City Schools To Have Army Cadet Training Program

An extensive Army Cadet training program, under the sponsorship of the Charlottetown Army Cadet Committee will be in full swing in Queen Square, West Kent and Prince Street Schools this school term.

The cadets, after an absence of some few years from these schools will have a much more elaborate training than ever before.

The three schools comprising the Charlottetown Army Cadet Battalion will train independently and will be directed by different instructors.

The Cadets are divided into two groups, Juniors, ages 12-15, and Seniors, ages 15-18.

In conversation with cadet officials at the various schools, it was learned that Queen Square will train 205 boys, West Kent about 160 and Prince Street 70. Chief instructors at Queen Square and Prince Street are Lieut. J. W. Croken and Lt.-Col. L. W. Lowther respectively. The name of West Kent's chief instructor was not readily available.

As far as could be ascertained, six instructors will handle the two Queen Square companies. West Kent will have five and Prince Street two. In addition to male members of the teaching staffs Henry Murnaghan will have charge of small arms training at Queen Square, while Ralph Dumont will assist the Chief Instructor at Prince Street.

The training, part of which will be performed in school hours, will be varied with actual drill occupying only a small portion of the course. It will extend right through the winter months until inspection, sometime in June. After that anyone wishing to attend Cadet Camp at Aldershot may do so.

It was learned from chief instructor Croken at Queen Square that a Cadet N.C.O.'s and Officers course would be available for his cadets sometime in January. Whether similar courses for cadets of the other schools will coincide with Queen Square's was not definitely known. The course will be given by the Asst. Instructor from Cadet Service at Halifax.

Capt. J. W. Dixon is the Officer Commanding the Charlottetown Army Cadet Battalion.

sians, beginning a three-day holiday, massed into the historic square.

Marshal Govorov, 49-year-old hero of Leningrad, in his address to the troops preceding the parade, referred to the "considerable reduction" in the Soviet army's strength due to demobilization, but said that Russian armed might remained "a reliable bulwark of peace throughout the world."

Soviet foreign policy "untiringly and consistently defends the principles of honest co-operation between the nations, and fights untiringly for a lasting, stable and democratic peace," he said.

"The Soviet Union is not alone in this fight; it enjoys in this fight the support and sympathy of the wide masses of the people throughout the world. That is why, despite the intrigues of the forces of world reaction, the cause of democratic peace must triumph."

Marshal Govorov emphasized that the job of the Soviet army was vigilantly to defend the frontiers of the country and said "successfully to solve this task soldiers of all types of arms must conscientiously learn the art of warfare, raise their military skill and correctly fulfill their military duties."

Special emphasis appeared to be laid on demobilization and peace, with the announcers who described the parade mentioning many heroes of the war who now are in civilian ranks.

Soviet newspapers, meanwhile, in their anniversary editions, dealt with "political reactionaries", accusing them of trying to sabotage the peace.

REGULAR KINSMEN MEETING —Dr. L. Duffy was chairman at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Kinsmen Club held last night at the Charlottetown Hotel. Guest speaker was Rev. T. Butler of Saint Dunstan's University, former R.C.A.F. padre overseas, who gave an interesting address on Remembrance Day. A report on the Hallowe'en Shellout was given by Keith MacKinnon showing a debt of about $400. It was also announced that the club will sponsor a juvenile hockey team this winter. The nominating committee brought in a list of officers and the date of election set for two weeks time, November 21. Two new members, Joseph Storey and Don Ross were received into the Club. Barry Budgden was present as a guest.

Y'S MEN'S MEETING — Mr. William Brennan of Summerside, recently appointed to the Provincial Board of Public Utilities, was the special speaker at the weekly supper meeting of the Y's Men's Club last night. Stationed at various parts of the Middle East during the war, Mr Brennan gave an interesting outline of his stay on the Island of Cyprus. Roughly the size of P.E.I., it is also similar in that it boasts some of the red clay soil predominant here There, the similarity ends, as Cyprus is a land of alternating mountains and plains, with acres of carefully planned pine forests, bark-like in appearance, from which timber can be taken only if an equal area nearby is immediately reforested. The natives, of Greek descent, are proud of their affiliation with the British, he said, remarking that he found British colonial policy much superior to that of other countries, as exemplified in Cyprus. Chief products of the Island for export are lace and silk, of exquiste manufacture, brandy, bauxite and other metal alloys. Mr. Brennan recalled much of the history of Cyprus, and enlivened his talk with a number of amusing experiences with the natives while constructing radar stations on the Island. Club president Bert Dick was chairman, and conducted a business session at which future activities were outlined by committee chairmen.

