—TO SUPREME COURT.—At Alberton on Tuesday the preliminary enquiry of the charge of assault against three Alberton youths for occasioning actual bodily harm to Dawson Quigley was heard before Magistrates J.L. Thomson and P. N. Pate. It appears from the evidence that the assault took place on April fourth on the Gillman Bridge, about two miles from Alberton and Quigley deposed that he had been badly beaten and as a result was laid up for a week. The defendants contended that they were fishing on the bridge and did not molest him until they were first attacked, and that the blows Quigley received were given him by the oldest of the youths while defending himself. On account of the youthfulness of two of the boys and the small part they played in the affair the magistrate dismissed the charge against them but sent the oldest of the youths up for trial to the Supreme Court which meets in Summerside on June 9th. Mr. Heath Strong, K. C., appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Wilfred Tanton for the defence.

—RAILWAY CHANGES.—Joseph G. McCormack section foreman of New Zealand has been retired on pension and the new foreman is Mr. Michael Fitzpatrick, section foreman of Souris. His place on the Souris section is filled by the appointment of Hugh S. McDonald, Harmony Jct. an experienced section hand. Mr. Fitzpatrick is changing his residence from Souris to Harmony Junction, where he owns a couple of farms.

—FAREWELL.—On the evening of April 3rd, Capt. J. W. McEachern of Souris was waited on in the Knights of Columbus home by a large body of brother knights and read an address of regret and farewell, concluding with the presentation of a small token emblematic of the high esteem in which he was held, his good citizenship and his ever generous support to the workings of the council of which he was a zealous member. Mr. McEachern responded and after thanking them in a few frank, brief words, said that he would ever nurse the tenderest memories of all kindness extended to him while he was a citizen of Souris and also that ever fraternally he would watch with interest the growth of Souris Council and that this evening would be an epoch in the sea of memories in the years to come. The evening closed with remarks from various members bespeaking wishes for prosperity and a "bon voyage." Mr. McEachern who has been Field Supervisor on the Island here for the past six years, has been transferred to Alberta with headquarters at Edmonton where he will work in the same capacity and where immigration Settlement instead of nearing completion as here, one might say judging from report is only commencing and the fact that Mr. McEachern has been taken all the way from the East speaks well indeed for his ability and faithful service here. Capt. McEachern as he is better known in military circles, went overseas with the first contingent to do his bit in the "world war" and was wounded and while convalescing was sent back here on duty. Following his return to England, he again drafted to France and for his further daring was awarded the M. C. and the French Government recognized him a hero for the Croix De Guerre which he in due course and with all honor received. Whilst a great host of friends regret his departure, yet they feel that with his very creditable past that the future holds much in store for him and trust that in the not too distant future, he will find it convenient to visit old "Spud" again, and his ever and well wishing friends.

—Mr. Angus McAdam, St. Peter's, was a week-end visitor at his old home, Big Bush, Lot 45.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS JAMES R. MCKAY

The death took place on April 14th at the United Free Church Manse, Cromdale, Elginshire, Scotland, of Annie M. wife of Rev. Jas. R. McKay. Mr McKay occupied the following parishes: Souris and Bay Fortune, P. E. I., Tabusintac, N. B.; Middleville, Ont.; Harbour and Tide Head, N. B. In 1919 Mr McKay resigned the last named charge, and he, and his wife returned to Scotland the land of their nativity. Shortly afterwards Mr McKay was inducted into Cromdale, where his wife died of influenza followed by meningitis, on date stated. Mrs. McKay was a woman of fine qualities, kind and sympathetic, made many friends, and exercised a great influence for good in all the places where she and her husband were located. Many will regret to hear of her passing, and will extend sympathy to Mr McKay in his bereavement.

MRS JAMES M. DUFFY.

