NEW EXTENSION TO A RAPIDLY GROWING BUSINESS IN SUMMERSIDE, Mr. G. R. MacQuarrie, one of Summerside's enterprising fur merchants has recently opened up new offices on Summer Street adjoining his present office headquarters to take care of his extensive silver fox and fur business. These new offices have been very tastefully decorated and supplied with modern fixtures of Douglas fir; the second floor of the building has also been greatly altered and improved, in which is installed a modern cleaning plant and ample quarters for the storage of furs; the work has been in charge of Mr. H. M. Downing, contractor, and altogether presents a very attractive appearance. The offices will be in charge of Mr. Reagh Tinney, lately of The Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association, who will pay special attention to those customers wishing to dispose of their furs on a consignment basis. For some years past, Mr. MacQuarrie has given accommodation here to some of the largest wholesale fur buyers in the world; with the additional space acquired, and with the addition of Mr. Tinney to his staff, who has had a great deal of experience in this particular line, he should be in an excellent position to give greater and better service to both fox-rancher and wholesaler. In these new premises, furs will be received on consignment upon which the seller may place his reserved price, and liberal advances will in all cases be given, if required. We bespeak continued success for this new venture. S.

IN MEMORIAM—It is with feeling of regret we chronicle the death of Eileen Murphy, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy of Georgetown at the early age of 7 years and six months. All that medical skill and kind nursing was done to relieve her of her suffering, but God willed otherwise. Although called away in the Prime of life Eileen will long be remembered by her many friends. She leaves to mourn a sorrowing father and mother, also two brothers and one sister. She was attended regularly by her pastor, Rev. O. Kiggins. The esteem in which she was held was