T. B. LEAGUE EXECUTIVE MEETS —The newly elected executive of the P. E. Island Tuberculosis League held their first monthly meeting in the City Council Chamber last evening with the president, Mr. C.R. McQuaid, occupying the chair. Other directors present included Rev. T. E. McLennan, Rev. Kenneth MacMillan, Dr P. A. Creelman and Messrs A. W. Matheson, Arthur Belcher, Earl Taylor, Frank Taylor and the past president, Mr. Herbert Pletch. The resignation of Miss Ruby Morrison to become X-ray technician at the P. E. Island Hospital was discussed. It was decided not to replace her for the rest of the season. Mrs. J B. Blake reported that preparations for the Seal Sale Campaign are well up to date and Mr. J. A. Jardine reported on the progress of the Mobile X-ray Unit. Centres to be visited this fall if the weather permits include Murray Harbour North Alliston, Sturgeon, Murray River, Cardigan, Pownal, Southport, St. Peters, Morell, Tracadie and possibly some others. The disposition of the Mobile X-ray Unit during this coming winter is a problem and Mr. McQuaid was empowered to explore all possibilities of renting the unit to some other province.

Mr. W. Chester S. McLure, M.P., leaves this morning to attend the Royal Winter Fair which opens at Toronto on Monday.

U. S. Vote May Pass Record Set In 1938

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—The victorious Republicans today ordered a head start on whipping together a party program and policy for the first G.O.P.-dominated Congress in 15 years.

Their steering committee will meet next Thursday.

Democrats, too, switched from election post mortems to asking in earnest: "Where do we go from here?" They found no easy answer.

But one thing was sure—whatever their course, President Truman, it was made clear, intends to stand firmly at the head of the party.

On the basis of campaign promises and statements and post-election comments from party leaders, the Republicans appear to be ready to move in the direction of:

1. Sharply trimming taxes and government spending.
2. Junking as swiftly as possible all remaining wartime controls.
3. Continuing a bi-partisan foreign policy in co-operation with the present administration.

How—or whether—they are going to accomplish this, with a Democrat in the White House and large Democratic contingents still in Congress, will be determined later.

Preliminary tabulations of the total vote indicated it may pass the 36,000,000 record set in 1938 for an off-year election.

An Associated Press tabulation of the major party vote, with returns missing from three southern states and incomplete in most others, added up to 32,708,200. The Republicans got 17,914,073 and the Democrats 14,794,127.

Find Proxy Guilty On Five Charges

(By The Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Nov. 7—A sessions court jury which deliberated five hours late today found Edwin M. Dempsey, president of Habitant Gold Mines, Ltd., and a partner in the brokerage firm of Morgan, Dempsey and Company, guilty on five charges arising from the sharp rise and sudden collapse of Habitant stock early this year.

Kenneth L. Morgan, broker, was acquitted on four charges and found guilty on one. Wallace A. Demsey, brother of Edwin and "field man" at the Habitant mine, was found guilty on two charges.

Judge J. Ambrose Shea said sentence will be passed Nov. 9.

Edwin Dempsey was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the public, conspiracy to affect the market price of Habitant shares, two charges of issuing false information as a promoter and theft of $25,000 from the Habitant gold mines treasury. Morgan, similarly charged, was found guilty only of the theft charge. Wallace Dempsey was convicted on the two charges of conspiracy.

