

Escape Coughs This Year

No serious coughs trouble those who use Jamieson's White Pine and Tar Cough Remedy. It never fails to stop coughs that are starting or to cure those of longer standing. It cures rightly but it cures in a remarkably short time. There are hundreds of other remedies but none better than this one.

LEADERS MEET AND SHAKE HANDS.

At a farewell dinner given to Earl Grey in Ottawa on Monday night the Liberal and Conservative chiefs met for the first time since the election. An account of the meeting tells that "Sir Wilfrid, with the whole-heartedness that has characterized his bearing in defeat, shook hands with Mr Borden and congratulated him on his victory, the Conservative leader bearing his honors with becoming modesty." The incident is characteristic of the two party leaders, of whom Canada is justly proud.

Sir Wilfrid was leader of the Opposition under the regimes of Sir John Macdonald, Sir John Abbott, Sir John Thompson, Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Charles Tupper in succession and maintained courteous and friendly personal relations with them all. As leader of the Government he always in like manner exhibited marked courtesy and personal friendliness toward Mr Borden, and these were met by the Opposition leader in a like spirit. So far as is known, even during the hottest debates in Parliament and in political campaigns in the country, nothing was said by either Sir Wilfrid or Mr Borden in regard to the other which could be construed as discourteous or offensive. All of which is as it should be, and how a fine example to their supporters. Angry personal recriminations are not necessary in the discussion of public affairs by gentlemen. It is to the credit of the two leaders and to Canadian public life that the two met at the head of our two great parties are not only courteous and friendly in their personal intercourse with each other, but are also of such high character and gentlemanly bearing as to command the respect and regard of the entire public of Canada, whether in victory or defeat.

After the exciting and stirring contest just ended it will be well for all who have borne a part therein to emulate the conduct and bearing of the leaders, forgetting any ill-feeling that may have been aroused during the heat of debate, or any hasty or unkind word that may have been uttered. "Let all that was unworthy in the canvass perish with the canvass," as D'Arcy McGee once said. Let the unsuccessful candidates congratulate the successful ones in the spirit of chivalrous courtesy evinced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and let the victors bear their honors with the gentlemanly modesty which has characterized Mr Borden in his triumph.

ITALY AND TRIPOLI.

Diplomacy and war are said to be the greatest games played on earth. But diplomacy is in its essence secret while war is open. Diplomacy is also frequently a game of deception and not infrequently a game of bluff, supported by armed forces and fleets in the background. Such is the game that Germany has been playing with France over Morocco, and that Italy is now playing with Turkey over Tripoli. And now Germany after a good deal of bluffing has accepted the terms of France, but is much perturbed by Italy's game with the Moslems. Germany, Austria and Italy are the powers included in the Triple Alliance. It is shrewdly guessed that France may have instigated Italy to make the demands she has put forward against Turkey, in order to disturb the harmony of the three-power compact. It is a counter stroke to Germany in Morocco, Germany has been posing as the particular friend of Turkey, but if Germany's ally draws the sword against the Turk, how can the pretence be made good without breaking up the Triple Alliance? There is danger of war, it is said, but war is not what is wanted either in Morocco or Tripoli, at Berlin, Paris or Rome. The diplomats are bluffing, demanding and maneuvering for advantage, and beyond that the great world-public can only guess at what is going on.

La Devoir, the organ of Mr Bourassa, expresses satisfaction over the defeat of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and is confident that Mr Borden will give the country honest Government. It also expresses the conviction that Mr Borden will take a plebiscite on the navy question, which may or may not turn out to be a true forecast.

A London weekly which calls itself John Bull is very hostile to an depreciatory of Canada. It declares that the Canadian harvest this year has little straw and less wheat, that the banks are shortening credit and giving a set-back to the bogus progress of the Dominion, and that in the coming winter "there will be weeping, wailing and crime from the Atlantic to the Pacific. All progress will stop; the farmers will not be able to meet their obligations towards the traders who have to depend upon the crops or their payment; hundreds of thousands of our people will be unable to find employment and will have to resort to crime to make ends meet." And so on and on. It is a wonder that such a crazy publication as John Bull can find readers, but it does find them.

