Farewell To S'side Minister

Rev. Mr. C. J. St. Clair Jeans and Mrs. Jeans were the guests of honor at a happy little function in the hall of the Presbyterian Church last night when the members of the congregation tendered them a farewell party.

Mr. C. J. St. Clair, Chairman, in a few opening remarks explained the object of the gathering. A short musical program preceded the address and opened with a piano duet by Mrs. Muriel Lee Muttart and Miss Helen Peters; Vocal trio, Bud Mountain, Wm. Forbes, Graham Rogers; Reading, Mrs. J. S. Perry; Piano solo, Mrs. Whelan. Mr. Rogers then called on Rev. Mr. Waterworth, pastor of the Central Christian Church who brought greetings from his congregation and expressed regret at the departure of Rev. Mr. Jeans and Mrs. Jeans. Other ministers expressing the loss of an associate were Rev. J. B. Wilson, Rev. Mr. Williamson, Malpeque, and Rev. Mr. Stavert, Hunter River. Mayor Lidstone, who was present, also expressed his regrets and felt sure that it would be difficult to find a gentleman to replace Rev. Mr. Jeans, not only as a scholar and eloquent speaker, but as a friend and citizen, always ready to do his part for the betterment of the community.

Mr. A. S. MacKay spoke on behalf of the congregation of Trinity Church. Mr. A. E. MacLean was then called upon and read the farewell address and made a presentation on behalf of the congregation to their pastor, Rev. Mr. Jeans replied in a fitting and gracious manner and said that he would always have a warm corner in his heart for the congregation that he had ministered to for the past seven years. The ladies then served refreshments during which Mr. Lowell Hancock gave some vocal selections accompanied by Mrs. Muttart on the piano.

—FRED CLARK, Cavendish, who ground and fed Sunglo breeding rations 1933-34 for the first, says he would not feed the old system of meats chunks, etc., again. L-2831.

FOXMEN!

SUNGLO BREEDING RATION should be fed all Breeding Foxes starting Dec. 15th and until females have mated.

THIS DATE HAS ARRIVED. ORDER NOW FROM YOUR NEAREST DEALER OR DIRECT IF YOUR DEALER HASN'T A STOCK OF SUNGLO.

SUNGLO BREEDING RATION IS ONLY IN THE MEAL FORM. We recommend grinding your meats, and mixing in SUNGLO BREEDING RATION after moistening with hot water. Make the mass in balls. Use a wooden bucket for winter feeding. This system of feeding is as simple as feeding meat chunks, is cheaper food, and your fox is eating a balanced feed at every mouthful. No pans necessary.

SUNGLO BREEDING RATION has been used now four years with excellent results. Averages of 4 to 4 1/2 is not uncommon. Write for testimonials. WE HAVE JUST INCORPORATED SEVERAL NEW IDEAS, WHICH OUR ADVISER TESTED OUT THE PAST TWO YEARS, IN OUR 1934-35 BREEDING RATION.

INSURE YOURSELF LARGE LITTERS, AND A RANCH AVERAGE THAT WILL MAKE REAL MONEY FOR YOU BY STARTING NOW TO FEED SUNGLO BREEDING RATION.

10 Cents An Hour Is Average Wage Paid Employes.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—Sixty-five women work in home-canning plants in the Belleville and Windsor districts of Ontario for an average wage of 10 cents an hour, the Royal Commission on mass buying learned today from H. M. Coates, Toronto auditor. They form part of a new system, in tomato canning, introduced last year in Ontario by King and Rankin, Ltd., of Belleville.

The future of the Canadian canning industry lies in home production, William Rankin, one of the partners of the firm, advised the commission. His company places canning machinery on the farms, buying the processed goods from the growers who supply all labor. Farmers last year were paid 40 cents a case for two dozen cans of tomatoes which was 25 cents a bushel for the raw vegetables, the prevailing price and 15 cents for processing labor.

From an examination of pay-sheets written by the farmers, Coates found the average wage paid in the individual, home canning plants was 10.31 cents an hour. Out of a total of 113 workers, 65 of whom were men were paid 10 cents an hour.

"That is about the lowest wage we have heard in any industry," exclaimed Norman Sommerville, commission counsel.

