

AGES OF RUG BEAUTY CENTURIES OLD

BARISTAN POLISH

The influence of weavers imported from Persia and India is strongly present in this magnificent reproduction of a Polish rug believed to have been woven at Warsaw in the 17th century.

NOW... BARISTAN RUGS of EVEN GREATER BEAUTY

THE introduction of the Baristan Rug two years ago marked a revolutionary advance in the history of rug weaving. The lustrous sheen, the exquisite coloring, the luxurious pile, won the admiration of Canadians from coast to coast.

Now we announce new Baristan Rugs of really surpassing beauty... adaptations and reproductions of the world's rarest rug masterpieces... rugs that have adorned the walls of museums and the floors of Oriental palaces.

These beautiful rugs are available for your home at surprisingly moderate prices. See the Baristan display at any leading house-furnishing store. They are obtainable in all sizes from small hall runners up to large room-size rugs. While in the store do not fail to see the Autumn 1930 presentation of Barrymore Guaranteed Rugs which include smart new designs in Saxones, Wiltons and Axminsters.

OF WORLD-WIDE INTEREST

Even now, a few days less than two years before the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference will take place at the city of Regina in 1932, a public remarkable interest has developed in practically every quarter of the globe. A casual examination of one morning's mail this week discloses the fact that Hamilton were receiving from five grain and seed producing countries—Great Britain, India, The Federated Malay States, Portugal and Argentina. The contents of these letters are more convincing of this great interest than is their number or the widely divergent points from which they came. The morning's mail referred to is quite typical too of the daily routine, all providing ample justification for the assurance that the 1932 Exhibition and Conference will be the greatest thing of its kind ever held.

Special classes for pedigreed seed at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held in Regina in 1932 will not be provided, this decision has been reached by the Executive and Finance Committee of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, according to an announcement just issue from the offices of the exhibition. The question of providing special classes for pedigreed or registered seed at the 1932 World's Grain Exhibition has been under consideration by the Executive Committee as well as by the Awards Committee for some time. Final decision has been reached. No special classes will be made for pedigreed or registered seed. Such seed must be

The outbreak of revolutions in South America have pretty nearly reached the epidemic stage, and the mortality rate among governments in the countries affected has been high. Brazil is the latest victim of the disease, with the daily bulletins leaving the world in serious doubt concerning the actual condition of the patient.

What you eat for breakfast

determines what you do before noon

YOU will start the day wrong if your breakfast is poor, nutritionists say. Statistics show that into the four hours that follow the first meal, 70 per cent. of the entire day's work is crowded. Breakfast is important... it should furnish sufficient energy to last the morning through.

And what delicious flavor you find in Quaker Oats! Richer... more zestful... more satisfying than ordinary oats. This is because Quaker bakes choice whole oats to a delicious nut-sweet tenderness. This pre-cooking not only gives the wonderful Quaker flavor, but makes long home cooking unnecessary. Quaker Oats is the fastest cooking of all hot breakfasts, ready 2 1/2 minutes after the water boils.

QUAKER In Every Package Marked "Quinaware" A surprise in every Quaker package... a piece of attractively patterned genuine English chinaware... Beautifully colored... distinctively shaped and bordered.

Quaker Oats is the breakfast unsurpassed for lasting food energy. The famous Quaker process retains every vital part of the oat—proteins for growth, carbohydrates for energy, abundant body building minerals and the important vitamins. Roughage, too, so that laxatives are less needful.

Your grocer has the large household package and the small 10 cent size. Quaker Oats are never sold in bulk. All Quaker packages contain coupons with which you can get useful articles for personal and household use.
