

WILLIE MAKES ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO GET EVEN WITH JOHNNY JONES

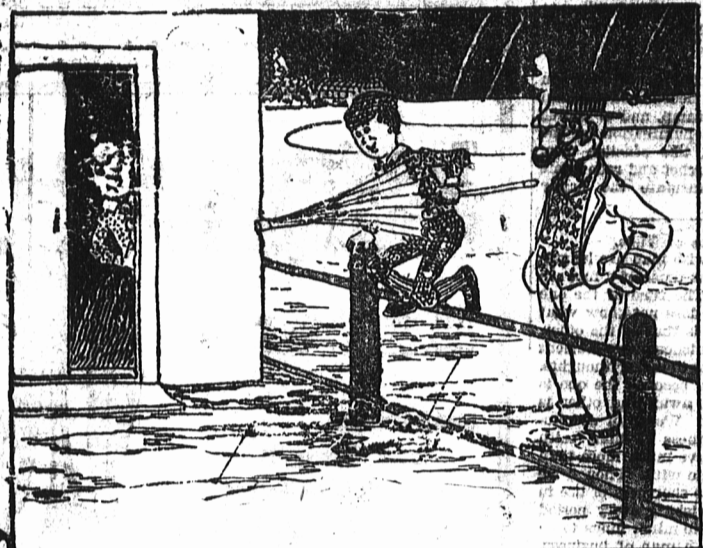

Johnny Jones cut my life string! I've been trying to get even with him.

I fixed up a Japanese umbrella like this, after I had let Johnny see with the life fence with it.

Then I left it leaning against the fence in the garage.

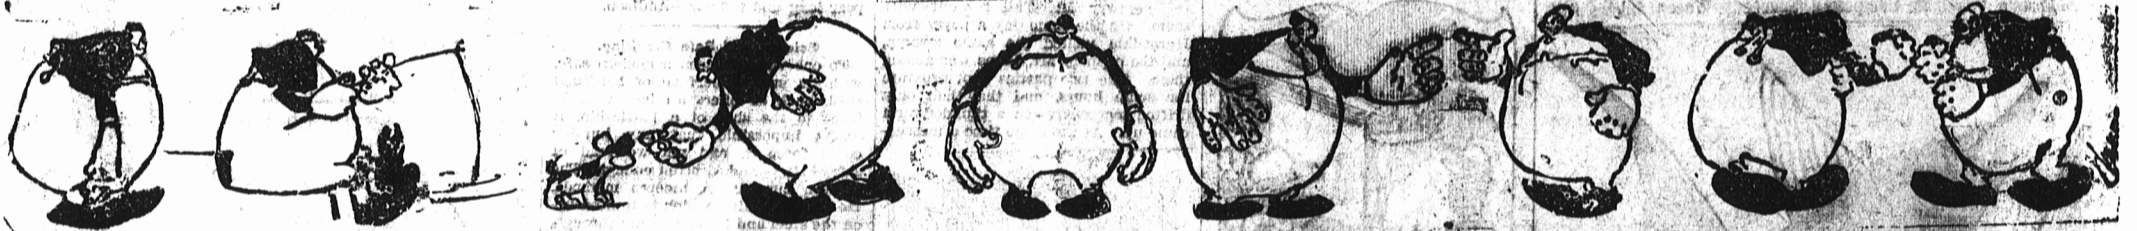

Johnny came along with his father and, of course, started to show off with the umbrella—

