SMOKER AT HOPE RIVER

A special meeting of the Hope River Farmers' Institute was held in the hall on Jan. 25th to celebrate by "a much enjoyed smoker" the 20th anniversary of the organization of this Institute. Speeches were in order, as well as the smokes, and most of the members took the floor in turn. The gist of the speeches were in review of the 20 years successful work of the Institute, all pointing to the many benefits of a cooperative society of this kind under the care of the Dept. of Agriculture from which is drawn yearly an ordinary grant of a number ship bus, also a special grant on a purchase of pure bred stock. Basis: Hope was expressed that the Dept. of Agriculture may soon see its way clear to increase both these grants to Farmer's Institutes. Other points stressed were the spirit of good fellowship that always prevailed amongst its members. United we stand, divided we fall, to be realized by all. Tributes of praise and respect were expressed in behalf of the very many charter members, of 20 years ago, who have since passed away. The smoke was very thick from cigars, cigarettes, and dozens when one and all expressed the hope that 20 years hence this Institute would still be going strong and that all might meet again to smoke the pipe of peace.

"I can't have you always calling for this account to be paid. Say what day suits you best."

"That will do. Call every Wednesday."

ISLANDER'S DEATH IN CALIFORNIA—The death occurred in San Diego, California, on January 2, of Silas Gamble, a native of St. Nicholas in this province. He was a son of the late William Gamble of that place, and when a mere lad came to Summerside and served his apprenticeship as a printer in the Pioneer and Journal offices subsequently removing to the states, and eventually settling in New York City, where he became an honored and distinguished member of the craft. Going to San Diego about twelve years ago from New York he served as a printer on the Evening Tribune for several years and later worked as a proof-reader. Ill health forced him to resign about four years ago. He is survived by his widow, Edith H. Gamble, of National City; six daughters in San Diego, a brother Gordon in Suffolk, Conn., and sisters. The late Mr. Gamble it will be recalled made a trip from California to P. E. Island a couple of summers ago and wrote a very interesting account of it in the Maple Leaf, of Oakland California. The late Mr. Gamble, who is a nephew of Mr. W. J. Muttart of Summerside, and well known on the Island, left a request that his body should be cremated and his ashes scattered over Sacramento Bay. The request was carried out by his family. The late Mr. Gamble suffered from creeping paralysis. He was a visitor to Summerside three years ago when he was the guest of his uncle, Mr. Muttart.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Callaghan, Ebbfleet, on the birth of a son born January second.

Mr. A. D. Merkel, Superintendent of the Canadian Press for the Maritime Provinces, paid a "flying visit" to the city yesterday. He came by mail plane from Moncton and enjoyed the experience immensely.

POLITICAL SITUATION IN B. COLUMBIA

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 28.—Drastic retrenchment will probably characterize the 1931 session of the British Columbia Legislature, which will meet early in February, with Thursday, 12th, generally believed as the likely date.

Evidence has accumulated during recent weeks to indicate that there will be more than the usual share of contentious issues before the Legislature this year, but overshadowing all other questions will be that of finance, and it is in this department that the House is expected to take the most drastic steps.

The Legislature will probably accept the guidance of Hon. J. W. Jones in framing its new financial policy, but there is bound to be much criticism and suggestions from the Opposition side of the House. This will be Mr. Jones' first session as Minister of Finance, but he has made a close study of the province's fiscal problems ever since he was elected a Conservative member from the South Okanagan riding fourteen years ago. When Premier S. F. Tolmie reorganized his cabinet a few months ago Mr. Jones was transferred from the Speakership to fill the post held since the 1928 election by Hon. W. C. Shelly, who found the pressure of his private interests too great to continue at the head of such a busy department as that of finance.

Ever since that Mr. Jones has been working long hours at his office here framing a financial policy whose chief features may be summed up in his recent statement.

