Grieved by the escape of his intended prey, the crocodile wept.
"They may be crocodile tears," sobbed the saurian, "but they are real tears!"—Chicago Tribune.

"Yes, just at present," said the moon, "I'm not laughing because I'm down to my last quarter."
"Then you differ from the average man," remarked the morning star. "He is often down to his last quarter because he was out late at night."

Rocksley—I like this place so much that I should like to settle down and make my home here. I have the refusal of the nicest house in town, and do you know, Miss Alice, I wish I could get the same terms from the nicest girl in town?
Alice—If you want my refusal you can have it.—Chicago Journal.

Her father gave the bride away
To the bridegroom rich and old.

While Henry Drummond was calling on a friend on his last visit here he was introduced to a party of American girls.
"Flow very formal you are here when you are introduced," he said. "Now in England we always shake hands. What do you do here when you say goodbye?"
"Oh, we kiss," said the youngest of the party, a charming girl of sixteen.
"Ah, that's charming," responded Prof. Drummond; "suppose we say goodbye right now!"—New York Times.

Jack—I'm not up on these things. Suppose a girl sends you a very beautiful and artistic penwiper—

Druggist (absently)—Twenty-five cents.—Chicago News.

At a fire in a New York tenement building the other day, when some of the inmates saved their lives by jumping and the firemen won credit for heroic deeds, Fireman Murphy, groping through the smoke, heard screams for help. Following the sound, he reached, half suffocated himself, the room from whence the cries proceeded, and to his chagrin found that his rescue amounted to saving the life of a parrot, which thanked him in profane language.

"What makes papa so cross?"
"I don't know. Did you say anything to annoy him?"
"Certainly not. I just happened to remark that Christmas was almost here."—Chicago Post.

Budge—I never deny my wife a wish. Fudge—Well, that's kind of you, but I didn't know that you were financially so well fixed.
Budge—Pooh! It doesn't cost anything to wish.—Baltimore American.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "don't you think you could find some race-track where the horses are crooked?"
"Perhaps."
"Will you wish you would. You know every time you play a horse straight it loses."—Washington Star.

When a body meets a body

"Is your husband a bibliomaniac?" asked Mrs. Obedience as she was being permitted to view the treasures in the library of the new neighbor.
"Mercy sakes, no," replied Mrs. Packenham, "he never bibbles a bit. Oh, of course, I don't say that he wouldn't take a little at his meals if the rest was done it, but that's as far as he ever goes in them kind of thing."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Bicyclists and all athletes depend on BENTLEY'S Liniment to keep their joints limber and muscles in trim.

NERVE DISORDERS OF WOMEN
Accompanied by Neuralgia, Irritability, Sleeplessness and Depressed Spirits.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The feminine organism requires an enormous quantity of blood not only to sustain the network of nerves which are found in the woman system, but also to make good the periodical loss which so weakens the body.
Consequently it happens that just as soon as the blood gets weak or watery or is deficient in quantity the nervous system suffers, and in women the effects are most severely felt in the form of irregularities and weaknesses of the feminine system.

At the beginning of womanhood, at child birth, during the nursing periods and at the change of life, calls are made for an extra supply of blood, and as a result nervous disorders are exceedingly common at these times, and the health and happiness of the remainder of life may depend on the care of the system.
Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and created new nerve force, it is the most effective preparation ever used by women to build up the system, and restore vigor and strength to the body.

Mrs. Willis Taylor, Hensley Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I., states:—I suffered from nervous prostrations, could not sleep, and frequently had attacks of nervous headache; in fact, my whole system was run down and my health was in anything but a satisfactory condition. Since having used three boxes of Chase's Nerve Food I can say that I never tried any medicine that did me so much good. It has built up my system, strengthened the nerves and enabled me to sleep and rest well. It is now a considerable time since I had a headache, and I can truthfully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a splendid preparation.
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Bobby—"Did God make that new baby pa?" Pa—"Yes, Bobby." Bobby—"Say, pop, about what does he charge for a kid like Jimmy?"
