CENTRAL BEDEQUE SERVICES.—Preaching at Borden at 11 a. m. at Central Bedeque at 3 p. m. and at Freetown at 7:15 p. m. The ordinance of Baptism will be administered before the afternoon service at Central Bedeque.

POLICE COURT.—Three boys aged ten years and a fourth aged twelve appeared before his Honor the Stipendiary Magistrate yesterday morning in connection with the recent entering of the Condensed Milk Factory. Their case was remanded.

CHILDREN'S PICNIC—Mr. J. D. O'Connell of Cuba, who is being welcomed in this city, has made the decision to hold his picnic for orphans and other children on the afternoon of Wednesday next, provided the day is fine, otherwise the treat will be given on the next fine day following.

CARS COLLIDE—A car owned and driven by Mr. Carter of this city and a coupe owned by Dr. J. C. Houston, collided near Dunstaffnage on the St. Peters Road early last evening resulting in both cars being badly damaged. Though no serious injuries were sustained by the occupants of either, Mrs. (Dr.) Houston received some severe cuts from broken glass.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE.—Rev. J. Eustace Purdy B. D. leaves this morning for the Inter-Denominational Conference for the Deepening of the Spiritual Life, which is held annually at Knowlton, Que. Mr. Purdy is to be one of the principal speakers. At the conclusion of the conference he will return to Charlottetown where he will occupy the pulpit of St. Paul's Church during the absence of Rev. Mr. Raymond.

ANOTHER MILESTONE WAS REACHED when Mr. Warren Lord celebrated his 91st birthday surrounded by his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. The birthday festival took place at the home of his son Rich Lord under beautiful trees bordering on the river in which as a boy he often fished. Many neighbors and friends came to do him honor and things were said on all sides proving the esteem in which he was held. Rev. Mr. Somers and Mr. Young (who was at one time stationed in Tryon) both spoke very kindly in their addresses declaring that Mr. Lord's reputation was worth untold gold. Mr. Lord who was visibly affected made some appreciative remarks and all who were present felt glad to be able to "give their flowers to the living" and to let him know while still with them how much they appreciated his kindly life.

HOLD PICNIC.—The staff of Moore & McLeod's spent their half holiday on Wednesday by holding a picnic at Cavendish Capes, one of the many show places with which Nature has liberally endowed this Province in the good old summer time. In the afternoon six autos gaily decorated with pennants and filled with a gay company left for the shore. The picnic was held on the beautiful grounds of Mr. H. A. McKenzie to whom the staff are very grateful for the accommodation provided. The afternoon was spent in bathing, in games, etc, and as the cool shades of evening fell dancing was indulged in. Sumptuous lunch was provided by the ladies, and this, needless to say, was heartily enjoyed, the appetites of all being whetted by the ozone laden breezes of the Gulf. The picnicers claimed it was one of the most delightful of the similar events which have been held from time to time.

Not One Drop Landed In Four Days

(Canadian Press.)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 1—A six-inch-gun cure for smuggling in the rum fleet sector here has elated officials, who reported today that "not one drop" has been slipped ashore in the last four days.

The coast guard cutter Kickapoo is the answer. On Monday, the cutter, her six-inch guns and crew ready for action, steamed out of Cold Spring inlet, and set herself abreast of the seven vessels which make up the fleet. All day long the Kickapoo lies in the centre of the liquor fleet, but keeps moving with searchlights trained on the ships at night.

The Kickapoo will be followed by another cutter in a few days, with an equal kick in gun measurements.

Music 2000 B. C.

(By Dominion News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 1. —Professor Kurt Sachs, of Berlin University claims to have deciphered the oldest known form of musical notation, which is written on Babylonian clay tables belonging to the Berlin Museum.

The professor states that the music dates from a period between 1000 and 2000 years B. C. It was written for an eighteen-stringed harp, and contains a number of rich chords. The style of notation is similar to that of Chinese music.

ST. IGNATIUS SCHOOL

The annual examination of St. Ignatius School was held on the afternoon of the 27th. of June, in presence of a number of parents and visitors. The pupils were examined by their teacher Mr. Michael Pineau, and showed by their ready answers that they had been carefully taught by their experienced and capable teacher. The fact that Mr. Pineau has been engaged to teach in this school for the fourth year, goes forth to testify what a good, energetic and painstaking teacher he is.

At the close of the examination an address was read to the teacher by one of the pupils Master Alyre Gallant, and he was also presented with a beautiful gift by Master Elmer Peters.

Following is the address.

Mr. Michael Pineau,
St. Ignatius School.

Dear Teacher:—

The revolving wheel of time brings to us again a day of worthy remembrance. On this day of all days in the school year we are brought to face with the true realizaton of your unfailing zeal and devotion towards us, and the great debt we owe you, a debt of gratitude.