IS Optimistic

"The worst of the depression is over and I am convinced that in the not distant future we will recover from it. But before we reach that time I am afraid we must take some unpleasant medicine. It does not require a specialist to prescribe the remedy for our present condition. That remedy is economy. It is imperative that we adopt a policy of Spartan economy, to cut out non-essentials and prepare ourselves for future borrowings."

No sweeping changes in taxation, upward or downward, are anticipated. Most of the reduction will be in capital expenditures and the government is not likely therefore to embark upon any new programme involving a heavy financial outlay. Road loans will be small if they are not entirely eliminated. Municipalities are not likely to receive additional relief and department expenses will be checked more closely than ever before since the war.

The fruit problems have been worrying the Legislature for several years and during the coming session they will be brought to a head by the presentation of a report of Sanford Evans, who was engaged by Premier Tolmie to make an investigation into irrigation and other economic questions affecting the orchard industry, which has recently fallen on lean years. There will also be a report from F. M. Black head of the committee directing fruit marketing. Mr. Black urges formation of a central selling organization—a sort of compulsory pool. The two reports may be at considerable variance and for that reason the Legislature will have a job on its hands to fix a policy that will meet with the desires of those who support the two plans.

After the meeting was duly opened the following sessional committees were appointed:

The report of the Grand scribe was read and showed very encouraging results for the past three months, with an increase of eighty-five members and one new division reconstituted.

Report of the Grand Worthy Patriarch for Quarter ending Dec. 31, 1931

Another year has passed. Another milestone in the cause of Temperance has now become history, and we have before us the New Year, 1931, with its unlimited possibilities, untouched fields of service, privileges which we have not yet availed ourselves of, tasks to which we did not set our hands in 1930, all are now before us as a gigantic field. To such a great and God-given challenge, what, as a Temperance organization and people, shall our answer be? Two ways present themselves. We either accept anew the challenge with all its discouragements, trials, sacrifices, etc., or we consider the task too hard and close the chapter. We either give up, and we prepare for further action, or we take a back seat, and place ourselves on the level of shirkers. We either accept the challenge claiming, as it will our time, talent, intelligence, or we place it beyond the call of our existence or thought. May this never be the case, but with each succeeding year, month, week, day, we see the cause of Temperance moving along as a swiftly flowing river. I say, without fear of successful contradiction, that this can be done, if we are willing to pay the price. While 1930 was fairly successful, we shall only continue to make progress as we press on to greater achievements and seek to obtain more sublime heights. If we, as Christian and Temperance people, accept the challenge it means greater sacrifices than ever before, because the forces arranged again us are better organized and in some countries, more determined than ever that the Temperance policies of their countries shall be as they dictate and decide. As God has given us strength, health, abundant prosperity, shall we go ahead with greater zeal, knowing that He who is for us is still greater than all the foes opposed to our work. This fact, O ye Christians, should cause us to press on daily towards our ultimate goal.

Shall we ask ourselves these questions: Are we really in earnest? Have we made any great sacrifice for the Cause of Temperance. Are we serving in our own respective districts every day? If not, why not? I would like to submit the following recommendations for your consideration, etc.

That, where there are Young Peoples' Societies carrying on, we request them to hold periodic Temperance meetings, so that the Temperance situation may be before them, and further if possible a contribution be taken at such meetings for the work. In this way all such organizations would be linked with the Temperance work of our Province.

That we adopt the example of the National Division and have a voluntary registration fee, to be taken at our annual session, each fee to be a minimum of 50c.

That all our Division take part in the proposed Debate, which we think will make greater interest in our weekly meetings.

That we engage in a further series of Rallies, such as we held last year, so that we may reach a large number of people, who are not members of our order.

In conclusion, may I say that we look forward to 1931 as being a year full of promise and opportunity for our work, and we go forward with the assurance that God is with us in our endeavor to disseminate the principles of Temperance in our Province.

ORGANIZER'S REPORT

The following is the report submitted by the organizer Brother G. E. Huestis for the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1930:

While it is with regret that I am unable to report any great progress during the quarter just ended, I believe we have strengthened our forces and work materially. Olive Branch Division, Clinton has been re-organized, with a good promise of success, and we look for results from Clinton. We believe perhaps that it has already helped some to abstain from intoxicating drinks. Thus we see what can be done when good influences, good principles, etc., surround a young man or woman.