The funeral of Elizabeth, wife of James M. Duffy, took place at Kinkora, on Friday morning, May 8th. A long procession of carriages, bearing the people from all the surrounding settlements followed the remains to the Church. The funeral mass was sung by the pastor, Rev. M. J. Smith, Revs. Peter S. Duffy, V. J. J. McDonald and Rev. Geo. McCabe assisted at the funeral service and at the grave. There were wreaths and spiritual bouquets from all the family and many friends, including the South Vancouver Assembly of the Native Sons of Canada of which her son, P. Bennett Duffy is President. Mrs. Duffy had reached the advanced age of almost seventy-nine years. Her illness lasted only a few days and her death was caused by pneumonia following an attack of "flu." She was married over fifty-one years and her passing is the first break in the family circle. Her husband and family of seven children survive her and all ex-cooper, who resides in Vancouver, British Columbia, and her other children are: Mr. Gavan Duffy, K. C. Charlottetown; Mrs. Thomas P. Hamill of Bedouge; Mrs. James McCordie of Kinkora; Mrs. Patrick J. Callaghan of North Wilshire and Emmett and Malachias at home.

Her sudden death recalls the fact that she always went about doing her duty in a true Christian manner without show and without ostentation. She leaves to her family the most precious heritage that this world supplies, namely the noble example of a virtuous and holy life of constant industry and self sacrifice on behalf of her loved ones. Her memory will always linger with them as their most precious treasure.

JAMES AFFLECK

The death of Mr. James Affleck under tragic circumstances at his home at Donaldson, five miles from Mt. Stewart, on Thursday, April 30th, caused much sorrow in that section of the country where Mr. Affleck was well known and highly esteemed.

Mr. Affleck assisted by two other men, Messrs. Mullin and Best, was sawing wood with a circular saw, propelled by horse power. His clothing caught in the screw on the balance wheel, and before the horses could be stopped Mr. Affleck had been fatally whirled around and received terrible injuries. When picked up he was unconscious, his skull having been fractured. Dr. Martin of Mt. Stewart was at once sent for, but unfortunately Mr. Affleck's injuries were such that human aid was unavailing. He passed away on the following day, May 1st, at the age of thirty-seven.

He was the son of the late James Affleck, and had been engaged in farming for many years. By his industry and intelligence he had achieved a gratifying measure of success, and was recognized as one of the representative men of his calling in that section of the county.

He was a man of splendid character, a true Christian gentleman, and no better neighbor could be found anywhere. He was always obliging, always ready to help in time of need, and there was great sorrow among the people when it was known that his useful life had

Borden Notes

On Monday night, the 4th, the Borden Dramatic Club presented their three-act comedy "The Old Dairy Homestead" to the largest audience that ever was admitted to that hall; in fact, not since the club was organized and the way which the different characters took their parts was wonderful. Although the stage was a little crowded by the players and the heat was a little stifling they kept the audience in roars of laughter all through the performance. Great credit is due to Rev. W. E. Monaghan for having organized this wonderful club in which they will take their places alongside of any amateur club in P. E. I., for they certainly have the talent behind them. The scenery had a wonderful effect throughout the play and many thanks are due to Mr. Jack Gaudet for doing such good work, and especially for the old grandfather's clock which looked so natural that it could hardly be detected from one imported from the Old Country. There were also some very good specialties by Messrs. George Clow and Earl Campbell from Summerside. Good music was furnished by Miss Jennie Noonan, violinist, accompanied by Mr. Art McKay, both of Albany; and also by Mrs. James McAleer, pianist. A sale of pies took place between the first and second act. Mr. C. E. McDonald acting as auctioneer, and they were disposed of very quickly. Mrs. Wildred McNally and Miss Florence Ring acted as prompters throughout the performance, and their assistance was greatly appreciated. The players however, took the matter in hand, and decided that they weren't going to be prompted, and they weren't, everyone being word perfect. The names of those who took part in the play were: Jason Wilkins, owner of the old Dairy Homestead; Mr. Jack Gaudet; Josh Arrowrott, town constable; Mr. Mark Bernard; Malcolm Gray, a schemer and an ex-convict; Mr. Clayton Green; Willie Work, a tramp; Mr. James McAleer; Mike Donovan, a detective in disguise; Mr. Reginald McAleer; Mrs. Gilmere, a dancing widow and adventuress; Mrs. J. V. McDonald; Becky Wilkins Jason, sister, and an old maid; Mrs. W. P. McNeill; Ruby, a waitress; Miss Annie McDonald.

ed together this evening to bid you farewell on the eve of your departure for Halifax, N.S., where duty calls. It is needless to say that you will miss you both, but while you will be gone you will not be forgotten, and we trust you will accept these two little tokens not for their value in cash, but on account of the spirit which prompted them. Trusting you will some day take a run back to see your old friends, we will close, wishing you both long life and happiness in your new home which by the way is your former one, and where you will have many friends already formed. Signed on behalf of your many Borden friends,
 Reginald McAleer,
 Beatrice Murphy,
 Adele Read.