It is then with mingled feelings of pleasure and sorrow that, I, speaking for all your pupils wish to express to you in no light terms our heartfelt thanks and deep appreciation of your services as our teacher and guide.

Fully aware of the great responsibility incumbent on your profession, you have always measured up to those qualities requisite in the model teacher, both with us in the school room and in the community at large.

That we can say these things without fear of contradiction is a source of satisfaction and pride. We feel however that we cannot say the same of ourselves in regard to our conduct as your pupils, too often have we failed to despond to your kind administration. Too often have we neglected our duty in the preparation of our work, thus increasing the already heavy burden of instructing the young.

Yet this passing year has had its pleasant moments. In your aim to combine duty with pleasure, you have succeeded very well. We therefore wish to express forcibly to you how pleased we are to learn of your intention to remain with us for another school year. We would ask you to forget our shortcomings and to accept our pledge of fidelity and obedience in the future.

May you long be spared to continue your good work and may be so faithful and diligent as to render your sojourn among us a pleasant one is the wish of us all. We would ask you to please accept this small gift as a token of remembrance and deep appreciation of your services in our mids.

The pupils of St. Ignatius School.

Izzy and Moe Busy Again.

While the marine police were jubilant over the seizure Tuesday of one suspected rum-running crew and three rum running ships, Izzy Einstein and Moe Smith gathered in 500 cases of wines and liquors, valued at about $50,000. The liquor was found as a result of what Izzy calls his whisky sense, called into play several days ago when a taxicab in which he was impersonating a chauffeur stoped at the Stuyvesant Garage, 525 East Fifteenth street.

Izzy noticed mysterious packages of a shape with which he has long been familiar, going out of the building. So, as an agent and not as a chauffeur, he returned there yesterday with a warrant, forced some iron doors and uncovered the cache. The manager and employes all said they knew nothing about the liquors, so no arrests were made.

The sea-going enforcement officers collected 290 cases of liquor and three vessels valued at about $25,000. The crew of the manned ship is being brought to New York from Jone's Inlet, L. I., where the craft was captured.

Suspects Beach Craft.

One patrol early Tuesday chased the Rex, suspected hijacker, around the statue of Liberty three times, and then found it beached and deserted and containing choice liquors near Bayonne, N. J. This same vessel was captured six weeks ago, with a large crew aboard generously supplied with automatic pistols and handcuffs. These were taken away and the prisoners were discharged. The Rex was brought into the barge office.

The Elizabeth Wilson, the third prize of the customs men, could not be unloaded because the warehouse is jammed with liquor. The hatchway was sealed and a guard was placed aboard until the contents cn be taken to the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

The three prisoners captured on the Williams 18 early on Monday were arraigned before a United States Commissioner in Brooklyn and held in $1,000 bail each.

Federal Judge Marcus B. Campbell, in Brooklyn, signed a padlock decree against the roadhouse of Patrick Breen, at 181 Merrick Road, Rockville Center, L. I.

Maneating Tigress Causing Trouble

(By Dominion News Service)

CALCUTTA, Aug. 1.—A tigress which has become a maneater has been causing great trouble near Langting railway station on the Assam side, where the district is now in a state of terror.

A reward has been offered for the destruction of the beast and special measures are to be taken to destroy it, as the Langting station staff are afraid to leave their quarters after dusk.

There is, indeed no safety for gangmen on that section of the line even during the daytime.

The presence of the tigress first became known when it sprang upon a man cutting grass, but instead of seizing the man the animal struck at the bundle he was carrying, and the man escaped with some claw wounds.

The same man, two or three days after his return to duty, was again attacked, presumably by the same tigress, when in the jungle with a companion. He was struck down and badly injured this time, although the tigress was temporarily driven off by the companion.

The companion, who was unable to carry the wounded man, left him and ran for assistance. He discovered, on his return with help, that the tigress had in the meantime come back and carried off the wounded man, whose dead body was subsequently found partly eaten.

It is declared that three Europeans, said to be members of the Calcutta police force, when out in the jungle, shot one of the tigress' two cubs, and that this so enraged the animal that it now attacks any human being it meets.

Eyes of Europe

It probably will cause Europeans to increase their wheat and rye acreages for the coming year. In this connection it is pointed out the areas formerly planted in wheat and rye have been decreased 25 per cent since the war, the land being turned over chiefly to sugar beets.

Look to Canada

Another possibility is the tendency of the people to avoid high flour prices by eating more potatoes as a substitute for cereals.

In general, however, the eyes of the hungry look to Canada and Argentine, which last year supplied 70 per cent of the world's wheat needs, as the only countries in a position to give them relief.

Bill To Amend

tories of the Anglo-Irish Treaty and Colonial Secretary Thomas in an endeavor to surmount the difficulties.

It was said after the meeting that the Government was prepared to introduce the bill in Parliament on Monday, and proposed that its discussion be postponed until the House re-assembled in October since the bill was certain to excite much opposition and little time now remained for its discussion prior to the summer recess of Parliament.

