Pretty Wedding At Long River

An exceptionally pretty June wedding took place in the United Church, Long River, at 2.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon June 5th when Rebecca MacGregor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Orr, French River, became the bride of Archibald Ellsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Campbell, Long River. The ceremony under a beautifully decorated arch, was performed by Rev. George Ayers, Summerside former pastor of the bride.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father looked lovely as she entered the church in her floor length gown of white satin fashioned on princess lines with insets of lace, long tapering sleeves, sweetheart neckline buttoned down the back with tiny self covered buttons. Her trailing veil of white net was arranged in halo effect and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Her only attendant was her friend, Mrs. Elmer L. McLeod who wore a gown of pale blue sheer, shoulder length veil to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Joseph Harding of French River was groomsman.

Mr. Millard Meek and Mrs. Elwood Campbell acted as ushers.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Harry Underhill. During the signing of the register Mrs. W. G. Gillespie, aunt of the bride, with pleasing effect sang "I'll Walk Beside You." Mrs. Gillespie wore a floor length gown of black lace with gold coloured accessories.

The bride's mother chose a two-piece rose shadow cloth suit silver fox cape and small blue hat.

The groom's mother was attired in beige street length dress with matching accessories.

The groom's gift to the bride was a chest of silver, to the bride's-maid a set of gold earrings and to the groomsman gold tie clip and pin.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, with about one hundred friends and relatives in attendance. The guests were met by Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Campbell and ushered to the living room where the bridal party awaited them. Mrs. Warren Sims escorted the guests to the dining room where a very nicely arranged buffet luncheon was served. The room was daintily decorated in pink and white colour scheme, tall silver tapers and cut flowers. A three tier wedding cake set in a wreath of silver coloured fern leaves and lilis of the valley with miniature bride and groom on the top, centered the table laden with refreshments. In the traditional manner the cake was cut by the bride and groom the knife used being taken from the brides chest of silver. Mrs. George Sims and Mrs W. G. Gillespie, aunts of the bride, poured, while Mrs. Foster Dunning and Mrs. Hillard Meek replenished. Misses Winnifred Brown and Helen Lamont served. The cake and ices were cut by friends of the bride's mother. Amid showers of confetti and good wishes the bride and groom left for Charlottetown and thence by plane for a short honeymoon trip through New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

For travelling the bride wore a blue tailored suit, marked fur cape, and blue accessories.

They were met on their return by an exceptionally jolly band of serenaders whose mischievous pranks entertained the household. The groom returned recently from overseas having spent six years in the service of King and Country.

Among the guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cannon, St. Eleanors; Mrs. W.G. Gillespie and Marjory, Charlottetown; Mrs. W. Williams and Jean, Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pidgeon, Kensington; Mr. and Mrs. Josie MacGregor, Darnley; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Boswell, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Stewart, Bay View; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson, Margate; Mr. Lloyd MacPhail New Haven and Mr. Frederick Martin, Charlottetown.

"DO YOU LOVE ME," TECHNICOLOR HIT MUSICAL DUE HERE

Hailed as the once in a lifetime, love-time musical romance, "Do You Love Me," 20th Century-Fox's brilliant Technicolor hit starring Maureen O'Hara, Dick Haymes and Harry James opens today at the Prince Edward Theatre.

The song-and-thrill-packed story of a girl who said "Yes" once too often presents Maureen O'Hara as a shy, bespectacled and conservative music school dean who comes to town in search of a guest conductor but becomes "titivated" instead. One thing leads to another when Harry James falls in love with her and Dick Haymes takes the words—and music—right out of his trumpet. With the appearance of Reginald Gardiner as an ingenious Cupid and Richard Gaines as her staid but stubborn fiance, the fast-moving story develops into the screen's wackiest four-sided triangle.

Four new song hits including "I Didn't Mean A Word I Said," "Do You Love Me," "Moonlight Propaganda" and "As If Didn't Have Enough On My Mind" are introduced by Dick Haymes and Harry James and his Music Makers. The film was directed by Gregory Ratoff and produced by George Jessel.

Circus Elephant Is Light Stepper

(By The Associated Press)

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 26 —Toby, the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus elephant, is a lighter stepper than his more stealthy jungle cousins, despite his 10,500 pounds.

A General Electric vibration metre yesterday recorded that, with the exception of the python, the only member of the circus who could match Toby's lightness of foot was the 500-pound fat lady.

G. E. used the metre, a sensitive electronic instrument able to measure small shocks or vibrations, to test the walk of most of the animals during the appearance of the circus here.

The metre recorded only three mils a second vibration as Toby walked by. The fat lady registered the same score. The lion registered 12 mils a second, the hippotamus, 14, the tiger, 9, and the polar bear, 6.

The metre picked up a vibration of only 1.5 mils a second as the python slithered by.

Citations Re Investitures By Lieut. Governor

Three Prince Edward Island war veterans will be honored at the investiture by His Honour Lieutenant Governor Bernard at the Legion rooms this evening. They are Lieut.-Col. G. K. Peake, who had been awarded the D.S.O.; Corp. C. T. MacDonald, who receives the Military Medal; and Pte. William MacKay, Stanley Bridge, who receives the Croix de Guerre.

