

THE QUEEN'S COUNTY GUARDIAN

Head Offices in New Prowse Block—Charlottetown.

SATURDAY Guardian fifty cents a year.

Miss KATIE L. LARGE arrived home Saturday night after two months' visit to Boston.

REV. THOMAS MARSHALL has accepted an invitation to Grace Church in this city, for next Conference.

Mrs. ANGUS CAMERON will be at home on Weymouth street Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings.

The Saturday Guardian, only fifty cents a year is an excellent gift for that friend of yours abroad. Subscribe for it today.

A. MATHEWSON & Co., of Grand View, loaded two cars with potatoes and oats at Grand View station on Saturday last.

ANY good industrious boy desiring to learn the printing should apply at this office at once. A good chance for a good boy.

Mr. FAULS of Toronto, sang with great acceptance Hutchinson's "Abide with me" at the First Methodist Church Sunday evening. He will sing Sullivan's "Lost Chord" at the Chorus' Concert on Thursday next.

This is a complaining world. The leaking hydrant on Market Square having been stopped after attention was directed to it in The Guardian, a resident of King Street intimates that the stand pipe near the Bank of Commerce requires similar treatment to the other.

At a most successful and enjoyable men's social held recently in the school-room of Central church Moncton, a solo by Paul Lee, formerly of Charlottetown, and an address on "Some of the broader aspects of church work" by J. T. Hawke, Editor of the Moncton Transcript were greatly enjoyed.

CORRESPONDENTS should remember that to ensure early appearance of correspondence all matter sent in should be cut down as much as possible. Every attention is paid to correspondence but it is impossible to get everything in as written, especially when as of late many communications are being received each day.

The death of John Sturdy, a life-long resident of Crapaud, occurred at his home at that place late on Saturday evening. He was aged 73 years and during nearly all of that long life he has been a well known man, following the occupations of farmer and miller and coming into contact with nearly all the people round about him. He had been ill for some time and succumbed to a complication of disorders. He is survived by a widow and four daughters: Mrs. H. McVittie, Mrs. H. Howatt, Mrs. J. P. Trainor, and Mrs. Fred. Matters; and by four sons: Robert, Thomas, Russell and Bertram. The funeral took place Monday afternoon. The services at the house were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Stebbings, and the body was interred in the old Methodist Burying Ground at Crapaud. The pall-bearers were R. McVittie, E. Boswell, N. Percival, Jos. McDonald, Alfred Stewart, and Wm. McDonald.

The home of Ernest A. MacNeill, Providence R. I. on October 24, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when his daughter Margaret, formerly of Crapaud, Prince Edward Island, was united in marriage to Leonard A. Hyeer, by Rev. Gehary Wilson, in the presence of the bride's family and immediate friends. The bride was gowned in the customary white, with lace and silk trimmings, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. The bridal party were unattended. After refreshments were served Mr. and Mrs. Hyeer set off for their future home in Berlin, Conn. The bride's going away dress was green silk, with black picture hat. Mrs. MacNeill was for many years one of the most popular teachers of Prince Edward Island and has the congratulations of her many friends who join in wishing her every happiness to her future welfare.

The Guardian's correspondent from the east writes: Digging is completed, weather is fine, and ploughing and breaking are general. A fine school of sika is now ranging the South Shore as far as Basin Head. Squid bait can generally be procured and large catches are landed every day. A ready means of disposal is the Souris Fish Dryer, where cash is readily paid for them fresh. As a comparison between the good old days and the present it may be stated that there are men still living here who have given 100 lbs of green hake for four pounds of flour. Today you can get 88 pounds of flour for the same quantity of fish. Rev. Mr. Gardner is resigning his charge after a successful pastorate of six years. Combining the deep scholarship and the higher culture of the English schools with the progressive Western ideas, he carries into his charge many elements essential to success, and on the platform or on the pulpit, he easily takes his place in the rank. A daughter has been born to James J. and Mrs. Smith.

Ed. COOK, of this city leaves this morning for Baltimore, Md.

