A team of nine men from this city enjoyed a rifle match with a team from Pownal and Bellevue clubs on Saturday afternoon on the popular range of J. H. Judson, Alexandria. This match was at 200 yards, ten shots on score. Some splendid scores were made on both sides but the country team won out in the aggregate. Two scratch matches were also fired and both were closely contested. Victory in one of them was gained only in consequence of the phenomenal shooting of a city druggist. The canny Scot was promptly bounced by his comrades on the team. The leading prize was won by E. McInnis, after being hard pressed by A. Kennedy. For a first class afternoon's sport Judson's range is unrivalled.

McKinnon of Alexandra, Lot 49, and Mrs. Philip Irving of Cherry Valley, besides nephews and nieces and hosts of friends on the Island and in the United States. Her remains followed by a large concourse of relations and friends were laid to rest in Cross Roads Cemetery on the 17th. The services were conducted at her late residence and in the Church by her Beloved pastor Rev. H. S. Erb.
