—DUNK RIVER FARMERS INSTITUTE.—The annual meeting of the Dunk River Farmers Institute was held in Kelvin school on Tuesday evening, Dec. 17th. The President Mr. John R. Stavert occupied the chair. Owing to the prevalence of Spanish influenza in each district of the Institute the outside districts were not sufficiently represented to proceed with the election of officers and other business of the annual meeting. The President, Prof. Ross and Mr. Robert Agnew were elected delegates to the Central Institute. Mr. James Thompson, chief wool grader for the Dominion, then took the platform and gave a very practical and instructive address on the care and marketing of wool. He showed very clearly the advantage of having wool graded and sold according to grade and very strongly urged wool-growers to take extra care of his flock, market his wool cooperatively and thereby establish a reputation and a market for Canadian wool that will be second to none. Prof. Reid was the next speaker, he dealt very ably with the live stock question, laying great stress on the value and use of pure-bred sires. He spoke of the value of community breeding and explained how it has been handled in many parts of the Province. He gave great encouragement to the stockmen to produce the best and assured them that there would be an unlimited demand for live stock of all classes as soon as Europe could handle it.

—WEDDING BELLS.—The marriage was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents John L. and Mrs. Mill, Clermont, Xmas eve, Dec. 24th, 1918, of their daughter Ruby Louise to William Nelson Paynter, son of Edwin and Mrs. Paynter, Long River. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. W. Neish in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was given away by her father and wore a dainty dress of cream silk crepe du chene with trimmings of satin and veil fastened with wreath of bridal roses. The young couple were unattended. The wedding march was played by Mrs. S. B. Moase, sister of the groom. After the ceremony the bridal party and guests repaired to the dining room where supper was served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents among which was a set of furs the gift of the groom. After a pleasant evening Mr. and Mrs. Paynter left for their future home in Long River followed by the best wishes of their many friends.

MR. FRANK MURPHY.

A Colorado exchange has the following reference to the death of Mr. Frank Murphy who has relatives and friends in China Point, P. E. I. Miss Irene Murphy today telephoned to this city the death of her brother Frank Murphy of Walden, of influenza this morning at his home in North Park, and that the body will be brought to this city for burial on Friday. Mr. Murphy was a single man, aged about 30 years, and attended the class of 1900. He was at one time a member of the Colorado state legislature and was prominent in the stock and ranch business of North Park, a most excellent young man, well liked in this city and in his home town. Most of the members of the family are ill with the influenza, several of them being unable to accompany the body to this city for interment.

Word reached this city this morning that the body of Frank W. Murphy, who died at his home at Walden yesterday, from influenza, would reach this city this afternoon, over the Colorado, Wyoming and Eastern, and that the funeral will be held tomorrow forenoon, from the Catholic church, the interment being in the city cemetery. Friends will accompany the remains from Walden to Laramie and other friends will assist in the arrangement for the obsequies in the city.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Shortly after dark on Friday evening the 20th of Dec. a drive was made on the Presbyterian manse at Orwell. It was simultaneous on front and rear. The inmates of the manse knowing the better part of valour is discretion yielded without resistance. When the party entered they proved to be the a company of fine looking ladies and stalwart gentlemen.

The ammunition in these haversacks was of the quality that must have stealthily escaped the Hoover censor, it was of rich material and gave evidence of skill in the manufacture. The pastor and Mrs. of the manse, being at the mercy of the invaders, when ordered to a position within range of the assembled group obeyed, generalissimo Mrs. D. B. MacLeod read in the most convincing manner the full reason of the attack, as follows.

Dear Dr. and Mrs. McEwen. On behalf of the members and adherents of the Orwell congregation, we beg leave to present to you the following brief address.

"You have been laboring with untiring energy in promoting the best interests of the congregation for three years, and we desire to express our appreciation of your ministry among us.

Your earnest and forceful preaching of the gospel of Jesus Christ, your kindness, sympathy and attention, have won the respect and esteem of all your people.

We wish you both a very happy Christmas and as an expression of our regard, we ask you to accept this gift.

The gift consisted of a handsome purse with contents, Calendar for 1919, stamps, and One Hundred and Twelve dollars in bright new bank bills.

The pastor and Mrs. with few words but strong feelings expressed their appreciation of their dearly loved people, who were prompted to make the visit and the gift.

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed, and when the company retired, they left a bright spot in the memory of the occupants of the manse.