Borden, May 11, 1925.
 Dear Florence—We, the members of your choir, have gathered here tonight to express our keen regret that you are about to depart from our midst. We will greatly miss you, Florence, from our choir, as we considered you a very valuable member and now we wish to show you in a tangible way our appreciation of your services while with us, by presenting you with this gift as a small token of esteem.
 Signed on behalf of the Borden Chapel Choir.
 A very pretty wedding was celebrated in the Borden Chapel Hall on Wednesday, the 6th, when Rev. W. E. Monaghan united in the holy bonds of matrimony Mrs. Mary Emily Wedge to Mr. Frederick Arsenault. They were attended by Mr. Fred Arsenault, and by Miss Rosey Bernard, niece of the bride. The bride wore a suit of navy blue with sand hat to match, which was very becoming. After the ceremony the happy couple partook of a dainty breakfast at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Anthony Gallant, afterwards motoring to the groom's home in Egmont Bay, where a good time was spent in music and dancing. The bride was presented with a good address and a purse of $12 in cash, and also some other valuable presents, both in Borden and Egmont Bay. The bride was the daughter of the late Mr. Emmanuel Wedge, who was accidentally killed by a C. N. R. train at North Wiltshire four years ago this fall.
 Mr. George Campbell has left the town of Borden for Toronto, where he will resume his duty with the Roger Miller Co.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Ring and family, are very sorry to hear that they will leave town the first of the week for their future home in Halifax. Mr. Ring was employed by the C. N. R. Car Ferry lunch room, and since the Canadian National News Agents have taken over all lunch rooms, Mr. Ring was obliged to resign his position here, having accepted one with the C. N. Rys. dining car service.

The many friends of Mr. Urville Leard are glad to see him out again after being ill for the past two weeks.

Mr. Thomas Sexton, third officer of the Car Ferry is very busy these days getting the forms in for the cement of his new home.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McEachern, where the many friends of our retiring Bank manager had gathered to spend a few social hours together.
 Music was ably furnished by Mr. Dalziel, of Kensington, accompanied by Mrs. James MacAieer, of Borden, and from the moment the dancing was opened by the hostess and the guest of honor, Mr. Engle, it was one continual round of pleasure.
 About midnight, during a lull in the dancing, a presentation was made to Mr. Engle, accompanied by an address, which read as follows:
 Port Borden,
 April 29, 1925.
 J. F. English, Esq., of Nova Scotia, Borden and Albany.
 Dear Mr. English.—It is with mixed feelings of sorrow and regret that we have learned of your intended departure from our midst, and what is our loss will be your gain, and as it is the way of the world we must needs bow our heads in submission.
 You will no doubt be surprised at the heterogeneous collection of keepsakes placed before you, but you alone are to blame, for your popularity has made it necessary. A few of us decided we would like to present a club bag to you and we ordered same, only to find our trouble had just begun, for your many friends on hearing of what we were doing, insisted on getting in on the donation with the result that we had to hunt up something else to please them, and thought you might find use for this smoking outfit, and then as a last resort, in addition we were forced to fall back on the old reliable standby, a purse of gold. These tokens of esteem do not in any way represent the value we put on your friendship, for this cannot be estimated in dollars and cents, and when we say our genial treasurer, Mr. W. A. Field, had to stand for considerable abuse because he limited the donations to very small sum from each, we only speak the truth.
 One gentleman in particular, who by the way is a better steward than he is a fisherman, was very hostile on this point.

 Borden is a small place, but very particular in many ways, and the greatest honor we can confer upon you, is to say that everyone looks upon you as a friend, and we all trust that you will continue to go up the ladder, step by step till you get to the top, a position at present ably filled by an Islander.
 Signed on behalf of your host of friends,
 John L. Read,
 W. W. Brown,
 G. C. Green,
 J. V. McDonald.