Several visits have been made to Charlottetown to have Victoria No. 4 Division placed on the list as a strong, active organization, but as far our efforts have not met with any great success. However we believe in the near future our work here will bear fruit in due time.

Visits were made to the following Divisions: Long River, Sea View, Springfield, Hartsville, Cherry Hill, Georgetown, Ellerslie, Lower Brenton and Middleton. At each of these places strong Temperance organizations are carrying on splendidly and in some cases at least assisting young boys to abstain from intoxicating beverages.

Some preliminary work has been done in Montague, Albion and Cambridge, and we hope in the near future to have our branches established in these places. Also, we have good Temperance friends in Tryon, and we hope to have a Branch there in the near future. Where we are unable to organize, we hope to have live representatives who will look after our interests in each district by spreading Temperance Literature, holding special meetings, etc., and having each community so well organized that the enemy will not have a chance at all.

Therefore may we go forward in this great task to which we have committed ourselves, knowing that our reward is sure if we have the tenacity of purpose as did Paul of old.

RESOLUTIONS

That we, as members and representatives of the Grand Division here assembled extend to the residents of Fredericton, our hearty thanks for their kindness and hospitality as shown to us while attending this present session.

That we place on record our appreciation of the splendid efforts put forth by our Grand Worthy Patriarch as organizer for the Sons of Temperance during the past quarter, and we trust that in the not far distant future tangible results of his good work will be forthcoming.

That we have a further series of rallies to be taken part in by our various divisions and in connection with these rallies we would suggest that we strongly emphasize the musical side of our programme.

Whereas we cannot but believe that in communities where there is no temperance organization at work, there is need of more temperance activity: Therefore resolved that we ask the young peoples societies throughout the province to co-operate with the Grand Division in holding temperance meetings, and helping in every other way possible in this grand old cause; and that the collections taken at such meetings be equally divided between the Grand Division and the Y. P. S. to be used for further temperance work.

Resolved that we extend to all of the newspapers both daily and weekly our sincere thanks for their kindness in publishing so willingly the reports of our various sessions of the Grand Division.

Whereas knowing the great value of education among the young and rising generation in dealing with the temperance question, resolved that we impress upon the members of the Provincial Government the need of having an instructor on temperance and all other moral questions, appointed to visit all of the public schools in the Province and give the much needed instruction to the pupils.

That we as a Grand Division extend to Mr. Ernest Haslam and Mrs. Robert Howard our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of sorrow occasioned by the death of their father, Mr. Thomas Haslam who was a highly esteemed member of the grand Division and to Mr. Wellington Haslam, brother of the deceased.

Also that we extend to Mr. B. F. Pillman, Mr. J. C. Pillman and the Misses Margaret and Evelyn Pillman our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of sorrow occasioned by the death of their brother, Mr. William Pillman.

Also that we extend to Mr. Spurgeon Walker and Miss Nettie Walker our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of sorrow occasioned by the death of their mother.

Submitted in L. P. & F. Rev. R. H. Staver, Bro. Ira McKay, Frank Curtis, R. E. McCaull.

This report after some slight additions was accepted by the Division, and was also unanimously endorsed by the large gathering at the evening meeting.

The dishevelled stranger made his way into the police station. "Are you the sergeant in charge?" he asked.

"I am," replied the man in uniform who was seated at a desk and writing in a large ledger.

"I'm lost," said the dishevelled man. "You are—eh?" replied the sergeant, as he continued writing. "Well, if you can prove that anybody's missing you, we'll take up the case."

After much deliberation two Scott had decided to sign the pledge, but Donald thought it a good idea to keep a bottle of brandy in the house in case of sickness.

Sandy stuck it for two days, but could bear up no longer.

"Don't," he moaned. "I'm ill."

"Too late," growled Donald. "I was ill all day yesterday."