It was reported that the Free State representatives at the meeting found themselves unable to agree to postponement of debate on the bill until October and it was asserted that Colonila Secretary Thomas would make a statement in the Commons tomorrow explaining the Government's dilemma. Gossip in the lobby of Parliament tonight was to the effect that Mr. Thomas intended to renew the attempt to bring the representatives of Ulster and the Free State into fresh conference, with the hope thereby of overcoming the Government's dilemma.

The Cabinet Council sat until late tonight discussing the situation, but no report of its actual decisons was issued.

There was some talk in the newspapers today of the crisis precipitating an early election through the Conservative Party and the House of Lords opposing any such new legislation as was proposed. But such a development, though it is not impossible, is believed in political circles to be extremely unlikely, because former Premier Baldwin, leader of the Conservative Party, was a member of the Government which negotiated the Anglo-Irish Treaty and also of the Govrnment which enacted the treaty, and that therefore he could hardly countenance his party's resistance to legislation needed to give the treaty proper effect.

Heir To Chinese Throne Has Respite From His Exile

(Associated Press)

PEKING, July 31.—For the first time since he became a virtual prisoner within the walls of the Forbidden City 12 years ago, when he was forced to abdicate the throne of China, the youthful Hsuan Tung has been permitted to venture outside of Peking. He recently motored to the historic Summer Palace, relic of the folly of the erstwhile empress dowager and the scene of many extravagant court functions making the days immediately preceding the downfall of the Manchus.

With his bride of something more than a year, the heir apparent spent hours wandering among the ruins, crossed the miniature lake upon which the palace faces, and returned to Peking by way of the Jade Fountain, another familiar outlaying place of interest to foreigners in China and upon which the young monarch gazed for the first time.

The Summer Palace, which but for the revolutionary outbreak of 1911 and the establishment of the republic, might today have been Hsuan Tung's summer residence, was built by the empress dowager with funds diverted from the purpose for which they were designated, the building of a navy. Fifteen million taels, representing at that time approximately $10,000,000 gold were squandered there. As though in a spirit of derision, one of the features of the palace is a representation of a small pleasure craft, built of marble and with its foundations set securely in the water on the edge of the small lake, to serve as a tea-house.

Hsuan Tung was accompanied on his outing by various members of the "imperial" household and three daughters of a former regent, Prince Chun.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. RICHARD NOY

After an illness of several months Mrs. Richard Noy, of North Wiltshire, P. E. I. departed this life on June 4th, 1924, to enter into that home not made with hands eternal in the heavens. During the many weeks of suffering Mrs. Noy manifested great patience and christian fortitude. While passing through such trying experiences she was graciously sustained and comforted by the never failing promises recorded in its book of life. All that the best medical skill and the ready and constant attention of devoted and loving realitives and friends could do was done but of no avail the spark of life went out and her spirit passed through the portals into the city of everlasting life and light in the 69th year of her age.

Many years ago Mrs. Noy united with the Methodist church and continued a faithful and consistent member to the end.

She leaves to mourn their loss two sons and one daughter Mrs. Edison Easter of North Wiltshire; Percy, merchant at Hunter River and Bruce on the homestead. Also three brothers and two sisters, Thomas Mitchell of Summerside, Mrs. Robert Dammarell of Freetown; John, William and Miss Eliza Mitchell residing at North Wiltshire.

The funeral services conducted on June 6th by Rev. H. Pierce, assisted by Rev. R. H. Stavert were attended by a large number of relatives and friends. Her body was laid to rest in the cemetery close by the Methodist Church at North Wiltshire. "Precious in the Light of the Lord is the death of his Lambs."

PETER WARREN

The death of Peter Warren of Clinton took place on Sunday night July 27th. His illness was not of long duration. His eyesight had failed him some years ago and for several years he had been totally blind. A few days before his death he experienced the inexplicible delight of seeing the faces of his loved ones and looking upon the pages of scripture on which his hope and peace rested. The life of Mr. Warren was that of a devout man who feared God and exhibited the Christian righteousness in all he did.

His blindness did not wholly prevent him from carrying on his loved work in the Sunday School and his good memory enabled him to quote chapters as if he read from from the printed page. He was born in Augustine Cove 71 years ago, the son of James Edward Warren.

He is survived by his widow who was the daughter of Alexander Cousins of Irishtown Road. His children are James Donald living in California, Mrs Henley Woodside (Mabel) of Bradelbane; and William, Fred and Janie at home.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev, George Millar assisted by the Rev. Mr. Ayres and the Rev. A. D. Sterling. Interment took place in the Geddie Memorial Church cemetery. The pall bearers were, Lester Woodside Harvey Woodside, James Paynter, James Dunning, James Reckering and George McLellan.
