Institute concerts To aid war effort

The Women's Institutes of Middleton and Searletown, working in co-operation to aid the Red Cross and the Queen's Canadian Fund have presented two concerts within past week. The first was at Searletown hall while a repeat performance was given in Cape Traverse Hall Friday night. Both presentations were big successes.

The program consisted of three one-act plays, and in addition several specialties, including singing by Mr. J. B. Lewis, a monologue by Mrs. A. Roberts and music by the Searletown orchestra.

Two plays, "The Winning of Winnie" and "Little Darling" were put on by Middleton players while "Uncle Tom's Bride" was staged by a Searletown cast.

KING GEORGE

Greece's "lawful government" would continue to function.

The BBC heard in New York by NBC said King George will join monarchs of other occupied countries in Britain. The King was quoted as saying: "We are going to England as this is the only country able to continue the fight."

Parachutists landed within a short distance of the King several times during the trip. The Royal party repeatedly saw machine-gunning from the air but was not directly under Nazi fire.

The monarch, wearing a steel helmet, jumped into trenches often but was in the highest spirits throughout the journey, those who accompanied him said. He left at Moncton but with the undertaker Carter entered the railway shops at Moncton as a blacksmith where he was employed for forty four years and then retired.

Mr. Carter received the congratulations of a wide circle of friends on his attaining his 95th birthday and is still hale and hearty and fully conversative with current events, possessing a keen intellect and retentive memory. He can recall the days of wooden shipbuilding in Moncton when he was one of the master craftsmen who fashioned the sleek hulls of sailing ships launched from these yards which were known as "The Bend", around the Seven Seas. With the decline of shipbuilding, Moncton as a centre of industry and population began to go down but it is now being revived by a new lease of life, the first, the European and North American in 1860 which ran from Saint John, N. B. to Shediac, N. B. and a few years later the only railway line in the Maritimes operated with locomotives in 1839. The first steam railway in Canada was the Champlain and St. Lawrence in Quebec, sixteen miles in length, which commenced operation in 1836. The first telegraph company in Canada was formed in the same year as his birthday, 1846, and was known as the Toronto Hamilton Niagara and St. Catharines Electric Magnetic Telegraph Company, since the Crimean War, the Maritimes Telegraphs. There were no telephones or radios, nor were there any automobiles or airplanes, and the aged railway veteran therefore has been a spectator of the great changes that these inventions brought about. In the case of the airplane, he was keenly interested in the inauguration of passenger service of the Trans Canada Air Lines to Moncton at little over a year ago which has since been extended to Halifax, N. S. and Summerside and Charlottetown, P.E.I. He lived through and seen the entire victorious in the major wars, the Crimean, the Boer and the last great war, and he is now witnessing the second world war and hopes to live to see the successful conclusion of the conflict.

Output of Tanks, guns Is increased

LONDON, May 25—(Cable)—Output of tanks and guns from Britain's roaring war factories exceeded by 50 per cent in the first quarter of this year the figure reached in last year best quarter ending Dec. 31, it was authoritative.

The source described production as "rollicking" on despite air raid damage which, although severe, was not so severe as the Germans apparently expected.

The aim now is to obtain a steady production maximum, rather than a steady upward surge such as that which immediately followed Dunkerque.

This was followed by inspection and roll call which showed fourteen Scouts present. Instruction in second class work was then given by Rev. S. J. Davies, S. M., and John Rochford, A. S. M., followed by a staking game. The Scouts then gathered around the camp fire for singing and a short talk by the S. M. Meeting closed with Scout silence.

ENGLAND
By Charles Bancroft
If England died tomorrow She would face death without fear. Firm and steadfast in her purpose To those things she holds most dear. She has passed beyond the caring— Britons die that we may live. Now they ask for our assistance We so generously give.

ENGLAND
If England died tomorrow Surely this repays the debt. She has held in check the Nazi, Dauntless, undefeated yet. England's courage, England's valor, More than equals all her past. Deeds like this will save the Empire And her colonies hold fast.

ENGLAND
Where her little lanes have run, Once again some glorious spring-time, Peace to all her land will come. And the chalk-white cliffs of Dover, As the waves chant on the shore, Will know victorious England Dwells in tranquil peace once more.

Mr. Robert Carruthers, Carleton, was a recent visitor to Pleasant Valley.

