ANOTHER GREAT DAY FOR PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION

Hosts of People Visited the Big Fair and Its Splendid Midway Attractions— Judging Begun in Many Classes, and Finished in Several of Them.

Yesterday was perfect weather for the exhibition, and as a result all through the day and far into the night there was to be seen a perfect stream of cars wending their way along Euston Street to the Big Fair.

And never was the exhibition more worth seeing. The display of livestock was magnificent—the best ever seen in the history of the province, and this goes for the dairy products too. Then there was also a lively showing of flowers, and in spite of the earliness of the season, fruit—early apples and plums being shown—and of roots and vegetables, including early squashes, tomatoes and cucumbers.

Judging was going on yesterday in the following general classes: light horses and heavy horses (completed); dairy cattle, beef cattle, swine (completed); fruit (completed); butter and cheese (completed); domestic handicrafts (completed); fisheries (completed); miscellaneous manufactures (completed); education and natural history (completed); art (completed); wood and cotton work (completed); grains and seeds (completed); vegetables and field roots.

The judges one and all express themselves as being very highly pleased with the splendid showing in the several departments.

Here are the opinions of some of them, as given to The Guardian.

Mr. J. U. Maher judging the dairy products, considers the exhibits, both of butter and cheese, to be higher standard this year than ever. There has been a great improvement in the last two years in both these products, so much so that it was a very difficult matter to judge them.

Much improvement has been shown particularly in manufacture and finish. Mr. Maher expressed himself as very highly pleased with the exhibits.

Mr. W. J. Gardhouse judging the Beef Cattle gives it as his opinion that there has been a very noticeable improvement in the quality in most instances being very good. There have been outstanding instances in most of the classes. He predicts a very bright future for those engaged in raising animals of the beef breed, as a sound foundation has been laid in the excellent stock now exhibited.

Mr. Black who is judging the Ayrshires said that the stock was of excellent grade, it being much better in every way than on his last visit, three years ago. He has very bright expectations of Ayrshires in this Province.

Mr. D. A. MacPhee, judging the Holsteins considered that there was a splendid line up of Holsteins, the few cows being the equal of anything he has ever seen except at the Royal Winter fair. There were five or

W. S. FRASER & CO. LTD

Another Prince Edward Island industry, which, not only by reason of this fact, but also because of the excellent quality of its products, deserves and is receiving the patronage of people of discrimination, is the W. S. Fraser & Co. Ltd., packers of home grown canned goods.

They have a most attractive display of their varied products in a booth situated at the west side of the centre block in the main building.

The stand is tastefully draped in Red, White and Blue crepe paper, and is so arranged as to display the attractively labelled canned products of this firm to the best possible advantage.

Among the products shown are blueberries, beans, chicken soup, golden wax beans, clams, blueberries, carrots, chicken lobster and pork and beans packed in various ways—particularly their famous Pork and Beans packed in home

Eight Fatalities In U. S. Tornado

(Canadian Press)
ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 21.—Death of two persons in a hospital today brought to eight the known fatalities in the tornado that swept two southern Minnesota counties and Northern Iowa points yesterday. Additional scores of injured were reported bringing the list to nearly 100, as farmers brought more victims to town for medical attention.

RENUNCIATION OF WAR TREATY

Will be Ratified at the Quai D'Orsay on Aug. 27.—Premier King Will Sign for Canada and Australia.

(Special to The Guardian)
PARIS, Aug. 21.—The British Empire will bring seven signatures to the renunciation of war treaty which will be ratified at the Quai D'Orsay on August 27, one week from today. Lord Cushendun will sign once for His Majesty as King of the United Kingdom and, second time as Emperor of India.

Premier W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada, now on his way to Paris aboard the Ile De France, in company with Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg of the United States, will sign for Canada and Australia, New Zealand and South Africa and the Irish Free State will also affix their signatures through their representatives.

