Remnant Values Seem Better Every day--New Lines Added

There's hundreds of the choicest ends of cottons, ginghams, prints silks, laces, embroidery and veiling. Dozens of other equally attractive values make this sale a mammoth merchandising event. Of course you know we have only been in the dry goods business for about two years--our stock is fresh and clean--no old stock or undesirables. It's that fact that's strongest in the minds of the buying public.

Manufacturer's Output of Veiling

This showing of veiling is particularly good value from the fact that it is new stock, a line that we purchased from a manufacturer at a bargain. In the first place we got it right, so you can readily understand how especially attractive this line should prove to you. They are all conspicuously placed on counters, take your choice at

One Third Off

Remnant Bargains

The fact of their being such tremendous heaps of remnants helps the shopper of the day. Some of the very best values were at the bottom and are daily coming to the top as the throngs go delving through the pyramids of bargains. We are adding additional lines daily to make this sale one not soon to be forgotten. A careful perusal of this ad and further examination of the values at this store will prove this to be an event of importance.

Fur Values

This is the first big discount we have offered in furs this season, so you can count on them being in good condition. The assortment includes throws, mufflers and ruffs, from the small inexpensive piece to the great luxurious lines at one third off.

Curtain Values

There's only a few pairs left of those half price curtains but we added some even more desirable values in elegant new Swiss and Nottingham lace curtains that should prove even more attractive. To make more room you can have your choice of the best at 20 p.c. discount.

THE LATE MRS PERCY MUTCH.

It is with profound regret that we have to chronicle the death of Mrs Percy Mutch, which occurred at her home in Lot 48 on Saturday 29th ult. Mrs Mutch was born at N. Rustico, where her father, William Toombs still lives, 36 years ago. In 1899 she married Percy Mutch and settled in the old homestead in Lot 48. About four years ago she became ill and underwent a serious operation in the Charlottetown hospital, a second operation becoming necessary not long afterwards. For a time she seemed to rally and her friends entertained hopes of her eventual recovery. Indeed, both she and they clung to such hopes almost to the end, and it was only comparatively recently that they understood that she could not possibly get well. During her long and painful illness she bore her sufferings bravely and patiently, taking an interest in things--her home, her friends, her church, until within a few days of her death. Although the end was not unanticipated, the news of her death came as a great shock, not only to those who were dearest to her, but to a very wide circle of friends.

The funeral took place on Monday, Jan. 29th. The service was conducted in the house by her pastor, Rev. E. E. Styles, assisted by Rev. D. McLean, a long-time neighbor, and intimate friend of the family. Mr. Styles said that he knew of no more applicable passage from which to speak than St. Paul's words, "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." They covered the whole career of the departed one. She had lived a simple Christian life, keeping in constant communion with her God, and those who knew her intimately had no doubt that "our loss is her infinite gain." He had frequently visited her during the past few months and it is his visits that helped her they had been equally helpful to himself.

Mr. McLean spoke of his long and intimate acquaintance with the deceased, and when he visited her during her illness, her testimony was always one of resignation to the Divine Will and confidence in the Divine Love. He spoke feelingly to the mourners, especially to the children, encouraging them in the thought that their mother was now better off in that land where "God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain."

A few days before her death Mrs. Mutch selected the hymns for this service--"Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "Rock of Ages," "Abide with me," and "I heard the voice of Jesus say." This last she had requested her pastor to sing as a solo. She had also asked that six of her brothers would act as pall-bearers. They were Rev. Herbert Toombs, George, William, New London; and Wallace, Hammond and Lorenzo living at Rustico. The remaining brother Dr. Toombs of Mt Stewart, had to leave before the service closed to attend a serious case. Besides these seven brothers she leaves two sisters, Mrs. George McArthur, Mt Herbert, and Mrs. Lenzie, San Francisco. She also leaves three children, the oldest, Wendell, being 9 years, and Mildred and Elsie. She was interred in the Methodist burying ground at Mt Herbert. Mrs. Mutch will be greatly missed. Only those who were most closely acquainted with her knew the far-reaching influence issuing from her sick-room. In expressing our deep sympathy The Guardian is but voicing the universal feeling of the community.

THE NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE CO.,

"More than three quarters of a million dollars paid to policy holders in 1909. This is the proud record of the North American Life Assurance Company. People are realizing more keenly every day that the North American is conducted in the interests of the policy holder. They will realize, too, that although the net surplus was very largely increased last year, this was not done at the expense of those having policies maturing. Great caution is exercised in the investments of the North American. Security, as it should ever be, the first consideration. Economical management, so far as economical management pays, is a leading feature of the North American, but no 'penny wise and pound foolish' methods are tolerated. Thousands of policy holders throughout this province will be greatly interested in the annual report of the Company which appears in another column. Com.

"I would say that I do not know of a medicine that has stood the test of time like MINARD'S LINIMENT. It has been an unfailing remedy in our household ever since I can remember, and has outlived dozens of would-be competitors and imitators."
