

Address and Presentation.

On Christmas Eve, the scholars of Hampshire Sunday school waited upon Mr. Albert Tremere when Misses Charlotte Stewart and Ella Watts presented him with a very handsome bible and the following address, in behalf of the scholars:

DEAR TEACHER—We feel that we cannot permit our class to disperse and our Sunday school to close without thanking you for your valuable services as teacher. We feel that the hours past in our school under your instructions were a great benefit to us, and the good fruits gathered from your doing will influence us till the end of our days. In return we present you with this bible as a token of our love to you. May it be a sword in the hand of a good warrior. We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Mr. Albert Tremere was taken by surprise, tenderly replied and thanked the scholars for their very flattering address and the very handsome gift, hoping that the blessings of him who is the giver of all good and perfect gifts may rest upon each one of them, wishing all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. After partaking of the good things provided by Mr. Albert Tremere and singing and music they returned to their homes pleased with their evening's enjoyment.

He Walked The Floor

In Agony With Pains in the Back—Sleep Impossible—Medicine of no Avail—Until He got Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Patrick J. McLaughlan, Beauharnois, Que., states:—"I was troubled with Kidney Disease and Dyspepsia for 20 years and have been so bad that I could not sleep at nights on account of pains in the back, but would walk the floor all night and suffered terrible agony."

"I tried all sorts of medicines but got no relief until I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They made a new man of me, and the old troubles seem to be driven out of my system."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have an enormous sale and owe their popularity to the fact that they can be absolutely relied upon to cure all ailments of the kidneys, liver, and stomach. They are purely vegetable in composition, prompt and effective in action, and cure permanently. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates and Co, Toronto.

Geese Willickens's Items.

1.—Sweet Vale of Avoca, how calm could I rest. In the old oaken bucket that hangs in the well.

Well! Well! Well! 'Pon my soul, if I can think of another word of it! "Hang in the well"—well, hang it! Well, all's well that ends well and as this ends well, well done. I used to be an elocutionist once upon a time and now I cannot even remember these beautiful words of the poet Moore. I suppose though it is all right for the more one knows about Moore the more he wants to know. So as the great Moore is no more I will not moor my thoughts to him any more.

2.—quietly chewing a plug of tootie fruit, and enjoying the comfort of one of the elaborate parlor cars of the Belfast Murray Harbor Railway, who should enter the apartment car, as we passed Rona booking station but my old friend Funnicus Funnilyore. "Why I hardly knew you, Geese," was his first salute. "Your feet have grown entirely beyond my recollection. How do you feel, old boy?" "Oh," says I, "I feel spiritualistic."

"I see," says Funnicus, "I suppose you feel just medium. Well, Geese, this is the fastest train I ever travelled on. They may talk about the P. E. I. Railway but this Belfast Railway takes the cake with the current in it. On leaving St. John's this morning I asked my wife to stand on the out end of the platform and I'd put my head out the window and give her good-bye kisses. "And did you," says I. "Did I! I kissed a cow at Pownal" said Funnicus in disgust.

3.—They say a witch will sail in a sieve, but I believe the devil would not venture aboard the consciences of some people I heard speak at political meetings during the last campaign. But then you can never get a crab to walk straight.

4.—A young man down in Cardigan recently wrote his best girl that he would like to be in jail for stealing her.

5.—Funnicus reasons that it must have been a male dove that carried the olive leaf back to Noah's ark because a female couldn't keep her mouth shut long enough to carry it.

6.—"What's for sale here?" asked a hard-headed son of toil as he entered a Montague store. "Blockheads," said the storekeeper in a gruff voice. "Well," said the rustic, "there must be great demand for them I see there is only one left."

7.—Talk about second hand eggs; I met a commercial traveller a few days ago who claims to have seen a bald-headed egg wearing spectacles.

8.—A Peake's Station man claims to be so unlucky that if it were raining soup he would not have anything but a fork in his pocket.

9.—Bill Stump claims to be a god-father because he stood up for a lady in a Moun't Stewart street car the other day.

10.—The largest hearted man in Town is the man who got a fur jacket by a fluke and gave it to his wife as a Christmas box.