There will be only one original which will be deposited in Washington. Signatories will get certified copies. The instrument upon which the diplomatic pen will be used is to be upon a large single sheet of thick paper with the French text on one side and the English on the other in parallel columns. Linguistic experts in the foreign office have been having an absorbing study in the exact rendering of the treaty into the two languages. The French text, it is understood, will be sent to Washington for approval there, as there have been some slight changes in it from the text submitted to the state department by the French embassy.

THE CENTRAL BEQUEDE FLOUR MILLS

This firm occupy a booth on the north side of the building towards the west side. The feature of their display is a very realistic reproduction of an old time watermill, equipped with an overshot wheel. This is shown in action.

The booth itself is trimmed artistically with Golden glow, Golden Rod and other flowers of the season. There is a display of packages of whole wheat flour and cereal; also of breads made from this flour.

The Central Bequede Flour Mills were formerly known as the Robert Wright Mills. They manufacture, in addition to the products mentioned above, Island white flour and ground oatmeal, also crushed feed. It may be noted that all their products are prepared by the roller process.

DE LAVAL SEPARATORS

The celebrated De Laval Cream separators are shown in a booth in the centre block on the north side. The exhibit is in charge of Mr. J. D. Offer.

As this is the fiftieth anniversary of the firm, they are this year turning out their separators with many added refinements. The series is called the "Golden Series" and in their stand three of these separators are on display.

They are very beautifully finished in gold enamel with black lining, and are a most attractive exhibit. As to the quality of the De Laval separators, suffice it to say that thousands of prizes and medals have been awarded these separators since they made their appearance fifty years ago. Moreover, butter made from De Laval separated cream has won first prize at every meeting of the National Buttermakers' Association with but one exception since their first meeting in 1892.

MISS SHOREY PRESENTS THE SCRUB LADY

Delightful Play Given Fine Presentation in the Prince Edward Theatre—Supporting Company Excellently Cast.

Last night in the Prince Edward Theatre another large audience greeted Miss Ethel May Shorey and her capable company of players in a gripping drama "The Scrub Lady". The plot holds one's interest from the beginning until the curtain comes down at the end of the fourth act. In it, a fast living artist, owing to a clause in his Uncle's will, marries his secret woman—a lady who is much too good for him—to obtain money. Later on he basely throws her out on the street. But, in the end her marriage to the man, Lendall Rathburn, is annulled through the good offices of Hunter Meredith, a reporter, whom she marries.

The part of the scrub lady, Derry, is taken splendidly by Miss Shorey, who does some very fine acting in the gripping climax which develops in the third act.

She is well supported by the rest of the company. Mr. Fred Campbell, Mr. Dowling and Miss Aitkens in particular playing their parts in a most finished manner.

CAST

Hunter Meredith, a young reporter—Fred S. Campbell.
Lendall Rathburn, an artist—Frank H. Dowling.
Hal Davison, a man about town—Harry W. Marble.
Officer Phelan, a policeman—Edward L. Stone.
Mrs. Rathburn, Lendall's mother—Hazel E. Roswell.
Gilda Wentworth, a society girl—Aileen A. Watkins.
Lilla, one of the girls—Miss Roswell.
Derry, a bit of driftwood—Ethel May Shorey.

SCENES

ACT I.—Rathburn's Studio. Time, 11 o'clock, evening.
ACT II.—Same as Act I. A week later, evening.
ACT III.—The same. One year later.
ACT IV.—The same. Several months later.

Lomski is Victor

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Back in the form that made him a terror among the light heavyweights a few months ago, Leo Lomski, of Aberdeen, Washington, knocked out Georges Smitz of Newark, N. J., in the fourth round of 10 round match at Dexter Park tonight. Lomski weighed 170 1-2 pounds; Smitz 164 1-2.

