BALLPLAYERS PREFER TRAVEL BY RAILWAY

"Not once, to the best of my knowledge, has a ballplayer been hurt in a railroad accident. Moreover, they have never missed a scheduled game because of a railroad delay. We would be foolish, therefore, to say nothing of being ungrateful, if we were to switch from railroads to any other mode of transport."

PRIESTS DEFY Nazi Warning

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BERLIN, July 21—Priests in Freiburg Baden, today defied a stern warning against criticism from the pulpit of the Nazi drive to eradic "political Catholicism."

The Baden priests read a letter to their pupils from the episcopal office calling the Nazi drive against Catholic youth organizations a violation of the concordat with the Vatican.

Police, reported to have been stationed secretly in congregations throughout the nation ready to make arrests if the decree were not observed, took no immediate action against the priests, as far as could be learned here.

The authorities refrained from action, it was explained, because the decree issued last night by Franz Guenther, Minister of Justice, threatening prosecution for any priest violating the injunction of Wilhelm Hermann Goering head of the secret police, had not been published in Freiburg.

Reports from Catholic centres were that the priests performed their offices without molestation.

Today's Nazi press takes the Goering warning to Catholics as a "last warning" to Catholics and politics and that action against them would come later.

The latest element in the Catholic fight is the Nazi charge that the Catholics, not the Nazis, were first to violate the concordat with the Vatican.

Entered into writing their religious duties the Nazi charge states, the Catholic made attacks on the Hitler youth movement through their parish papers.

Today's provincial press contained reports of numerous additional measures taken against the Jews. While windows of the closed Jewish ice cream parlors were smashed in Berlin Hohenzollern Platz, Jewish stores in several other streets were plastered with provocative signs.

CUBA GETS 90 PER CENT SEED POTATOES CANADA

Farming in Cuba differs considerably from that in Canada. Crops in the main are characteristic of the tropics and oxen and mules are used, horses not being able to stand up under the heat. The slow, steady, continuous haul of the ox in contrast to the sharp, jerky pull of the horse also enables the hard-baked soil to be more readily broken up.

The single-furrow walking plough is the type most generally used. Cuba is predominantly a rice-growing country, the main industry being the production of sugar-cane. Tobacco, coffee, bananas, citrus fruits, corn, hay, potatoes and other fruits are also grown. Live-stock raising is also carried on, practically none of which is stable on a large scale.

Canada supplies 90 per cent of the seed potatoes imported, mainly from the Maritime Provinces, according to the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways. Cuban potatoes will not grow in the same soil hence all seed is imported.

EMBROIDERED MONGRAM

A favorite decoration on the ties ends as well as directly on the dress it itself. It is the embroidered monogram, or even simple letters, which are sometimes worn instead of a bow. The letter, may, perhaps, be one or two large capital letters, wearer's own initials, or those of her sports club, word in contrasting silk, sewn or planned on at the centre front of neck almost like a brooch. Some of the single cut-out letters are quite three inches in length.

The stock yards at Williams Lake, B.C. lie in the centre of a miniature empire, with the Cariboo country to the east and the Chilcotin country to the west. An idea of the size of this territory may be gauged from the fact that it takes three weeks from the more remote ranches, while the bulk of the cattle which are produced from the west of the Chilcotin river requires ten days to take the trip.

MORE THAN 100 ENTRIES RECEIVED

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) VICTORIA, July 21.—Lists of the 1935 Canadian Lawn Tennis Championships, scheduled to open at Victoria Tennis Club tomorrow, were closed Saturday with more than 100 entries, a good half of them United States Pacific Coast stars fresh from triumphs at the Western Canada Grass Courts Championships at Vancouver.

The Canadian title seekers include two ranking easterners, Walter Martin and Mrs. Gilbert Nunn of Toronto, and a former nationally ranked Dominion player, T. O. Coles of Victoria.

Martin will seek revenge for his defeat in the Canadian final two years ago at the hands of John Murio, San Francisco Hawaiian who, with Gene Smith and Worth Oswald of Berkeley, are the big guns in the American amateur ranks.

Representing the Maple Leaf with Martin and Ryall are Bud Rocking of Victoria, Jack Brown, Ron Sidaway and a score of other British Columbia mainland and Vancouver Island racket wielders.

Twelve Nuns on the Canadian side of the net in the women's section will be the Millen sisters, Jean and Susie of Vancouver, and a host of other British Columbia representatives opposed by a contingent of American feminine stars led by Mrs. Katherine Rose of Los Angeles.

Murray successfully eliminated his tennis tour, along with other top-ranking Dominion stars by defeating I. G. Collins in four sets Saturday, 8-6, 9-11, 6-4, 6-3. He also competed at Wimbledon and took part with the other Canadians in an international team match with Scotland.

An aggressive start put Murray on a par with the best. He was leading in the second set when Collins, with clever counterplay, got him out of position several times. Then Collins tired and Murray had little trouble capturing the series.

MURRAY CAPTURES TENNIS TITLE

Fear Rioting Will Be Renewed

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 21.—The rioting and terrorism that has been going on since July 12 continues over the week-end with sporadic shootings and burnings. The people in many districts fear renewed outbreaks of the Catholic-Protestant disorders which already have taken eight lives.