REEFER CARS

patrick said. In the flow of general merchandise into the Province there has been an increase of 1,000 tons per month over that of last year. The handling of this increase in loose car lots coupled with the fact that 400 more cars of potatoes have been ferried across the Strait for the corresponding period of last year was evidence, Mr. Kirkpatrick said, that the Railway is doing its utmost to serve the needs of the Province. This effort, he said, has involved the bringing of cars to the Province from any part of the mainland or the United States where they could be secured.

POLITICS INVOLVED

when he told part of his story to The Canadian Press.

Polkowski, quiet-spoken middle-aged architect who said he is sympathetic to the "exile" government, nodded his head slowly and said: "This is nothing but politics."

He denied he was "the man with a tumor" who, Dr. Fiderkiewicz said, gave the secret password at the convent and thereby obtained the eight trunks and their "priceless" contents.

A tall man with thin, grey hair and a noticeable tumor behind his right ear, Polkowski said the minister's explanation of the release of the trunks from the convent "is just not true."

(Dr. Fiderkiewicz said last night a nun had applied the "tumor" description to the man who obtained the trunks after giving her the password: "The holy virgin of Czestochowa."

(The convent's Mother Superior told The Canadian Press she had no idea of the description of "the men" who took away the treasures.)

United States Zone In Germany Open To American Business

By JAMES DEVLIN

FRANKFURT, Nov. 7 — (AP) — Gen. Joseph T McNarney today threw open the doors of the United States zone in Germany to American businessmen and others with the necessary dollar credits to purchase industrial products now coming out of German factories.

Visualizing an export business of between $20,000,000 and $35,000,000 from the American zone for the current fiscal year, the American commander in Europe told a press conference.

"The need for building up dollar balances in Germany to offset the cost of occupation to the American taxpayer is as great as ever. One way of lessening the burden on United States citizens, and at the same time give them something in return, is through exports of the limited but increasing supply of goods now being turned out by German factories in the U S zone."

Cameras, optical goods, toys, ceramics and furniture such as radio cabinets are among products available for export, he said.

While his statement was addressed primarily to American businessmen, he said foreign buyers also were welcome "as long as they deal in dollar credits."

Arrangements for purchase will have to be made "through military government channels" for the time being because of regulations prohibiting German businessmen from engaging directly or indirectly in export trade, he said.

Huge Contract For Vancouver Firm

VANCOUVER, Nov. 7 —(CP)— The Vancouver Daily Province said today that new ship contracts worth $12,750,000 are expected to be awarded within the next 24 hours to Burrard Dry Dock Company Ltd., of Vancouver and Victoria.

"The Ming Sung Industries of China have concluded the deal with authorities in Ottawa," said the Province, adding that the vessels would include eight specially-designed shallow draft craft for the Yangtse River trade, three tugboats and 50 cargo lights.

No Statement Forthcoming

HALIFAX, Nov. 7 — (CP) —The Nova Scotia cabinet discussed Dominion-Provincial taxation questions today but the sessions were continuing and no statement would be issued until the cabinet's meeting was concluded, Premier Angus L. Macdonald said tonight.

The cabinet, in the third day of its session, had been discussing what may be Nova Scotia's final word to the Dominion on the taxation question.

The wartime agreement between Ottawa and the Macdonald government runs out Nov. 30 and there has been considerable speculation about the province's next move.

Other Announcements

Frank H. Brown of Toronto and Ottawa, financial adviser to the Reconstruction Department, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Elliott, the new Ambassador to Chile as Deputy Minister of Revenue for Taxation.

An arrangement has been concluded with the United States authorizing shipment of goods "in bond" over the Alaska highway where it outs through Canada between American points.

Canada has moved to speed the movement to Canada of European refugees and displaced persons related to Canadians.

Legislation will be introduced at the next session of parliament to provide a superannuation plan for Canadians who accept high government posts but who are not members of the permanent Civil Service.

Use of the title High Commissioner for Canadian representation to Commonwealth countries may be discontinued and some other term introduced.

Appointment of High Commissioners to Australia, to replace Mr. Justice Davis, and India, which will be a new post in the diplomatic service, is under consideration.

Of the diplomatic appointments, Mr King said all except that of Mr. Dore become effective Dec. 1.