We commend to the reading of the moral public the letter of George Wright of Halifax which appears in this issue of The Guardian in regard to objectionable plays. It in no way refers to the plays now being given in this city, or to the many reputable companies which from time to time cater to the respectable theatre-going people here. There ought to be some official censorship provided through-out Canada to prevent the evil of which Mr Wright complains. Here we are not frequently had reason to complain. Charlottetown prefers the lean to the unclean and the fact is widely known and recognised.

The most popular cough medicine is Rexall Cherry Juice for coughs. It is easily the pleasantest and has been astonishingly successful so much so that although fully guaranteed few re-funds are made among hundreds of sales. Rexall Cold Cure is equally good for colds in the head. 25c each. The McKinnon Drug Co., corner Gt. Geo and Kent Streets.

INDECENT AND DOUBTFUL PLAYS

Sir—With regard to the many debasing plays which are coming to Canada from across the border, and are being boomed by giving fictitious and misleading press notices, which point out the great success which they have met with in the cities across the border, and for this reason they are generally accepted in Canada without protest. In the United States at the present time, there are twelve of these shows under the banner of the American Federation of Catholic Societies and the following is what they say in part for the reason of doing so.

"There are still theatres missing their high and noble aim and debauching the minds and hearts of the theatregoers and especially our young persons. When plays like, 'Salome,' 'The Soul Kiss,' 'The Blue Moose,' 'The Girl from Rector's,' 'The Bas,' 'The Girl in the Taxi,' 'Alway,' 'Wohut du?' and 'La Samaritaine,' are praised and heralded as attractions, we feel that the theatrical producers and managers are menacing the public morality and the welfare of the nation, for these plays, being based on abominable sexual perversion and setting up a standard of morality which is open licentiousness, will gradually accustom the spectators, first in thought, then in deed, to disregard and discard all Christian modesty, and will thus prove the grave of the nation."

Now many of these shows come to Canada and appear at some of the best theatres, and the ones above mentioned are but a small portion of the many bad ones which are travelling through the United States and Canada. There are so many now of the burlesque type which are the commonest form of amusement and in most cases demoralising, then we have all the low class vaudeville which is appearing in the cheap theatres. In Halifax during the past few weeks, there have been three of these shows appearing in our best theatre. The title of one was "Baby Mine," boomed as being the funniest show on the road, but the fun was caused by suggestive jokes and sayings. Then "The French Maid," was largely advertised, where a dollar admission was charged, but after the opening of the first night, the manager had to apologise to the people and stated that he had

MAGISTRATE CURED OF PILES & ECZEMA

One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly in Zam-Buk's favour is Mr. C. E. Sanford of Weston, King's Co., N.S. Mr. Sanford is a Justice of the Peace for the County, and a member of the Board of School Commissioners. He is also Deacon of the Baptist Church in Berwick. Indeed it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected. Here is his opinion of Zam-Buk. He says:—

"I never used anything that gave me such satisfaction as Zam-Buk. I had a patch of Eczema on my ankle which had been there for over 20 years. Sometimes the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had applied various ointments and tried all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, unlike everything else I had tried, completely cured me and I have since completely cured my piles, and it has cured them completely also. I take comfort in helping my brother men, and if the publication of my opinion of the healing value of Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it, I should be glad. For the relief of suffering caused by Piles or Skin Diseases I know of nothing to equal Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk cures ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, ring-worm, festering or running sores, bad leg, varicose ulcers, salt rheum, prairie itch, cuts, burns, bruises, baby's sores, etc. Purely herbarial, 50c box, druggists and stores. Refuse imitations.

2 Stump out every dead or dying tree, they are of no use whatever and are liable to provide shelter for fungus and insect pests. Remove and burn every dead limb in your orchard.