At midnight a number of men entered a house in Pittsburgh Street and shot Joseph Hamilton, wounding him in the thigh. John O'Hara and John Diamond were slightly wounded by the shots of an unknown gunman. There was general firing in the trouble-torn area throughout the night.

The eighth fatality occurred yesterday with the death of John McKay, shot in the first of the riots July 12. Firemen were kept busy checking maliciously started fires.

A letter from the Bishop of Down and Connor was read in all the Catholic churches of Ulster today appealing to the congregation to "crush all bitterness out of your hearts, give offence to no man, avoid all occasions of arousing animosity, assist in maintenance of order and do not impede the police or soldiers in the performance of their duty."

At Clones, in the Irish Free State, the Masonic Hall was destroyed and two other buildings damaged by incendiary fires. Police found six gasoline cans in the buildings.

LOOKING TO BOOM IN STEEL MAKING

SHEFFIELD, England, July 22.—(C.P.)—Steel-makers of the United Kingdom look for a growing demand for steel, from the shipyards. "Old ship scrapping is on a heavy scale, and shipping firms will be obliged to modernize their fleets," says Quality, the trade record of the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce and Manufacture. "The new 'economy' ships now offered are so efficient, and so cheap, that ship-owners must have them or go out of business. Naval shipbuilding, a very slack line in this country since the war, has now got to be revived, in view of the action of foreign nations."

"Our home market is healthy," Quality continues. "In spite of a 50 per cent fall in iron and steel exports to foreign countries, from the pre-war level... this country is making and converting nearly one-third more steel per month than it did in 1913, the record pre-war year."

This was due mainly to the substitution of steel for wood in railway carriages and in building construction. "To some extent it is due to our ports to the Dominions," says the paper.

Rests Case On Govt. Record And Platform

To the Electors of Prince Edward Island: On the eve of the election contest I have pleasure in reporting a steady swing in public opinion in favor of the Conservative administration which has endeavored to guide the destinies of this Province during four years of unparalleled difficulties and world depression.

The record of the Government, on every platform, has been defended vigorously against Opposition attacks which in the main concern irrelevant issues, raised for the purpose of distracting attention from the utter hopelessness of the Liberal platform, which holds out no prospects to the poor man, the laboring man, or the unemployed.

The Government members and supporters have answered the Liberal criticisms, but they have mainly been concerned with presenting the more important issues in relation to the present and future finances of this Province, and to the prospects, based on the Government's record, of obtaining further subsidy increase and further grants in aid of unemployment and relief projects.

Our opponents, on the other hand, have adopted a defeatist attitude toward this issue, and hold out only one promise of importance financially, namely, a balanced budget. They have refused to state how a budget, which they could not balance in so-called prosperous years, is to be balanced now in years of unprecedented world depression.

If sincere, their platform means heavily increased taxation or starved public services. Otherwise, it means a juggling of the public accounts, transferring items of ordinary account into capital account, as they did during their last years, and producing worthless paper surpluses on ordinary account while plunging the Province still further in debt.

The Conservative Government recognizes the problems facing this Province financially, and its record is the surest guarantee that its promises will be fulfilled.

From reports received from every constituency, I am assured that this appeal, directed to the intelligence of the electorate and not to prejudice or partisan feeling, is gaining tremendous ground and that the Government, on this issue, has nothing to fear and everything to gain when the votes are polled on Tuesday.

W. J. P. MacMILLAN, Premier.

KITTEN'S EYES OPEN IN 5 HOURS

LONDON, Ont., July 22.—Peter, the beautiful cat at Rumble's garage, 596 Hamilton Road, surprised herself and her owner by presenting the world with two pretty kittens at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

But at that, there were more surprises to come. At noon the kittens had their eyes open and the delighted Mr. Rumble immediately made them a paper ball to play with.

This fast work in any cat family, according to Inspector George Tustin of the Humane Society, who has advised the owner to keep the kittens away from the bright lights, so that their eyesight will not be affected.

Cotton Control Act Is Unconstitutional

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) SHERMAN, Tex., July 20.—The controversial bankhead Cotton Control Act, born of new deal, was declared unconstitutional today by Federal Judge Randolph Bryant.

Granting an injunction against its enforcement, Judge Bryant said: "I think the law is clearly and plainly unconstitutional."

His ruling came on a plea for injunction filed by D. C. Wallace, Gunter, Texas, Ginmer, who sued on behalf of himself and all other cotton ginners of Texas and the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association.

"Owing to the unusual and extraordinary circumstances present in this case, I think that an injunction should issue upon the giving of proper security," Judge Bryant said.

"It is only a very thinly disguised attempt to regulate the production of cotton under the pretext of the exercise of the taking power of the National Government. This power, if it exists at all, is not committed to the National Government under the terms of the constitution of the United States, but is expressly reserved to the States."

The case was set for hearing Sept. 11 on its merits. Judge Bryant set $100,000 as the amount of bond the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association must post before the injunction becomes effective.

Electors!

On Tuesday you have the opportunity of making your choice of Government. Remember the vital issue is: Shall we present our claims for further Dominion subsidies, or shall we consent to a "broadening out" policy of increased taxation? The MacMillan Government favours the former; the Lea opposition the latter.