Sam Factor, Toronto West Centre interjected that there was an instance of farmers exploiting labor.

J. L. Tisley, Lib. Hants-Kings, disagreed. "It is merely an indication of the very low wages that apply all over Canada."

"That is right," agreed Alex Edwards, Cons. South Water-loo, adding he did not believe there could be any interference with a farmer processing his own produce.

The King and Rankin firm maintain warehouses at Belleville and Riverside to label the cans processed on the farms. The auditor found a man, 40-years old, paid 10 and 12 1/2 cents an hour and a 17-year-old boy, 15 cents.

"They are not setting a very good example to the farmers," commented Sam Factor.

King and Rankin, Ltd., averaged $1.54 as the selling price of the tomatoes purchased from the farmers for 40 cents and had a small net loss on the year. Evidence indicated that the 40 cents paid the farmer was made up of 25 cents a bushel for the tomatoes plus 15 cents for canning operations.

When the auditor finished his report, Rankin took the stand and said with an argument with P. R. McIntosh, an official of Associated Quality Canners Ltd. of Toronto. Rankin was manager of the Belleville plant of Associated Canners for four years and charged farmers there were docked for quality while under his system there was none.

McIntosh took exception to the statement, drawing from Rankin the statement, "I ought to know. I ran your plant and did the docking."

"You might have docked but the company had no money," McIntosh insisted which prompted Rankin to say he docked on the instructions of his superintendent.

Rankin said he had seen farmers docked from five to 12 per cent on tomatoes. He did not say it was unfair, adding "some farmers would bring in anything." Dockage was exaggerated at the end of a season, to discourage farmers from more picking.

"I cannot say," Norman Sommerville, Rankin said he was convinced the large canning companies sold tomatoes below cost because they "do not want the independent company to operate."

"If you cannot pay more to farmers?" Sam Factor asked.

"Because we cannot pay more than Canadian Canners Ltd., (the largest company in Canada). Rankin claimed Canadian Canners sell retail prices as well as prices to growers, the other canners sitting back until they moved.

Questioned by McIntosh again, Rankin said the machinery in the home canning plant was as extensive as in a commercial factory. The Associated Canners official insisted his company had as low primary costs as King and Rankin but were forced to add more because of capital charges.

GRAPHIC STORY

"The train broke away from the engine and then separated into two sections. This was because the engine was too heavy for the train, and the momentum carried the locomotive on. We could not have been going any faster than 10 or 15 miles an hour when we struck the rear of the standing train. We pushed it down the track and three coaches crumpled before us.

"We got out and helped with the rescue. We took the bodies from the top of the engine. The roof of the engine was lying on the upper left side of the boiler. The whistle was broken and the escaping steam made quite a noise. It was awful. We got to Hamilton the next morning after working all night."

Major Battle in The Chaco

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 28.—A major battle in which an estimated 80,000 Bolivian and Paraguayan soldiers were participating got under way today in the western edge of the Chaco wilderness, reports from the front said this afternoon.

The engagement, in which the Bolivian oil fields in the Tarija and Chuquisaca departments were reported to be at stake, was expected to be decisive in the long, bitter Chaco war.

Bolivian defenders were strongly entrenched on the hillsides, but they had, following their retreat westward after the fall of their major stronghold, Fort Ballavien, in November.

Paraguayan drives in the Carandaty, Capirenda and Pilcomayo sectors of the Chaco have been reported, the war ministry at La Paz claimed.

The Austrians attacked Bavarians with knives and chairs and shouted "down with Hitler!"

The Bavarians hurled beer glasses and used knives and chairs as they shouted "out with the Austrians, down with Austria!"

The restaurant was demolished as the police were unable to act. Street fights followed and 300 armed S. S. men were called from Dachau. The latter mastered the situation and arrested great numbers of participants.

Furth and Aibling, with a camp of 350 Austrian storm troopers and 350 Austrian refugees, are frequently the scenes of political riots.

Halifax Bond Salesman Arrested

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) KENTVILLE, N. S., Dec. 28.—Charged with conspiracy to defraud, Allan Dobson, Halifax bond salesman, was arrested in the Capital today and brought to Kentville by Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He was locked up in the County Jail to await preliminary hearing before Magistrate K. L. Poirer.

