ISLAND HOME
(By Irene D. Wyand)

My Island home was made for me. God blessed me at my birth. He knew that I loved solitude. And rich red earth.

He painted every dune with care. And every rocky cove; He made the ocean bluer there. And every briny wave.

He made the lights shine brighter there. Along each wind swept shore. Prince Edward laid it there. As in the days of yore.

Col. J. H. Chaballo of Montreal Retires

Ottawa, April 21 — (CP) — Defence headquarters tonight announced retirement from the Canadian active army of Col. J.H. Chaballo of Montreal, a member of the general staff at Ottawa since shortly before the outbreak of the war.

Previously he was director general of physical training for the Canadian army in the First Great War. He was staff captain in the 4th Brigade, C.E.F. twice wounded in action, and received the Victoria Cross for gallantry at Courcelles.

In 1920 he reorganized the Regiment de Chaballo which he commanded until 1926 and in 1929 he was promoted colonel to command the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade (N.F.A.).

He has written extensively on military subjects and is author of sketches of the Royal 22nd Regiment. He also has taken a keen interest in veterans' welfare activities.

Almost Legendary War Figure Home

Toronto, April 21 — (CP) — Major William Jones, who became an almost legendary war figure after fighting through the war, Major Jones returned home last week after an absence of six years with the Royal Air Force and the British army.

In an interview tonight he described Gen. Mikhailovic, Chetnik leader now awaiting trial in Yugoslavia on charges of war crimes, as a "brave" to Yugoslavians.

Mikhailovic was recently captured by Tito's forces which he had fought throughout the war. Major Jones described him as the leader of a band of renegades who collaborated secretly with the German and Italian invaders of Yugoslavia.

"The Chetniks were always with the enemy," Major Jones asserted. "They captured uprisings against the Germans and they joined the Nazis to garrote our points in the country. The British supported Mikhailovic. Some after the war in Yugoslavia had branded him as a traitor."

Major Jones declared further that Marshal Tito was not a dictator. He is only the chairman of the Government and is absolutely obedient without the authorization of the Government. Tito is the last man to seek dictatorial power. He is an ardent lover of the principles of freedom and democracy. A frank, simple man with simple tastes and a positive mind.

The Communist influence in Yugoslavia had an almost total determination to maintain their freedom.

Newsprint Price Ceiling Suspended

(By The Canadian Press)

Ottawa, April 21 — The Prices Board announced tonight the suspension of the basic price ceiling of 40¢ a ton on newspaper sold in Canada, subject to a special understanding that Canadian paper will not rise beyond "historical differentials" below United States prices.

The announcement, made by chairman Donald Gordon, said it was expected the price now would increase enough to reduce two increases totaling 30¢ a ton which were granted in the United States in March, 1945, and January, 1946, which were not allowed in Canada. This would bring the Canadian price to 40¢ a ton, compared with 67¢ in the United States.

The "historical differentials" mentioned in the announcement were the margins which existed before the war between the price for domestic sales and the price for sales to the United States. The new adjusted price must not increase beyond that margin.

The Board also announced the lifting of its former allocation control of domestic supplies which required newsprint mills to allocate 17,800 tons of their monthly production for domestic sale, with the remainder being made available for export.

The allocation control was removed with the understanding that when an increase is made in shipments to United States customers an increase on the same ratio be made in the supply available for home consumption.

Both the price ceiling suspension and the removal of the allocation control are effective May 1.
