Webb (PC-Leeds), H. O. White (PC-Middlesex East) and David Croll (L-Toronto Spadina).

Speaking with the Prime Minister absent from the chamber, Mr. Graydon quoted an editorial in today's editions of the Toronto Globe and Mail which said, in part: "Could it be that Mr. King's reluctance to table the Drew letter which is going to fantastic lengths, is due to the fact that Mr. Drew referred to a communication from a high British diplomat, dated Oct. 24, 1941, telling Mr. King that 'altered circumstances' obtained in the Pacific?"

"Is this the document he is afraid to put before the public, because it shows that Mr. King knew, three days before the sailing of the Hong Kong expedition, that these untrained, unarmed men would not be facing a period of ordinary garrison duty, but the virtual certainty of brutal war?" Mr. Graydon went on: "What I want to know ... and what Canadians generally want to know is, did the Prime Minister receive, see or have any knowledge of the communication referred to in this editorial?"

If Mr. King did, he wondered how the Prime Minister could condone that part of the Royal Commission report which said the "best informed opinion" available at the time of the sailing was that "hostilities would not arise in the near future."

This, said Mr. Graydon, was the "core" of one of the issues in the Hong Kong controversy, which could not be left as it was.

Reports

There was little discussion at the evening session as most of the time was taken up with listening to the reading of reports, the passing of amendments to the constitution of the Federation, the adoption of resolutions, and to three addresses by Mr. Roy Grant, manager livestock division, Maritime Co-operative Services, Moncton, N.B.; Mr. John MacIntyre, fertilizer expert with the Canadian National Railways, Moncton; and Dr. J. A. MacMillan, Charlottetown.

Mr. Ernest Reid submitted a brief report from the Potato Growers' Association; Mrs. Michael Doyle, Rustico reported for the Credit Union League; Mr. J. C. Dennis, Charlottetown, for the co-operatives; Mr. D.A. MacDonald, Glenfinnan, for the Approved Flocks Poultry Industry; Mr. Andrew MacRae, Royalty, for the fluid milk producers; and Mr. Gordon MacMillan, Cornwall, for the Fox Breeders' Association.

Mr. Arsenault told the Federation that the Credit Unions of the Province had a membership of over 19,000 in their 50 branches and assets of three-quarters of a million dollars. In some criticism of the Province the Union's inception in the Province the Union if it have loaned their members two million dollars with a possible loss in loans amounting to only one-fourteenth of one per cent.

Mr. Dennis, speaking for the co-operatives, said that during the nine years the movement has been active in the Province 28 co-operatives with a membership of 2,000 have been formed. In Morell there is a co-operative store doing an annual business of $180,000, a creamery doing $140,000 and $180,000, a fish co-operative doing $90,000 worth of business each year; and a Credit Union which last year did a $50,000 business. Mr. Dennis said he believed that only by co-operative methods could the farmers and other producers in the Province hope to succeed in the years ahead.

Mr. Reid in his report stated the Potato Growers' Association has come in for some criticism at yesterday's meeting by misinforming persons. It was the brief prepared, Mr. Reid said, by the members of his organization which had played such an important part at the Geneva Conference in persuading the United States to increase the quota of Canadian potatoes to her markets by one million bushels at the reduced tariff of 37 1/2 cents per 100 lbs. It was Mr. J. W. Boulter, Mr. Reid said, who had played such an important role in the Provincial Government's recent action of not allowing any but certified seed to be planted. The fact that the Island was practically free from bacterial ring rot was a reason why Great Britain had taken the Island's surplus potatoes last year, another great accomplishment in which Mr. Boulter had played an important part.

Mrs. Doyle asked in her report that more women be taken on the Federation's Board of Directors and Mr. D. A. MacDonald reported that the Approved Flocks program had reached the stage where it was no longer necessary for any Island poultryman to order his chicks from the mainland. The fact here was unsurpassed anywhere in Canada, Mr. MacDonald said.

Other Speakers

Mr. MacRae quoted figures which, he said, proved that milk was being sold the Charlottetown consumer cheaper than it was sold in any other city in Canada despite the excessive costs of production which now confronted the dairyman.

Dr. J. A. MacMillan briefly addressed the meeting respecting the new surgical and medical plan which, he said, was now available to all people of the Province in addition to the free hospital care available under the Blue Cross plan.

Mr. Grant spoke briefly and brought the greetings of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick farm organizations to the Federation.

Mr. MacIntyre said certain fertilizers would be scarce, at least for a time, and urged all fertilizer users to secure their supplies as early as possible. Respecting the refrigerator car shortage, Mr. MacIntyre said, the present situation would be sharply improved next week. A large number of cars would be unloading next week at Halifax for overseas commitments within a day or two and his earlier case would be immediately sent to the Island.