Noting that the word "designated" was used in Mr. Dore's case, he said this was because the Canadian Government had not received from the Belgian Government the formal word of acceptance of Mr. Dore as appointee to that post.

Trusteeship Council Is Urged By U. S.

By Clyde Blackburn
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Nov. 7—(CP)—A sort of "take-it-or-leave-it" announcement that the United States proposes to retain control of cerain Pacific Island bases taken from Japan was given today to the United Nations trusteeship committee.

John Foster Dulles, New York lawyer and alternate American delegate, told the committee what President Truman had previously announced in Independence, Mo., and in Washington.

The effect of the American stand was that the United States proposed to keep its hold on islands, formerly mandated to Japan and wrested from that enemy at heavy cost in American lives.

The United States proposal is that a trusteeship council be set up at once and that it is willing to accept limited supervision by that body. It was clearly indicated however, that for the moment it was a case of "what we have we hold."

Mr. Dulles is an expert on trusteeships. An adviser of the late Wendell Willkie, he was slated to be secretary of state if Mr. Willkie had become president in 1940.

He expressed a hope that no "veto" system would be effective in the trusteeship council which might be possible if some member entered the discussion as one of the "states directly concerned."

Russia has not indicated a stand on this question but there has been speculation that the Soviet might seek to take status as a state directly concerned and exercise a sort of veto on trusteeships.

The political committee debated three resolutions aimed at sending back to the security council for reconsideration the rejected applications of five countries for membership in the United Nations.

The dislike of the small states for the veto power, which blocked the applications of Eire, Portugal and Trans Jordan, was expressed by Liberian delegate C. Abayome Cassel, who said it is clear "that we cannot have 50 nations right and one nation wrong."

Surgeon Has Name Cleared

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 7—(CP Cable)—Dr. Meyer Rassin, a wartime R.A.F. surgeon who earned the thanks of the Bahamas government for the free operations he performed on civilians, today had his name cleared and will be allowed to practise in these islands.

Rassin, now working in an English hospital, operated on civilians who could not get attention otherwise and also performed civilian duties at the Nassau hospital for which the government offered its thanks.

But before the war ended, the R.A.F. doctor was refused a licence to practise here. The government rejected his request on recommendation of a medical board appointed to deal with such applications.

Although the government refused to disclose the reasons for rejecting the application, there were suggestions that allegations of unprofessional conduct had been made.

The press and the legislature immediately went to bat for the young surgeon and a commission headed by Chief Justice O.L. Bancroft was appointed to inquire into the matter.

The commission found there was no truth in any allegations against the doctor and the government decided to issue him a licence.

TORONTO, Nov. 7 —(CP)—Discussion of wage demands by 3,500 electrical workers at the Canadian General Electric Company plant in Peterborough, Ont., are to be resumed here tomorrow by company representatives and officials of the United Electrical Workers (C.I.O.), it was announced tonight. The talks started Wednesday.

Union demands include a 13-cents-an-hour wage increase, union security, pay for statutory holidays and changes in seniority arrangements. The Company has offered a 9.1-per-cent increase in hourly wages plus six cents an hour.

Outlook Encouraging On Export Conditions

(By The Canadian Press)

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Nov. 7 (Advance) — Trade Minister MacKinnon, in an address prepared for delivery here tonight, said the "outlook as regards export supply conditions may well be described as one of encouragement."

In a detailed appraisal of Canada's ability to meet the abnormal demands of a post-war world, he maintained that "the main body of Canadian export industry has been going about its business in a way that leaves little room for misgiving or serious criticism."

However, industries which provided possibly one-third of her export totals, dominated by iron and steel, had fallen upon periods of slowdowns because of stoppages, lack of skilled labor and other reasons which "came at a time that was singularly unfortunate from the standpoint of adverse effects that were bound to be felt in connection with the national effort to restore and expand our peacetime export commerce."

The minister addressed a joint meeting of the St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian Exporters Association on the occasion of "foreign trade week."

He dealt in detail with Canada's reaction to "the unique opportunity we have to restore and to extend our export commerce."

