HANTS COUNTY MAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

WINDSOR, October 14.—A very distressing accident occurred today on the road between Patterson and Northfield, Hants county, by which Hennigar Miller, of Northfield, aged sixty-five, met instant death. While driving to his home with his son a loaded gun, which was standing between them in the carriage, was accidentally discharged by Mr. Miller, who was shot through the heart. He sprang from the carriage, crying: "I am shot" and dropped dead. He leaves a widow, two daughters and seven sons. Rev. G. R. Martell, of Windsor, will assist Rev. Mr. Cook at the funeral service, which is to be held on Saturday at one o'clock. Mr. Miller was for many years a faithful helper of Mr. Martell in his former charge.

COMMISSIONER OFF TO THE FIRE ZONE.

OTTAWA, October 14.—The commission on conservation of natural resources has sent a special officer, John Thompson, to Rainy River district to investigate and report upon the recent forest fires in that district. He will determine the source of the fires and the area affected, the amount of property destroyed, and the best methods of guarding against such disasters in the future. W. D. Scott, superintendent of immigration, received a report today from his deputy at Winnipeg, which indicates that comparatively little damage and no loss of life was sustained on this side of the border. The principal loss on the Canadian side was the destruction of the Rat Portage company's mills and limits.

WAS UP AGAINST A HARD COMBINATION

But Dodd's Kidney Pills Vanquished Them All.

Sundridge man suffering from Gravel, Diabetes and Dropsy finds an easy and complete cure.

Sundridge, Ont., Oct. 17. (Special.)—Gravel, Diabetes and Dropsy are a terrible combination for one man to have. It means that his life is in the gravest danger, unless like George Vanhooser, a well-known resident of this place he finds the simple and natural cure. Here is the story. Mr. Vanhooser tells, and all his neighbors know every word of it is true: "I had pains in my back and across the loins. My stomach would swell, I was constipated and I had sharp cutting pains in my bladder, which made me sure that I was suffering from the terrible Gravel. The doctor attended me, but I kept getting worse every day. "Others had told me of the great good Dodd's Kidney Pills had done them and I determined to try them. Six boxes made a new man of me." Gravel, Dropsy and Diabetes are all either Kidney Diseases or are caused by diseased Kidneys. The easy and natural way to cure them is to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They never fail to cure any form of Kidney Disease.

HER FEELINGS.

The vicar visited a parishioner, a widow seventy-five years of age, who had ten children, all of whom, except one daughter had married and left her.

Now, this daughter was also about to be married. The old lady would be left quite alone, and the clergyman endeavored to sympathize with her. "Well, Mrs. Higgins," he said, "you must feel lonely now, after having so large a family?" "Yes, sir," she said, "I do feel it lonesome. I've brought up a large family, and here I am living alone. An' I misses 'em, as I wants 'em; but I misses 'em more than I wants 'em."

WINTER FEEDING OF EWES.

To the practical sheepman there is no more important or vital phase of flock management than the proper feeding of the breeding ewes during the winter. If the rations are scanty and insufficient during pregnancy, the young lambs in embryo must be grown at the expense of the tissue and vitality of the ewe. On the other hand, if feeding is over-abundant and too generous use is made of rich, starchy feeds like corn, especially when exercise is limited, the effects are even more pronounced. In the first instance the ewe is lacking sufficient vitality to secrete a normal milk flow for the lambs' support after birth; while in the latter, weak lambs and difficulty in lambing may be expected. In either case, when the rations fail to satisfy the demands of the ewe in kind or amount so that health and vigor are not maintained, the usefulness of the flock as a source of market lambs or breeding stock, is vitally affected and its future value diminished. False economy in the selection of the ration on the one hand and a useless waste of feed on the other are equally harmful and out of harmony with the most successful experience.

There is probably no one element in the winter ration of the breeding ewe of more importance than succulence. Without succulence it is impossible to secure or maintain the freshness, vigor and health characteristic of a flock properly fed upon rations containing succulence in some desirable form. The wonderful thrift and breeding capacity of the motherland flocks are, in large part, due to the fact that roots constitute the basis of the daily ration; but scarcity of labor, the absence of sufficient moisture, and a high summer temperature make root production as a regular part of the system of cropping in this country a much more difficult undertaking, and, therefore, attention has been directed by the experiment stations and farmers to other possible sources of green or succulent material for winter feeding. As a result of this corn silage is beginning to be looked upon with favor by sheep owners.

In the minds of many, however, corn silage is not considered altogether safe for pregnant ewes and young lambs. Many hold to this conviction as a result of costly experience, and are positive in declaring all silage unfit for sheep; others, on the contrary, are emphatic in declaring its methods. Not a few of these latter, however, have suffered losses during their experience, and assign it to feeding the silage when in a frozen, moldy, or extremely acid condition.

Sir:

If the "nappy-go-lucky-slap-it-on-a-press-and-let-'er-go" kind of advertising you are using is doing you some good doesn't it seem reasonable to suppose that "something different" — bright, convincing, thought-out and mailed regularly "direct" to your list will prove of much greater value (This is intended only for the man who feels the bullet strike him).
