POLYGAMY STILL IN MORMONISM

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Hans P. Freese, who stirred up England and Denmark early in the year concerning immigrant girls from those countries going to Utah to become polygamists, told the women of the Reformed Church yesterday about the new polygamy that obtains in the Mormon Church.

"The old time plural wife system" said he, "was for the most part open. Everybody knew who polygamous wives were, and who children were that were born of parents in plural marriage. There was a seamlessness about the system, or most of it. The plural wife of today is not recognized. Efforts are made that she shall not be. She has a mysterious support, coming from to me where nobody knows where."

"One can suspect, but suspicion is not proof. Children born of such plural marriages are coming into the world, into the state, into the nation, by the thousands. They take the names of their mothers. They have no inheritance. They have really no patrimony. They are simply here."

There was a first class program on at The People's Theatre last night, three of the finest reels shown here in many a day. The Detective story, The Thumb Print, was full of most interesting situations and held the interest intense. The Kalem subject was a magnificent Western depiction done by real cow boys and cow girls and it had many a laugh in its many feet of film. The Vitagraph entitled, Capt. Barnacles Baby, was certainly grand and our friend John Bunny was simply inimitable in it. The baby was a hit and Capt. Barnacles got back to his own amiable self through the kindly offices of the baby. The illustrated song and specialty were good and the music was as usual, excellent.

On Saturday evening Aubrey Mutch, Southport, drove to this city and attended his church. While in church he left his rig in a stable and when he returned the sleigh robe was missing. Yesterday morning he laid a complaint with the circumstances, being Sergeant Bradley, who, accompanied by Sgt. Taylor, visited a house next door to the stable where he had left his horse. The rug was found in the kitchen, the statement being offered to the officers that the rug had been found in an outhouse. The lost article was returned to its owner by Sgt. Bradley, whose prompt recovery was a matter of congratulation.

Yesterday the C. G. S. Brant, Capt. Walker, returned from Cape Tormentine where she had been picking up the buoy. She also took in the buoys at Tryon and Misouche. During the stormy weather of last week the Brant took in the buoys at Murray Harbor, Grand River, Cardigan, and Georgetown, and also the Rifleman buoy. Today weather permitting, she will take in the Fairway buoy at Crapaud and Southwest reef at St. Peter's Island, as well as the Charlottetown harbor buoys and those outside the harbor. The Casumpac and Malpeque bell buoys have also been taken up. It is expected that the C. G. S. Aberdeen, will arrive shortly to take in the heavier ones. This work is not as far advanced as it was this time last year but it will not take very long to wind it up if the boats are favored with fair weather.

A recent issue of the "Mid Ocean" published in Hamilton, Bermuda, contains a lengthy obituary of the late Rev. Gilbert Higgs, D. D., who passed away at Atlanta, Georgia, on Sept. 14, in his sixty-sixth year. He deceased, when a boy attended school in Charlottetown, and was a half brother of the late B. Wilson Higgs, and an uncle of E. T. Higgs, President of the Charlottetown Board of Trade. The late Mr. Higgs was a Bermudian by birth being a son of the late Richard Minor Higgs of St. Georges, when quite young he was a student at Bermuda College, engaged in commercial pursuits, until early in the Seventies, when, with his sisters, Annie and Louise he emigrated to the United States. Shortly afterwards, he offered himself as a candidate for Orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church in that country. He became a Deacon in 1874 and was advanced to the Priesthood in 1876 in the Memorial Church of the Merciful Saviour, Nebraska, City. He was associated with the late Bishop Hare in his work among the Indians at Yankton, South Dakota. After working for some time in the Diocese of North Carolina, he accepted a call to St. Paul's Church, Key West, in 1890. This is one of the largest and most influential parishes in the missionary district of Southern Florida. During the fourteen years of his Rectorship, Dr. Higgs did a splendid work in building up the parish, in beautifying the Church and in establishing a flourishing mission in another part of the Island. In 1903, he returned to the Diocese of North Carolina as Rector of Calvary Church, Wadesboro. In 1905 he came to Atlanta as Priest in charge of the Cathedral Mission, the Holy Comforter and St. Andrews. He remained in charge and also worked until three years ago when the disease to which he ultimately succumbed began to assert itself. He retained his position as Canon of the Cathedral during other work as a widow and two daughters to mourn his loss. The "Mid Ocean" pays a grateful tribute to Dr. Higgs, referring to his sweet graces, his fine Christian courtesy and his unselfish life of devotion to the Master.

CANADA LEADS IN THE GROWING OF CROPS CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—"Canada" the greatest crop growing country in the world," was exploited to visitors at the land show in the Coliseum as the "Land of Promise." In the celebration of "Canada Day," small Canadian and British flags were given to each visitor. J. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration or western Canada was the guest of honor. During the afternoon Mr. Walker made an address in which he extolled Canada as the superior of any region of the earth as a farming country.

"We are showing an increase every year in our crops," said Mr. Walker. "Last year the province of Alberta (Manitoba and Saskatchewan) produced a yield of 72,000,000 bushels of wheat; this year the yield will exceed 170,000,000 bushels. To be sure there are disadvantages in Canada; it is cold, for instance, but the frost strikes so far into the ground that when it melts and comes out in the spring we do not need nearly the amount of rain other countries require. Our climate is much like that of Minnesota."

Mr. Walker was entertained at luncheon at the Auditorium hotel by the British Empire Association of Illinois. W. K. Patterson, president and John Creear, vice-president, were in charge of the luncheon.

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND TALKS ON BOER WAR BOSTON, Nov. 26.—Released by lapse of time from an oath not to talk on South African affairs or reveal any of the "inside" of events leading up to the Boer war for three years, John Hays Hammond, the American mining engineer, and multimillionaire, who was conspicuous in more arms than we really had. We did so and Kruger sent over an olive branch to Johannesburg. They agreed to all but two things and that was that no contract should be accepted with a Catholic or a Jew. This we flatly refused. "Kruger played false with the reform committee after the Jameson raid broke all his promises and after he had secured the arms in Johannesburg through Sir Hercules Robinson, he arrested the entire committee."