Mr. English, following his usual practice, honestly admitted he had an idea of what was coming, and then surprised all present by the able and eloquent handling of what to most, is an embarrassing situation.
 After a lunch, for which the ladies of Borden are justly famed, the dancing was resumed with renewed vigor and kept up till, as the song goes, "At Three O'clock in the Morning," when after singing, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," we bid our host and hostess good-night feeling satisfied with our evening's enjoyment.

been so suddenly and tragically brought to a close.
 Mr. Affleck was a man of more than ordinary intelligence, and an active supporter of every measure tending to advance the welfare of the community. He took a deep interest in dairying, and was for a time Director of the local creamery.
 He leaves to mourn a widow, three daughters, Ida, and Ethel at home, Ella, wife of Becher Court, Rustico; also four brothers and four sisters, namely, John, at Mt. Stewart, Joseph in Lawrence, Mass., Robert in Lake Worth, Florida, Alfred of the C.N.R., Charlottetown, Mrs. David Garland, Revere, Mass., Miss Elizabeth, Maiden, Mass., Mrs. Fred Jordan, Head of Hillsboro and Mrs. William MacKoskie, Mt. Stewart.
 The funeral was held on Saturday, May 2nd, and despite the very unfavourable weather was largely attended, many friends from the surrounding country attending to pay their last tributes of respect to the memory of a good man, who was a favorite with all who knew him. Interment was in Donaldson Cemetery. The services were conducted by the Rev. H. T. Smith, of York, and the Rev. J. F. Tupper, of Mt. Stewart. The pall bearers were: Peter MacDougall, Albert Best, William King, William Mullin, George Arbing, and Charles Ellis.
 No partings yonder, and sad good-byes.
 No pain, no sickness, and no weeping eyes,
 But best of all my Saviour I shall see,
 No cloud will come between my Lord and me.

MISS BESSIE KEEPING.

The funeral of the late Bessie Keeping, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Keeping, Murray Harbor, was held from her parents' home yesterday afternoon and was attended by a large number of friends and neighbors.
 The late Miss Keeping passed away in the Worcester City Hospital, Worcester, Mass., on May 3rd. She was studying nursing in the McLean Hospital, Worcester, from which institution she would have graduated this year.
 A short service was held at the home at 2 o'clock yesterday by Rev. Mr. Howard, who conducted the service at the Murray Harbor Methodist Church and also at the grave. The Church was crowded by sorrowing friends of the deceased, who was a most popular and estimable young lady.
 The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Angus McNeill, Gerald Prowse, Emmert Penn, Patrick Morris, Robert Bell and Julian Herring.

MR. MURRAY ROBERTSON

On Monday, April 20th, 1925, the many relatives and friends of Mr. Murray Robertson, Hunter River, were deeply saddened to hear of his sudden death. Deceased had been in his usual good health up to the time of his death. After eating a hearty dinner, he made a trip to Mr. Woods' Mill, intending after leaving some grain there to be crushed, to go to the Bank, but while unloading his grain, without any warning he passed away.
 Since selling his farm in Cavendish some three and a half years ago he has lived with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Andrews, Summerside, having lived with him and his wife since a little girl.
 Mr. Robertson was in his 74th year and had always been a strong, healthy man. He was of a kind, cheerful disposition, and endeared himself to all who knew him, and since coming to Hunter River had made many new friends.
 Out of a family of twelve children there are only three left to mourn, viz: Mrs. George Arthur,

Many floral offerings were received, among them the following: Father, Mother, Ewart and family, spray.
 Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Keeping, Vernon, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith, Charlottetown, spray; Mr. and Mrs. Koth, Rogers, Charlottetown, spray; Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, Charlottetown, spray; Marion MacMillan, Charlottetown, wreath; MacMillan sisters, Charlottetown, crescent; Mr. and Mrs. Larin Brehaut, Georgetown, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. David Glover, Murray Harbor, spray; Agnes, Sarah and Rosa Bell, Murray Harbor, spray; Mrs. Edwin and E. C. White, Murray Harbor, wreath; Melba Sunday School, Murray Harbor, spray; The Murray Harbor Music Circle, spray; Mrs. Amos Acorn, Murray Harbor, spray; Mrs. D. J. Jordan, Murray Harbor, wreath; Mrs. Nimes of MacLean, Murray Harbor, spray; Mrs. Waverley, Mass., spray; Miss Margaret Haggarty, Lexington, Mass., spray; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Fisher, Lexington, Mass., spray.