GEORGE WILLICKENS

CHRISTMAS TREE AT MOUNT HOPE.

—On Christmas Eve the young people of Mt. Hope gathered at Mt. Hope school to participate in the pastime of this festive season. The room had been previously decorated with festoons of evergreens, and appropriate mottoes.

On the platform awaiting adonment was fixed the favored tree—a specimen of "Nature's work by Art refined." By the help of willing hands it was soon loaded with the Xmas fruits, with the numerous candy bags, beautiful gifts, tinsel, pop-corn, and burning tapers. It was indeed a blaze of light and beauty and could not fail to please the artist eye. At the appointed hour the curtain was drawn and the chairman Mr. McSwain called the meeting to order. The following well rendered program was enthusiastically received by a full house:—

A Christmas Greeting Song—Maggie Gay, Minnie Robertson, Katie Arthur, Sarah J. McLeod.
Good-will and Peace—Annie L. McLeod (Hymn) "Bring them in"—Ethel, Pearl, Willie and Charles Robertson, Willie McSwain, Annie McLeod.

A Boy's Quarrel—Willie and Charles Robertson.
Christmas Bells—Minnie McPhee.

Santa Claus, Joke—(A finger play)—Jansie and Emily Robertson, Clifford Jones, Katie McDonald.
More About Jesus—Ethel, Pearl, Willie, and Chas. Robertson, Minnie McPhee, Willie McSwain, Annie McLeod.

A Dialogue—Maggie and Sarah J. McLeod, Minnie M. Robertson, Maggie Gay, Katie Arthur, Katie Nicholson.

A Ride With Santa—Willie McSwain.

The Last Charge—(Solo)—Dan McKay.

A Christmas Worry—Emily Robertson.

If You're Good—(What Santa Will Do)—Ethel and Pearl Robertson.

Christmas Candles—Katie Arthur, Minnie Robertson, Maggie Gay, Annie McLeod, Minnie McPhee, Ethel and Pearl Robertson.

A School Girl's Soliloquy—Maggie Gay.

A Hundred Years to Come—(Song)—Flora McKay, Mrs. J. Robertson, Sadie E. Burhoe.

Santa Claus And His Famous Dolls—Dan Burhoe, Minnie McPhee, Flora and Maggie Nicholson, Katie McSwain, Katie McDonald, Emily Robertson.

Mr. Dan McKay in Arctic region garments with bells impersonated the loved legendary Saint Nicholas in an able and entertaining manner. The numerous presents handed out by him testified to the generosity and good-will of the people of Mt. Hope. The decorating of the schoolroom and tree and preparing of the program was under the able leadership of our popular and painstaking teacher Miss B. A. Matheson.

One good evidence of Miss Matheson's popularity in this place was evinced by the unanimous vote of thanks tendered her on this occasion, to which she made a suitable reply in a few well chosen remarks, thanking the audience for the honor done her. After singing "God Save the Queen," the merry company dispersed, well pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

WHAT MAKES YOU COUGH

Did you ever wonder just what it is that makes you cough? In a general way it is understood to be an involuntary effort of nature to eject something from the breath pipe. As a matter of fact, merely a slight throat inflammation caused by a cold will cause a cough to start, and the more you cough, the more you want to cough. If you allay the inflammation in the throat your cough will stop.

Don't lull the sensitiveness of the throat with medicine containing a narcotic, but give it soothing and healing treatment.

This is difficult because the inflamed parts are in the way of the passage of food and drink. The true cough remedy is something that will protect the throat from the ill effect of catarrhal discharges and also from the irritation of swallowing food. Such a remedy is Adamson's Botanic Cough Balm, which for many years has been conquering the most obstinate coughs. It is a soothing compound prepared from barks and gums. Its beneficent effect is quickly felt and the work of healing promptly begun. If you once take Adamson's Balm for cough, you will never be satisfied without some of it at hand for any new cough. A trial size of the Balm can be secured of any druggist for 10 cents. The regular size is 25c. In asking for Balm be sure you get the genuine which has "F. W. Kinsman & Co." own in the bottle.