Newsprint, the current giant of Canadian export, was being turned out at 99 per cent of capacity but was unable to meet demands and would be in the same predicament next year. This situation extended to the whole broad field of the pulp and paper industry. The lumber industry was producing at the highest rate in 40 years but was below demand.

As the world's chief exporter of base metals, Canada was "easy" in the nickel and aluminum metal fields. But large volumes of copper, lead and zinc had failed to end a world shortage.

Canada had sold $345,000,000 worth of fish during the war and "a very healthy export demand" now would tend to become more selective. Shortages still dominated the export picture here, too.

Recapitulating in these various fields which constitute the great part of the export picture, Mr. MacKinnon said high production was running below abnormally high demand. But the conditions "point emphatically to the conclusion that a tremendous effort has been and is being made in Canada to take full advantage of the exceptional market opportunities that exist today."

BATHURST, N.B., Nov. 7—(CP) —H. M. Aitken was elected president at the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Butter Makers Association today.

Other officers elected were vice-president Fred Hebert, secretary C. G. Obee and directors Roland Beaupre, Harry Dumphy and Howard Price.

The annual meeting of the New Brunswick Dairymen's Association will be held tomorrow.

Officials who addressed the butter makers today included D. M. Beattie, associate chief of the grading and inspection service, Ottawa; C. G. Obee, dairy inspector; Dr. E. G. Hoog, chief of dairy research, Ottawa; J. R. Sutherland, director of dairy services, and W. J. Davies, senior dairy produce grader.

The association expressed appreciation to Mr. Davies for his long service and extended best wishes to him in his forthcoming retirement. Mr. Davies has attended every meeting of the association since its organization.

Expert Amplifies Ilsley Statement

OTTAWA, Nov. 7—(CP)—A finance expert here today amplified Finance Minister Ilsley's statement in his speech last night that the income tax revenue would be reduced 25 per cent as a result of the tax deductions that go into effect on Jan. 1.

This does not contradict the statement Mr. Ilsley made in his budget speech that the tax in the middle income group would be reduced by from 10 to 15 per cent after Jan. 1.

The 25 per cent figure used last night was the over-all average. The exemption for single persons was raised from $660 to $750 and married persons from $1,200 to $1,500. This increase meant that some additional 500,000 persons would no longer have to pay income taxes and in their case the reductions will be 100 per cent. In the high income brackets the reduction will be less than 10 per cent.

HAND CLEANLINESS

Need for hand cleanliness is the subject of a bulletin issued by the Department of National Health and Welfare. It isn't only a matter of decency, but of vital health concern, say the doctors, for bacteria inevitably collects on the hands and is readily transmitted. "It's sheer self-preservation to keep hands and nails clean", declares a health authority, "for disease can spread rapidly from the germs they may harbour."

London Linked With Canada By Radio - Teleprinter Circuit

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 7—London now is linked with Ottawa, Halifax and Vancouver in a direct R.C.A.F. radio-teleprinter circuit which later will be extended to other Dominions and permit split-second consultations on air operations, the Air Ministry announced tonight.

The system replaces Morse telegraphy involving processing of messages and defence students in London said that the new system will mean much quicker Commonwealth defence consultations. Surveys for an extension of the route from Canada to Australia and New Zealand now are being conducted and a London-to-India link already is operating. When the Canadian-Indian connections to Australia have been made the round-the-world system will be complete.

The service was demonstrated at its inauguration last night when greetings were exchanged between R.C.A.F. headquarters in London and Canadian cities.

Sqnd. Ldr. H. S. Ashdown of Montreal, chief R.C.A.F. signals officer in charge of the London demonstration, said that was the way the system worked when it was first used by the western air command communications system to make contact with remote west coast radar stations.

The United Kingdom-Commonwealth defence program envisions being able to hold a situation in any part of the Commonwealth and Empire until United Nations forces could enter the action. Fast communications such as teleprinters then would be invaluable.

The present single trans-Atlantic circuit eventually will be supplemented by multi-channel systems.