The Pacific coast slugger went after Smitz at the bell and battered the New York fighter from pillar to post until the final round. Lomski, the chin, after 50 seconds of fighting in the fourth round. In the third, just before the bell, Lomski floored Smitz for a count of nine and the Newark boy could offer but little defence when the next, and as it turned out, the final round began. Several weeks ago Lomski had great difficulty scoring a decision victory over the man who gave him no trouble at all tonight.

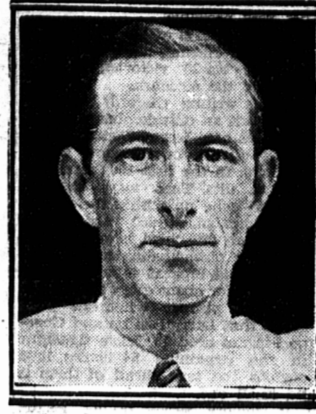

Dunning To Sail For Europe

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals left the capital this afternoon for Quebec to sail on the Empress of Australia tomorrow for Europe. With Premier King, Mr. Dunning will attend the meeting of the League of Nations opening at Geneva next month.

fewer of the elder generation of London's stage celebrities who did not know William Purkiss. Always well-groomed, often seen in a tall hat, never without kid gloves, sporting a gay flower in his buttonhole whatever the seasons or occasion, he was the friend of titled people, the chum of under-graduates on Boat Race nights and the confident of opera stars and revue artists.

William Purkiss was born in Hildersham, Cambridgeshire, and came to London as a stable lad at the age of nine. He was known by the curious nickname of "Stink in the Pie," to his fellow-cabbies. The accident reduces the number of London's hansom cabs to ten.

COLLECTION HAS HISTORIC VALUE

One of the most valuable collections of the first important political novels, made by William Kirby, author of the first important political novel, "The Chief D'Or" or "The Golden Dog," as it is better known, is in danger of being lost to Canada, unless the government or some wealthy Canadian takes it over. The layout ABOVE shows a David Livingstone letter included in the collection, and a photograph of William Kirby, grandson of the author, who is aiding in arranging and cataloging the collection.

My dear Sir,
I have been subjected to so much loss by the employment of slaves in caravans sent by the ill consul about of Mr. Stanley meets another party of the sort I beg him to turn them back but use his discretion in the whole matter.

IMMIGRATION CONFERENCE IS SUCCESS

Lord Lovat and Federal Officials End Sessions at Ottawa —Official State- ment Declares Satis- fying Under- standing Has Been Reached in Every Case.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—When the immigration conference between Lord Lovat, head of the Empire Settlement Board, and federal immigration leaders concluded yesterday afternoon, an official statement was issued, saying "it is confidently expected that the result of these negotiations will be a steady increase in the flow of suitable British migrants to Canada."

Lord Lovat left for Toronto after a five-day stay in the capital. Assisted by G. F. Plant, Secretary of the Overseas Settlement Committee and F. Skevington, representing the British Treasury, he had been in conference three full days with Hon. Robert Porke, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, W. J. Egan, Deputy Minister and other officials of the department.

The conference discussed various matters arising out of British migration to and to settlement in the Dominion with particular reference to the measures to be adopted both in Canada and in Great Britain to give effect to the recommendations of the select standing committee of the House of Commons on Agriculture and Colonization.

"All these recommendations and other proposals made by Lord Lovat have been fully and frankly discussed with a thorough appreciation of the difficulties on both sides and in every case a satisfactory understanding has been arrived at," the statement said.

Special stress was laid upon the desirability of co-operation of the provincial governments in all matters of migration and settlement in which they are concerned. In continuing his tour to the coast, Lord Lovat will confer with the various provincial governments and other organizations interested regarding the possibility of arranging schemes under the Empire Settlement Act.

The detailed arrangements consequent upon any decisions which may be arrived at during the course of Lord Lovat's tour will be worked out in consultation between the various provincial governments, the Department of Immigration and Colonization at Ottawa and overseas settlement department in London.