Cape Traverse Young People's Union met Tuesday evening, May 20th in the church. The vice-president, David Murphy, conducted the meeting. The pastor, Rev. Ralph Barker read the scripture lesson from the book of Jonah, and offered prayer. A beautiful solo, My Heavenly Father, Watches Over Me, was sung by Mary Muttart. Rev. Claire Wright, returned missionary from Japan, was the guest speaker. He told of the conditions which led to the removal of almost all the missionaries from Japan owing to the controlled Japanese press the people of Japan did not realize the conditions and the significance of events in the war with China, and for some years there was very little change in their relations with the missionaries. The new Religious Bill of April, 1940, to control all religions, in the interest of the state, and the arrest, during that summer of the Salvation Army officers, made it apparent that the Missionaries would not be able to carry on their work effectively under the existing conditions. Many devoted Japanese Christians have grown up and are able to take charge of the Educational Institutions. Mr. Wright believes that the Christian Church in Japan will continue through this severe testing to a fuller and surer life. The sincere thanks of the Young People for his splendid address were conveyed to Mr. Wright. The meeting closed with the hymn, Jesus Shall Reign, and the Benediction.

The "Happy Gang" Junior Red Cross of Carleton held their regular meeting in the school on Monday afternoon, with Mrs. E. Bell presiding. Mildred Louisa Bell read the minutes of the previous meeting. WHY "DOSE" CONSTIPATION?

There's a "Better Way" Than Harsh Purgatives!

LONDON, Canada: "Dosing" constipation brings only temporary relief, at best. If you are the common type, due to lack of the right kind of "bulk" in the diet, try correcting it instead. Eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day!

This crisp, delicious cereal (it's good in muffins, too) supplies the proper "bulk" to help keep your regular... naturally. But it must be remembered ALL-BRAN doesn't work like harsh purgatives. It takes time. Eat ALL-BRAN every morning, drink plenty of water, and see if you don't look and feel worlds better! At your grocer's, in two convenient sizes. Or in individual serving packages at restaurants. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

After her marriage to F. W. Strong, founder of the firm of F. W. Strong & Co. Ltd., she resided in Summerside, taking an active interest in all good and charitable works. She was a gentle lady and greatly beloved by all who had the pleasure of her friendship and hospitality. Mrs. Strong was a member of Trinity United Church, and one of chartered members of the Women's Mission Society in Summerside and perhaps the oldest member.

Up to two years ago, when she became ill, she had seldom missed a missionary meeting. For many years Mrs. Strong was a faithful teacher in the Sunday School. Her husband predeceased her some years ago. There are left to cherish the memory of a devoted mother, William F. and Millicent, of F. W. Strong Co. Ltd., Ethel at home, Colin in Pictou, N.S., Major of the head office, Bank of Nova Scotia, Toronto and Harold, Manager of a Branch of the Royal Bank in Montreal; also four grandchildren: Joyce Strong, Toronto, and Jayne, Palmer, and Patricia Strong in Montreal, to all of whom the Guardian extends sincere sympathy.

that the withdrawal from Greece and the fighting in Crete "are part of one plan."

"I hope that we have reached the last stage and will hold out in view of the nature of the fighting in the island and the Germans' difficulty in obtaining reinforcements for the troops they succeeded in landing," he said.

The Germans dumped explosives on Crete, Retimo and Candia from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. on May 21. The total weight of bombs comparable to the Nazi destruction of large sections of Rotterdam last May, British sources said.

They said casualties were light in the three cities because of Crete's deep cave shelters and the removal of many civilians before the bombardments.

The defenders of Crete—made up of British, Greek, Australian, New Zealand soldiers and Cretan civilians—were vastly outnumbered by the re-entrance of British fighter and bomber planes into the fray.

The R. A. F. withdrew temporarily because of the lack of adequate landing facilities in Crete but went back into the fight Friday and promptly destroyed 14 German planes.

Bombing poured explosives on the German toe-hold on Malemt airport, where the hottest fighting of the whole disorganized island battle is being waged.

While there are no official information as to the type of British planes operating over Crete, informed sources hinted they might be Blenheim Mk. IV's.

But as bombers with forward firing gun and another in a retractable turret, the Blenheim could be changed to a fighter by increasing the armament.

Four