THOMAS HARDY, York, has disposed of his valuable farm at Covehead to James Blirt. of Pisiquid.

Mrs. KENNETH MCLEAN of Grand View, is visiting friends at Stanley Bridge and vicinity.

Miss EDITH WIGMAN, Lower Montague, is spending a few days at Upton, the guest of Miss Emma Bessy.

In this issue appears the ad. of James Stewart & Son, grocers, Queen St., and for the house cleaning season, which is now on, the housewife will find their Dutch Cleaners an admirable first day's try and aid to their work. All orders will receive prompt and courteous attention.

Those who want work of any kind or are looking for help of any kind should send their names and addresses with all particulars or call at The Guardian Employment and Information Bureau, New Prowse Block, Charlottetown. Telephone 1328. Those who do not desire to advertise will please send 25 cents with their request, which amount will be returned to them on application if they do not get what they want.

Miss MARY MACINNIS, daughter of Mrs. John A. Macinnis of this city, has secured a position in the C. P. R. office, Winnipeg. She entered upon her duties three days after her arrival there. Her many friends will be pleased to hear of her success. Miss Macinnis holds certificates from both departments of the Union Commercial College and while in attendance proved herself a very ambitious student.

The Guardian today announces the death of Wm. Hayden, of Alberry Plains, the result of an accident already reported in these columns. It was at first thought that Mr. Hayden would survive the injuries received when his team ran away last week at Montague, but he had been more seriously hurt than was at first supposed. He died in the early hours of yesterday morning. He was fifty-five years old and is survived by a wife and family who have the sympathy of very many people who regret the sad and sudden death of the head of the family.

The Dawson Weekly News of October 26th contains the following which will doubtless prove interesting to readers of The Guardian: George Snell and Mrs. Mary Jane McLeod, who were married in Dawson yesterday morning by Rev. George Pringle, gave a wedding feast to a few friends last night at the White House. Nothing was spared to make it a success. The groom presided, and with the assistance of the charming bride, carved the mammoth wedding cake as cleverly as he waded through a stack of hot cakes and maple syrup when preparing to face a hard day's work on his rich claim, No. 24 above on Bonanza. Pieces of the cake will be sent to the home of the bride on Prince Edward Island, and other portions to Hamilton, Australia. Those who sat down last evening included Mr. and Mrs. Snell, Mrs. Noble, Murdoch McLeod, Hughie McLeod, and Malcolm McLeod, brothers to the bride; Albert Snell, brother to the groom; T. Hardy, T. Thompson, and Howard Pierce. The banquet room was one of the most elaborately decorated ever seen in Dawson. The bride wore her beautiful wedding gown of white silk, trimmed with rare old point lace, handed down by her great-grandmother. The groom's gift to the bride was a costly set of Klondike nugget wear. Many other beautiful gifts were received. The bridegroom is now owner of Nos. 21, 23 and 24, on Bonanza, besides other holdings in the Yukon. He has been successful in all his undertakings in the North, and is none more than in his recent matrimonial venture, in which he has secured as his wife a young lady of most attractive appearance and sweet disposition, one of the best from that eastern province which is noted for its fair women and brave men, Prince Edward Island. Miss McLeod came to the North from her father's home at Lorne Valley, Prince Edward Island, only a few months ago, and has been living during that period with her brothers. The newly wedded couple will probably remain in the Klondike for the winter.

PROWSE BROS. LTD. Silk Waists $4.00 to $6.00 Value $1.49

A WONDERFUL bargain in silk waists! A silk waist buying opportunity that should interest every lady in the city. Think of it—silk waists—$4 to $6 value—at $1.49!

Figure it up, the cost of material, the cost of making, the thread, buttons and all that goes to make a high class waist. But there's no need to go further than in the first item, for silk enough for a waist of a quality inferior to that of which these bargain waists are made would cost much more than our price for one of these waists complete.

It's evident, therefore, that SOMEBODY is making a big loss, dropping all the profit end most of the cost of the waist.