3 After giving the orchard a thorough clean-up in the autumn the remaining trees may be sprayed with lime-sulphur. This spray should be repeated as the first sign of the swelling of the buds are noticed. It is advisable for the first year, at any rate, to spray with bordeaux mixture at regular intervals. The disease is unlikely to make its re-appearance if the treatment recommended is carried out thoroughly.

been taken in. Then we had a visit from 'The Girl from Rector's,' a play that has been closed up in many cities of the United States. The manager claims that it had been modified. Now to prove the lack of censorship on the part of the authorities, most all the above mentioned shows, which are under the ban, have come to Canada without any interference on the part of the authorities to stop them. And for this reason the people are becoming educated to them. There should certainly be some method taken to keep them out of Canada. There are plenty of good plays to be had, but it is strange that the playwrights and managers cater to the lowest taste of the people.

GEORGE WRIGHT. Halifax, Sept. 23.

INVESTIGATION OF CHERRY AND FIR TREE DISEASE.

Sir—During the past week J. A. Clark, B. S. A., Supt., of the Dominion Experimental Station in Charlottetown, accompanied me to the most important centre where the diseases of the cherry and fir tree were reported to have made their disastrous appearance. We, unfortunately, found that the distribution of the disease which kills the cherry in the island by far exceeds the extent at first expected. From Charlottetown West, all along the Railway line one can notice the dead or dying trees. This is also the case in outlying sections of the country. We have also reason to believe that the cherry disease is present in orchards in the Eastern Section of the Province. The balsam fir, or var tree, disease is limited to the East; Kings County & Queens being at present included in the range of its spread. There may be found, however, single trees attacked elsewhere.

The cause of the cherry tree disease is due to a very minute microscopic fungus which attacks the leaves exclusively. Soon after the leaves have unfolded the fungus spores germinate and produce more or less large spots on the leaves. These become yellowish in June or later and fall to the ground. In several cases the trees may be completely defoliated in one season. Generally this process is slower and, as a result, the fruit will become smaller and smaller, due to lack of food, which is prepared by the leaves; the taste is bitter and it is hardly worth the trouble of picking. The attacked leaves which fall to the ground are responsible for the spread of the disease in the following year. The trees, weakened from last year's attack, pass the winter in a bad state and when renewed attacks appear they fall slowly but surely a victim to the disease.

PRECAUTION. 1 Collect and burn all leaves that have fallen off the tree; allowing them to remain on the ground is a bad state and when renewed attacks appear they fall slowly but surely a victim to the disease.

2 Stump out every dead or dying tree, they are of no use whatever and are liable to provide shelter for fungus and insect pests. Remove and burn every dead limb in your orchard.

3 After giving the orchard a thorough clean-up in the autumn the remaining trees may be sprayed with lime-sulphur. This spray should be repeated as the first sign of the swelling of the buds are noticed. It is advisable for the first year, at any rate, to spray with bordeaux mixture at regular intervals. The disease is unlikely to make its re-appearance if the treatment recommended is carried out thoroughly.

FROM AN ISLANDER ABROAD. Sir, "Canada stands at the parting of the ways." Yes she has in truth parted from the greatest opportunity of her life the chance to do business in a free untrammelled manner with her neighbor to the south as far as the necessities of life were concerned. It may well be said that she has dealt her self a blow in the face and has taken a backward step. The news of the defeat of the Laurier Government came as a great surprise to me for I had felt all along that the people of Canada were wide enough awake to realize the immense benefits they would derive from reciprocity.

The annexation bogie got in its work and to it may be attributed the defeat of reciprocity. I am sorry that the Grand Old Man of Canada should have gone down to defeat just as he was about to open up a new era of prosperity for his country. He worked nobly and well to boost and push Canada to the place she now occupies among the nations of the earth. His political career was glorious one. No shadow has ever marred it and though the White Plume no longer leads, his influence for good will long be felt throughout the land. A great deal has been said