Rankin was arrested in an attempt to defraud two Kings County farmers in a sale of bonds. Convicted yesterday, MacNeil was sentenced to serve two years in penitentiary.

Montreal Shipping Most Reassuring

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—Definite indications of recovery marked the business transactions of the Port of Montreal during the 1934 season and the outlook for 1935 is "most reassuring," John Newman, President of the Board of Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, stated here today in a review of the past season's activities and a forecast of possibilities for the coming year.

While final figures for the year's commodity tonnage had not been completed yet, Mr. Newman predicted that total tonnage handled through the port during the past year would show a marked increase over that for several years back.

"The one feature of the harbor's work which was disappointing," he said, "was the export of grain which dropped by about 9,000,000 bushels from 1933. Approximately 12,000,000 bushels of the grain reported from foreign countries was received at the elevators and included Argentine corn, oats and flax, Indian flax, Latvian rye, Polish barley and rye, Russian rye and South African corn."

The commission tomorrow will examine the relationship between canning companies and can manufacturers.

Turkey Makes Final Debt Settlement

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, Dec. 28.—Turkey today finished paying off a debt to Great Britain which dated back to 1874 and the Balkan wars of that period.

She paid the last of a series of $5,000,000 instalments on loans made 60 years ago. British authorities expressed satisfaction with the promptitude and regularity of the Turkish payments.

Captain Of Freighter In Hospital

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) HALIFAX, Dec. 28.—For five sleepless days and nights, while the fate of his ship and 65 lives hung in the balance, Captain Georges De Gryse stuck by the bridge of the storm-battered Belgian freighter Emile Franquiel. Today the sturdy skipper went to hospital.

Doctors said his heavy cold had been brought on by exposure suffered as he directed his crew while the ship tossed in a furious Atlantic gale, twice rescued as menacing shoals threatened her safety.

Austrians And Bavarians Clash

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) FURTH, Germany, Dec. 28.—One person was killed and nine others seriously wounded in a clash here tonight between Austrian storm-troopers and native farmers of Bavaria, in which 500 took part.

Local police attempted ineffectively to halt the riots which originated in a cafe frequently visited by Austrian refugees and Austrian storm-troopers who are camped at nearby Aibling, which is 12 miles from the Austrian frontier.

The trouble began when a Bavarian girl declined to dance with Austrians.

"Twenty-six in all were wounded. The Austrians attacked Bavarians with knives and chairs and shouted "down with Hitler!"

The Bavarians hurled beer glasses and used knives and chairs as they shouted "out with the Austrians, down with Austria!"

The restaurant was demolished as the police were unable to act. Street fights followed and 300 armed S. S. men were called from Dachau. The latter mastered the situation and arrested great numbers of participants.

Sham Fight Took A More Serious Turn

KINGSTOWN, St. Vincent, B. W. I., Dec. 28.—(C. P. Cable)—It was advertised as a sham fight, a special attraction for the Christmas holidays but the participants, the villagers of Dauphin and Gomele let the war spirit get the better of them.

The mock battle all went well until some of the actors brandished old cavalry swords and army blunderbusses with a little too much enthusiasm. The attacked struck back in earnest. Sore heads, cuts and bruises resulted before the fray was called off. There were no fatalities.

Insurance Companies Lose Appeal

PARIS, Dec. 28.—The British, American, French and German insurance companies concerned were ordered today by the French court of appeals to pay the full 174,200,000 francs (about $11,497,200) insurance on the S. S. Atlantic which was destroyed by fire last year.

By the ruling, they lost their appeal from a decision of a commercial court which declared the vessel was a complete loss. Representatives of the companies announced that they planned to appeal again to a higher court.

Christmas At Provincial Sanatorium

"'Twas the night before Christmas" and the Sanatorium was the scene of great excitement. All were primping for the annual party and the youngsters, Doris, Polly and Linus, were not more thrilled than the older ones, for no one even pretends to be blasé at Christmas time. Immediately after supper the rush began and the nurses were kept busy moving beds up and down the corridors so that the reception room in all its Yuletide splendor might be at least seen by every patient, since some were not able to attend.

As the evening progressed and when all were assembled—"out on the lawn there arose such a clatter"—and who should appear but Santa himself, flanked by his able henchmen, Stewart Jones and Hughie Simpson. All were welcomed by Dr. Creelman who had been listening for them as anxiously as anyone.

