ARMY WEEK DISPLAY OPENED AT CHATEAU LAURIER

Cutting the ribbon leading into the display of military equipment, Victor Sifton performed one of his last tasks as Master General of Ordnance by officially opening an Army Week exhibit at the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa. Surrounded by officers and government leaders, Mr. Sifton (lower photo) signalled the opening of a week dedicated to the Canadian soldier, the ceremony in Ottawa was duplicated in similar fashion in practically every city, town and hamlet across the Dominion. In UPPER photograph SOMS C. S. McIntosh, of London, Ont., is shown demonstrating the operation of a trench mortar to two members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, Lt. nec Corporal Jean Blackburn, of Noranda, P.Q. (left) and Pte. Georgina Campbell of Winchester, Ont.