Railway Crossing Changes At Moncton

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 7—(CP) —Preliminary plans whereby the railway crossings at St. George Street and Church Street would be eliminated by a single bridge, an overpass at Victoria or Queen Streets and the lowering of the steep incline of the bridge crossing at Mountain Road were discussed here this morning as the board of Transport Commissioners concluded meetings with the City Council, the Town Council of Sunny Brae, the Canadian National Railways and the Moncton Board of Trade.

Under the tentative plans, which J. P. Johnson, vice-president and general manager, C.N.R., Atlantic Region, agreed to have drawn up and estimated, it would be necessary to have marginal roads connecting several of the streets.

George A. Stone, chairman of the meeting, accompanied by commissioner Frank MacPherson and D. Kilburn, chief engineer of the board, were the Ottawa representatives.

Picked Up After A Week Adrift

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—(AP)—Two residents of the Canary Islands, who have been without food for a week and without water for four days while adrift in a 30-foot sailboat, were rescued by the crew of a freighter today 470 miles southeast of Cape Cod.

The coast guard search and rescue centre here said the men were picked up by the S.S. James Smith, 7,000-ton freighter, shortly after noon and were being taken to a Canadian port.

The men were identified by the coast guard as Juan Henriquez de Peratta, 36, and Thomas Matros Castellano, 19, both of Las Palmas, Canary Islands.

A message from the Smith said the two men sailed Aug. 9 from the Canary Islands for Mexico, in their boat, the Covadonga. Severe storms blew them off course and their food and water ran out. then would begin in 1782.

Seek "Old Man" In Death Of Mt'l. Girl

MONTREAL, Nov 7 — (CP) — Muncipal police said today they were searching for "an old man on St. Denis Street" who allegedly performed an illegal operation in the case of a Montreal girl who died yesterday.

Meanwhile, a woman identified as Mrs. Germaine Fontaine, 38, was arraigned today before Judge T.A. Fontaine on two charges of having performed an illegal operation. She was released on $950 bail and $300 cash deposit pending preliminary hearing of the charges Nov. 14. Her alleged operations were not fatal, police said.

At the inquest today in the fatal case, the victim's aunt testified that the girl as she was dying refused to reveal identity of the person who operated on her except to say that he was "an old man on St. Denis Street."

Tito Offer Is Rejected By Italians

ROME, Nov. 7— (AP)—Palmiro Togliatti, chief of the Italian Communist party, said today that Marshal Tito was ready to extend a conciliatory hand toward Italy on a number of disputed questions but the Italian cabinet promptly squelched the Yugoslav leader's reported offer to accept Gorizia instead of Trieste.

Togliatti's report of a hitherto mysterious three-day mission to Tito was published in the form of an interview with the Communist newspaper L'Unita just as the Foreign Ministers Council in New York was taking a holiday on the final consideration of the explosive Trieste issue of the Italian peace treaty.

The first indication that Tito would willingly give up Trieste was given in these words of Togliatti: "Marshal Tito told me he was disposed to consent that Trieste belong to Italy, that it be under the sovereignty of the Italian Republic, if Italy consents to leave to Yugoslavia Gorizia, a city which even according to the data of our foreign minister is predominantly Slav."

He added a condition, which Tito attached, that Trieste be given "democratic" autonomous statute under the aegis of the United Nations.

Togliatti, who heads the third largest political party in Italy, said he was favorably disposed to the Yugoslav Marshal's proposal because it "could happily serve as a basis for a definite solution of all controversial questions between the two countries."

SAYS CANADA

tered into by the Liberal government as a means of "weakening the forces of political opposition in the west and ensuring solidarity within the party."

Such a contract—despite assurances to the contrary — was essentially a bilateral greement which flouted United Nations aims for freer international trade to which both Britain and Canada had subscribed. The move would prejudice other United Nations against the Dominion and the United Kingdom.

Delay in abolishing the practice of granting such preferences as were implicit in the contract "only cultivates the ground from which rises the poisonous growth of Socialism, with its stultifying effects on human endeavor our own government has not escaped the infection."

International policy must be "a two-way street" yet "Canada's national policy since the decade of the twenties has tended to antagonize her customers rather than to keep, or regain, their goodwill."
