Russian Woman Has Poor Opinion Of Soviets

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—Mrs. Oksana S. Kasenkina said today she would never return to Russia. She said she was casting her lot forever with the United States.

The 33-year-old Russian school teacher, who leaped from a Russian consulate window to international fame 99 days ago, spoke to reporters before leaving Roosevelt Hospital where she has been recovering from multiple injuries. She told them, at a closely-guarded press conference, she felt "very, very good" and never would consider returning to her homeland.

"I have every intention of staying forever in the United States," Mrs. Kasenkina said.

"The throngs outside the consulate at the time I committed my act and the expressions of multitudes of Americans since I jumped have been very encouraging."

Here were some of the reasons she gave for her decision:

"American police are different from the Soviet police. American police protect you; Soviet police destroy human life."

Communism is not working in Russia and "the proof of that is the many, many persons escaping from Russia by the hundreds."

"The freedom of speech and press, and the complete freedom of the individual which she enjoys in the United States."

The opportunity "to serve the Russian people by explaining to Americans the hardships the Russian people suffer under Soviet dictatorship."

The conference was guarded by two police officers, 10 patrolmen and 10 detectives who carefully checked credentials of all the reporters and photographers present.

New Dominion In Caribbean

By JAMES MCCOOK
LONDON, Nov. 20—(CP)—Slowly, cautiously, progress is being made towards a British West Indies federation and the creation of a new Dominion in the Caribbean.

Political federation of the sunlit isles and rich Savannah plains may take as long to develop as confederation in Canada but colonial office officials said substantial progress has been made in a year.

Planners take account of the local pride and interests of 16 mainland or island territories where the benefits of federation have to be explained and approval gained.

First vital steps were taken a year ago when 22 delegates representing 3,000,000 West Indies people met at Montego Bay, Jamaica, to consider closer association. They did not suggest immediate action to gain political federation but they did approve common examination of projects like a customs union and economic development.

"The project is that there eventually will be a new dominion in this area but no one can suggest when it will be established," an official said.

"An immense amount of work has to be done in discovering first, how the benefits of closer association can be shown by co-operation under the existing system, and then, as a further step, bringing co-operation in public services into co-operation in the political field."

These recent developments were cited by officials here:

1. Maj.-Gen. Sir Hubert Rance has been appointed chairman of the standing closer-association committee and work on various studies has begun. Sir Maurice Holmes, an expert on civil service organization has gone to the West Indies from London to examine the possibility of a common civil service for the area.

2. A committee of Jamaicans, headed by Sir Norman Strathle, the island's treasurer, is to consider proposals for standardizing West Indies' currency. Present differences complicate co-operation in economic affairs.

3. The Evans commission report on West Indian resettlement, published in November, was said by officials to have helped demonstrate the inter-dependence of West Indian communities. A leading recommendation is that 100,000 people from overcrowded islands like Barbados be eventually moved to British Guiana and British Honduras, where Savannah country, suitable for cattle-raising, and other natural resources await labor to develop them.

HOOPESTON, Ill., Nov. 18—(AP)—A representative of a parking meter company visited Hoopston to see how the meters are working out. He found both the meters and the police in good working order. Red Disarmament Demands Rejected

PARIS, Nov. 19—(AP)—The United Nations Assembly tonight decisively defeated Russia's demands for a one-third reduction within a year in the armed forces of the five great powers and for the immediate banning of the atom bomb.

Instead, the Assembly adopted a Western resolution calling for further study by the Conventional Arms Commission of steps which would lead toward eventual arms reduction.

by Britain and the United States, now includes representatives of Netherlands and France. The Commission encourages co-operation for mutual advantage of territories under control of these countries. If this co-operation is as beneficial as hoped, it will help convince British West Indies territories they can achieve more in united action than singly.

IRISHTOWN W. I.

Mrs. F. R. Nauss was guest speaker on Tuesday evening, Nov. 16th, when members of Long River Women's Institute were entertained by Irishtown W.I. at the home of Mrs. Ellis Proffit.

The speaker was introduced by the president, Mrs. Ernest W. Johnstone, and gave a report on a recently attended conference of the Home and School Association held at Moncton. "The Home and School Association," she said, "is a double first cousin to the Women's Institute," in its aims and activities. She spoke of the comprehensive way in which all problems were discussed at the conference, even problems of race and religion, which are so often avoided, and yet, nobody's feelings were hurt.

Mrs. Nauss, whose keen sense of observation is coupled with a charming personality, and the gift of making her audience see with her the subject of her talk, concluded her remarks with a detailed account of the regional high school at Port Elgin. This institution is a "far cry" from the old one-room country schools, and merits a visit from any one interested in the welfare of children. Its appointments include, besides up-to-date class rooms, a cafeteria, rest rooms, a domestic science kitchen, equipped with all kinds of electric gadgets, and showers, for the convenience of children living in the country, were seen in the building. The keen interest of Institute members in this subject was evident in the many questions asked, and answered by the speaker, at the close of her talk. A vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. Harold MacLeod, seconded by Mrs. Leigh Paynter, and presented by the chairwoman.

Other features of the evening were a sing-song, with Mrs. Ernest Dunning at the organ and several stunts and contests. An attractive luncheon was served by the Irishtown ladies.

On behalf of Long River, Mrs. Allan A. Campbell thanked the hostesses and the Institute members. Mrs. Proffit and Mrs. Johnstone replied briefly.