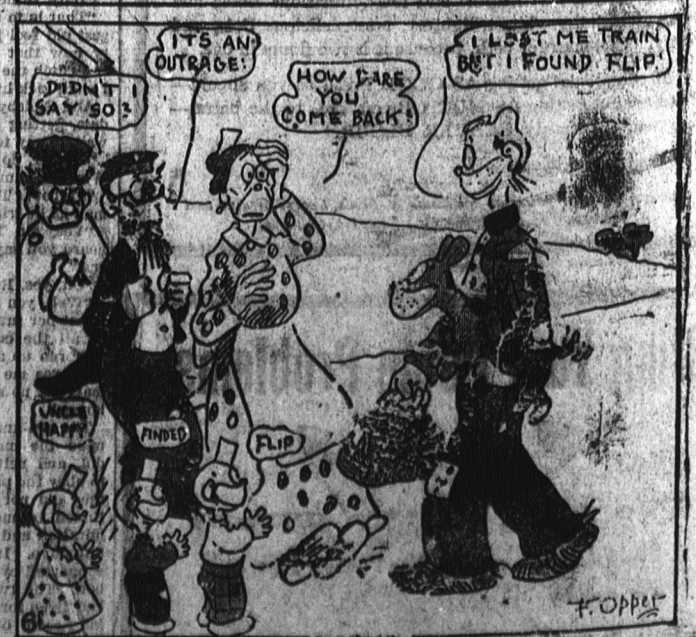

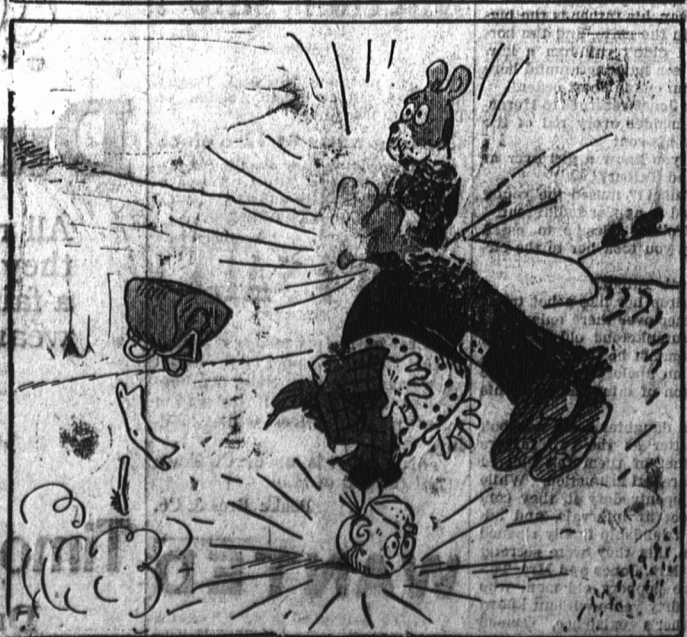

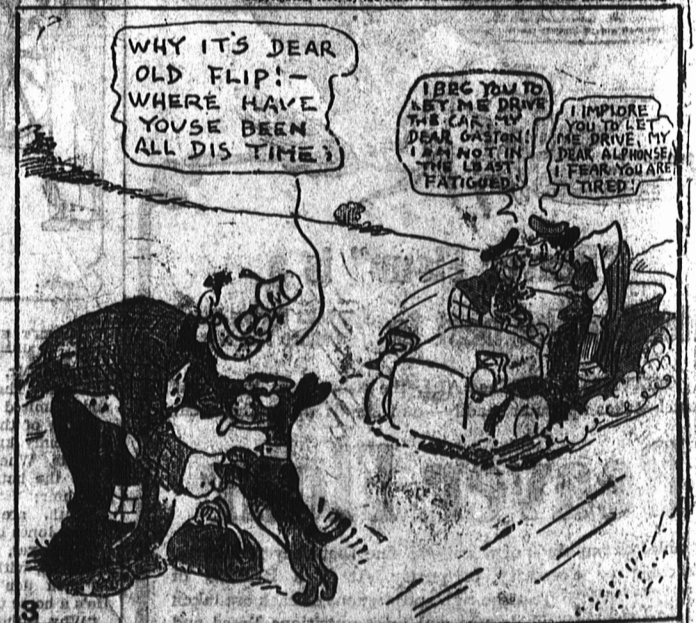

But just then a shower came up, and his father grabbed the umbrella—

And before I could stop him, he opened it! What made me mad, though, was to see Johnny laugh.

HAPPY! OFF! BACK! BUT LOOK WHO'S WITH HIM!

F. Popper