

A TARIFF BREEZE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Col. Currie, Inspired by a Tariff Challenge of the Previous Day Gave a Rousing Speech on Protection Pointing Out the Possibilities of Maritime Provinces and also of the West with Reasonable Encouragement

(From our own Correspondent.)
OTTAWA, Mar. 18.—The first approach to a possibility of dispute on tariff lines developed in the House this afternoon, when Col. Currie, who adjourned the debate late Monday night, resumed, and in an old-time rip roaring protection speech at that. There was much force in his argument that if Canada desires to prosper during the troublesome period of reconstruction no effort should be lost to properly protect Canadian industries, thus ensuring to Canadian workmen a continuance of work, good wages and production with prosperous conditions through industrial works from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

C. J. A. Maharg, a Saskatchewan Grain Grower, who spoke yesterday from the standpoint of a Western Liberal, was really responsible for starting the tariff breeze. He announced in no uncertain terms that the West had reached the end of its tether in matters relating to the tariff and that considerable concessions were expected and must be had if the West is to be satisfied.

Col. Currie today took the other view. The Provinces from one coast to the other, he declared, all would benefit from a continuation of protection to such a degree that Canadian industries would not be forced out of business by competition from abroad. The Maritime Provinces, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and P. E. Island, already the most contented and among the most prosperous in Canada, should become the home of great manufacturing industries for their situation on the Atlantic sea coast fitted them admirably to take a big place in manufacturing for export.

Coming to Quebec, he said, the future of the great city of Montreal as a manufacturing centre must be considered. Ontario too would have a word to say if any attempt were made to reduce the tariff to such an extent as to endanger manufacturing interests. Even speaking for the West itself he contended that in time that section of country would not be known only as an agricultural province. Winnipeg had great possibilities for manufacturing and the cheapest power in the world. Given proper encouragement that city should become as great a manufacturing center as either Minneapolis or St. Paul. Iron industries in the West should be developed as the iron industries in Colorado had been developed in opposition to that of Pittsburgh. It had not been believed that Colorado could ever cope with Pittsburgh as an iron center but already development there was past belief and that development would be an indication of what Canada would enjoy if a proper fiscal policy were followed.

British Columbia he characterized as the great meeting place of the East and the West and if trade development there were to be carried along proper lines then a protective tariff was surely needed.

Speaking generally, Col. Currie said, Canada's first need was to develop her great natural resources, to stop exportation of so much raw material and instead to engage in the business of finishing her products in Canada for shipment to the United States. This could only be done if sufficient encouragement were given to the industry to permit of that finishing process being carried on.

Sir Rodolph Lemieux will follow Col. Currie.

NO DAYLIGHT SAVING THIS YEAR

OTTAWA, March 18.—There is a possibility that the Daylight Saving bill will not be introduced in the House this session.

At a meeting of the Dominion Board of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada this morning it was reported by members of the senate who were present that the measure would not be taken up. The merchants in convention stated there was much difference of opinion in their ranks as to the bill and they had no presentment to make as to what action the senate or the House should take on it.

DEATH OF MRS. SENATOR ARSENAULT

A venerable and highly respected lady has passed to the Great Beyond in the person of Mrs. Arsenault, widow of the late Senator Joseph O. Arsenault, which sad event occurred at her home in Summerside at 10 o'clock, yesterday morning. The late Mrs. Arsenault was a daughter of the late M. and Mrs. Felix Gaudet, one of the oldest and most prominent families in Miscouche. She had been in failing health for some time past and since last autumn had been confined to her bed. Characteristic of the happy Christian life she had lived, her illness was borne with the highest Christian fortitude and patience. She was a lady of exemplary character, hospitable to a degree and her beautiful home in Abram's Village during the life time of her husband will long be pleasantly remembered by the many in this and the neighboring provinces who enjoyed its hospitality. The many friends of their sons and daughters were always sure of a warm welcome from the Senator and his amiable wife. After the death of her husband Mrs. Arsenault resided with her son, Rev. S. J. Arsenault, and her daughter, Miss Jacqueline, in North Dakota. About six years ago she returned to Prince Edward Island and since then resided with her daughter, Miss Jacqueline in Summerside. She brought up a family of nine children, five sons and four daughters, all of whom she had the satisfaction of seeing well educated and comfortably settled. The sons and daughters are as follows: Rev. S. J. Arsenault, Crosby, North Dakota, who spent two months in the province last summer visiting his mother; Mrs. (Dr.) Gallant, Amherst, Magdalen Islands; Mr. J. F. Arsenault, Agent for the London Life Assurance Co., residing in Charlottetown; Miss Jacqueline Arsenault, Summerside; Hon. Aubin E. Arsenault, Premier of Prince Edward Island, Charlottetown; Mrs. P. W. Dugal, Quebec city; Mr. Anthony J. Arsenault, formerly of Williston, North Dakota, now of Moncton, N. B.; Miss Octavie Arsenault, Summerside; Mr. T. O. Arsenault, Minneapolis. To the bereaved family the Guardian tenders sincere sympathy.

The funeral will take place Thursday morning, the services being held in St. Paul's Church Summerside and interment in the churchyard of her native parish, Egmont Bay.

Diocesan Church Society

C. W. Neish, Rev. C. De Wolfe White, Rev. Canon Harris, Clerical Secy. of the Diocese. There was also a large attendance of lay delegates.

The principal business transacted during the session was the apportionment of the various grants to parishes. In the evening divine service was held, Rev. Canon Harris preaching.

This morning the first meeting will be celebration of Holy Communion in St. Peter's Cathedral at 7.45, also at St. Paul's at the same hour.

At 10.30 the Rural Deanery meeting will be held in St. Peter's school room, and the annual general meeting in St. Paul's Parish Hall at 8 o'clock. The speakers at the general meeting will be Rev. Canon Harris and Archdeacon Watson.

The public know this and there are few households throughout the country where it cannot be found. Thirty years of use has familiarized the people with it and made it a household medicine throughout the western world.

OIL INSTEAD OF COAL FOR BRITISH SHIPS

In Order to Hold Mercantile Supremacy on Sea British Ships will be Turned into Oil Burners, Large Oil Interests Being Secured.

(Special to the Guardian.)

LONDON, March 18.—In order to maintain the mercantile supremacy of the seas Great Britain's shipping interests are contemplating converting a large part of the British merchant ships into oil burners, the correspondent was informed today. In shipping and financial quarters only last Friday it was announced here that a great oil combine is being formed in which Royal, Dutch, and other interests will get control of the Mexican Eagle Co. One of the chief reasons why the British oil interests are seeking to gain control of Mexican and other outputs, the correspondent was told, is in view of the conversion of a large part of the mercantile fleet. It was also stated that as soon as the government releases such vessels as the Quitania and other liners they will be converted into oil burners. The high cost of coal and serious miners' strike issues, it is asserted, have done much to drive shipping interests to the use of oil in order to regain and hold ocean supremacy at the present time. It costs ten dollars to put a ton of coal in a ship's bunkers in British ports. Troubles at British ports in loading coal can be obviated, it is claimed by substituting oil, which will also mean the elimination of many stokers. It is believed that British concerns will try to extend their holdings in Mexico.
