AUSTRALIAN PLAN FOR NAVAL DEFENCE

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The scheme of naval defence agreed to by the Australian representatives and the admiralty, is described as completely satisfactory to Australian national sentiment. The Australian fleet does not pass automatically under the control of the admiralty during the war, but will be placed at its disposal, if, when the necessity arises, it is recognized in war time that the navy must be under a central control. Ample provision will be made for the interchange of officers, tho for some time the imperial navy must supply officers and men. No Dreadnoughts will be given, the money being spent on cruisers. The dispatch sent through American agencies, and published broadcast throughout Canada, and referred to in today's Times, in a special dispatch from Ottawa, as representing Canada and Australia as combined for the use of local fleets in the Pacific in order to "meet the Japanese peril," causes the Canadian delegates to the imperial defence conference to wonder where the authority for such "josh" comes from. The Canadian Associated press, has the highest authority for stating that the story is "absolutely a fake." Japan has not been mentioned or discussed in any way by the imperial defence conference.

PROVINCIALIST WINS HIGH HONORS IN ART

The many friends of Angus A. Bishop are much pleased to learn from the Boston papers of his great success at the Photographers Convention recently held in that city. Mr. Bishop captured the gold medal in the Grand Portrait contest. This class is open to photographers of the world, and it is considered a high honor to win this prize as the judges are great experts and the prize is withheld if there is no picture that they consider worthy of the prize. Mr. Bishop also won first prize in the Portrait class open to the Photographers of New England States. In this class each contestant must submit three pictures and all must be approved of by the judges. In this class he won first last year. In the Genre class Mr. Bishop won second prize also. The judges were greatly astonished that these prizes had to go to the same man, and it would also be expected that these prizes would go to some of the great centers of art. Mr. Bishop is located in Newport, Vermont, and it is a son of William Bishop of French Fort and a brother of George Bishop of Charlottetown, formerly of Murray Harbor. The Guardian heartily joins with his many friends in congratulating him. In this brilliant art Mr. Bishop added another to the list of successful Islanders a broad.

200,000 NEGROES FOR FRENCH ARMY

LONDON, Aug. 17.—Col. Mangin, of the French army is promoting a scheme which, if adopted by the French Government, will give France a negro army of two hundred thousand, and well trained and disciplined men. The idea is to extend conscription to French West Africa and the Sudan. France has already eighteen thousand negro soldiers, whose bravery has never been questioned. It is also proposed to raise an army of one hundred thousand Arabs, but as there might be danger in leaving so large a force of Arabs in garrison in Algiers, twenty thousand of them would be garrisoned in France and their place in Algiers would be taken by thirty thousand black soldiers from the Sudan.