Then began the real fun of the evening as Santa, in his usual hearty manner, and with the assistance of Miss Sterns, Miss Kemp and other staff, presented a real present and a new stocking which had been made and filled with fruit, nuts, and candy by Miss Sterns and her staff. Then Santa made rounds throughout the building, jollying each one in his own inimitable way, so no one might have that left-out feeling.

But all was not over for—the children were nestled all snug in their beds, while visions of sugar-plums danced through their heads—and these visions were certainly justified by the dinner of turkey and fiddin's which was served next day in real Christmas style, after a morning pleasantly spent listening in to the Empire Broadcast.

During the day hospital routine in the exception of afternoon rest hours, was suspended and visitors came and went, patient visited patient, and a general spirit of camaraderie pervaded the air.

An account of the festive would not be complete without mention of the entertainment given by a group of the Ladies' Glee Club, under the capable direction of Mrs. G. Elliott Full. These ladies visited the patients Saturday evening and rendered a program of carols, their soured the house to wish one and all a "Merry Christmas." Such thoughtfulness is always appreciated.

The patients extended sincere thanks to the Sanatorium staff for the time and effort spent in making the holidays so pleasant. The Sanatorium staff and patients extend sincere thanks to the following friends of the institution who remembered them so substantially at the festive season:

Major Battle in The Chaco

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 28.—A major battle in which an estimated 80,000 Bolivian and Paraguayan soldiers were participating got under way today in the western edge of the Chaco wilderness, reports from the front said this afternoon.

The engagement, in which the Bolivian oil fields in the Tarija and Chuquisaca departments were reported to be at stake, was expected to be decisive in the long, bitter Chaco war.

Bolivian defenders were strongly entrenched on the hillsides, but they had, following their retreat westward after the fall of their major stronghold, Fort Ballavien, in November.

Paraguayan drives in the Carandaty, Capirenda and Pilcomayo sectors of the Chaco have been reported, the war ministry at La Paz claimed.

The Austrians attacked Bavarians with knives and chairs and shouted "down with Hitler!"

The Bavarians hurled beer glasses and used knives and chairs as they shouted "out with the Austrians, down with Austria!"

The restaurant was demolished as the police were unable to act. Street fights followed and 300 armed S. S. men were called from Dachau. The latter mastered the situation and arrested great numbers of participants.

Furth and Aibling, with a camp of 350 Austrian storm troopers and 350 Austrian refugees, are frequently the scenes of political riots.

Halifax Bond Salesman Arrested

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) KENTVILLE, N. S., Dec. 28.—Charged with conspiracy to defraud, Allan Dobson, Halifax bond salesman, was arrested in the Capital today and brought to Kentville by Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He was locked up in the County Jail to await preliminary hearing before Magistrate K. L. Poirer.

Rankin was arrested in an attempt to defraud two Kings County farmers in a sale of bonds. Convicted yesterday, MacNeil was sentenced to serve two years in penitentiary.

Montreal Shipping Most Reassuring

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—Definite indications of recovery marked the business transactions of the Port of Montreal during the 1934 season and the outlook for 1935 is "most reassuring," John Newman, President of the Board of Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, stated here today in a review of the past season's activities and a forecast of possibilities for the coming year.

While final figures for the year's commodity tonnage had not been completed yet, Mr. Newman predicted that total tonnage handled through the port during the past year would show a marked increase over that for several years back.

"The one feature of the harbor's work which was disappointing," he said, "was the export of grain which dropped by about 9,000,000 bushels from 1933. Approximately 12,000,000 bushels of the grain reported from foreign countries was received at the elevators and included Argentine corn, oats and flax, Indian flax, Latvian rye, Polish barley and rye, Russian rye and South African corn."

The commission tomorrow will examine the relationship between canning companies and can manufacturers.

Turkey Makes Final Debt Settlement

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, Dec. 28.—Turkey today finished paying off a debt to Great Britain which dated back to 1874 and the Balkan wars of that period.

She paid the last of a series of $5,000,000 instalments on loans made 60 years ago. British authorities expressed satisfaction with the promptitude and regularity of the Turkish payments.
