IN MEMORIAM

MR. SHELDON MELLISH

The sudden closing of a bright and prosperous career, especially when that person is young and vigorous, is always an occasion of sorrow to those deeply interested, and also to the community. Such a visitation of death invaded the home of Geo. F. Mellish, Union Road, Montague, P.E.I., when his son Sheldon was called to lay down his earthly career, though only in his 26th year. Sheldon was accountant in the Bank of Nova Scotia, Montreal, industrious, obliging, highly esteemed and valued for his sterling qualities. An attack of la grippe left him weak, and needing a rest he left Montreal February 15, and arrived home on the 19th. For a few days he seemed to improve in health, but a hemorrhage in the brain shattered fond hopes, and he passed to his eternal home on the 6th of March.

The community was deeply moved by this untimely death, and sympathy was extended to the sorrowing home from friends far and near. Letters from Toronto and Montreal revealed how highly he was esteemed by the Bank and how keenly they felt a personal loss by his sudden demise. The funeral service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. A. Browne, when a large assembly witnessed the last rites as his body was laid to rest in Union Road cemetery. Besides father and mother, he leaves to mourn their loss the following brothers and sisters: Edna A., Freeman and James E., in Boston; Mrs. I. D. Smith, Mermaid, and George A., at home.

MR. RODERICK J. MACDOUGALL

The death occurred at Blooming Point on Thursday morning, March 22nd of Roderick J. MacDougall, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of that place, at the advanced age of 80 years. Deceased had been enjoying his usual good health up to a few weeks previous to his demise and although bright hopes were entertained for his recovery, yet, all that medical skill and kind nursing could do, could not stay the hand of Death as Divine Providence willed otherwise. He was attended in his illness by his pastor, Rev. Father MacIntyre who administered the rites of the Catholic Church of which he had been a faithful member.

Deceased was in truth a sterling character an intelligent, well read and industrious citizen, a pious God-fearing Christian, and a good and kind neighbour. Straightforward, honest, loyal to his friends, true as steel to honest convictions, outspoken in his honest denunciation of what he believed to be wrong. These were some of his striking characteristics. Behind a bluff exterior beat the kindest and warmest of hearts, and in his hospitable home all found a cordial welcome.

He leaves to mourn besides a host of friends, the loss of a kind husband and father, a sorrowing widow, two sons John J., on the old homestead, Daniel of the employ of H. F. Feehan, Mt. Stewart; also four daughters, Mrs. James A. MacDonald, Little Pond; Mrs. John R. MacIntyre, Millcove; Cecelia of Boston, Mass., and Annie, teacher at Blooming Point.

His funeral took place at the parish church at Tracadie, Saturday morning the 24th inst and was largely attended. A High Mass of Requiem was chanted by the pastor, Rev. J. B. MacIntyre, the choir being ably assisted by Mr. Charles MacDonald, St. Andrews and Mes-never before. Britain and her Dominion with all their wealth and resources have had a hard struggle to keep their heads above the water. And yet the Mother Country is heroically emerging from her troubles. By economy and retrenchment she was able to reduce the burden of taxation and pay off half a billion dollars of her debt at the end of last year!

And how have Canada and Prince Edward Island fared at this time? Under the King Government at Ottawa both debt and taxation have increased by leaps and bounds. Under the Bell Government here we have the same alarming experience. Heedless of all warnings from statesmen and economists and equally heedless of the noble example of the Motherland, they have scorned and rejected the prudent counsels and danger signals that pointed out the need of retrenchment. What is there ahead of the Dominion or the Province for us or for our children, if these Lords of Misrule are continued in power? Spendthrifts are at the helm of