The last speaker on the evening's program was Mr. Fred Jenkins of the Excise Income Tax Department who told the farmer meeting that farmers were to be treated by the Department the same as any other business group. Their income tax, if any, for the year 1948 would be based on a three-year average for the years 1946, 1947 and 1948. Their tax for 1949 would be based on the average income for the years 1947, 1948, and 1949. Some discussion was evoked as a result of the statement by the Rev. Father Simpson of St. Dunstan's College that he considered the word "co-operative" was being used "loosely". The only organizations affiliated with the Federation and which could be considered genuine co-operatives, were the Credit Union League and the Co-operatives. Mr. Robert Connolly, Dunstafford, said he would like to know the status of the Livestock Marketing Board, whether it was a co-operative or a privately-conducted institution. Mr. Proffitt had understood that the business was now one of private enterprise.

—CHARLOTTETOWN CURLERS VISIT SUMMERSIDE — On Tuesday afternoon and evening of this week the Summerside Curling Club were host to two trunks from the Charlottetown club. Two rounds were played in the afternoon and one in the evening and at the end of play Summerside had amassed a total of 35 points and Charlottetown 32 points which indicates the keen competition. The visit was just a friendly match with nothing at stake and the boys of both teams thoroughly enjoyed the games which were played in an atmosphere of complete relaxation. Supper was served at the club by the entertainment committee under the capable management of Vic Howatt. Several guests were present at the supper, including Mayor Arnett of Summerside. The executive committee of the Summerside Curling Club are making plans for a moose dance on the curling ice in the near future and it is hoped it will be well patronized so that a good profit will result which can be used as a nucleus of a fund for a new rink.—S.

—ROTARY ANNIVERSARY — Mr. J. H. Strong, club president, addressed the regular meeting of the Summerside Rotary Club on Tuesday on the subject, "Rotary's Quest for Peace." The meeting commemorated the 43rd anniversary of the founding of Rotary. He described the growth of the organization from its founding by the late Paul Harris in Chicago on February 23, 1905. He outlined the activities of the Rotary Club members saying that they should be active in civic work, community welfare, in leading boys and girls into good fellowship, in the betterment of rural-urban understanding and in many other useful activities. "Rotarians," he said, "are active in raising the standards of their own businesses and professions, of their entire vocation." Rotary today has spread until it is found in 78 countries of the world. Jews and Arabs gather together each week in Jerusalem. Moslems and Hindus of the Indian Rotary Clubs form rescue parties to save individuals of either faith in times of communal riots. The spirit of friendship is at work. It cannot be excluded for long from any place on the earth's surface. That spirit is the essence of Rotary's quest for peace. Mr. Frank Rowe acted as chairman and conducted the discussion on feed grains. Mr. Irving Toombs and Hector Leard voiced disapproval at the Government action of taking the subsidy off feed grains at a time when grain was in the control of the grain exchange. Mr. Toombs stated further that although he was not entirely against subsidies he felt that farm prices should be at such a level that farmers could make fair profits without Government assistance. An invitation was extended to every one who wishes to take part in these discussions to be present and give his or her own views on Government matters which will be dealt with at all these meetings. Mrs. Irving Toombs gave a cordial invitation to all members to be present at the meeting which will be held at her home on Thursday, February 26. In Memoriam

MR. NEIL N. MacNEVIN

—One of the best known and greatly beloved members of Milo passed to his eternal reward in the person of the late Mr. Neil N. MacNevin. The funeral service was held from his late residence on Saturday, Feb. 14th and was very largely attended with many coming from Brae, Mount Royal, Milo and other places to pay their last respects to one who was so universally loved and respected. Mr. MacNevin was sixty-seven years of age. He was born at Millville Road, Lot 29, P.E.I., on Feb. 14, 1881 and was the son of the late Nell MacNevin and of his wife, Sarah Beer. He moved to Milo when he was nine years old. He was a kind and generous father, a devoted husband and a fine neighbor and citizen.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Bernice Betts of Glenwood, P.E.I., and two sons, Wallace and Basil. Two sons and two daughters predeceased him. There are two sisters.—Mrs. Neil MacDougall of Charlottetown and Mrs. Donald MacDonald of Milo, also one half brother, Mr. David Holmes of Baldo, P.E.I. Two brothers, George of O'Leary and Colin of Milo and six grandchildren survive. To all of whom we extend our deepest and heartfelt sympathy.

The hymns sung were "The 23rd Psalm," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Abide With Me". The pallbearers were:—David, Grover, John and James MacDonald, David and Roderick MacNevin. The floral tributes were very beautiful and included:—