Following are the citations in connection with the awards:

Lt.-Col. Peake

"Citation. Award of Distinguished Service Order to Lieutenant-Colonel George Goodwyn King Peake, ED. The Royal Canadian Artillery.

"This officer has commanded 3 Canadian Light Anti-Aircraft Regiment throughout all the operations by 2 Canadian Infantry Division in Northwest Europe. In this period his regiment has undertaken many different tasks in addition to its normal anti-aircraft role and in all cases the regiment has acquitted itself with distinction. During the winter months in the Nijmegen salient he developed and produced a most efficient modification for his guns which enabled them to fire in the ground role. He then arranged and personally conducted many extensive harrassing and fire support programmes with devastating effect on the enemy. Enemy retaliation was often heavy and accurate and he was frequently working under heavy shell and mortar fire which inflicted casualties on his troops. Nevertheless, Lieutenant-Colonel Peake continued to conduct these programmes and to develop improved drills until by deception and carefully pre-arranged fireplans he outwitted the enemy and counter battery organization and enabled his troops to complete their fireplans virtually unmolested.

"In the operations by 2 Canadian Infantry Division south of Oldenburg in Germany on two occasions this officer, with his regiment, took over a complete brigade sector of the front. The carrying out of these tasks required an immediate and drastic reorganization of his regiment to meet the needs of an infantry role. This changeover was effected efficiently and in the midst of battle without interrupting the operation in any way. While engaged in the infantry role, Lieutenant-Colonel Peake's leadership was aggressive and skilful and he always undertook more than his orders demanded. In the final advance on Oldenburg, his regiment kept pace with 6 Canadian Infantry Brigade on his right and provided complete left-flank protection for that formation, during an opposed advance of approximately five miles. By his personal leadership, disregard of self and outstanding example, this officer has been responsible for the success of the many actions, both against enemy aircraft and enemy ground troops, which his regiment has fought. He has thus made an important contribution to the victories achieved by 2 Canadian Infantry Division in the campaign in Europe."

Corp. MacDonald

"Citation: Award of The Military Medal to F80169 Corporal Charles Thomas MacDonald, Canadian Infantry Corps.

"During the crossing of the river Melfa on 25 May, 1944, Corporal MacDonald was commanding a section of one of the platoons leading the attack. During the advance he was badly wounded in the back by shrapnel. Before he could be attended to, Corporal MacDonald noticed that his section was pinned by heavy fire. He fully realized the necessity of his section reaching their objective in order that his platoon could support by fire the remainder of the Company during their advance. Therefore, though in great pain, and under heavy mortar and machine gun fire, he led his section a distance of some three hundred yards on to their objective. Only when the position had been consolidated and the supporting fire of his section was covering the forward move of the balance of the Company did he allow his wounds to be dressed. The gallantry, determination and leadership of this Non-Commissioned Officer was instrumental in the Company capturing and holding their objective."

Pte. MacKay

"Citation: Award of Croix de Guerre avec Etoile de Bronze (French) to F867 Private Wendell MacKay, The Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps.

"Private MacKay, operating theatre assistant at 7 Canadian General Hospital, displayed a combination of enthusiasm, efficiency and initiative far in excess of normal devotion to duty, especially during the period 7-10 August, 1944, at Bayeux, when the most severe casualties were handled by this hospital. At this time the operating tables were in continuous use for a period of ninety hours, and this soldier performed the most outstanding service with exemplary cheerfulness—an example to both staff and patients."

(Pte. MacKay is ill and in Sanitorium here, and may be unable to attend, in which case his investiture will likely be withheld.)

CAMERA MAKE-UP EMPHASIZES EYES

When you have your picture taken, anything in make-up goes, so long as it gives you great big beautiful eyes. Glorified orbs, as any photographer will tell you, can make a beautiful face more breath-taking and even a less lovely one something to make lucky Joe's vest buttons pop.

To make eyes look bigger and more bee-yu-ti-ful for the camera, take an eyebrow pencil and draw a line just inside of the lashes on the upper and lower lids. But use a brown pencil—a black will mark too heavily and make your eyes look like a siren's in the old silent films.

Starch your lashes with mascara painstakingly singling out one at a time so that the fringe spreads out like an unfurled fan.

Canada, and assured the officers and men of the Regiment that their deeds of valour on the battle fields of Europe would not be forgotten as long as men and women could read the English language.

Premier Jones told the gathering that Prince Edward Island paid far more taxes to the Dominion Government in proportion to its population than did the Province of Ontario. "In fact," said the Premier, "if Ontario paid in the same proportion as we do, it would cost the people of Ontario an additional $100,000,000." His Government, he said, wanted at least $3,000,000 a year from Ottawa "if we are to give you the kind of Province which your services overseas have entitled you to live in."

Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, O.B.E., said he heartily agreed with the Premier's remarks. He stood "four square" behind the Premier in his efforts to wrest from the Dominion Government the financial payments to which the Province was entitled. Dr. MacMillan paid a tribute to the women of the Province who had worked and sacrificed for their husbands, sons, and brothers overseas. As for the officers and men of the P. E. Island Light Horse, later known as the 17th Armoured Regiment—"Your deeds," Dr. MacMillan said, "will never be forgotten. Your bravery and devotion to duty set an example to all fighting men in Canada and we are proud tonight to be able to add our few words of homage to as fine a fighting regiment as ever went overseas from this country."

About 4.30 yesterday afternoon, the Regiment in charge of Company Sergeant-Major H. H. McLeod paraded from the Armouries to the Soldiers' Monument where a wreath was placed in memory of their fallen comrades by Cpl. Willis E. Oatway.

As the Regiment passed the reviewing stand at the corner of Queen and Grafton Streets, the salute was taken by Lieutenant Governor Bernard. With the Lieutenant Governor were Lt.-Col R. L. Mollison, M.M., commanding officer of the Regiment; Capt. W. L. MacPherson; and Capt. L. G. MacPhee; and Lieut. L. E. Caseley.

train and did not see the boys at all as they were on the opposite side. After the accident he had the doctor and the police called.

The witness said that there are many children on the wharf all the time and there will be all summer. There are bathing facilities there, he said, on the most dangerous part of the wharf and they should be someplace else and on some other wharf. This wharf he explained, is a very busy place and on this particular morning there were about 20 freight cars there.

Dr. J.C. Simpson testified to being called to the Railway Wharf and finding a boy who had been run over by a train, the child was dead. He had been completely decapitated and one of his hands had been amputated.

Roy McGee, Charlottetown, fireman of the train said he had been taking signals from the east side of the cab and after the train had stopped he had attended to his fire. He did not see the children till one boy ran up crying that his brother had been run over.

The engineer of the train was St. Clair Paquet, he said.

The jury then retired and brought in a verdict to the effect that the deceased had come to his death by being run over by a railway car on the 26 day of June, 1946, that was being shunted on the wharf at that time. The train crew were exonerated from all blame.

The jurors were: John E. Campbell, foreman, Chester Palmer, F. C. Murphy Joseph Wood, John Schurman, J.E. Murphy, Harry Dickie.

Mr. W. E. Darby, K.C., represented the Attorney-General's Department.—S

"Mary's such a young-looking Mother!"

YES, like her parents and grandparents, Mary realizes what a help Eno's 'Fruit Salt' can be to healthful vitality.

The day to day tasks of a mother really require fitness. Eno helps to cleanse the system of wastes and excess gastric acids that most always bring on sluggishness, indigestion and a listless feeling that take the edge off life. Eno is pleasant to take—is free of harsh bitter salts, gentle but effective in its action. Buy a bottle today and take before breakfast, when needed.

foxes in ten years two will become 200, etc. etc.

The only thing which works out as expected is the arrival of death —and most of the investors were "foxed".

Stock breeding is the surest way to wealth—on paper. But disease, sterility, costs of upkeep, market prices, combine to make it one of the most uncertain ventures for wealth.

We visited the fox ranch of Mr. & Mrs. Raoul Raymond, near Charlottetown. 1,100 live foxes kenneled—among them some pearl platinums (maltese) and a new color glacier blue.

The average fox litter is three—born in March, by December they are on their way to adorn some fair lady or any lady who has the fare to buy a fox scarf or coat. Raw fur fetches from $60 to $90 in the market.

We spoke on one of our days in the capitol city before the Rotary club—a crowded room. Allotted 20 minutes, we spoke for 40. No one went to sleep and only one left during our discourse.

Rotarians are singers as are members of similar groups—Lions, Kiwanians, Gyros, Kinsfolk, Executives etc. It is tripe for the smart boys to speak contemptuously of these folks. I've met many of these bourgeois, these middle class. They all are business men who wish to add a dash of friendly acquaintance and laborhood interest to their shopkeeping. What's wrong with that sort of bourgeois enthusiasm?

P E I is poor and rich. Its 95,000 inhabitants get their livelihood from farming the soil and cultivating the tourists. There really isn't a factory or mill on the Island—some creameries, fish packing places, little else.

Farmers are seldom found in night clubs. Many of them hardly have at the end of the year, a cash surplus of $50, an amount which the city man may spend in an evening for himself and party at the Red Cock or the Black Cat.

But there are hardly a dozen tenant farmers among the 12,000 on the Island. They own their acres, their stock, their homes.

Labor unions are unknown. The countryside has changed little during the last century. In fact, in 1914, the father of our friend Col. Rogers was arrested for driving an automobile. It's a horse country where harness or trotting racing is popular, even on the winter's ice.

"DON'T EVER CHANGE"

The Island should remain in status quo—"Don't ever change" as the popular song runs. Were the "Garden of the Gulf" to modernize, it would be just another body of land surrounded on all sides by water. P E I must stay quaint, ancient and simple. As such, with its delightful weather from June thru September, it can become one of America's sincere, lasting spots of interest and enjoyment for the traveler and vacationer.
