The teacher secured for this course is Mr. A. J. Irvine of the Sun Life Assurance Company. Further details of the course can be secured from the Y.M.C.A. Secretary.

SANTA CLAUS BUSY.—Hundreds of children yesterday afternoon thronged the store of Messrs. Beer and Weeks, Grafton Street and received from "Santa Claus" a free Christmas box in the shape of a toy or doll. The delight of the kiddies with their presents was evident from the smiling expression on their faces. Two police officers did duty in the doorway as "traffic cops" and were careful to see that none of the smaller children were hurt in the crush. After the distribution of toys "Santa Claus" appeared in the window around which the children continued to linger until tea time. In the evening the toy department of the store was visited by many children and grown-ups.

Where there is a persistent cough or general run-down condition, there Scott's Emulsion is a positive help.

Many Thrills in "The Sky Pilot"

One of the most gripping scenes ever enacted before the motion picture camera is the thrilling cattle stampede which furnished a sensational climax to "The Sky Pilot," shown at the Prince Edward Theatre yesterday.

"The Sky Pilot," adapted from Ralph Connor's story, was directed by King Vidor, the young director genius whose "Jack Knite" Mat was heralded as one of the best pictures of the past year. It is released by Associated First National Exhibitors, Inc., as a Catherine Curtis Production.

The cattle stampede takes place at a most critical time. The heroine is racing across the plains to warn the men attending a roundup of a plot to steal the cattle by means of an underground passage, when the terror-stricken cattle break loose and make a mad dash toward the approaching girl. Her horse throws her and the entire herd is stampeding toward her when the "sky pilot" takes a change in a thousand to save the girl.

The scenes showing the "sky pilot" doggedly standing over the helpless girl in his determination to make the cattle veer to the sides is indeed one of the most courageous bits of dramatic action played on the screen.

Of added interest is the fact that the characters appearing in "The Sky Pilot" actually comprise an all-star cast. Joan Bowers, who takes the part of the Pilot, has carried leading roles in a number of the biggest successes of the day. Callahan Markey, playing the leading feminine role, will be remembered as the little fish collagen in "Dinty" and David Butler has been starred for more than a year in various productions.

Francis Todd, who plays the part of the Sheriff, a quiet old character, Kathleen Kirkham, Donald MacDonald and James Gorrigan are all well known players who will be recalled with favor by movie fans.

This splendid feature will be repeated this afternoon and evening for the last time.
